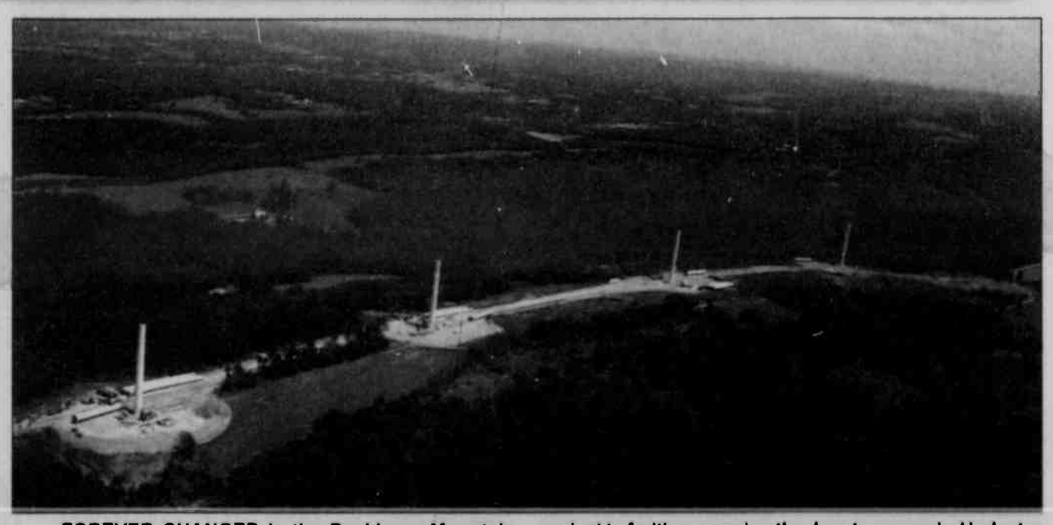
Oakland/Deep Ck. Chosen As A Top Summer Lk. Town

Deep Creek Lake/Oakland has been selected by Budget Travel as one of America's Top Summer Lake Towns of 2010.



"We are thrilled that Budget Travel has chosen Deep Creek Lake/Oakland for this honor," said Joyce Bishoff, interim president of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. "As one of only eight towns selected in the country, we are honored to be included in this prestigious national listing."

The magazine article notes area eateries, lodging, marina offerings, state park activities, and the Garrett County Historical Society, along with photographs of Deep Creek Lake and downtown Oakland.

Deep Creek Lake/Oakland is the only town/area selected from the Mid-Atlantic region and one of only two towns selected on the East Coast.

Yahoo also featured the article on Monday. In addition to Oakland/Deep Creek Lake, Yahoo highlighted the seven other lake towns: Chelan, Wash.; Grand Marais, Minn.; Dillon, Colo.; Forest Grove, Ore.; Rangeley, Maine; Leland, Mich.; and Truc-kee, Calif.

The Budget Travel article is available for viewing at the chamber's web site, visitdeepcreek.com.

FOREVER CHANGED is the Backbone Mountain ridge at Eagle Rock in southeastern Garrett County, where 28 massive wind turbines are now being erected and can be seen for many miles. After years of debate, a long permitting process, and a variety of violations of water, air, and land regulations resulting in fines, Constellation Energy was successful in bringing the project to fruition, opening the door to more wind industry development in the county. This aerial shot was taken by Bob Browning, McHenry. The blades for the towers have been arriving over the past week or so, one of them resulting in a power outage yesterday when the delivery vehicle accidently tore down power lines near Mason School Road.

MSP Investigating Reported Shooting Incident In McHenry

Maryland State Police are investigating an incident that occurred at a McHenry residence involving a bullet fragment that was discovered at the home.

No injuries were sustained at the 1750 Mosser Road home, and the incident is thought to have happened sometime between 6:30 and 8 p.m. Sunday evening. Anyone who may have heard or seen anyone shooting a weapon in the area is asked to contact Tfc. Whitaker at the McHenry Barrack at 301-387-1101.

Inaugural Barn Quilt Festival Set For Aug. 1

The Barn Quilt Association of Garrett County Inc. will host the first Barn Quilt Festival on Sunday, Aug. 1. The festival is to be a celebration of Garrett County's Barn Quilt Trail, the first of its kind in the state of Maryland.

Barn quilts are painted quilting designs displayed on the sides of barns. The Barn Quilt Trail can be viewed in a self-guided driving tour across the area.

"The project focuses on the agriculture, heritage, and natural beauty of the area while giving folks an activity to enjoy with the entire family," a spokesperson said.

This year, the Barn Quilt Festival will be held on the grounds of Cove Run Farms Corn Maze, located along Griffith Road, Accident. The event will take place from 12:30 to 4 p.m. and include the unveiling and dedication of a new barn quilt block which will become part of the tour. Admission to the festival is free.

Included in the day's events will be arts and crafts vendors displaying and sell-

Another Rabies Case Reported By Health Dept.

The Garrett County Health Department's Environmental Health Services Division has reported the third case of laboratory confirmed rabies for 2010. This most current case occurred last Tuesday, July 6, and involved a raccoon and a feral kitten in the Deep Creek Lake area.

According to a division spokesperson, the raccoon was first observed in a tree near two cats. It came down out of the tree and chased an individual on the property until it encountered a feral kitten, with which it fought.

The owners managed to contain the raccoon in a garage. They then shot the animal and contacted the Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Office. Wildlife personnel contained the exposed kitten and collected the raccoon for submission for rabies testing. There was no human exposure in this incident.

The raccoon was confirmed to have the rabies virus by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene Rabies Laboratory on July

Fiddle, Banjo Competition Set In Friendsville

The 46th annual Fiddle & Banjo Contest, sponsored by the Friendsville Lions Club, will be held this Saturday, July 17, at Friendsville Community Park.

Pre-show entertainment will begin at 5 p.m., consisting of performances by N2 Pick'n from Moorefield, W.Va., and square dancing by Pete Bray's Starthurs from Cumberland. The fiddle and banjo competition will begin at 7 p.m. Admission is $5 per person.

Those planning to attend are advised to bring lawnchairs, sunscreen, and possibly umbrellas. There will be food and refreshments available for purchase on the grounds. There is also a playground, basketball court, tennis courts, volleyball court, and a walking path, all available for free use.

State Inmates To Care For Garrett County Horses

The Maryland Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services last Thursday added another item to its list of unique restorative justice inmate initiatives, putting a work crew comprising female inmates at Howard County's Days End Farm Horse Rescue.

The rescue took in numerous allegedly starving horses after a farm seizure in Garrett County in May. The Division of Corrections has already donated 220 bales of hay to help feed those animals.

The inmates, from the Maryland Correctional Institution for Women (MCI-W) in Jessup, will begin with grounds maintenance and landscaping, and eventually move into equine care.

"What we try to do with these restorative justice programs is not only give inmates skills and the chance to pay back the society they've harmed, but meaningful projects that really do make a difference in the lives of people – and in this case, horses," said DPSCS Secretary Gary Maynard.

DPSCS began its Public Safety Works initiatives last year to help communities and non-profits accomplish projects despite limited manpower and resources, and, according to Maynard, has completed some "remarkable" achievements since: Inmates have planted more than 600,000 trees, including 3,800 to restore Antietam Battlefield to its Civil War appearance; built thousands of oyster spat cages; grown enough shoreline-restoring bay grasses to protect several islands; and restored state veterans' cemeteries, as well as im-

Sprinkler Systems May Be Required For New Houses

The Garrett County commissioners held a hearing Tuesday morning to receive public comment on proposed changes to the local building code ordinance. The record will be held open for two weeks to allow further comments.

As required by state regulations, local jurisdictions must update their codes to reflect the most recent International Building Code (IBC) and International Residential Code (IRC).

Chief Jim Torrington of the county's Permits and Inspections Division noted that no changes were made to the most recent IBC (2009). But the 2009 IRC contains two changes: the requirement of automatic fire suppression sprinkler systems in new homes beginning on Jan. 1, 2011, and a reduction in the maximum steepness allowed for stairs in new homes.

The county may choose to adopt the changes exactly as written in the IRC, or it can "opt out" and amend the IRC requirement in the local ordinance.

"Having talked to the commissioners over the last 11 months, we've decided at this point in time that the draft ordinance does not opt out of the [sprinkler] requirement, and that we go to a public hearing and, obviously, hear what the public has to say about that," Torrington said.

So, pending the outcome of another public hearing on the issue, the sprinkler requirement is included in the county's proposed ordinance, Commissioner Ernie Gregg explained to those attending the hearing.

Torrington added that the commissioners are proposing to include the IRC's new staircase geometry in the county ordinance.

With regard to sprinkler systems, Garrett County Planning Commission

Three-Vehicle Wreck Sends Nine To GCMH

Nine people were transported to either Garrett County or Ruby Memorial Hospital following a three-vehicle accident in the McHenry area late Tuesday night. Maryland State Police were the responding officers.

Investigation revealed that Jodie Lynn Smith, 29, McHenry, had been traveling north on Rt. 219 in the area of Fox Den Roa, in a 2005 Kia Sedona. Her vehicle crossed the centerline and struck the side of an oncoming 2000 Chrysler Town & Country van, driven by Barbara Snyder, 49, Terra Alta, W.Va. Smith's vehicle continued north in the southbound lane and struck a 2004

CELEBRATES 105 YEARS – Hubert Friend, a resident of Goodwill Mennonite Home, celebrated his 105th birthday on Sunday, July 11. His longevity secret? "I minded my mother and I had a good wife." He was born and reared on a farm near Friendsville and was the youngest of eight children. He and his wife Hazel (who died in 2008) brought up their two daughters on the same farm. Friend served as a county commissioner for four years, but admits that he "liked farming much better." He said he enjoys daily visits from family and friends, and has an appreciation for the interaction he has with the staff of Goodwill. "Every year has been a good year," he said. "I have had a wonderful life. I have a warm place to sleep, plenty of food to eat, a wonderful family, and great people to take care of me. I have everything that I need."

Garrett County Roads Department Adjusting To Loss Of 18 Employees

Superintendent Jay Moyer, Garrett County Roads Department, reviewed his plan with the county commissioners on Tuesday for operating with fewer employees during this new fiscal year.

"We'll be working on this, adjusting this as time goes on," Moyer told the officials. "We spent about three hours yesterday morning trying to come up ways to provide services at each one of the garages in an even and equitable way."

Sixteen employees retired from the Roads Department on June 30. Eight of those worked at the Grantsville garage, five in Oakland, and three at the Accident facility. In addition, two Accident workers are currently on military leave, with one soon to be deployed overseas.

Because of economic conditions, however, the county has enacted a hiring freeze and does not plan to add any new workers to its payroll in any department, including Moyer's.

"We're going to have to move some employees around," Moyer said about filling gaps in his roster.

In addition, promotions will have to be made to cover the loss of foremen positions at the Grantsville site, and overall work schedules will have to be revamped.

The superintendent's interim plan also calls for the Oakland garage providing several operators and one foreman to the Grantsville facility. Oakland will also serve Pine Hill Road to the top of Spring Lick Road, an area normally covered by Grantsville.

"This is not going to be an easy thing to accomplish," Moyer said. "The best scenario is that we have a mild winter this year, in hopes that it lessens the impact."

Commissioner Denny Glotfelty asked if it would be possible for some retired workers to come back and help out on a contractual basis if they were needed during a major storm.

"We could do that; that's one of the options," county administrator Monty Pagenhardt said about Moyer's plan.

Moyer said his department will operate under the same schedule as in the last snow maintenance season, but during major snow events, crews will work in 12-hour shifts. He added, however, that the winter

28 Arrested By Deputies On CDS Violations

A total of 28 adults were recently arrested by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and Garrett County Narcotics Task Force over the course of a three-day interdiction along Interstate 68.

All arrests stemmed from controlled dangerous substance violations. Numerous traffic citations and written warnings were given as well. Arrested individuals were from various areas including North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Massachusetts, Delaware, and Hong Kong.

The following were seized: 794.7 grams of marijuana, 39.7 grams of methamphetamine, 21.2 grams of heroin, 19.6 grams of Ecstasy (MDMA), 18.6 grams of psilocybin mushrooms, 9.7 grams of opium, 3.9 grams of ketamine, nitrous oxide, digital scales, numerous marijuana pipes, one handgun, a 1995 Ford Ranger, and $719 in U.S. currency

LOAR AUXILIARY MAKES DONATION TO MATERNITY WARD – Loar Auxiliary volunteers at Garrett County Memorial Hospital have donated $45,000 to fund Hugs, a new infant protection system designed to prevent infants from being removed from a medical facility without authorization. Although infants donned similar anklets prior to the donation, the upgraded model has a better tracking device and certain monitoring capabilities that the old one did not. Soon after an infant is born, the nursing staff attaches a Hugs tag to the infant's ankle. The tag immediately activates and is enrolled in a system that continuously monitors the infant's location. "The nursing staff in the hospital's Family-Center Maternity Suite is thrilled with the new system," remarked Charlene Bennett, manager of the ward. "The new system has a lot of features that enhance our ability to protect newborn infants." The Loar Auxiliary raises funds for projects like Hugs through the operation of the hospital's gift shop, bake sales, and special lobby sales. Those interested in volunteering should contact the Volunteer Services Department by calling 301-533-4041 for an application. Seated is new mom Samantha Bobo and daughter Izabell Jade Bobo. Standing from left are volunteers Denise Shay, Phyllis Oank, and Lisa Malone.

AUTUMN OLORY COURT ANNOUNCED – The 2010 Autumn Glory Royalty Court has been selected for the 43rd annual Autumn Glory Festival. This year's king is Timothy Schmidt and the queen is Courtney Strubin, both students at Southern High School. Schmidt is the son of Wendy Schmidt of Oakland, and is involved in the prom committee and yearbook staff. He has also served as a volunteer for Relay For Life. Strubin is the daughter of Ray and Debbie Strubin of Oakland. She is involved in National Honor Society and yearbook staff. She is a past member of the high school soccer, indoor track, and outdoor track teams. Schmidt and Strubin will be present at the Autumn Glory Kick-Off Reception to be held at Wisp Lodge on Wednesday, Oct. 6, and they will be featured in the Grand Feature Parade on Saturday, Oct. 9. The court will also receive scholarship funds. Pictured are Schmidt and Strubin.

Gregg Files For Commissioner From District 1

Republican incumbent Ernie Gregg recently announced his filing for re-election to the Board of Garrett County Commissioners from District 1. He has served as a commissioner for 24 years.

"I believe the manner in which government spends money is equally important as how much it spends," said Gregg. "During these difficult economic times, my experience in local government, as well as my over 50 years' experience as a local businessman, gives me the expertise needed to continue to provide essential services at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayer."

Focusing on increasing opportunities for business and economic development, Gregg worked on the expansion of Garrett County airport. He has made developing infrastructure a priority, resulting in three of the four industrial parks being at fully capacity. He also supported the Commissioners' Scholarship and Vocational Training program for students to receive education and training for jobs.

Gregg assisted in establishing the Garrett Information Enterprise Center in conjunction with a property tax credit, which helped to create technology based businesses and jobs. He supported the expansion and renovation of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and increased funding for Emergency Services.

He has worked with the Garrett County Historical Society, the Garrett County Performing Arts Committee, and the Deep Creek Policy and Review Board to support tourism in the county. These efforts have resulted in the construction of the Exhibit Hall at the fairgrounds, the Transportation Museum in Oakland, and the Community Athletic and Recreation Center at Garrett College.

"It has been my honor to serve the people of Garrett County, and I would be privileged to continue as a public servant in that same capacity," said Gregg.

Gregg resides in Mtn. Lake Park with his wife Terri. He attends St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland. Tory Gnegy of Oakland will again serve as treasurer of the campaign.

Man Injured In Motorcycle Wreck Last Week

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a motorcycle accident with injuries at the intersection of Ben Dewitt Road and Garrett Highway last Thursday.

Investigation revealed that Michael A. Milner had been traveling south on Garrett Highway, when he traveled off the roadway onto the shoulder, lost control, and was ejected from the bike. He was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Rescue Squad for treatment of his injuries. Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the 3:40 p.m. scene.

No charged were filed against Milner.

BOE Regular Monthly Meeting Set For July 19

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, July 19, beginning at 4 p.m. with public comment. The board will then meet in executive (closed) session until 5:30 p.m.

Among the public agenda items are action on the 2010 revision to the Students Rights, Responsibilities, and Discipline Handbook, the special education staffing plan, the Comprehensive Maintenance Plan for Education Facilities of Garrett County, FY 2011 Educational Facilities Master Plan, and the bid for hauling and disposal of refuse.

Information items include the revised Administrative Procedure 455.1, Student Behavior Intervention, and the middle school foreign language program.

Time is again set aside at 7 p.m. for public comment and participation on any topic. The public is invited to attend.

SHS Senior To Compete For Md. Junior Miss Title

Paige Fitzwater of Mtn Lake Park was recently named Western Maryland's Junior Miss 2011. Fitzwater will receive $300 in cash scholarships and will travel to Westminster to compete in the Maryland's Junior Miss program on Saturday, July 17, at Carroll Community College's Scott Theater at 7 p.m.

Western Maryland's Junior Miss program will be renamed Distinguished Young Women of Maryland after Saturday's final announcement. If selected as the Distinguished Young Woman of Maryland, Fitzwater will travel to Mobile, Ala., next June to participate in the national finals and compete with representatives from the other 49 states for the opportunity to become Distinguished Young Woman of America 2011. Participants have the opportunity to win a share of more than $135,000 in cash scholarships and college scholarships to more than 200 colleges and universities across the nation.

Fitzwater is the daughter of Gary and Jeannette Fitzwater. She is a Maryland Distinguished Scholar, a Johns Hopkins Scholar, and was a Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership Ambassador. A senior this fall at Southern Garrett High School, Fitzwater is actively involved in the National Honor Society, and the golf and mock trial teams, and is senior class treasurer. Fitzwater recently attended Maryland Girls State and has participated in Model United Nations. She also enjoys drama and dance classes.

Her service to her community includes several hours with her youth group at St. Paul's United Methodist Church and Landon's Library. She plans to major in business or pre-law at either University of Virginia or James Madison University.

Western Maryland's Junior Miss Scholarship Program is an official local preliminary of Distinguished Young Women, the oldest and largest scholarship program of its type for high school senior females. The recent name change to the program better focuses on the program's mission, according to a spokesperson.

"Distinguished Young Women inspires high school girls to develop their full, individual potential through a fun, transformative experience that culminates in a celebratory showcase of their accomplishments," said the spokesperson. "It also helps by developing self-confidence and the abilities to interview effectively, speak in public, perform on stage, and build interpersonal relationships."

There is no fee to enter, and the winner receives a medallion to symbolize her achievements. In addition to providing scholarships, the program also challenges each participant to share its national outreach program Be Your Best Self (BYBS), with young people across the nation. Through BYBS, participants encourage self-esteem and excellence in all young people through the program's five principles: Be healthy, be involved, be studious, be ambitious, and be responsible.

Distinguished Young Women is now seeking participants for the 2012 Western Maryland program. Any interested females living in Garrett, Allegany, or Washington County with a graduation date of 2012 should log on to http://www.ajm.org for more information and applications. Anyone with questions about the Western Maryland program should call Terri or Lindsay Hanna, co-chairpersons, at 301-689-9678, or e-mail b_hanna-1@verizon.net. Persons may contact Cheri Poklemba, state chairperson, at mdjuniormiss@comcast.net for more information about the Maryland state program.

Oakland Man Charged With Trespassing

An Oakland man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies after they received a trespassing complaint on Sunday.

Steven J. Eddy, 53, reportedly trespassed on private property with public access. He was subsequently charged and taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Garrett Co. Clears Nearly 2,000 Lbs. Of Refuse From Illegal Dumping Site

One thousand nine hundred forty pounds of refuse, including one refrigerator and 13 tires, were hauled to the landfill for disposal and recycling from an illegal dump site off Mayhew Inn Road this spring. A row of large boulders was placed along the roadside to deter vehicles from pulling off and re-using the dump.

Friends of Deep Creek Lake volunteers conducted water sampling on two sites on Deep Creek below the hydro-electric dam in April 2009. This creek runs along Mayhew Inn Road just east of the intersection with Sang Run Road.

The Friends of Deep Creek Lake volunteers were resampling a site previously tested in 2004. The results from the 2004 sample showed the water quality to be "very poor," according to the group's director, Barbara Beelar. The waters from Deep Creek flow directly into the Youghiogheny River just below Swallow Falls.

Arriving at the site provided a possible answer as to why the water quality was poor: There was a roadside dump which flowed from the road down the hill and directly into the stream.

"It was really disgusting and clearly had been there for a long time," said Beelar. "Volunteers found everything from old tires, microwaves, batteries, and household items to multiple animal carcasses at the site."

The results for the 2009 sample again showed the water was in "very poor" condition, according to Beelar.

ACCESS TO AN ILLEGAL DUMPING SITE Is now blocked off with a row of large boulders. Located along Mayhew Inn Road, the site has been cleaned up twice, during the summer of 2009 and this spring. Nearly 2,000 pounds of refuse was removed during the cleanup. See story for details.

The water sampling was being done as part of the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) program called Stream Waders. Volunteers are trained to take samples in streams throughout the state. They sample for macro-invertebrates, small aquatic animals that live in streams.

The sampling indicates the water quality in the stream since only certain "bugs," such as mayflies, can survive in clean water where others, like leeches, are present in poor quality water. The samples are analyzed by the DNR Lab in Annapolis, where a Bethnic Index rating is given at each site sampled.

The volunteers reported the site to Garrett County officials, including GPS coordinates and photos.

The county then to action, notifying the landowner and assembling a cleanup team using Garrett County Jail inmates. This team removed trash from the site during the summer of 2009.

But the roadside dump site was in use again by mid fall. Once more, volunteers for Friends of Deep Creek Lake reported the dumping to the county.

In the spring of 2010, another major cleanup was launched by the county. With cooperation from the sheriff's office and the Garrett County Roads Department, the area was cleaned and the pull-off section of the road was closed in an effort to deter future dumping.

"I would like to thank Jeff Friend and Sergeant Steffan for assistance with scheduling the inmate crew to help with the manual labor needed and Officer Fitzwater for supervising the cleanup crew," said Kim Madigan, county recycling coordinator. "Special thanks to Jay Moyer for the super Road's Department crew that assisted with a dump truck, and the equipment needed to excavate and haul the construction debris from this site."

Beelar indicated she was pleased that the site has been cleaned.

"This is an excellent example of collaboration among many parts of Garrett County government and the local watershed group, Friends of Deep Creek Lake," she said. "We will resample the water next spring and expect there will be major improvements. The county's action has restored a beautiful stream, created a natural barrier and has made a major difference in providing protection to an important stream in the county."

Deputies Arrest Man Driving On Revoked License

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested a man on Maryland Highway early Wednesday morning.

Lash Rocky Larue Lloyd Jr., 32, was arrested after deputies discovered his license was revoked. He was taken to the Garrett County jail to await a bond hearing.

Adorable Adoptables

No pictures were available this week from the Garrett County Animal Shelter, but plenty of pets are in need of new homes. They include a yellow Lab mix that was given up by its owner, a medium size collie mix that was picked up as a stray, last week's featured bull mastiff mix, and numerous other dogs and cats.

A Humane Society spokesperson reported that HART took the recently featured dog named Bear and the husky shepherd mix, plus other canines and dozens of kittens, to rescue facilities downstate. But numerous kittens and other unwanted pets continue to be brought into the shelter.

"This is why owners should have their pets spayed or neutered," said the spokesperson.

Financial help for the procedures may be available from the Humane Society, HART, or PAWS (Partners for Animal Welfare and Safety). For more information, persons may contact a member of these local non-profit organizations.

For information about adopting any of the previously mentioned pets or recent arrivals, interested persons may call the animal shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday.

Southern Band To Hold Car Wash Saturday

The Southern Garrett Marching Band will hold a car wash at the Gregg's Pharmacy parking lot, located along Third Street in Oakland. The event will be held Saturday, July 17, beginning at 9 a.m.

The Southern Band Boosters wished to extend gratitude to the pharmacy for providing the water and the space for the fundraiser.

All proceeds will go toward the band's travel and equipment costs, as well as the weeklong band camp in August.

Last weekend the Elks of Oakland helped the boosters host a chicken barbecue, which was deemed a success. The boosters also extend thanks to the Elks for the support, as well as to members of the public who came to the dinner.

Ecumenical Bible School Slated For July 19–July 23

Vacation Bible School, hosted by St. Mark's Lutheran, St. Paul's Methodist, and St. Peter's Catholic churches, will be held the week of July 19–23 from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at St. Paul's and St. Peter's churches and buildings. The theme for this year's Bible school is SonQuest Rainforest.

"From monkeys and rainbow-colored birds to red-eyed tree frogs and creepy crawlies, your kids will find it here," said VBS director Betty Eaton. "As kids explore the lush rainforest, they'll make the most important discovery of all: Jesus' love for them."

The week will include crafts, games, singing, skits, snacks, and parables. It is open to all school-age children ages 4 and up. Children may be registered at any of the three church offices. For more information, persons may contact Eaton at St. Peter's at 301-334-2202.

Oakland Man Injured In Wreck On Hutton Road

A local man was injured in an accident on Hutton Road on Monday. Garrett County sheriff's deputies were the responding officers to the 2:40 p.m. scene.

Investigation revealed that Phillip Robert Reams had been traveling east on Hutton Road, when he crossed the center line.

Reams was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Rescue Squad for treatment of his injuries.

Charges are pending. No further information was provided.

HUF Fallout Continues...

The fallout from the loss of Highway User Funds from the state continued this week with the announcement by county roads superintendent Jay Moyer that 16 retiring roads workers will not be replaced because of the county's mandated hiring freeze. The county lost several million dollars when Governor O'Malley slashed the HUF last fall by 95% and said that the funds for the current fiscal year will not be restored.

The work of 16 men, plus two more who are presently serving in the military, will have to be absorbed by the remaining employees. Such an adjustment is not all bad, as it forces an agency or business to become more efficient in its operations by spreading out the workload of the retired employees among the remaining ones. But the big risk of doing so is the much greater potential for overload and burnout of those workers. Only so much can be absorbed.

This past winter was one of the worst in the history of the county, greatly taxing the physical and mental well-being of our roads workers, who worked around the clock trying to stay ahead of the 22-plus feet of snow that fell on some 700 miles of roadways. These are the same guys who agreed to forgo a pay raise this year. So even with a full crew this past winter, well before this week's announcement, the sense of burnout among county roads workers was quite profound.

While Moyer seems confident that the remaining roads crews will still be able to get the work done, he is hopeful that the public will be understanding and patient, and such a hope cannot be overstressed. The potholes may not get filled quite as quickly as they have in the past, and the removal of snow this coming winter will likely take a bit longer. We should consider ourselves clearly advised of this fact and expect it, especially if and when we are hammered with so much snow again this coming season.

Yes, the slow, stagnant economy of our nation over the past couple of years is forcing everyone – government agencies, businesses, organizations, families, and individuals – to make concessions in a variety of ways. However, the loss of so much money in one fell swoop (the HUF) is a severe blow to our county, and as noted in this corner on previous occasions, nearly fatal to our smaller municipalities. Governor O'Malley and the state legislature need to come up with some better ways in dealing with the state deficit, or be sent packing this November and let someone else make the attempt.

To the Editor:

It has come to my attention that some political candidates, as well as other citizens, are confused concerning the timelines for displaying campaign yard signs.

Previously, such signs were prohibited from being displayed until 45 days before primary election day. However, recently an acquaintance informed me that the 45-day statute has been invalidated by courts systems in the state. So on July 13, I contacted the office of George Small of the Maryland Department of Highways in LaVale. Mr. Small is in charge of enforcement of the 45-day statute. He confirmed that the law is indeed invalid, the 45-day restriction no longer applies, and campaign yard signs may be displayed at any time.

I was also informed that in Allegany County, campaign yard signs have been out for almost two months.

I hope this helps to clarify some misunderstandings.

Thank you,
Larry E. Gnegy
Oakland

To the Editor:

There appears to be considerable confusion about the laws governing campaign signs, specifically time limits contained in Section 8-714 of the Transportation Article.

In 2008, Judge Catherine Blake of the Federal Court for the District of Maryland, in Bell v. Baltimore County, 550 F. Supp. 2nd 590 (2008), struck down the law in Baltimore County prohibiting campaign signs from being erected prior to 45 days before an election and requiring their removal within seven days after an election. This restriction was deemed to be an unconstitutional restriction on free speech. Therefore, in other jurisdictions, including Garrett County, the state's attorney will not be prosecuting alleged violations of time restrictions that continue to exist in the statutes.

Persons erecting campaign signs must still be cognizant of private property rights, as well as any restrictions on location and size along state and interstate highways. I trust this will clarify the issue.

Sincerely,
Lisa Thayer Welch

I always worry about leaving someone out when writing a thank-you ad after I have been in charge of a community event. My greatest fears came true last Thursday as I opened The Republican to see the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions' Redneck Dayz ad.

The second I saw the ad, I knew that I had left out one of our biggest supporters – The Republican newspaper. So, Don and the rest of the staff, I am truly sorry for omitting you all in the thank-you ad. We appreciate all you do for our Lions Club.

To the Editor:

My wife and I live in Garrett County and have Comcast as our television station provider. The only "local" stations available to us are from the Pittsburgh area. We recently visited the Comcast office in Frostburg, where I picked up a channel lineup for that area, and all of the Washington, D.C./Baltimore TV stations are available there, but none of them are available here in Garrett County.

I was told that the FCC regulates what TV stations are available in what area. I realize that the National Weather Service provides watches and warnings for tornadoes, flash floods, etc., on a county-by-county basis, and the Pittsburgh NWS office provides watches and warnings for Garrett County. The reason the NWS does this is because of each of the NWS offices' radar area of coverage which provides them with those data. That does make a lot of sense.

However, the biggest problem I have with Pittsburgh TV stations is not related to weather – they do indeed provide us with watches and warnings. The major problem I have is that whenever there is an election, we have to see the commercials for those running for office in Pennsylvania. And, we don't even get to vote for them. Furthermore, we never get to see who is running for office in Maryland – where we live and do vote. It's almost like we've been annexed to Pennsylvania and are no longer Marylanders. That's just not right. And, of course, the only commercials we see are Pittsburgh commercials.

Technologically, Comcast has access to the TV stations we would like to see, and could make them available to us if it were not for the FCC policy. Therefore, Comcast could still provide us with the Pittsburgh area channels, plus the Maryland/D.C. area channels if the FCC would simply change its policy. We would then still have access to the weather watches and warnings, and we would also be able to see our local Maryland stations. Everyone would then be happy.

I urge each and every Garrett County resident to write to Congressman Bartlett and Senators Mikulski and Cardin, as well as our Maryland delegation, and ask them to convince the FCC to change its policy.

Thank you,
Charles N. Hoffeditz
McHenry

To the Editor:

I'm writing in response to the recent uproar caused by the windmills being built, and the letter written by the Save Western Maryland group.

I have lived in Garrett County all my life and have seen many changes. The group is proposing that the Indiana bats and Virginia big-eared bats would be in danger by these wind turbines.

They are indeed on the endangered species list. The reasons for the bats' decline include disturbance of colonies by human beings, pesticide use, and loss of summer habitat from the clearing of forest cover. Bats use sonar, sending a sound wave and waiting for the speed of its return, to see what food may be ahead or other dangers.

Bats also consume very tiny insects while flying, finding them by using their sonar. I should think they'd be able to discover a gigantic tower in the air with very long, spinning turbine fins.

If human beings clearing land for million-dollar houses causes the loss of habitat, why isn't there a group to save the bats and animals from that? Why? Because of the almighty dollar. I'd imagine some of those people raising a fuss aren't going to make any money off turbines, so why have them here?

Like I said before and will many times again, I don't have any problem with windmills. I am, however, sick of seeing house after empty house being built, cluttering up my view.

Brenda E. Cosner
McHenry

To the Editor:

Those of you who are interested in bringing back good government need to go to the Arizona.gov web site. You will find that Arizona is asking for donations, minimum five dollars, to help them fight a law suit initiated by our so-called, progressive federal government. It seems that Arizona passed a state law to enforce immigration laws which are not being enforced by the federal government for political reasons.

Illegal immigrants will one day be made legal citizens through a Democrat-controlled Congress and become loyal Democratic voters. The terrible financial strain on our state and federal governments which have to support these immigrants with social services, health care, education, etc., doesn't seem to matter.

John Williams
Oakland

To the Editor:

In a letter to the editor in the July 8 edition of The Republican, Ms. Barbara Beelar suggested the need for a possible increase in dock permit fees to enable the DNR to carry out its mission.

While I have no objection in principle to an increase, I strongly object to an increase while the county receives such a large portion of the revenues generated from dock fees. Why does the county receive any of the revenue?

In an earlier letter to the editor, Ms. Beelar indicated that the county receives, if memory serves, something on the order of a couple hundred thousand dollars a year from dock fee revenue "in lieu of property taxes" pursuant to some type of "agreement." Why? Does the county also receive a portion of the revenue generated at other state parks, e.g. Herrington Manor, in lieu of taxes? If not, why does it feel entitled to dock fee revenue. I see no difference.

Even if one were to skip over the time of state ownership of the lake and surrounding property, and accept the false premise that the county should never suffer any loss of revenue under any circumstances, and then focus only on when the electric power company owned the lake and buffer strip and paid property taxes to the county, I would submit that most of that property is now back on the tax rolls anyway as a result of property owners purchasing their buy-down parcels. And yet the county still claims dock fee revenue. It effectively has its cake and eats it too.

Finally, I would have to ask the county how much is enough. It already funds half or more of its budget from lake properties and it still wants more from these owners by tapping into dock fee revenue. I say enough, already; leave the money with the DNR so it can carry out its mission for the betterment of all stakeholders.

I would urge the PRB to hold the line on any increase in dock permit fees and explore ways to stop paying such large sums to the county. At a minimum, I would hope that the PRB makes public the "agreement" under which these sums are paid to the county, how the amounts are calculated, and under what legal authority these payments are made.

Sincerely,
William O. Hrindac
Bethesda/McHenry

To the Editor:

Thanks for your wonderful editorial concerning responsibility for good governance. How good for the county that this newspaper is offering to host/sponsor a debate – setting a good example for others to provide such a service and helping the citizens to be educated toward their own duty to become informed.

I hope all candidates will get out and about and spread the word as to what they stand for and why. The editor has mentioned some of the problems of the county and defined what a valuable candidate should look like. I agree fully. We need to know the depth of their caring, as well as their qualifications.

It serves no one to just criticize and tear down others. Voters are not well served in doing their duty if campaigns are negative and emotionally driven. I do hope we will hear a lot about what is good for the future of us all, focused on progress and accepting of change.

Garrett County would not be the beautiful place that people love to live in or to visit without the many changes that I have seen in my own lifetime. As soon as the railroad arrived with visitors from the big cities, life changed for many.

My own grandmother had a boarding house in "downtown" Swanton that catered to the folks who could escape the sweltering heat of Baltimore – before electricity. There was no electricity, running water, central heat, or indoor toilets in the house, but it was busy and provided my grandmother Cora Lohr an income, as she was not able to continue teaching as she raised her family. It provided work for many of the young women of Swanton – whom she taught in school. Then the new roads came and the cars, electricity and the telephone. The railroad moved the coal and the lumber, Garrett County was filled with new permanent residents, and farming thrived. The Lake changed a lot of the landscape of the county, but it brought more visitors to enjoy our special place on earth.

I hope change and progress will not be resisted as part of any debate. The county is special, the people are special – that's what makes people want to come. I see the "image" of wind turbines with the message of caring for the earth and providing for its people as a good thing. It's all a matter of perspective.

Sincerely,
Cynthia S. Knight

Reckart Files For District 3 Seat On Board Of Ed

Rodney A. Reckart has filed candidacy papers for the non-partisan Garrett County Board of Education seat representing District 3. Reckart's goal is to bring a different perspective to the budget review and focus on how resources can best be used to improve the quality of education received by Garrett County students.

"There are some tough decisions that need to be made while keeping the interests of the entire county in mind," said Reckart.

Reckart served in the U.S. Army Reserve from 1996 until 2008. He was stationed in Ft. Lewis in Washington state as part of Operation Noble Eagle. He participated in the Homeland Security initiative that provided training to National Guard troops being deployed to Iraq. His service time began shortly before graduating from Southern High School in 1997.

Reckart has been employed by Garrett College for five years, where he represents the maintenance department on the staff senate. His involvement in community athletics includes coaching Little League baseball, Pee Wee youth football, and girls' softball. Reckart, his wife Amanda, and his two children attend Crellin United Brethren in Christ Church.

Reckart has served on the Crellin PTO executive council for more than five years and is currently the president. During his tenure as vice president, the Crellin PTO received the Comcast Parent Involvement Award. This recognized the level of parental commitment involved in building a new playground, developing an environmental education lab, and actively participating in children's education outside the classroom.

Reckart was part of the contingent that traveled to Nashville, Tenn., to receive the Ernest L. Boyer Best Practices in Character Education Award. This award recognized Crellin Elementary School staff and parents for the quality of character training embedded into programs offered during and after school.

"I believe that our children are receiving the best community-based education available. As a parent, former student, and citizen of Garrett County I am proud of what has been accomplished in our schools and want to make sure that progress continues," said Reckart.

Grantsville Man Arrested For CDS Possession

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a Smith Road residence in Grantsville after receiving a report of an incident involving a controlled dangerous substance.

Investigation revealed that Jessie Ray Wilt, 20, Grantsville, was in possession of marijuana. He was subsequently arrested and taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Scholarship Offer Announced By Women's Comm.

The Garrett County Commission for Women has announced it will offer a college scholarship again this year. The scholarship is designed for women who are "non-traditional" students who have completed at least one year of college and who have lived in Garrett County for the past five years.

Applications involve various college documents, two letters of recommendation, and a personal essay, among other items. Application forms are available at all branches of the Ruth Enlow Library. For more information or to obtain an application, persons may call Lynn Bell at 301-334-8933. She can also be contacted at the Garrett County Board of Education, 40 South Second Street, Oakland, MD 21550.

All application packets are due to Bell by Wednesday, Sept. 15, 2010.

The Garrett County Commission for Women, sponsor of the scholarship, is a committee comprising volunteers appointed by the Garrett County commissioners. They serve as "a voice for and of women" in their communities, specifically in government. The group's mission is to promote a positive image of women, advise county government, advance solutions, and serve as a county-wide resource to promote social, political, and economic equality for women, a spokesperson said.

For more information about the organization, persons may contact the Garrett County Commission for Women, c/o Board of Commissioners of Garrett County, 203 South Fourth Street, Oakland, MD 21550.

Numerous DUI, DWI Cases Heard In GC District Court

The following driving while under the influence (DUI) and driving while impaired (DWI) cases were recently heard in recent District Court proceedings, with Judge Leonard J. Eiswert presiding.

Theodore Wayne Lewis, 37, Maryland, was found guilty on a DUI per se charge and sentenced to 90 days in jail with all being suspended. He was ordered to complete 18 months of supervised probation through the Department of Parole and Probation. He was also fined $257.50. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DWI charges. Lewis was charged by Maryland State Police following an April traffic stop.

Aaron William Louden, 23, Maryland, was found guilty on a DWI charge and sentenced to 60 days with 58 suspended. He was ordered to complete 18 months of supervised probation and fined $257.50. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DUI per se charges. Charges stem from a May traffic stop conducted by MSP.

William Carl Metz, 46, Maryland, was given a probation before judgment (PBJ) ruling on a DWI charge and sentenced to 30 days with all suspended. He was fined $257.50 and placed on unsupervised probation for one year. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DUI per se charges. Metz was arrested by MSP in May.

Bridgette Kimbra Welch, 22, Maryland, was given a PBJ verdict on a DWI charge and sentenced to 30 days with 30 suspended. She was placed on unsupervised probation for one year and fined $257.50. Charges stem from a May arrest by Maryland State Police.

Andrew Charles Snyder, 52, Colorado, was given a PBJ on a DWI charge and sentenced to 30 days with all suspended. He was fined $257.50 and placed on unsupervised probation for one year. He was not prosecuted on a DUI charge. Snyder was arrested in May following a traffic stop by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Joseph Allen Coddington, 20, Maryland, was given a PBJ on a DWI charge and sentenced to 30 days with 30 suspended. He was fined $257.50 and placed on unsupervised probation for one year. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DUI per se charges. He was charged following a May traffic stop by the GCSO.

James Brian Reckart, 27, Maryland, was given a PBJ on a DWI charge and sentenced to 30 days with all suspended. He was placed on one year of unsupervised probation and fined $257.50. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DUI per se charges. Reckart was charged in May by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Amy Jolene Tichinel, 34, Maryland, was given a PBJ verdict on a DWI charge stemming from a March stop by GCSO. She was sentenced to 30 days with 30 suspended and one year of unsupervised probation. She was fined $157.50. Tichinel was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

Benjamine Wayne Bernard, 29, Maryland, was given a stet verdict on DUI, DUI per se, and DWI charges. The conditions of the stet are that he complete 40 hours of community service and an alcohol education course. Bernard was arrested by MSP in March.

In other court news, Nathan Ray Frye, 26, Cumberland, was found guilty of theft less than $100. He was sentenced to three days in jail, which was credited as time served. Frye was arrested in October by Maryland State Police after he was reportedly identified on video surveillance stealing a bottle of vodka from Arrowhead Market.

Robert Joseph Thomas, 18, Parsons, W.Va., was given a stet verdict on a charge of malicious destruction of property. Thomas was arrested by GCSO in April after he was reportedly witnessed smashing a mailbox on Smouse Road.

Guillance Alain Labaste, 27, Bethesda, was given a stet verdict on a CDS possession of marijuana charge. He was arrested in January by MSP after reportedly being discovered smoking in the Wisp Resort parking lot. The conditions of his stet are to complete 40 hours of community service.

Reigh Lynn Jones, 21, Beaver Falls, Pa., was not prosecuted on two counts of abducting a child/custody out-of-state, and unlawful taking of a motor vehicle and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle charges. The charges stem from a June domestic dispute investigated by GCSO.

Anna Marie Wilhelm, 35, Oakland, was not prosecuted on theft under $1,000. Wilhelm was arrested by GCSO in January after she reportedly stole and forged checks through M&T Bank under a different name.

Bryan Howard Sypolt, 34, Terra Alta, W.Va., was not prosecuted on a violation of an out-of-state protective order. He was charged in March after he was discovered by Garrett County sheriff's deputies to be parked 100 ft. from the victim's home.

Friendsville Days Committee Will Crown A Queen

The Friendsville Days Committee is again sponsoring a Friendsville Days Queen contest, and organizers are now seeking applications from young Friendsville area women to vie for the title of queen of the 31st annual Friendsville Days celebration.

Applicants must be between the ages of 16 and 18, and either a high school junior or senior. Contestants will be judged on speaking ability and general appearance and poise during an interview setting. The contestant with the highest score will be crowned at the Friday (Aug. 6) evening festivities on the outdoor stage at Friendsville Town Park.

The queen and her court, Friendsville's own prince and princess, as well as honorary Mayors for the Day, will participate in the Friendsville Days parade on Saturday, Aug. 7, beginning at noon. She will assist in presentation of parade prizes and other events during the weekend event.

Interested persons may request an application by telephoning Julia Sines at 301-746-5619 or Pat Bowser at 301-746-5576. The deadline for all entries, which should be mailed to Friendsville Days Committee, P.O. Box 202, Friendsville, MD 21531-0202, is July 25.

DAVID A. GOFF

David Allen Goff, 28, Swanton, went to be with his Lord in peace Monday July 12, 2010, at his residence surrounded by his loving family after a courageous battle with cancer.

Born Aug. 18, 1981, in Cumberland, he was a son of Larry and Michele (Whetzel) Goff. He was preceded in death by his grandfather, Wayne Goff; and grandmother, Donna Whetzel.

David graduated from Westmar High School in 1999. He worked for Here To Help in Bloomington and Asplundh. He was an avid fisherman and hunter, and enjoyed riding his four-wheeler. He also liked to ride dirt bikes, and his newest adventure was snowmobiling. He spent a lot of time playing with his son and his dog Diesel and working on his house.

In addition to his parents, he his survived by his wife, Cassie (Morris) Goff; his son, Carter Goff; his grandmother, Hazel Goff, New Creek, W.Va.; his grandfather, Albert Whetzel, Westernport; two sisters, Carrie Goff and boyfriend Mike O'Donnell, Grantsville, and Tara Goff, Barton, one brother, Andy Goff, Keyser, W.Va., four uncles, Will Goff and wife Ann, New Creek, Eric Whetzel and wife Laura, Westernport, Andy Whetzel, Piedmont, W.Va., and Scott Whetzel, Westernport; two aunts, Donna McCune and husband Jim, Keyser, and Tina Bosley and husband Shane, Bloomington; his father- and mother-in-law, Jim and Janet Morris; Westernport; his brother-in-law, Eric Morris, Westernport, and a very special friend, Bruce Dellinger, Bloomington. He is also survived by numerous cousins, and his faithful canine, Diesel.

Friends were received at Fredlock Funeral Home, Piedmont.

A funeral service was conducted today, Thursday, July 15, at Trinity United Methodist Church, Piedmont, with the Rev. James McCune officiating.

Inurnment will be held at a later date.

The family has requested that memorials to David be sent to WEPCO Federal Credit Union, 204 North Branch Ave., Bloomington, where an account has been established for his son, Carter Goff.

David's wife and family would like to extend a special thanks to Brenda Reese of PharmaCare and Janet and Millie from Hospice of Garrett County for all their help.

DELORES WILT

Delores Wilt, 76, died peacefully on Monday, July 12, 2010.

Born Aug. 22, 1933, she was the daughter of the late Allen S. Paugh and Oma (Brenneman) Paugh. She was also preceded in death by one brother Allen S. Paugh Jr.

She is survived by her husband of almost 60 years, Elwood Wilt, Oakland; one daughter, Marilyn Bittinger and husband Wayne, Oakland; one son, Donald Wilt, Atlanta, Ga.; five grandchildren, Christopher Bittinger, Oakland, Michael Bittinger and wife Beth, Wheeling, W.Va., and Jennifer, Steven, and Brandon Wilt, Atlanta; and three great-grandchildren, Brooklyn Bittinger, Oakland, and Michael and Nathan Bittinger, Wheeling. She is also survived by one brother, Carroll "Buddy" Paugh, Oakland, and one sister, Rose Marie (Paugh) Nutt, Parkersburg, W.Va.

Delores was a loving and devoted wife, mother, and grandmother. She was always in attendance at any family event, be it a birthday, graduation, wedding, or sporting event. She became the host for family holiday dinners after her mother passed away. She also took pride in financially ensuring that her kids and grandkids got the college educations they wanted.

Delores loved being around people, so it was not surprising that the two jobs she had outside of her home were in the customer service area. From 1962 to 1975, she was a waitress at the Edge O' the Lake restaurant, owned and operated initially by two of her aunts and later by the Ingrams. She was then a salesperson at Rolyan's Department and Furniture Store in Oakland from 1975 to 1986. In her later years, she loved helping her sisters-in-law at craft shows around West Virginia and Maryland.

She will be missed by many.

Friends were received at David Burdock Funeral Home, Oakland, where a service was held this morning, Thursday, July 15, with Carl Fike officiating.

Interment followed in Garrett Memorial Garden, Oakland.

Expressions of sympathy may be made in the form of memorial donations to the American Cancer Society.

Online condolences may be made to the family at www.burdockfuneralhome.com.

SUMMER TENT EVENT SALES EVENT

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I got my first glimpse of the newest great-grandchild of Ferne Beachy. Cindy Stanton showed up at my house with some delicious fruit, and her almost 1-year-old granddaughter Julia and her mother Lea, who is really enjoying being only a few hundred miles from her home. She and Michael have two children and are now living around Akron, Ohio, instead of way out in New Mexico. Little Julia strolled around and gobbled lots of the fruit. She is just adorable.

After a few days of feeling like I was baking, this Saturday I am feeling very chilly. That's mostly because of the nice rainfall yesterday. We did need some rain.

I was happy to see a big wagon load of nice green hay bales.

Among places which are widely considered top tourist destinations that I wouldn't go to even if someone paid me to go are Disney World; any theme parks, and Pensacola, Fla., to see the air show by the Blue Angels. But the absolute last place is Las Vegas, which has zero appeal to me. I have no interest in gambling, over-produced stage shows, or fine dining. I don't like drinking, and all those neon lights.

I hate to say it, but we Americans only have an illusion of how free we are. Because we are held hostage by business, especially Big Oil. Most Americans were angry to learn that the bomber who brought down an airline over Scotland got released because he allegedly only had three months to live. But one year after the Scotland officials allowed him to go home to Libya, he is far from dying. He's living in luxury accommodations and being treated like a nation's hero.

How did he get away with that injustice? Because of guess who? BP, which was negotiating a big oil deal with Libya.

I took a short nap. Luckily, I woke up in time to turn on a Pirates game. The first thing I saw was a smooth double play executed by the Pirates. Then they asked a trivia question. I rarely even have a decent guess on them, but I was sure I had the right answer to the question, "Which Pirate hit the most homers on July 4?" Since Willie Stargell spent his whole long career at Pittsburgh, 22 years, and he was known for his powerful bat, it made common sense to guess that it was him. He hit six homers on July 4. In second place was Clemente with three.

Perhaps the greatest American novel, To Kill A Mockingbird, by Harper Lee turned 50 years old last weekend. If you never read it, you are missing something truly great. It painted a vivid and compelling picture of a small town in the 1930s.

It's strange that such a talented and skilled writer didn't publish anything except that one book. It was because she didn't enjoy the media attention when it came out. I guess that was in 1960.

You can learn about it for yourself by reading it. It is a truly wonderful book. You will never regret the effort to find a copy of it. Any library would have it, of course. But I believe you should own a copy and share it with your children and other people who care about them. It is not heavy serious literature. It is a precious jewel of Americana.

I guess I first read this wonderful book when I was in high school when most students were assigned to read it. It had a huge impact, and only confirmed my love of reading. And there was a powerful emotional response.

I asked my Caitlin when she read it. It was an assignment for her, but back then she didn't enjoy reading, so she didn't read it. And that is what our teachers are up against. Even a kid surrounded by books her whole life, with two parents who were both big readers. This is supposed to ensure that a child will be a good reader and love books.

It is sad to think of the many children who do not have that kind of encouragement from their parents. The chance of their reading important books is practically zero. As soon as I get my hands on a copy, she will read it and love it. Even if you don't believe most things I write in this column, believe this: You must read To Kill A Mockingbird. At the very least, watch the movie. I beg you to believe me on this!

If you think you plan to vote a Republican in for Senator here in Maryland, you might as well just stay home. Because there are so many bright, intelligent voters in Maryland that your one vote is really meaningless. Remember that Maryland is faring far better than most states during these bad times. But you can cross the Potomac and move into Virginia, where the only important law passed is so you can buy a hunting and fishing license for life for only $2, if you do it when the buyer is only 2 years old.

Believe me, if you care for your children's education, you are better off to stay in Maryland, because anyone with much money sends their kids to private school. But from my experience with private school-educated kids, they are pretty undereducated, enough so that I and another college-educated groom for show horses felt it was our duty to try to educate them. Our job description was caring for their show horse worth tens of thousands of dollars at the highest level as possible, including keeping them sane in their expensive lifestyle confined in a box stall pretty much full time.

You might think the best possible lifestyle for a horse is to live in a nice snug stall with a fulltime care-giver on hand attending to their every physical need, and enjoying hours of grooming. Pretty pleasant, but it's not good for them as far as their happiness or contributing to their best performance in the show ring.

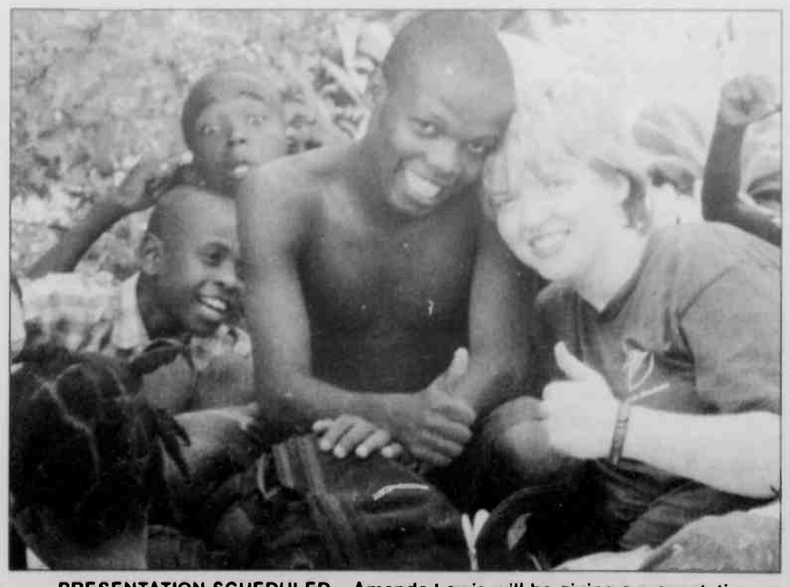
It is hard to believe that never before has the earth experienced a combination of a major oil "spill" with a hurricane. Perhaps it is because it is only recently that we have really seen the true consequences of burning carbon-based fuel. The fact is that the ocean is much warmer than ever before. Why is Hurricane Alec so huge? Because hurricanes need warm ocean water. And why all of the sudden are great white sharks coming way into the north Atlantic like Cape Cod?

We need change, which is the idea that our president campaigned with, and he won the election by a large margin. Most open-minded, reasonable Americans realized that America has become a better place, and it at last lived up to one of those basic ideas: All men are created equal and have some basic God-granted rights: the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

The landmark Civil Rights Act didn't take away all opportunities from white Americans. Instead, we gained a large pool of young talents. We gained many valuable workers, including doctors, lawyers, social workers, scientists, people serving with our military, and many fine educators, including a few who were able to turn around the hopeless education system in Harlem, where now their graduation rate and college-bound students rival or surpass the rate of those of the privileged kids in Scarsdale, New York, one of the wealthiest suburban areas in the country. And they are able to prove that it is not only areas with a high real estate tax base that can get good schools.

That is proven here in Garrett County, which has some of the best schools in the state of Maryland.

On the other side of Rock Lodge Road there is a large tract of land that stretched from Teets Road to Peat Bog Road. Now it is owned by the Nature Conservatory. It includes one unique feature in a place that is very special to me: the flint rocks. That is a large field with hundreds of small outcrops of flint. I felt very close to my Indian ancestors there. Only a handful of people even know where it is located. I guess I could find it if I mounted a horse.



Once, I was riding there with my father and we heard what we believed was the scream of a mountain lion. My whole life, I heard a legend about a black panther living on Meadow Mountain. The most credible source is Bob Brenneman, who spent his whole life on Meadow Mountain hunting, often with a bow and arrow. His mother Mary used to be a Buckle, so he shares with me those few drops of precious Indian blood. There is no doubt that Bob is part Native American.

I think I understand how President Obama is feeling while he is watching the disaster on the Gulf Coast. In spite of the fact that he is a problem solver, like me, when you try to solve a big problem, it is preferable to solve it before it happens. When you confront empty promises and small actions, it is not even close to adequate.

Ivy Gauvin, a student at Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, led the worship services at all churches of the Bittinger Lutheran Parish last Sunday. She will start her year of internship this fall in Petersburg, W.Va.

A turkey dinner to benefit the family of Tim Humberson will be held at the Grantsville fire hall on Saturday, July 31. The dinner, along with a Chinese auction, will be from 4 to 7 p.m. Everyone in the Bittinger community is urged to support this family, and hold them in your prayers during this time.

Children from the community are invited to attend the Accident Lutheran Parish Vacation Bible School next week at St. John's Lutheran Church in the Cove. Classes will be held Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to noon. For more information, persons may contact Christine Johnson.

PRESENTATION SCHEDULED – Amanda Lewis will be giving a presentation on her recent missionary trip to Haiti on Sunday, July 18, beginning at 10 a.m. at Our Father's House Church, now located at the Mary Browning Senior Center at Community Action in Oakland. With the help of donations, Lewis and the other volunteers were able to provide children with clothes, teddy bears, and money for food. Any churches, women's groups, etc., who would like to have her speak at their event should contact Amanda at 301-616-6872.

Car Cruise-In, Sock Hop Set In Grantsville

A Car Cruise-In and Sock Hop will be held on Friday, July 16, from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Grantsville Park. The event is sponsored by the Grantsville Involvement Group.

The event is free, and dash plaques will be awarded to all participants. Prizes will also be awarded for the best 50s outfit. DJ Jimmy B will play oldies tunes, and old-fashioned root beer floats will be available for $2.

4-H Club News

COUNTRY KIDS
by Derek DeWitt, reporter

The Country Kids 4-H Club met on July 11 at Swallow Falls State Park.

Fair books were handed out, and a discussion was held about the fair. All campers must be on the fairgrounds by 6 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 7. All animals will be entered by Sunday at 4 p.m. A livestock orientation meeting will be held on Sunday at 4:30 p.m. Anyone selling an animal at the fair must attend this meeting. The Fashion Revue will follow at 5 p.m. in the show ring.

A picnic followed the meeting with members, parents, and grandparents in attendance.

The June meeting was held at the Deer Park Community Center. It was called to order by President Briana Wagner.

The meeting was opened by the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Pledge, which were led by Anna Holtschneider. Bethany Rexroad gave the treasurer's report.

The group discussed the weigh-in, rodeo, and farm tours.

In May, the group met at the Deer Park Community Center. There were six members in attendance.

OAK HILL
by Emily Fratz, reporter

The June 2010 meeting of the Oak Hill 4-H Club was held at the home of Dwayne and Jackie Fratz. The meeting began with demonstrations by Collin Fratz for his steer, market hog, and tractor projects.

After officers' reports and roll call, the group discussed ideas for the fair booth. They will decide on a theme at the July meeting and get together to create the booth.

Cow patty bingo tickets were made available for members to sell. All money must be turned in on or before the July meeting.

Members then discussed times that they would like to reserve for working in the corn booth during the fair.

The club received rodeo tickets for sponsoring the event, and they were distributed to members who needed them.

The meeting ended with a covered dish meal and a marshmallow roast.

At the May meeting, Michael and Bradley Rodeheaver did demonstrations with their market animals.

The next meeting will include a picnic and is planned for Saturday, July 31, at 5 p.m. at the Rush farm.

SNOWY CREEK
by Kendra Friend, reporter

Snowy Creek 4-H Club held its monthly meeting on July 8 at the Guard farm. Doisey Guard held a lawn tractor safety and driving program. Eight members and one guest were present.

Under old business, Toby, Colton, and Jordan Grove, Derrica Friend, Brianna Lowdermilk, and Austin Lowdermilk participated in Adopt-A-Senior Citizen at the Goodwill Nursing Home on June 12.

Jordan Grove received overall grand champion at the Broiler Show, and Toby and Colton Grove tied for first place in the senior division.

Members attending the Spring Show and District Show on June 18 were Derrica and Kendra Friend, Toby, Colton, and Jordan Grove, Patrick Sines, Brianna Lowdermilk, Austin and Colby Lowdermilk, D.J. and Miranda Fisher, Madi Gallagher, and Carley Sisler.

Attending the District Show on June 19 were Carley Sisler, Derrica and Kendra Friend, Brianna Lowdermilk, and Toby, Colton, and Jordan Grove.

Members met on July 10 at the Goodwill Nursing Home for Adopt-A-Senior Citizen. Those attending were Austin and Colby Lowdermilk, Toby, Colton, and Jordan Grove, Derrica Friend, and Brianna Lowdersmilk. Club members played bingo with the residents and brought pets for them to enjoy.

Under new business, members were encouraged to attend Something New, which will be held on July 18 from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Career Technology and Training Center of Garrett College.

Members voted on working in the corn booth at the fair on Monday and will be helping with the Pee Wee Show on Friday of fair week.

Members will meet on Aug. 28 at 7 a.m. for Adopt-A-Highway.

The next meeting will be held at the Garrett County Fair.

MEDICAL CHECK-UPS

Hospice is sponsoring free blood pressure, sugar, and cholesterol screenings at the Aurora fire hall on Wednesday, July 21, from 9 a.m. to noon. All are invited.

REUNIONS

The annual reunion of the Waybright and Bennett families is slated for Sunday, July 25, at the Mtn. Grove pavilion. The basket dinner will be shared at noon. All friends and family are invited to the event.

The annual reunion of the descendants of Henry Beckman will take place this Sunday, July 18, at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building. The event will begin at 1 p.m. All relatives and friends are encouraged to attend.

The annual Snyder family reunion of the Amos Snyder descendants will be held at Cathedral State Park, Aurora, this Sunday, July 18, beginning with a dinner at 1 p.m. Friends and family are invited.

Family relationships of the Aurora Myers family (Becker, Gnegy, Lantz, and Hauser) are invited to a covered dish gathering on Saturday, July 24, at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building. Beverages and tableware will be provided, but guests are asked to each bring a dish to share, as well as family pictures and stories.

The family of the late James and Edna Lewis will meet on Saturday, July 17, at the Glades pavilion, Oakland. The covered dish meal will begin at 1:30 p.m. All are invited.

Descendants of the Henline-Hanline family are invited to a family reunion slated this Saturday, July 17, beginning at noon. The event will be held at the Donna Jean's Restaurant, which is located west on Rt. 50, Aurora, Stemple Ridge Road intersection.

DEATHS

Grace J. (Gnegy) White, 89, Oakland, died on July 6, 2010, at the home of her daughter in Clayton, Ga., where she had been staying for treatment of her cancer that was discovered while she was staying in Florida this past winter. A full obituary for Mrs. White appeared in last week's issue of The Republican.

Relatives were notified last week of the July 8, 2010, death of John Wilson, 62, Romney. He died in a nursing home in Romney.

FAITH CASE

Anyone with elementary school-age children is invited to bring them to Accident (W.Va.) Maple Grove Assembly of God on Thursday evenings at 6:30 p.m., when they will be part of a new club: "Faith Case." Children younger than 5 years old must be accompanied by an adult.

OPEN HOUSE

A surprise open house will be held this Sunday, July 18, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Aurora. The open house is to honor retired mail carriers and will run from 2 to 4 p.m.

UNION SENIORS

A covered dish luncheon was held with 18 Union District seniors meeting at the Aurora Unite Methodist Memorial Building. After a birthday, a new member has joined: Betty Fint.

Grace Bachtel provided the opening devotions based on a scripture from Galatians. Dorothy Spaid was named Senior of the Month. It was also announced that food vouchers may be obtained by visiting the Senior Center in Kingwood, but they are in short supply. These are redeemable for Farmer's Market produce items.

With a busy schedule for this month and August, it was announced that there will be no shopping trip to Terra Alta, nor with anyone be going to Terra Alta for lunch. Janice Tackett also spoke of more scams perpetrated on seniors.

The Sept. 10 county-wide picnic will be held at Big Bear Lake. Those interested in going should contact Tackett.

A candy guess jar was supplied by Shirley parsons and won by Mildred Stemple.

Devotions for August will be the responsibility of Spaid.

96TH BIRTHDAY

Sheridan Layton will celebrate her 96th birthday on July 29. Those wishing to send her cards should address them to 24695 George Washington Highway, Aurora, WV 26705.

PERSONAL

Pvt. 1st Class David Leary, USMC, has completed basic training in Twenty-nine Palms, Calif., and after a short visit home will be sent to duty in Okinawa. He is a son of Russell and Brenda Upperman, a grandson of George and Donna Steele, and a great-grandson of Arthur Junior Slaubaugh.

Visiting home folks including his parents, Doyle and Cathi Harsh, is Tim Blossom. He will be returning to another tour in Afghanistan with the U.S. Marines. Maynard Lantz, Aurora, remains a patient at Ruby Memorial Hospital, where on Sunday evening he endured a second emergency surgery.

Weekend visitors here for the Donham reunion were Lawrence Donham, Stewartstown, Pa., and his daughter, Ginger Lusby, Pasadena, Md., who stayed with Lawrence's sister and brother-in-law, Jackie and Alma Snyder.

Also here for that reunion were Scott and Sharon Teets, Jefferson City, Tenn., and Ron Kepple, guests of Hancell and Mildred Teets.

Mark and LaDeana Teets returned to their Amboy home after a two-week trip during which they visited with Mark's sister and brother-in-law in Littleton, Colo., and on a journey drove over 7,000 miles in visiting many points of interest in the West.

Melvin and Melissa Frantz and their three daughters, Dakota, Violet, and Harmony, all of Ft. Meade, Md., visited with Melvin's parents, Don and Neva Frantz, Eglon, and other family members. Neva's mother, Rose Ina Harsh, has been ill, but states that she is some less affected by fluid in her ear.

The Mtn. Grove Volunteer Fire Department held its annual elimination dinner last Saturday evening, with winners being Betsy Viola and Bessie Sell.

Members of the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren enjoyed a Sunday covered dish lunch following the morning worship service outdoors at Camp Galilee. Many of the younger families had camped for the weekend.

Jessie Winters and Lois Beckman, Eglon, traveled to Davis on Sunday to meet with the Beverly Lawrence family, Colorado Springs, Colo., and the Marsha Worden family, Elkins. Both are daughters of the late Howard and Gwendolyn Losh. Also there was their stepmother, Dorothy Shoemaker Losh.

Shaffer-Evans Reunion Slated

The 30th reunion of the descendants of D.L. and Edna Shaffer Evans will be held on Saturday, Aug. 7, beginning at 1 p.m. at Arnold's Park in Lead Mine.

Meat for the meal will be furnished. Those attending are asked to bring other food to share and items for the raffle table.

Adjusting To

overtime budget has been increased in case it is needed in FY 2011.

Commissioner Fred Holliday questioned if certain routes would be plowed, given the loss of several drivers.

"I don't see how that could be acceptable," Holliday said about roads not being plowed.

Moyer stressed that routes will be covered and roads will be plowed, although during major storms, maybe not as quickly or in the same manner as in previous years.

"We'll have to make adjustments," he said. "Will they be done in a timely fashion? They'll be done as best we can."

The superintendent indicated that cooperation and understanding would be needed from everyone.

For example, his department will be meeting with the State Highway Administration to go over winter operations. Moyer will suggest that SHA crews plow certain county spots on their way to state roads. In turn, the county would plow certain state areas.

Moyer noted that the employee shortage is already affecting summertime work, perhaps even more adversely than it may this coming winter.

"It's not just winter operations," he said. "I think we can handle winter operations; I think we can work through that."

But, he reported, such warm weather projects as mowing, ditch cleaning, and shoulder work are behind schedule.

"It's just tough to do when you're shorthanded," Moyer said.

The superintendent also reported that his department has reached an agreement with Constellation Energy. The company is constructing 28 wind turbines along a six-mile stretch of Backbone Mountain in the area of Eagle Rock, Bethlehem, and King Wildesen roads.

As a result, Constellation has been moving turbine parts, excavation/construction vehicles, and other large, heavy pieces of equipment along state and county roads to the turbine sites. Moyer said the company has agreed to restore county roads to "original or better condition" in the event of damage.

The commissioners' next public meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, July 27, at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Oakland.

5 years have passed.

Once in a while someone comes along, someone who just naturally makes everyone feel happy and glad they know you.

You have been that someone for me and our children.

You had said things to me I will always remember.

The times we spent together will always be special to us.

So thank you for being the husband and father you were.

We will always miss you and love you.

STANDING FOR ELECTION TO REMAIN YOUR

FOR GARRETT COUNTY

"Rita has served the people of Garrett County as Chief Deputy and Register of Wills for more than 30 years and she is highly qualified both by experience and by the empathy she has for those who come to her office having lost a loved one."

Joe DiSimone

EXPERIENCE DOES COUNT

This letter from Maryland's elected State Treasurer, Nancy Kopp, was received recently by Register of Wills Rita Watson congratulating her on the completion of an audit of 3 years of her office's operations. The audit, done by a State Certified Fraud Examiner and CPA, took 5 weeks to complete. A report of "no finding" is much coveted by State agencies subject to regular State audits.

The register's offices are audited at least every 3 years without prior notice. The local office remitted almost $300,000 to the State General Fund after operating expenses and refunds last year.

I ASK FOR YOUR HELP AND SUPPORT SO THAT I MAY CONTINUE TO PROVIDE FRIENDLY, HELPFUL, EEFICIENT AND PROEESSIONAL SERVICE TO THE PEOPLE OE GARRETT COUNTY.

Dear Ms. Watson

Recently, I received a copy of your audit for the period beginning May 21, 2007, and ending March 21, 2010, conducted by the Department of Legislative Services, Office of Legislative Audits.

Congratulations! It's rare we're informed, "Our audit did not disclose any findings." Your office is obviously doing a great job – keep up the good work!

Sincerely,

The Arts

Harp Recital Next In MPA Lineup

Harpist Heidi van Hoesen-Gorton will present a recital at Windsor Hall, Cumberland, on Saturday, July 17, at 7:30 p.m. The concert is part of Music at Penn Alps' 18th season and is being co-presented with Queen City Performing Arts Development.

Van Hoesen-Gorton will be accompanied by pianist Rodrigo Ojeda.

Van Hoesen-Gorton was awarded first place in the Young Professional Division of the American Harp Society (AHS) National Competition in June 2009 and was named the AHS Young Concert Artist.

She is principal harp with the Hartford Symphony Orchestra and has performed with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra and the Boston Symphony Orchestra. She has been a fellow at the Tanglewood Music Center and was principal harp in the National Repertory Orchestra in Breckenridge, Colo., in 2008.

The harpist appeared on From the Top, a live Public Radio International Series in Boston, Mass., in 2000, and was invited back in 2003 as a harp soloist with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. She won first place in the Victor Salvi Awards Foundation in Chicago in 2008; she was the winner of the Juilliard School concerto competition in 2005; and in 2004 she swept two national competitions, the Lennox Young Artist Competition and the American String Teachers Association National Competition, both held in Texas.

Gorton holds an undergraduate degree in harp performance from the Juilliard School, and will complete her master's degree at that institution in 2011. Her mother is Gretchen Van Hoesen, principal harp with Pittsburgh Symphony, and her father is James Gorton, co-principal oboist with same orchestra. As a duo, her parents performed at Music at Penn Alps in 2008.

Rodrigo Ojeda, pianist, is a native of Caracas, Venezuela. He began piano studies at the age of 10 and obtained his bachelor's degree at the Institute of Musical Studies in 1997 under Arnaldo Pizzolante. In 1999 he began his studies with Enrique Graf at Carnegie Mellon University, first receiving a graduate assistantship and then an artist diploma in 2003.

He has performed numerous times as soloist in Venezuela, Ecuador, and at the Piccolo Spoleto Festival in Charleston, S.C. He was also a member of the Contemporary Ensemble at CMU under the direction of Efrain Amaya and Eduardo Alonso Crespo. He is currently a member of the School of Music staff at Carnegie Mellon University and resides in Pittsburgh with his wife Giuseppina and their son Sebastian.

The program includes Mendocino, composed by Robert Litton; Sicilienne Variee by Jean-Michel Damase; "John Riley" from Every Lover Is A Warrior (2006), written by Kati Agócs; Ballade, Op. 28, by Carlos Salzedo; and Introduction & Allegro composed by Maurice Ravel.

After the performance, audience members are invited to meet the artists at an informal reception.

The concert is sponsored by Allegany County Arts Council and underwritten by David and Irene Eyer. Tickets are $12 for adults, youth 18 and under are admitted free of charge. Advance reservations are not required. For more program information, persons may call 443-257-9177 or visit the web site at www.musicatpennalps.org.

Music at Penn Alps is a non-profit organization dedicated to presenting classical music and American traditions.

NEIL SIMON'S BRIGHTON BEACH MEMOIRS will be the next production of Theatre On The Lake (TOTL), with the show to be staged at Garrett College July 21-24, 7:30 p.m. each evening. Brighton Beach Memoirs is the story of the Jerome family living in Brighton Beach, N.Y., in 1937. Jack and Kate Jerome have invited Kate's sister Blanche and her two daughters to live with them following the death of Blanche's husband. Having two sons of their own, the household has settled into a manageable state after three years together, but the challenges of blending four children and three parents into one family is the "often funny, yet sometimes tension-filled" subject of this autobiographical comedy by Nell Simon, according to Lynn Broderick, director. Broderick noted that there is some mature subject matter in the play. Pictured from left are cast members Zane Rerek, Meghan Broderick, Leah Broderick, Patrick Crogan, Elizabeth Nelson, Daniel Crowley, and Taryn Wood. TOTL is in mid-production of Little Shop of Horrors, which is being given at the Barn of Ridgeview Valley, located along Gravelly Run Road, McHenry. Pictured below is a scene from that show, as Andrew Nelson as the somewhat demonic dentist works on the teeth of Daniel Crowley as Seymour, the gentle horticulturist who gets into more trouble than expected with a particularly vicious plant. The show will run tonight through July 18 at the Barn, also at 7:30 p.m. Tickets to Brighton Beach are $8, and $10 for Little Shop. For more information, persons may call 304-680-1002 or visit the company's web site at www.totltheatre.org.

"Old Time Jam" Slated At NGSP

Musicians and spectators of all ages are invited to the Lake House at New Germany State Park for an "old time jam" of traditional folk, bluegrass, and other Appalachian music.

The jam session will be an informal gathering, where both new and experienced musicians are welcome to take part or just listen.

Jams at the state park are held the first and third Fridays of every month from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The sessions will take place through Sept. 3.

For more information, persons may call Ranger Crystal McCann at 301-895-5453 or e-mail cmccann@dnr.state.md.us.

GCAC Holds Membership Juried Exhibit; Silkey Wins Best In Show

The first membership juried show was held recently by the Garrett County Arts Council. The council hopes to make the show an annual event. The Best In Show Award went to Evelyn Silkey, pictured above.

Each GCAC member was invited to submit a two-dimensional work for consideration in a special exhibit in the Backroom of the Gallery Shop in downtown Oakland. The exhibit was on display for six weeks, and award winners were announced during the annual membership meeting on June 29.

The work was judged by Bob Corrigan of Everett, Pa., and Jean Barnes Downs of Cumberland. The judges stated that the winners were difficult to

OTT's Sunday Play Reading Series Continues

Our Town Theatre, located along Center Street in Oakland, will continue its Sunday evening play reading series this Sunday, July 18, at 7 p.m. Persons are invited to attend and read a part or simply listen.

Jane Avery, artistic director, said persons who like Gone With the Wind will enjoy this week's reading.

These summer readings help the theatre's play selection committee decide which shows should be presented for the next season, according to Avery.

The play readings are free, but donations will be appreciated. Refreshments will be served. The remaining schedule for readings this summer is as follows: July 25 and Aug. 1 and 8.

For more information, persons may call 301-334-5640, ext. 3.

GLAF RAFFLING DONATED ART WORK – Local artist Robert Yonke has donated a signed piece of art to the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, which is now selling raffle tickets for a drawing slated for Aug. 7. This original watercolor on paper is titled "Dusk 'til Dawn." It is 20"x26" and is matted and framed. Chance tickets are $5 each or 5 for $20. They can be purchased this weekend before both Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra concerts at the Wisp Resort, from any GLAF board member, or at the John McCutcheon concert on Aug. 7 at Garrett College. The winning ticket will be drawn at the McCutcheon event. The winner need not be present to win.

BLUE SHADES CONCERT SET – The Springs Community Acoustic Music Association will present the bluegrass band Blue Shades in concert on Saturday, July 17, at 6 p.m. at the Folk Meeting House in Springs, Pa. The concert is free of charge, but donations will be accepted. Blue Shades is a group from south central Pennsylvania. Members are Brad Foust playing guitar and mandolin, Vince Bartlebaugh on banjo, Don Fronk with mandolin and guitar, and Troy Wigfield on bass. "They perform a wide variety of bluegrass music ranging from the 'high lonesome' sound of traditional music to the most modern songs of today's bluegrass sound, as well as prominently featuring the ever popular 'bluegrass gospel' music," a spokesperson said. The Springs Community Acoustic Music Association will present the following shows in this summer concert series: Aug. 21, to be announced; Sept. 18, Lonesome Highway; and Oct. 16, Mountain Therapy. All concerts will be held at the Folk Meeting House, 1711 Springs Road, at 6 p.m. For more information, persons may contact Ron Beitzel at 814-662-9229.

select because of the level of talent displayed in the show, according to Karen Reckner, arts council executive director.

In addition to the judged awards, visitors to the Gallery Shop were asked to vote on their favorite painting for a People's Choice Award.

Best of Show Award winner Silkey won with her original watercolor painting titled "A Hill Faraway," also pictured above. A Deep Creek Lake area resident, Silkey grew up in New York City and taught fine arts in New York and Rhode Island public schools.

"I grew up drawing and with a love of animals," Silkey said. "In recent years, local wildlife has become the subject matter for my art."

In addition to GCAC, she is a member of the Baltimore Watercolor Society, the Western Maryland Watercolor Society, the Allegany Arts Council, and Allegany Area Art Alliance. This June, Silkey received the Best of Show in the Western Maryland Watercolor Society's annual show held at the Saville Gallery in Cumberland.

First place was awarded to "Standing Strong," a watercolor on rice paper by Arwana Schoemer. This painting also received the votes to become the People's Choice winner. Second place was won by Josh Gambetta. This was the first time Gambetta exhibited his work in the gallery. His piece was an acrylic and ink work titled "Conversation of Color & Form II."

The third prize went to Fred Peacock for his oil painted landscape "Dune Grass, Sunrise Light." An Honorable Mention was given to Denise Moynahan for her pen and ink drawing "Charloone Watches as They Pass."

Winners received a plaque and monetary prize. The prize money was donated by Judy Devlin/Bookmark'et, Pam Snyder Pottery, Fred Peacock, Dr. William Yant, Roger and Odette Lueck, and Sue and Alan Arnson/The Loft Shop.

A juried photography exhibit is being planned for later this year and will be open to all members of the Garrett County Arts Council, Reckner noted. Membership in the organization helps support all projects of the council, including the promotion of local artists at the Gallery Shop, support of nearly 20 non-profit organizations bringing art programs to the county, and ongoing educational opportunities.

TROUBLE IN TROUBLESOME CREEK

by Nancy Kelly Allen

C. 2010, Red Rock Press, $16.95; 32 pages

Review by Terri Schlichenmeyer

Where is your favorite place to play? Maybe you have a playhouse out in the back yard, or a secret spot where adults are not so welcome. Perhaps there's a basketball court or set of swings that you'd visit every day if you could. Or maybe you like your room best, or a certain spot on the sofa.

No matter where it is, nobody better mess with your spot.

In the new book Trouble in Troublesome Creek by Nancy Kelly Allen, illustrated by K. Michael Crawford, somebody was killing fish in the Gang's best summertime play spot, and James and his friends needed to make it stop.

Every day during summer vacation, James and his friends Liz, Dean, Sallie, and Carolyn went to Troublesome Creek to ride on the "ooh-ah" rope that swung over the creek and to splash in the icy cool water. Troublesome Creek was their favorite place to play.

But one morning – eeeuuuwww – the creek was full of dead fish. Gross. Who could have done such an awful thing?

Aunt Pearl, who always seemed to be gardening nearby, said it was a mystery. So did every other adult in town when the Gang went around asking.

Since it wasn't a good idea to swim in a creek filled with icky dead fish, James decided one day to take a dry ride on the ooh-ah rope. He swung out and yelled "Ooooooohhh!" and let go. The gang hollered "Ahhhhh," as he landed on the other side of the creek and right near a big pile of rocks. The rocks spilled into the creek and as they did, James spotted an old cave.

He peeked inside. And after Carolyn found a flashlight, the kids entered…

Eeeeeeuuuuwww, the cave was filled with bats, and they flew all around and sent shivers down James' spine. But there was something else in the cave that interested the Gang very much: Nearly covering the floor of the cave were hundreds of strange old metal rocks. The kids took some of the rocks to the Troublesome Creek Museum, where they learned an amazing, historical surprise that solved the mystery and made their summer even better.

Got a kid who loves the season? Of course you do, and that kid is going to love this perfect summertime book, too.

Author Nancy Kelly Allen's words and the colorful drawings by K. Michael Crawford both evoke a wonderful, carefree time when kids could wander freely, and a swimmin' hole and a strong rope swinging over the water were all they needed to enjoy a perfectly gorgeous day. With that in mind, a lot of grown-ups will be awfully nostalgic when reading this book aloud or just for a look-see, even though Trouble in Troublesome Creek is very definitely a book for 6-to-9-year-olds.

If your child believes that summer vacation isn't long enough and the school year comes too soon, then having this book on your shelf can extend the season. For them, the fun in Trouble in Troublesome Creek is spot-on.

Hot Stove League

Team One Whips Moran's To Move On In Playoffs

The Hot Stove League regular season was concluded by Team One last Thursday with a 13-10 win over KMK Insurance at Potomac Park.

Team One then opened its playoff series with a 6-4 victory over Moran Lawn Care at Baron on Monday, and then won the best-of-three series yesterday with a 12-2 win over Moran's.

Despite out-hitting KMK by a 13-5 margin last Thursday, Team One had to hang on in the late innings to secure the win.

Aaron Shotwell led the winners with two doubles and a single, plus four RBI, while Seth Holler was right behind with two doubles and a single for three RBI. Jonah Alt, Reese Haskiell, and Lucas Ritchie each had two singles and two RBI.

Pacing KMK at the plate were Ott and Jack Hawkins, who each contributed a two-run hit.

Team One took a record of 11-6-1 into Monday's playoff game against Moran Lawn Care, and wasted no time taking the lead for good, recording four runs in the first inning.

Shotwell hit a pair of singles for two RBI and also scored twice for Team One, Haskiell provided a two-run double, and Holler sent two runs home with a single.

Kevin Colaw recorded the win, going the distance, allowing just three hits and striking out eight.

Two of Moran's four runs, all scored in the bottom of the second inning, were unearned, as Team One committed five errors in the game.

Tyler Rayner had a two-run single for Moran's.

Josh Fitzgerald had a complete game for Moran's, striking out eight.

Moran's threatened in the bottom of the seventh, with runners at first and second and only one out. But Team One second baseman D.J. Flanagan almost single-handedly ended the game by snagging a line drive and picking off the runner at second for the final two outs.

In yesterday's game against Moran's at Broadford Park, Team One spotted the visitors two runs in the top of the first, but then took the lead for good by recording three runs in the bottom of that frame. Team One then basically put the game away with a seven-run burst in the third inning.

Derek Hinebaugh paced the Team One offense with a triple, a double, and a single for four RBI. Seth Holler added a double and two singles to plate three runs, while Derek Noble contributed two singles and two RBI. D.J. Savage chipped in with a run-producing single.

Aaron Shotwell earned a complete-game win on the mound, giving up just three hits. One of those was a two-run single in the first by Logan Cheshire.

Team One, with an overall record of 14-6-1, will advance to the second round of the playoffs.

Lakeview Auto Advances In Hot Stove Tourney

Lakeview Auto Parts opened its Hot Stove League playoff run with a 6-2 victory over D&D Homes at Potomac Park on Monday, with Lakeview breaking a 1-1 tie with five runs in the top of the eighth inning.

Lakeview then won the best of three series last night with a 6-3 win at Northern High School, and will now advance to the second round.

Lakeview took a 1-0 lead in Monday's first game with a run in the top of the second, and the score remained unchanged until the bottom of the seventh when D&D plated a run to tie the score at 1-1, forcing an extra inning.

Cody Rodeheaver kept D&D scoreless until the bottom of the seventh, and ultimately got the complete-game win. He allowed five hits and struck out six.

A triple by Justin Derato plated two runs for Lakeview in the eighth, and Beck Sherrard, Jeremy Bender, and Derek Rodeheaver each singled home a run.

Derato also had a single, and Bender, Cody Rodeheaver, and Derek Rodeheaver each had two singles in the 10-hit team effort.

Leading D&D offensively was Dylan Redinger, who had a single and a double. The tying run in the bottom of the seventh was scored via a bunt by Patrick Russell.

Lakeview trailed 3-0 going into the bottom of the fifth inning in last night's game, but knotted the score with three runs in that frame, and then added three more runs in the sith to get the win.

D&D built its 3-0 lead via just two hits.

Lakeview's three-run effort in the sixth was led by Pat Sines, who smacked a three-run homer.

Sines also hit a single, while Cody Rodeheaver provided a triple and two singles. Jeremy Bender and Derek Rodeheaver each recorded two singles, and winning pitcher Jared Fike chipped in with a double.

Fike and reliever Jeremy Bender allowed just two hits, including a double by Logan Dye.

The pair of victories upped Lakeview Auto's overall record to 13-6.

Cork's Eliminated By Ridgeley VFW In League Playoffs

The Hot Stove Baseball League team sponsored by Cork's Cars wrapped up its regular season with a pair of victories, but was eliminated yesterday in the first round of the league playoffs by Ridgeley VFW.

Cork's edged host Frostburg First United last Thursday, 14-13, and concluded its regular season with a 3-0 shutout of American Insurance last Friday at Broadford Park.

In the best-of-three playoff series against Ridgeley VFW, Cork's dropped the first game on Monday, 13-2, and then lost yesterday's contest, 10-0, at Potomac Park.

In the game against First United, Cork's trailed 4-1 after the first inning, was behind 6-3 after two frames, and was down 10-7 after three complete innings, but took the lead for good with seven runs scored over the next three innings while holding First United to four. The contest was called after six innings because of time constraints.

Cork's finished with an 11-7 lead in hits, but committed seven errors to keep things close.

Keith Chapman went 2-for-4 at the plate with three RBI, and also scored three times. Alex Michaels also had two hits and drove in two runs.

David Cotton had two hits and two RBI for First United, and also scored twice.

The loss dropped First United's record to 7-10-1.

Friday's win over American Insurance gave Cork's a final regular-season mark of 16-2.

Evan Rodeheaver, who got relief help in the sixth from Dylan Bennett, earned the win. Rodeheaver struck out seven batters and allowed only three hits, while Bennett gave up one hit in pitching the final two frames.

Reed Logsdon and Ryan Briner combined for a three-hitter, but took the loss, as Cork's scored its three runs in the first two innings.

Logan Stewart had two of Cork's three hits, and also had two steals and scored one run.

Ryan Briner hit a pair of doubles for American Insurance.

Cork's managed just four hits in the playoff loss to Ridgeley VFW on Monday, as Colton Dorsey went the distance for the VFW, recording eight strikeouts.

Meanwhile, the VFW batters pounded out 14 hits, including a double and two singles by Devin Erickson, and a double and a single each by Thane Cutter, Dorsey, and Garrett Shoemaker.

Stewart hit a triple for Cork's, and Bennett and Matt Imhoff each provided a double.

Cork's managed just two hits off VFW pitcher Devin Erichsen, who had just four strikeouts, but allowed only two runners to reach third base. Justin Nesselrodt recorded both hits for Cork's, a double and a single.

Thane Cutter had two doubles and two singles to lead VFW's 10-hit performance. Erichsen aided his own cause with a double and a single, and Gage Shaffer provided two singles.

Cork's Cars finished the season with a 14-4 record, while Ridgeley improved to 12-8 and will move on in the playoffs.

Madigan's Tied With Rippers In League Playoffs

Still alive in the Hot Stove League playoffs is the team sponsored by Madigan's Auto Sales, which picked up a forfeit win in the first game of the best-of-three series against the Romney Rippers, but was then edged yesterday, 2-0, at Southern High School.

Madigan's out-hit the Rippers by an 8-5 margin, but could not bring any runners home.

The game was scoreless until the top of the eighth when Romney's Bucky Timbrook led off with a single, Josh Crawford drew a walk, both runners advanced on a passed ball, and Garrett Crawford followed with a two-run double.

Madigan's went three-and-out in the bottom of the inning, giving Dane Heavner the complete-game win. He struck out 10 in the process.

Garrett Hoffman went 3-for-4 for Madigan's, and Jake Taylor had two hits.

Crawford led the Rippers at the plate with two hits.

The series will be decided this Friday evening at Hampshire High School.

Davis, DeWitt Top Finishers In Lisa Wade Run

Jennifer Davis, 27, Morgantown, and Dan DeWitt, 22, Frostburg, were the top finishers in the 10th annual Lisa Wade 5-K Memorial Run, held Saturday in Westernport.

The race, held in memory of Garrett County athlete Lisa Wade, begins along Route 36, runs across the Waverly Street bridge, through Westernport, up Route 36 to Franklin, and back down old Route 36 to the finish and post-race festivities in Creekside Park.

Davis shattered the female course record of 18:56, held by Maureen Hall, by crossing the finish line in 17:33, good enough for fourth place among all the runners. She received $200 as a bonus for setting a new course record.

A five-time All-American runner for West Virginia University, Davis is now the assistant coach of the WVU women's cross country and track and field teams.

Second place in the women's race went to 37-year-old Jennifer Sober of McHenry, who finished in 19:13 and in sixth place overall after winning the previous week's Independence 5-K Run in Keyser with a time of 18:57. Third place was won by Amy Rowan, 30, Cumberland, in 20:26.

On the men's side, DeWitt took first overall finisher honors for the second year in a row, even though his time of 16:39 was more than a full minute off his time from the 2009 Lisa Wade 5-K (15:22).

Second place overall was captured by Allegany High School senior Ian McFawn, 17, LaVale, with a time of 17:13. Third place went to another local high school star turned collegiate runner, Grantsville's Ryan Bowser, 20, in 17:26. Bowser, a cross-country state champion for the Northern Huskies, now competes at Marshall University.

Also turning in an impressive performance was 57-year old Tom Ruckert of Grantsville, who placed fifth overall with a time of 18:46.

Among other higher finishing Garrett County runners were: Mikey Skipper, 16, Oakland, who placed ninth overall in 19:33; Andrew Bowser, 27, Grantsville, who was 13th overall in 20:25; and Scott Winters, 47, Oakland, who finished 26th in 22:05.

In the 1.5-Mile Fun Run/Walk, top overall finishers on the female side were 13-year-old Sarah Hutton of Swanton with a winning time of 10:38, Linda Nelson, 44, of LaVale in 11:07, and Amy Broadwater, 25, of Rawlings in 11:16.

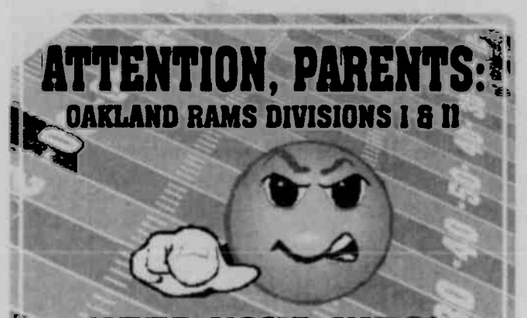
Mary Harvey, 71, Oakland, and Carolyn Deverse, 60, Swanton, placed second and third, respectively, in the women's 60-99 age division.

Among the male competitors, the top three finishers were Ryan Streets, 13, Keyser, in 9:16, Brandon McDougal, 28, Westernport, in 9:24, and Logan Cheshire, 15, also of Westernport, in 9:53.

Tom Browning, 80, Mtn. Lake Park, placed second in the men's 60-99 age group.

Also held was the third annual Corey's Course, a 15-minute timed walking event, held in memory of Lisa Wade's cousin Corey Broadwater.

The Queen City Striders running club noted its appreciation to race director Steve Amann and the George's Creek Soccer Club for their successful organization of the race. With 161 finishers in the 5-K run and 109 finishers in the 1.5-mile walk, it was one of the most well-attended events to date.



Mugs and jackets were given to award winners, and a wide assortment of door prizes, food, drinks, and photos was available for participants after the race.

For more information or for full results of the Lisa Wade 5-K/1.5-Mile Fun Run/Walk, or for more information about the Striders, persons may visit the club web site at http://www.qcstriders.org or e-mail qcstriders@gmail.com.

Grantsville Post 214 Splits With Potomac Valley, Swept By Post 13

Grantsville Post 214 split an American Legion Baseball League doubleheader last Friday, crushing Potomac Valley in the opener, 15-0, but getting edged in the second game, 11-10. The contests were played at Moorefield.

Post 214 was then swept on Saturday by host Fort Cumberland Post 13, 5-4 and 7-5.

Grantsville took control of Friday's opener early against Potomac Valley, scoring three in the first inning, three in the second, and two m the third. The local team added one in the fourth and six more in the sixth, battering a pair of Potomac pitchers with 18 hits.

Corey Helbig led the barrage with two triples and two singles for six RBI, while Dan Warnick stroked a run-producing triple and two singles, Andy Umbel hit three singles, and Tom Holtschneider doubled twice. Mason Dick and Steve Holtschneider each hit a double and a single.

Gaining the win was Jeremy Sharpless, who went the distance, allowed five hits, fanned two batters, and walked two.

Collin Mitchell hit two singles for Potomac Valley.

After trailing 8-1 in the second game, Grantsville rallied for six runs in the top of the fifth and took a 10-9 lead into the final half of the seventh. But that's when Potomac Valley scored a pair of runs on a bloop single by Corey Reed.

Mitchell finished with a two-run triple and two singles, and Reed and Corey Foltz each had three singles for the winners.

In the opener against Post 13 on Saturday, Post 214 let a 4-1 lead turn into a 5-4 deficit by giving up one run in the bottom of the fourth and three more in the fifth.

Post 13 finished with 11 hits, including two singles each by Chris Wilson, Aaron Lehman, Ethan Landis, and Connor O'Rourke.

Grantsville never recovered from a 4-0, first-inning deficit in the second game, but kept things close.

Helbig recorded a double, and Warnick hit a pair of singles for Post 214, while Wilson, Conley, and O'Rourke each singled twice for Post 13.

Oaks Record Four Pen-Mar Wins, All At The Expense Of Romney Team

The Oakland Pen-Mar Baseball League team rolled up four victories this past weekend, all at the expense of the Romney Cycles Orioles. The Oaks swept the Orioles in a twinbill on Saturday, 7-0 and 6-2, and then defeated the same team again twice on Sunday at Garrett College, 2-0 and 2-1.

Greg Beachy allowed just two hits in going the distance and recording a shutout in Saturday's first game. He needed just 82 pitches to dispose of the Orioles, striking out seven batters in the process.

The Oaks finished with nine hits, handing Tony Fetters the loss on the mound. Tommy Reams, Williams, and Greg Anderson each hit a double.

Beachy also got the nod for the second game and proceeded to fire a four-hitter to go 2-0 for the day.

Anderson, Colmer, and Altobello each doubled for the Oaks.

Nate Wright gained the shutout in Sunday's first game, giving up just two hits and fanning seven batters.

Reams stroked a two-run double in the bottom of the first to plate the only runs of the game.

The losing pitcher, Demetreous Taylor, also pitched well, allowing only four hits and striking out three.

Jeremy Fitzwater went the distance for the win the Sunday's second game, giving up just three hits, striking out seven, and allowing only one run.

The Oaks scored their two runs in the fourth inning behind doubles by Williams and Reams, and a single by Shingler.

Once again, the Orioles also got strong pitching, this time from Cody Jeffries, who wend the distance, gave up four hits, and struck out four.

Frank Arnold Defeated 12-6, Then Tops KMK

Frank Arnold Contracting was topped 12-6 by undefeated WEPCO Federal Credit Union last Friday in a Cumberland Rec League game played at Southern High School, but then bounced back on Monday to defeat visiting KMK Personal Best, 7-2.

Arnold's had a 5-4 edge going into the top of the fifth in Friday's game, but that's when WEPCO put four runs on the board to take the lead for good. The visitors added four more in the top of the sixth.

Each team recorded eight hits, with Adam Stowell going the distance and gaining the victory. Stowell struck out 11, with eight of them being among the final eight batters that he faced.

Leading WFPCO's hitting effort were Dan Warnick with a double and a single for three RBI, and Steven Holtschneider with two singles and one RBI. Stowell aided his own cause with a two-run single, and Thomas Holtschneider also hit a two-run single.

Andrew Sisler smacked a two-run triple for Arnold's, while Corey Helbig provided two doubles and a run-producing single. Ryan Bennett contributed a two-run single.

The victory upped WEPCO's record to 12-0-1.

Monday's game against KMK Personal Best was delayed by rain in the third inning, but when play resumed Arnold's scored seven runs to gain the win.

Mason Dick earned the win on the mound, tossing five innings and allowing just two runs. He aided his own cause at the plate by rapping a triple for one RBI.

Ryan Sweitzer also had a triple and a single for three RBI, Cody Myers doubled and provided a run-producmg sacrifice, and Tyler Sweitzer and Christian Glotfelty each contributed a run-producing single.

KMK was led offensively by Dillon Samoni with a double and a single. J.C. Hixon, Matt O'Reilly, and Brent Parrish each had a run-producing single.

Frank Arnold Contracting will host Chessie on Friday at Southern. Game time is 6 p.m.

Sailboat Racing
On Deep Creek Lake

WHAT'S A FISH STORY DOING IN A SAILING COLUMN?
by Dan Muss

While my wife and I were up in the Adirondacks for an early music workshop, this sailing column was taken over for two weeks by my able friend, neighbor, and sailing buddy Ted Rissell. Ted did not have the June Series results in time for last week's column so they are included here. He also was not able to get this fish story into his last column.

On the weekend of the 4th, Chris Drury was running the Laser races, and after the racing was over, he went to pick up one of our orange pumpkin-shaped marks. To his utter surprise, up came a 17-inch pickerel with it! Chris freed the fish and threw him back in; a fisherman's baited line must have gotten fouled around the mark's anchor line, and when he couldn't free it, he just cut the line.

The forecast for last Saturday was for fair weather and winds NNW at 8 knots, so we happily headed out to the starting line. But, as we approached the open stretch of water between Blakeslee and Thousand Acres there were serious whitecaps and it was blowing more like 15. That was too much for us, so we headed back in with the intention of getting in my pontoon boat to watch the second race. However, when I tried to start the motor the battery was dead, so I missed all the racing for that day. (I found an accessory switch that I'd left on for the 10 days we were gone.)

The Sunday forecast was for NNW 4 knots; what we had on the water was 0 to 10! And when I say 0, I mean it. After the Gold Fleet got off, the wind died and when it came up again 15 minutes later, the Silver, Masters', and Challenger fleets all started together; it was somewhat of a mess. Sometimes we were up on the rail in a 10-knot breeze, and sometimes we were hiking to leeward to help fill the sails in very light air, with the wind changing direction from W to E, but staying generally N. The lead exchanged several times around the course until the second windward mark, when the wind died completely and we sat in a great big clump with Silver and Masters' all trying to get around the mark.

When the breeze did come up, it came from NNE, so I was able to head up above the mark then come downwind between the mark and the clump of boats. We did a gibe raise on our spinnaker and sailed downwind on the port tack while the rest of the boats went off on starboard. We had clean air, and when we gibed onto starboard we closed with the fleet that was now on port and raised hell with those boats. We were second around the gibe mark behind Silverman. We were carrying our spinnaker on a broad reach when I decided to take ours down. Without the spinnaker we were able to sail higher and faster than Silverman, and we rounded the final leeward mark in first place and held on to win.

The team of Roger Levin and crew Dan Spohn has been in the back of the Masters' Fleet for a long while, but last Sunday they led the fleet for almost half the race. It's good to see them up there competing.

Sunday's race took almost two hours, and my crew and I were both exhausted. Had I been PRO, I would have finished the race at the second windward mark... but then we would not have won!

FISHING LESSONS GIVEN – The Partners After School @ Loch Lynn recently finished up the school year with fishing lessons where students learned about different types of bait, reels, and fish. Students were awarded prizes for their fishing knowledge and participation. Pictured above are students Savannahae Helms, Katie Shreve, Todd Remiller, and John Pelland. Back row: instructor Michael A. Gibbons and volunteer Michael C. Gibbons. The students and staff expressed their appreciation to Deer Park Sportsman Club, Bill's Outdoor Center, Funland, and Smiley's for donations. The Partners After School @ Loch Lynn is a collaborative effort between Garrett County Community Action, Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families, the Maryland State Department of Education, Garrett County commissioners, and the Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development. Garrett County Community Action's After School programs promote the agency's goal of creating a positive attitude about the value of education among working families and young people. 101st Broadwater Reunion Slated In Grantsville Park

The 101st annual Broadwater reunion will be held on Sunday, Aug. 1, in Grantsville Community Park. The park will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and the reunion's opening ceremony will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Entertainment will be provided throughout the day by Loretta Hummel, Robert Broadwater, Diona Broadwater, and Perry Kamp.

The park playground will be available for children. Activities will include badminton, volleyball, and games for both adults and children.

Prizes will be awarded for those traveling the farthest to the reunion, the most recently married, etc.

The concluding ceremony will begin at approximately 4 p.m., with announcements and recognition of family members.

"All family members are encouraged to bring one of their favorite quotes, along with memorabilia, family pictures, etc.," said event spokeswoman Margie Broadwater.

Anyone wanting to contribute time to help with activities is asked to call her at 301-729-3852.

Quilt Festival

ing their wares, a brown bag auction, recognition of current barn quilt owners and sponsors, carriage rides, and live music. Children's games and a coloring contest will also take place.

The tour of the corn maze will be available at a reduced cost on the day of the event. The local band Sugar Foot Stompers will provide the musical entertainment throughout the day. Food venders will be on the grounds.

A live auction will take place at approximately 2 p.m. Donors have provided a wide variety of items to be sold, with the proceeds benefitting the Barn Quilt Association. Persons will be able to bid on golf packages, overnight stays at local bed and breakfasts, a stained glass hanging, an Amish-made replica of an old barn, wood-burned barn quilt plaques, a watercolor painting of a local farm scene, restaurant gift certificates, and many other items.

The Barn Quilt Association will also be selling collectible merchandise with the images of the current Garrett County quilt block designs. Limited edition lapel pins, magnets, and a poster featuring the first series of barns will be available.

Festival goers will be encouraged to take the entire driving tour as part of the day's events. Maps and locations are available on the association's web page, located at www.garrettbarnquilts.org, and will also be provided on site at the festival.

The spokesperson said the mission of the Barn Quilt Association of Garrett County Inc. is as follows: "To provide a sustainable heritage tourism attraction/ activity while preserving and celebrating the unique agriculture, history, and arts culture of our area through visual combinations of barns and quilt designs, to educate the public, and showcase our Appalachian tradition."

For more information on the Barn Quilt Festival or the association, persons may visit the web site noted above, e-mail info@GarrettBarnQuilts.org, or call 877-577-BARN (2276).

Required In

chairman Troy Ellington asked if there would be additional requirements for water storage and/or back-up power for homes with private wells.

Torrington said a new home with an individual well would be required to have a reservoir and a fire pump. A home on a public system would not be required to have a pump, if there is enough water pressure.

Some areas of the Deep Creek Lake system, the chief noted, do not have a enough water pressure and a pump would be needed.

Contractor Roger Sines of Sines Construction said he opposed the sprinkler requirement for a couple of different reasons. He said he could not see the justification for it, as only one or two new homes have burned since the county enacted its building codes ordinance and inspection policies 13 years ago.

"We just don't have burn downs with new construction," Sines said.

The second reason he opposes the requirement is the cost and its affect on the local economy

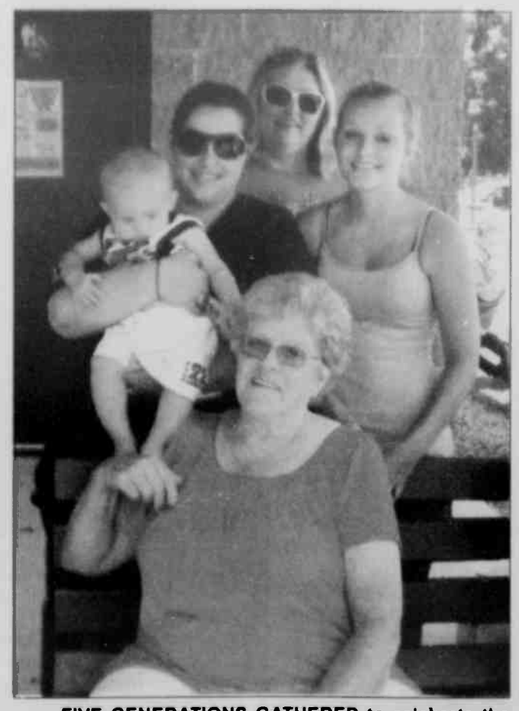
He estimates the cost of a sprinkler system for a home on public water to be between $8,000 and $20,000. The high-end price would be for a "mini-hotel" with seven bedrooms.

Sines said he had no problem with sprinklers in mini hotels.

"That's a good thing," he said. "But for the Joe Blow homeowner who's going out here and build a house, I just can't justify it. I can't see it."

For someone with a private well, it could cost "mega bucks," possibly up to $25,000, to install a system with a holding tank, Sines said.

"I think it's going to hurt the construction [industry]," Sines said. "I think people are going to say, I'm not going to do that.'"



New housing construction is already slow, given current economic conditions, he indicated, and the sprinkler requirement will slow it down "tremendously."

Torrington entered a letter into the hearing record from the Homebuilders Association of Western Marvland. The group requested that the sprinkler requirement be postponed until Jan. 1, 2012, to allow time for homes currently under construction to be completed as planned.

In addition to the IRC changes, the county is proposing to formally adopt the 2009 International Energy Conservation Code into its ordinance (IECC). This code is now mandated by state law under the Maryland Building Performance Standards.

"It (IECC) has always been a reference in our code, but never formally adopted," Torrington said. "It will require, I think, some increased inspection efforts, some increased land review efforts through our office to assure that we are going to meet this new energy conservation effort."

Comments concerning the proposed changes to the county's building codes ordinance may be addressed to the commissioners. They will hold the record open for comments until Tuesday, July 27.

DEER PARK

A family gathering was held in remembrance of T. Marie Conley, formerly of Terra Alta, W.Va., on July 4 and 5 at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Dorothy and Roger Bowser, Deer Park.

Those in attendance were daughters Kyle Conley and daughter Tia Rodriguez, Broomfield, Colo., and Linda and Larry Myers, Waco, Texas; nieces Debra Riggs, Litchfield, N.H.; Carol and Jim Henderson and sons Dane and wife Meg, Colin and daughters, Penelope and Isabella, and Lowen and friend Tabatha, Kershaw, S.C., nephews Wayne Wilhelm, Oxford N.C., and David, Laura, Etta, and Daniel Wilhelm, Camden, S.C.; niece Elva Glaze and daughters Rhonda, Barbara, and friend Doug, Karen and husband Tom, and granddaughter Crystal and friend Matt of Jessup; Sharon Toston and friend Sy, Clearwater, Fla.; cousins Maxine and Virgil Davis, Morgantown, W.Va., and Wilma Jean and Getty Keefer, Friendsville; and friends Sue Bowser and Evelyn Broadwater, Smock, Pa., Pat and Lewis Lohr, Swanton, and Fred and Sue Glaze, Oakland.

Special Events

The birth of one baby was announced this week, a girl.

A daughter, Maclairen Rose, was born to Paul Brandon and Kelli (Elliot) Frantz, Grantsville, on June 24 at the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center. The maternal grandparents are John and Nancy Elliott, Grantsville, and the paternal grandparents are Debbie and Gerald Wine, Oakland, and the late Paul J. Frantz.

Tire, Wheel Stolen From Vehicle At Lake Residence

Maryland State Police are investigating the theft that occurred at a Lake Shore Drive residence on July 2.

A female suspect reportedly was seen removing a tire and wheel from the victim's Nissan Sentra. The suspect is described as wearing a T-shirt and white shorts and driving a Nissan passenger vehicle with New York registration. Anyone with additional information is asked to contact Tfc. Huber at the MSP McHenry Barrack at 301-387-1101.

FINE FEATHERED FRIENDS – Bird-watching is a common hobby in Garrett County, and the dawn of digital photography has brought out the best in folks with a "good eye" for capturing special moments. The bright orange plumage of the Baltimore oriole is always impressive, and the one shown above matches his feeder nicely. His meal was provided by his photographer, Lisa Rook, Oakland. In the photo below, a male rose-breasted grosbeak is pictured just as he drops a shelled seed into his daughter's mouth. Photographer Scott Robinson, Paradise Ridge, said he knows the little one is female, as her brother in the same nest has already started to show his colors. The chicks are on their way out of the nest, but still come to their parents for food. A little like humans, perhaps? Happy bird-watching, all.

Marcellus Shale, Wildlife Will Be Meeting Topics

The Allegheny Highlands Conservancy (AHC) will hold its regular board meeting next Wednesday, July 21, at 7 p.m. in the CAOS building at Garrett College, McHenry. Attendees will view a webinar presented by Margaret Brittingham, professor of wildlife resources and extension wildlife specialist at Penn State University.

This webinar, which was originally broadcast in March of last year, is titled "Above the Marcellus Shale – Minimizing Impacts to Forests and Wildlife." The public is welcome to attend.

This is one of a series of webinars offered by Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences and Penn State Cooperative Extension. The programs cover a variety of topics, ranging from a local government's role in gas exploration to the effects of deep-well drilling methods on water supplies. The series is targeted at extension educators, federal and state agency representatives, and interested citizens.

For more information about this and other Marcellus Shale webinars, persons are encouraged to go online and visit http://natural-gas.extension.psu.edu/webinars.htm.

The Allegheny Highlands Conservancy is a local land trust dedicated to conserving the natural resources, scenic beauty, and rural character of the Allegheny Highlands of Maryland. AHC members work to: protect and conserve land, water, and natural resources of the Allegheny Highlands region; promote the preservation, protection, and stewardship of forest, scenic, natural, wildlife, recreational, and agricultural land, and water resources; partner with the community to conserve working rural farms and forests; serve as a conservation information resource for landowners and land managers; and provide a forum for community understanding and support of land and water conservation.

AHC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit charitable organization. Donations are appreciated and may be sent to AHC, PO Box 333, McHenry, MD 21541. For additional information about AHC or becoming a member, persons are invited to telephone Kevin Dodge or go online and visit www.AlleghenyHighlands-Conservancy.org.

RED ROCK ENTERPRISES AWARDS ACM SCHOLARSHIP – Red Rock Enterprises recently awarded a $800 scholarship to Allegany College of Maryland forest technology major Aaron Graan, Everett, Pa. Red Rock is a regional forest-service company based in Friendsville. Graan is among 16 ACM forestry students who recently completed a summer session that covered land surveying, forest appraisal methods, and timber harvesting. His scholarship will be put toward his second year, set to begin in the fall. "Red Rock Enterprises is happy to support Aaron," said president and owner Phil Frantz. "In order for us to manage forest resources for the long-term needs of society, we need to invest in these forestry students." Frantz also supports ACM by purchasing harvested wood, subsidizing the costs of delivery to his firm's wood yard, and providing technical expertise to students. From left are ACM professor John Jastrzembski, Green, and Frantz.

Local Leaders Attend National SADD Conference

Leaders from three different Garrett County SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions) chapters recently joined other activists from across the country to learn the latest in prevention education.

Nearly 600 SADD youth and adult leaders gathered at the four-day SADD National Conference in Orlando, Fla., June 27–30, to share best practices in educating their peers and promoting positive decision-making. This year's theme was "Under the Sea: Changing the Tide."

Conference sponsors included DCH Auto Group, Toyota Motor Sales USA, and Bridgestone Americas Inc.

As part of the conference, youth leaders from Friendsville, Grantsville, and Crellin SADD groups attended workshops aimed at providing students with information about topics critical to youth health and safety, such as underage drinking, teen violence and suicide, driving safety, diversity, bullying, and youth advocacy. They participated in motivational activities and presentations aimed at exchanging new approaches and gathering ideas that they will now share with the community and develop into events for their SADD chapter.

"SADD students in our middle and high schools and communities are dedicated to helping our peers make safe, positive decisions," said Brenda Sisler, Garrett County SADD coordinator. "It was exciting to meet with other youth who share the same mission. We have learned a lot from each other, and we're excited to put our new skills into action."

LOCAL YOUTH "CHANGING THE TIDE" – Members and sponsors of local SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions) chapters attended the recent SADD National Conference in Orlando, Fla. The theme for this year's event was "Under the Sea: Changing the Tide." Participants attended workshops aimed at providing students with information about such topics as underage drinking, bullying, and driving safety. See story. Pictured from left are Brenda Sisler, Sarah Friend, Sonya Thomas, Brennon Crosby, Derrick Silbaugh, and Sharon Menges. Also attending the conference from Garrett County, but not available for the photo, were Terry and Andrew Beachy.

The conference is held in a different city each year to afford young people a new cultural experience. This year in Orlando, students participated in a community service school supplies drive to benefit students at University High School and were provided an opportunity to experience Universal Studio's Islands of Adventure theme park.

SADD – the nation's leading peer-to-peer youth education, prevention, and activism organization – is committed to empowering young people to lead initiatives in their schools and communities, Sisler noted.

Founded in 1981, today SADD has thousands of chapters in middle schools, high schools, colleges, and communities. The organization highlights prevention of many destructive behaviors and attitudes that are harmful to young people, including underage drinking, other drug use, risky and impaired driving, and teen violence and suicide.

SADD members who attended the national conference were selected by competing in a scholarship process. Registration and travel expenses for this conference were provided by Governor's Office of Crime Control and Prevention and the local Drug Free Communities Coalition.

For more information about joining one of the local community or high school SADD groups, persons are asked to call the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-7730.

How do we find a way to rest and store up energy for the next activity in our busy lives? Perhaps a nap in the warm sunshine? Jeremiah 6:16 says, "...ask where the good way is, and walk in it, and you will find rest for your souls." Discover the "good way" in God's house. Find the peace and respite to rejuvenate your life!

OTC Does Not Always Spell SAFE

Over-the-counter (OTC) medications can have desirable effects that are just as significant as prescription medication. Americans purchase more and more OTC products each year as a significant number of prescription medications are converted to OTC status. Most consumers believe that OTC means safe. Not necessarily true. Some OTC products have potent effects that should be monitored by a doctor and pharmacist. Over 200,000 hospitalizations occur each year in the US that are associated with the use and misuse of OTC medication. Over half of adults admit that they have taken more than the recommended dose for over-the-counter drugs in the past.

Navigating the shelves of OTC pain relievers and cold remedies can be confusing. Concentrate on the symptoms you are experiencing and focus on only taking medication to relieve those symptoms. It is easy to choose a product that has "a little of everything" in it, but that is not necessarily best, especially if you are elderly or giving the medication to a child. Chronic ibuprofen or naproxen use can lead to stomach ulcers. Diphenhydramine can be very sedating and cause confusion and urinary retention in the elderly. Check with your pharmacist before purchasing and taking any OTC product along with prescription drugs and/or consuming alcohol.

Don't Wait to Love

There are many types of love and many different ways to classify the different types of love. One fairly standard way is by the Greek notions of eros, philia, and agape, corresponding roughly of the English notions of romantic love, brotherly love, and love of God. While this classification captures most manifestations of love, it doesn't seem to capture all of them. For instance, the love of a mother for her children is arguably different than brotherly love. In any case, I want to suggest that we should not wait for love to come our way before we love in return. The true lover is one who gives their love freely and without conditions, and though they may hope and trust that it will be returned, doesn't make it a precondition of loving. Love cannot have preconditions or stipulations. If you want to be loved, then love first and love deeply, and love without qualifications or conditions. By extending your hand in love and friendship, you create the conditions for a mutual friendship. Waiting to see if the other person will extend their friendship first will lead to suspicions about your feelings and mutual distrust. Perhaps here we should consider the example of a mother's love: She does not wait to see what kind of child her newborn will become before giving her love but rather extends it immediately, unconditionally, and wholeheartedly. We should do likewise to all of God's creation.

We love Him because he first loved us.

'CSI' has welcomed back its 21st-century Fox

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Q: I guess I missed an episode, because I have no idea why Sara (played by Jorja Fox) is back on "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation." The last I saw, she quit and went to live in the jungle, followed shortly by Grissom. Later, she made a statement about her husband being in Paris. Could you please clear up this puzzle? –Sandra Robson, Port St. Lucie, Fla.

A: The CBS show wrote Sara out during season eight, and she bowed out by leaving Grissom (William Petersen) a letter explaining that she had to go away to deal with personal demons. She popped back in for the first couple of season-nine episodes, then reappeared very briefly toward the middle of that season when Grissom also left and met up with her in Costa Rica.

Sara then stayed absent until the start of the 10th season, when she returned to the crime lab to help because of short staffing, due in part to the death of Warrick (Gary Dourdan). Sara declared then that she and Grissom are married now, and he's in Paris teaching at the Sorbonne. Evidently in their case, absence does make the heart grow fonder ... and will continue to, since Sara is expected to remain on board for the show's next season.

Q: I am a big fan of "Law & Order: Criminal Intent," and I am sorry Kathryn Erbe will no longer be on the show. I would like to know about her and whether she has future plans for movies or another television series. –Joe White, Thornville, Ohio

Jorja Fox

A: A native of Newton, Mass., Erbe made her series debut at the end of the 1980s, playing Lynn Redgrave's daughter on the ABC sitcom "Chicken Soup" while she was still studying at New York University. Her other television work included "Oz" and "Homicide: Life on the Street" before she landed the "L&O: CI" part of police detective Alexandra Eames in 2001.

Erbe is no stranger to working in live theater, being a member of the celebrated Steppenwolf Theatre Company – actor-director Terry Kinney, one of its founders, is her ex-husband and father of their two children – and she also has done her share of movie work.

Her films have included "D2: The Mighty Ducks," "Stir of Echoes," "What About Bob?" and the 1995 version of "Kiss of Death." Her most recent movie, "3 Backyards," played this year's Sundance Film Festival; at this writing, it was awaiting a wider release, and more film work would seem very likely for Erbe.

• You might be surprised to learn that it was theoretical physicist Albert Einstein, one of the best-known scientists of all time, who made the following sage observation: "If you want your children to be intelligent, read them fairy tales. If you want them to be more intelligent, read them more fairy tales."

• On average, a man's beard grows about a half-inch every month.

• Do you suffer from coprolalia? I would hope not! If you're a word deconstructionist and up on your Greek, you might be able to figure out that coprolalia means an uncontrollable use of obscene language, since "copro" means "dung" and "lalia" means "chatter" or "babble."

• Marilyn Monroe's iconic film "Some Like It Hot" (which in 2000 was named the greatest American comedy film of all time by the American Film Institute) was originally titled "Not Tonight Josephine!"

• The next time you have jury duty and want to get out of it, you might want to keep this in mind: A judge in Liverpool, England, dismissed a man from the jury when fellow jurors complained about the fleas in his beard.

• At one time, the Catholic Church considered it sinful to eat a hot dog.

• If you're ever visiting Egypt and asking for directions, remember that in that country, "upstream" means south.

• It's probably fair to say that people have been enjoying mixed alcoholic beverages for hundreds of years, but the word "cocktail" wasn't in general use until 1888, when it was printed for the first time, in a bartender's manual.

• In Connecticut in the 17th century, it was illegal to smoke more than one cigarette a day, and that one had to be smoked at home.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On July 22, 1598, William Shakespeare's play "The Merchant of Venice" is entered on the Stationers' Register. By decree of Queen Elizabeth, the Stationers' Register licensed printed works, giving the Crown tight control over all published material.

• On July 19, 1799, a black basalt slab inscribed with ancient writing is discovered in Egypt. The artifact, called the Rosetta Stone, held the key to solving the riddle of hieroglyphics, a written language that had been "dead" for nearly 2,000 years.

• On July 24, 1911, American archeologist Hiram Bingham gets his first look at Machu Picchu, an ancient Inca settlement in Peru. Machu Picchu is believed to have been a summer retreat for Inca leaders, whose civilization was wiped out by Spanish invaders in the 16th century.

• On July 21, 1925, schoolteacher John T. Scopes is convicted of violating Tennessee's new law against teaching evolution. The case was never really in doubt. On May 4, the American Civil Liberties Union had offered to help any Tennessee schoolteacher challenge the law. To gain publicity for the town of Dayton, Scopes, a local science teacher, agreed to fill the role since he wasn't planning to stay in Dayton anyway. No one was really concerned whether he had actually taught evolution to his students.

• On July 20, 1963, Jan and Dean's "Surf City" reaches the top of the charts. "Surf City" might be mistaken for a Beach Boys record, but the Beach Boys had yet to have a No. 1 hit at that time.

• On July 23, 1976, members of the American Legion gathered in Philadelphia begin suffering from a mysterious form of pneumonia. By Aug. 2, 22 people were dead and hundreds more were experiencing pneumonia-like symptoms. Their ailment would come to be known as Legionnaires disease.

• On July 25, 1985, Rock Hudson, a tall, dark and handsome Hollywood leading man of the 1950s and 1960s, announces through a press release that he is suffering from acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS). Hudson became the first major celebrity to go public with such a diagnosis.

Donnie and Marie Lunchbox

Q. I have a "Donny and Marie" lunchbox with thermos. It was never used. Value? — Mary, Deltona, Fla.

A. Your lunchbox was issued in 1976 and is worth about $200. Before you jump for joy, let me remind you that value and reality are often two very different things, especially when it comes to the buying and selling antiques and collectibles. With the depressed marketplace what it is, it will take both skill and luck to find someone willing to pay full book value.

Write to Larry Cox in care of King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475, or send e-mail to antiquequestions@aol.com. POTATO AND SALAD BAR SLATED – The Inside Out youth group of Divine Hope Church will sponsor a potato and salad bar on Saturday, July 17, from 5 to 8 p.m. In the front row, from left, are Heidi Nelson, Hannah Nelson, Jordan Bosley, Skyler Wernick, Kelsey Bosley, Katie Clapper, and Samuel Burns. Back row: Michaela Bush, J.J. Burns, Zach Tichnell, Dougie Burton, Abby Buckley, and Wyatt Sanders. Not present for photo: Emily Tichnell, Bethany Tippen, Holly Buckley, Michael Clapper, Kelsey Oser, Brianna Rinker, Trenton Rinker, Lottie Sanders, and Christine Nutter. See story for details.

Inside Out Youth Group To Host Potato, Salad Bar

The Inside Out youth group of Divine Hope Church will host a potato and salad bar on Saturday, July 17, from 5 to 8 p.m. Baked potatoes, salad, dessert, and a drink will be provided and a freewill offering will be taken. Carry-outs will be available. All donations will benefit Inside Out and God's Children Junior youth groups.

Divine Hope Church meets in the former Loch Lynn Church of God, which is located across the tracks in Loch Lynn and one block to the left. Divine Hope Church has two youth groups. Middle school and high school students make up the Inside Out group. Third through fifth graders are part of God's Children junior youth group.

"Inside Out chose their name because God changes his children from the inside out and the teens want to share the love of God and what he has done in their lives with others in the community," said a spokesperson. "The junior youth group chose their name to remind others that we are God's children."

Inside Out is finishing up the youth curriculum called "To Save A Life," based on the Christian movie that hit theaters this winter. Starting Aug. 1, the group will venture into a 13-week curriculum titled "Freedom In Christ For Young People."

Crafts, Bible stories, videos, games, snacks, and more can be found at the junior youth group. Both youth groups meet Sundays from 6 to 8 p.m.

For more information, persons may contact the church at 240-321-HOPE; youth coordinator James Burns at 301-616-3550; or associate pastor Jason Buckley at 301-334-1608.

Bittinger Parish Schedules VBS

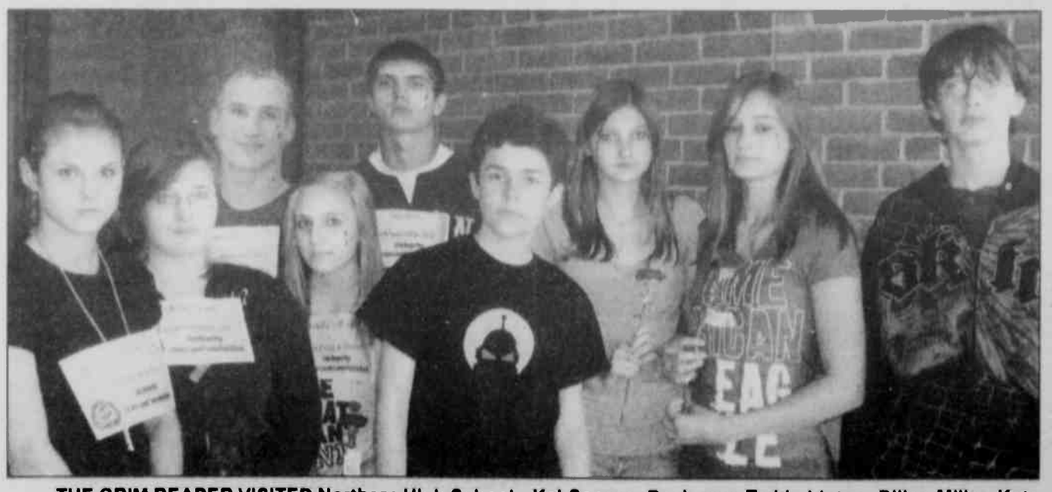
Bittinger Lutheran Parish will hold vacation Bible school from Sunday, Aug. 1, through Thursday, Aug. 5, from 6 to 8 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church, Meadow Mountain.

This year's theme is "Bible Heroes." In addition to hearing Bible lessons, participants will be able to sing, play games, and make crafts.

For more information, persons may call Yvonne at 301-387-2127.

Bible School To Be Held At Deer Park UM Church

Deer Park United Methodist Church will hold vacation Bible school Monday, July 26, through Friday, July 30, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. each evening.



Classes will be offered for children from age 4 through 12th grade.

"Hero Headquarters" is the theme for this year.

"The Bible lessons will cover some Biblical heroes who were just everyday people until they followed God's leading, and then they did extraordinary things," said a church spokesperson.

Children will also take part in making crafts, singing, and playing games.

Registration will begin at 5:30 p.m. on Monday, July 26. For more information, persons may call Rosemary at 301-334-4066.

THE GRIM REAPER VISITED Northern High School to teach students the dangers of drunk driving. The Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) Club of Grantsville and Northern High School, and Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) member Heather Christner sponsored the "grim reaper" day at the high school just before prom. "We took this opportunity before prom to remind students that drinking and driving do not mix at any age," said Sharon Menges, SADD advisor. To indicate each selection, a gong rang out over the loud speaker every time someone was chosen. Students were given a sign to wear that explained how they "died" from an alcohol related crash, and most had their faces painted with tears down the side of their cheeks. In addition, a red flower was left on their desk in memory of their "death." At the end of the day, the gong sounded eight times in memory of the students that were taken away. Pictured above are students that the reaper, Andrew Beachy, randomly picked out every 33 minutes from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m. Students were selected every 33 minutes because it is the national statistic for drunk driving related deaths. In the front row, from left to right, are Jessica Speicher, Chelsie Kirkham, Adrie Graham, and Kel Senese. Back row: Teddy Linton, Dillen Miller, Kate Wood, Hannah Baquette, and Beachy. Persons interested in more information about SADD should call Sharon Menges at 301-334-7730, and anyone interested in more information about MADD should call Heather Christner at 301-616-1031.

Children's Crusade Set In Friendsville

Karin Tyson from Marshall, Va., will conduct a children's crusade at Rush Baptist Church, Friendsville, on July 30, July 31, and Aug. 1.

The event will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from 11 a.m. until noon on Sunday.

Tyson is a children's minister, ventriloquist, and puppeteer. She will perform with "Herman" and the PALS for Christ Team. Tyson and the team conduct children's crusades and workshops throughout the area.

Special Permit Workshop Slated At DCL State Park

The Deep Creek Lake management staff will host a special permit workshop on Saturday, July 17, at 9:30 a.m. in the Deep Creek Discovery Center.

The session will cover the application process for requesting permission to improve or alter the state-owned buffer strips or privately owned properties associated with a deed of conservation easement. The topics will include structures, paths, play areas, electrical improvements, native vegetation, and shoreline erosion control.

Interested persons may contact ranger Connie Skipper for more information at 301-387-4111, or e-mail at cskipper@dnr.state.md.us.

LIKE MOTHS TO A FLAME

Have you done your "spring cleaning" yet? If you're selling your home, it's essential to take care of the details, both inside and out. Since buyers first see your property from the street, there are some steps you can take to pique their interest in seeing more.

Obviously, color makes an impact. Emphasize two or three colors in your flowerbeds and shrubs, and coordinate your blooms with the seasons, be it spring or summer. Also make sure your trees and shrubs are properly sized to the house and grounds, and not blocking any of your home's positive features.

Perfectly maintaining your lawn is critical while you're listing, since a well-manicured lawn powerfully symbolizes your pride of ownership and attention to maintenance. You can reduce the time invested in mowing and watering if you can do some simple landscaping with rocks, ornamental grasses and drought-tolerant plants.

The sound of water also turns buyers on. Even if you don't have a pond, you can achieve the same effect by installing a small fountain in the front yard, or even running an electric fountain on your porch or deck.

Finally, there are a couple of architectural flourishes that add interest, such as colorful window boxes, a trellis with flowering vines, or even a pretty new mailbox. Contact your agent for a wealth of other ideas to attract buyers.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

After 24 Years Of Service To GC, Community, Drs. Herman Leaving

by Melissa Parker

For more than two decades, Drs. Steve and Gail Herman have dedicated much of their lives to serving Garrett College and Garrett County. Now, with an abundance of conflicting emotions, the Hermans are embarking on a new journey and a new chapter in their lives by moving to Massachusetts this summer to begin new careers and to be closer to their family.

"After 24 years, we leave the county with mixed feelings," said Dr. Steve Herman. "Sadness because we are leaving so many people of whom we are very fond, pride in our service to the people of Garrett County, eagerness to be close to our daughter Leta, son-in-law Neal, and our grandson Dunan, and excitement about the new challenges that lie ahead."

The Hermans began their service in Garrett County in 1986, when Dr. Steve Herman came to the college to become president, and his wife came to teach at West Virginia University. Over the course of his 20 years as president, Dr. Herman faced many obstacles, overcame many challenges, achieved many milestones, and made many memories that he will forever cherish.

"When I came to Garrett College at the age of 47, I knew that I was taking on a large challenge, although I didn't know at the time just how daunting the task would be," he said.

According to Dr. Herman, the college was in dire straits when he arrived, but fortunately, he was able to play a huge role in picking the college up off the ground, turning it around, and helping to mold it into what it is today.

Twenty years of tenure as the president of a college naturally brings about many trials, but in Dr. Herman's case, it also included a long list of triumphs. Many of the major aspects that make the college what it is today were initiated during his 20-year reign as president.

Academically, Dr. Herman was instrumental in the development of the college's three signature programs: Adventure Sports Management, Natural Resources and Wildlife Technology, and Juvenile Justice. He also played a key role in initiating Garrett's Global Education program, which began a trend at the college of recruiting international students to study at Garrett, a practice that is still highly desired today.

Among the other things that Dr. Herman saw through during his tenure were making Garrett the first community college in Maryland to construct residence halls and securing state funding to construct GC's new library.

Dr. Herman was also instrumental in the development of many things throughout the Garrett County community. To start, he supported Garrett County's economic development and had the opportunity to watch the county begin its march toward prosperity. He also secured grant funding for the construction of the Garrett Information Enterprise Center, which acts a hub for local business ventures.

In addition, he helped bring Internet access to Garrett County under the guidance of his colleagues Don Storck, long-time faculty member Dave Slagle, and former college president Randall Harman. He also worked diligently with now state Senator George Edwards and former Senator John Hafer to secure state funding for the new Community Athletic and Recreation Center, a project which interim president Jeanne Neff, director of the physical plant Jerry Zimmerman, and dean of administration Jo Gillman helped salvage.

Dr Herman also worked with the Garrett County Board of Commissioners and director of economic development Jim Hinebaugh on many projects, including the Commissioners' Scholarship (now named the Garrett County Scholarship), which made Garrett County the fifth community in the nation to provide free tuition to graduates of its local high schools who elect to attend Garrett College

Although Dr. Herman is very proud of all of his accomplishments as president of Garrett College, he says that his long list of achievements does not compare to the personal relationships he has developed throughout his years in the area.

"Of all these fond memories, perhaps I will cherish most the relationships that Gail and I forged with the faculty and staff of Garrett College, with its students, and with the people of Garrett County, all of whom we will miss greatly," he said.

Dr Herman's presidency ended with his retirement in 2006. However, he did not break his ties with the college. Instead, he joined his wife in becoming a professor, teaching such classes as English, philosophy, and logical reasoning.

"Drs. Steve and Gail Herman have given so much to this college community," said Beth Luers, professor. "Both Steve and Gail taught many courses here and cared about the well-being of the students. We have been very fortunate to have had them with

DEEP CREEK LAKE STATE PARK/ DISCOVERY CENTER

The following activities have been scheduled for this week at Deep Creek Lake State Park. Programs and center hours are subject to change without notice. All programs meet or begin at the Discovery Center unless otherwise noted. Further information can be obtained by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067, or by visiting the web site: www.dnr.state.md.us/publiclands/western/deepcreeklake.

Saturday, July 17

• 11 a.m. – Little Guard. Children ages 5-7 are invited to meet at the beach and learn the skills of a lifeguard. Kids will run a relay, practice throwing a lifesaving device, learn how to recognize a troubled swimmer and more. No swimming required. Cost is $5 and includes a T-shirt and whistle. (60 min.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Wade-In at the Beach. Guests may meet at the beach area for a wade-in. Participants wade in streams, rivers, or any other waterway until they can no longer see their shoes. This is known as the "sneaker index." The practice helps the park personnel monitor the lake's health each week. (60 min.)

• 9 p.m. – Campfire Program: Astronomy with Gus Johnson. Guests may meet at the Discovery Center. Telescopes will be available.

Sunday, July 18

• 11 a.m. – Birding 101. Learn birding basics with the naturalist: How to notice identifying marks in the field, basic calls, and the top 10 common birds. (60 min.)

• 1 p.m. – Kids' Nature Hike. Hike around the Discovery Center in search of birds and animals, nests, and dens. (30 min.)

Monday, July 19

• 10:30 a.m. – Fishing with the Naturalist. Meet at the shores of the Discovery Center for fishing basics. Poles, bait, and tackle are provided. $4 per person, adults and kids 7 and up. Those older than 16 must have a fishing license. Pre-registration is required, as space is limited. (90 min.)

• 11 a.m. – 2 p.m. Traditional Crafts and Demonstrations at Friend's Delight, Sang Run. Join the staff for basket weaving, wire name necklace making, tea tasting, and Dutch oven cooking along the scenic Youghiogheny River.

• 1-3 p.m. – Junior Rangers at the Friend's Delight. This 6-week program will cover topics like birds and "leave no trace" hiking. Five weeks' attendance is required to earn a badge. Open to all kids ages 8-13. $25 per child for full session. Topics at this session will be different from the Monday session. One-session fee is $5. Persons must pre-register.

Tuesday, July 20

• 8 a.m. – Let's Go Birding. Participants will learn about local breeding birds with one of Garrett County's avid birders. Learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs. Guests should bring binoculars and meet at the Discovery Center. (90 min.)

• 10:30 a.m. – Where in the World am I? GPS Class. Guests may join the park ranger and get acquainted with a hand-held GPS unit. This hands-on class will teach the basics of the GPS unit as well as its other mapping capabilities. Participants may bring their own or borrow one from the center. (There are just five to lend, so persons should sign up early.) Free. (60 min.)

• 1 p.m. – Browsing for Butterflies. Guests will investigate the state park gardens with the naturalist, looking for and identifying butterflies, and learning about the native plants these butterflies love and ways to improve their habitat. (60 min.)

• 3 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, and snakes in the Discovery Center are fed. (30 min.)

Wednesday, July 21

• 10:30 a.m. – Wildflower Walk. Guests are invited to take a walk around the Discovery Center with the naturalist to learn the many species of summer flowers in the area. Participants may taste native wildflower tea and learn of some of the medicinal values of these plants.

• 1:30 p.m. – Brant Mine Hike. Take a guided hike with the naturalist to the historic Brant Mine. Hikers will see the remnants of a coal mine that operated in the 1920s. Various forms of wildlife may be sighted on the way.

• Noon – Water Warriors. Meet the naturalist at the beach to wade, test water, look at submerged aquatic vegetation, and look for animals.

Thursday, July 22

• 9 a.m. – Morning Canoeing. Visit Meadow Mtn. Cove and learn about the creatures of Garrett County wetlands. The naturalists will cover basic canoeing skills. Fee: $10/adult; $5 for age 12 and under. Persons must pre-register, as space is limited. Meet at the Discovery Center. (2 hours)

• 1:30 p.m. – Aviary Encounter. Guests are invited to the aviary to see and learn about birds of prey. The birds will be perched, which will provide photo opportunities, so guests should bring cameras. (1 hr.)

• 1-3 p.m. – Fire Tower Open. Hikers may take the fire trails to the tower and see scenic views of Deep Creek Lake. $2 per person.

Friday, July 23

• 8 a.m. – Let's Go Birding at Friend's Delight. Participants will learn about local breeding birds with one of Garrett County's avid birders. Learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs while walking through Friend's Delight. Guests should bring binoculars and meet at the Friend's Store in Sang Run. (90 min.)

• 11 a.m. – Black Bears and You. Naturalists will lead a hike along the Snakeroot Trail in search of black bears. Information about black bears and their habitat will be shared. Participants must have proper hiking footwear. (90 min.)

NEW GERMANY STATE PARK

New Germany State Park is located at 349 Headquarters Lane, off New Germany Road, south of Grantsville. The office can be reached at 301-895-5453. All programs are free of charge unless otherwise indicated. This schedule is subject to change without notice. Persons are advised to contact the park office to confirm program information.

Friday, July 16

• 1 to 4 p.m. – Nature Center Open House. The naturalist will have the building open at this time, and will be available to answer questions. Children may complete a craft during their visit.

Saturday, July 17

• 2 p.m. – Sand Creatures. Guests may meet at the beach with buckets and shovels to create creatures out of sand, then come up with names and habitats that meet the creature's adaptations. The most creative builder will win a prize.

• 4 p.m. – How Dandy Are They? Seemingly worthless and annoying weeds, dandelions are actually useful. Guests may join the park naturalist to learn about edible and medicinal uses of the dandelion, along with other facts. Appropriate for all ages.

• 8:30 p.m. – Bears of Western Maryland, Schoolhouse Nature Center. Clarissa Harris of the Wildlife and Heritage Service has had many interactions with black bears during her career. She will present a slide show about black bears and explain how to share the woods with these animals.

Thursday, July 22

• 8 a.m. – Bird Walk. This early hour is the best time to hear and spot songbirds. Guests may join the park naturalist on a walk around the park to learn about local birds. Experienced and beginner birders are welcome, and are asked to bring their own binoculars. There will be a few pairs available.

Horwatt Named Volunteer Of The Month At GCMH

Garrett County Memorial Hospital's Loar Auxiliary is honoring Sally Horwatt as its Volunteer of the Month for July.

Horwatt has worked a regular weekly schedule since she began her volunteer career at the Gift Shop in 2006. She also helps with bake sales and other special events.

"When Sally is working, she makes sure other members get a 'thinking-of-you' note when they are recovering from an illness or not feeling their best," said Denise Shay, Gift Shop manager. "We appreciate Sally and thank her for offering her time and talents to the Loar Auxiliary."

Anyone interested in volunteering for the auxiliary is asked to call the hospital's Volunteer Services Department at 301-533-4041.

Christian Women Slated To Meet On July 21 At Perkins

The Oakland Christian Women's Fellowship will meet Wednesday, July 21, at Perkins Restaurant in McHenry from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The theme will be Self-control and Patience.

Cherie Reckner will be speaking on her experience as a military nurse. The meeting will also feature scrapbooking with Nina Porter. There will be a $3 activities charge. Interested persons may make reservations by calling 301-387-2623.

A Very Special Thank-You!
We want to thank a very special woman for saving our child-s life by performing the Heimlich maneuver while he was choking. There will never be enough words to express how grateful we are. You said, -God sends us where we need to be- and I believe He sent you to be our guardian angel. I never got a chance to get your name, but I know I will never forget you. Thank you again from the bottom of my heart. God bless you!

Start your 4-year degree at Garrett College!
Transferring from a community college is not as difficult as you may think!
It's all about planning...

Transferring from Garrett can be a smooth process, but it's up to you to make the necessary plans to transfer successfully.

If you're considering continuing your education post Garrett at a two or four-year college or university, you should:

- Make your decision early about where you want to transfer
- Choose your major early so that you only take the classes you need
- Make getting good grades a top priority to ensure that all of your classes transfer

Your years in high school are the foundation for success in college, so focus especially on math and English.

It's easier to transfer if you have graduated from Garrett College. Complete your degree at Garrett and you will receive the transfer benefits of:

- Having all of your general education requirements completed
- Having a better chance of being accepted to the transfer institution
- Being eligible for a transfer scholarship

Anyone who attends Garrett can transfer, but following a few simple steps will make the process a much more successful one.

For additional information about attending Garrett College, contact the admissions office at 301-387-3044 or admissions@garrettcollege.edu.

NATURAL GAS FROM DEEP WELLS

by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. There's a lot of talk about fracking the Marcellus Shale to get natural gas. I don't think that's a word I've heard before. What is that all about?

A. "Fracking" is short for hydrofracturing. It is one way to get gas from rock formations deep underground.

Many oil wells produce copious quantities of natural gas, too, which needs to be managed in some way: often by capturing it, sometimes by burning it off (flaring). For a very long time it has been known that lots of natural gas (methane, CH_4) is locked up underground in other rocks, often in coal seams, but also in some varieties of rock, notably shale. As the organic matter (from plant life 300 million years ago) was heated and compressed, some was converted to natural gas inside the rock and couldn't escape.

Later, when coal was broken apart and dug out, natural gas could escape for the first time in millions of years, and that mixed in with the air the miners were breathing. Controlling methane in coal mines is an important part of mine safety. Of course, natural gas is also a fuel, and a very good one indeed, so it might be worth the effort to go after the gas itself, even if the coal is not economic.

Natural gas is odorless and might build up to dangerous amounts, leading to explosions or suffocation. Long ago, coal miners would bring a canary into the mine as a way of detecting methane: When the canary passed out, it served as a warning that methane was accumulating and miners should get out. Nowadays, we have better gas detectors than birds.

The Marcellus Shale is an organic-rich, black shale that spreads across a very big zone centered in southwestern Pennsylvania. It may extend under western Maryland as well, so it's near enough to get our attention. Gas trapped in shale is very similar to the gas in a coal seam, but shale lacks the economic value of coal; also, shale is much less permeable than the typical sandstone and limestone of oil fields.

With the Marcellus Shale, the idea is to leave the shale in place and only take out the gas. To accomplish that, you have to break the shale in some way, to liberate the gas and allow it to flow more easily, by hydrofracturing (hydrofracking, fracking). The process begins by drilling a hole down several thousand feet into the shale, much like an oil well, but then the well is deviated to go at a slant or horizontally, so that the well intersects more of the formation. That aids in releasing gas, as does making the formation more permeable by hydrofracturing.

After the well is drilled, casing and cement are put in place, and holes are poked in the casing and cement to expose the formation. Water (hydro-) is injected under very high pressure to create joints (fractures) in the rock. As joints open, the pressure drops, so opening lots of joints requires a lot of work. If using only water, the joints would close up as soon as the pressure is released, so sand is included to prop the joints open, and some other chemicals are included in the fluid to keep the sand afloat. It only takes a few grains of sand to create an opening large enough for CH_4 molecules to escape. With joints propped open by sand, enough shale is exposed, gas flows readily, and the permeability increases enough to make the well economical.

A large bed of shale that has been fracked still resembles the old shale, but now it is possible for gas molecules to move around within it; a very tight formation has been turned into a natural gas well. All this takes place at great depth, typically thousands of feet.

Meanwhile, people living directly above sometimes get concerned because they have a well that goes down several hundred feet to reach an aquifer. Water or gas would take eons to travel that far, especially since it would be mostly traveling across many layers of rock, including a lot of low-permeability shales and clays; so contamination from a gas well miles away is not a concern. Generating fractures requires so much energy to begin with that the fractures won't go all the way to the surface. Landfills generate natural gas, too, and that is easily prevented from reaching neighboring aquifers.

(I am grateful to Prof. Greg W. Pouch of Illinois Wesleyan University for his guidance on this topic.)

Now Taking Apps. For Women's DNR Workshop

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources has announced that registration is now open for the next Becoming an Outdoors Woman (BOW) weekend workshop to be held Friday, Oct. 22, through Sunday, Oct. 24, at the Western Maryland 4-H Center in Garrett County near Deep Creek Lake. BOW enables women to learn about a wide variety of outdoor opportunities in a casual, non-threatening environment.

"The program is designed to be hands-on, giving participants enough knowledge to further pursue their interests once the workshop is over," said Patty Allen, Maryland BOW state coordinator. "In addition, BOW places special emphasis on the camaraderie that goes along with outdoor recreation."

Participants may choose from more than 30 classes, including outdoor photography, geocaching, turkey and deer hunting, fly fishing, hiking, kayaking, outdoor survival skills, and many others. These outdoor skills workshops are offered specifically for women 18 years of age and older, however, men are also welcome.

For more information or to register for the upcoming workshop, persons may visit www.dnr.state.md.us/wildlife/Education/bow/index.asp or contact Patty Allen via e-mail at pallen@dnr.state.md.us or at 410-260-8537.

MISS GARRETT COUNTY FARM BUREAU 2010 Scarlett Fost was recently selected by the Garrett County Farm Bureau. She will represent the county in the Miss Maryland Agriculture contest at the state fair in Timonium from Aug. 21 through Sept. 7. Fost is a recent graduate of Northern High School, and is the daughter of Kim and Mitchell Fost of Bittinger. She is pictured above, right, with Alecia Bender, Miss GCFB 2009.

Oakland Couple Discusses Dairy Industry In D.C.

Terry and Jill Hauser, local dairy farmers from Oakland, recently visited Washington, D.C., to meet with congressional leaders and discuss issues currently impacting the dairy industry. As members of Dairy Farmers of America Inc.'s (DFA) Young Cooperator (YC) program, the Hausers also attended the 2010 National Milk Producers Federation's (NMPF) Dairy Policy and Legislative Forum.

"Through face-to-face interaction with their legislators, these YCs are building relationships that will benefit them for years to come," said Randy Mooney, chairman of DFA's board of directors and NMPF's board.

The Hausers were among nearly 30 dairy farmers who attended the national conference, where they learned about legislative issues affecting the dairy industry and met with congressional leaders. While in the nation's capital, the Hausers talked with staff members from the offices of Senators Benjamin Cardin and Barbara Mikulski and Rep. Roscoe Bartlett.

The couple urged legislators' support of dairy policy reform and the reauthorization of the Child Nutrition Act. They also expressed concern over the Clean Water Restoration Act and dairy trade with New Zealand as part of the Trans-Pacific Partnership Free Trade Agreement.

As part of the conference, YC participants also attended a reception for legislators, legislative staff, and other milk marketing cooperative members and staff.

The Hausers also attended NMPF's regular board meeting and observed discussions and a subsequent vote on the Foundation for the Future, a plan that outlines dairy policy reform.

DFA's Young Cooperator program fosters interaction between young dairy farmers age 18 to 40 who are involved as owners or partners, or hold distinct management responsibilities on a DFA-member dairy farm operation. The program facilitates the development of leadership skills.

SWIMMER'S EAR RELIEF

As swimmers take to the water this summer, "swimmer's ear" (otitis externa) unfortunately becomes more prevalent. This inflammation of the ear canal, which may or may not involve infection, leaves a person's ear feeling blocked and sensitive to touch. These symptoms are caused by trapped water in the ear that allows bacteria to spread and cause a painful sensation. To alleviate pain and any associated hearing loss, those afflicted with swimmer's ear (usually children and teenagers) are treated with either eardrops or oral antibiotics. Typically, symptoms will last for about six days after treatment begins. If symptoms persist after seven to ten days, treatment should be extended. If symptoms last more than two weeks, another treatment should be considered.

No matter what your choice of recreation, hobby, occupation, or sport, it is vital to protect your hearing. Nothing affects your daily happiness and well being as the ability to hear and understand. Are you wondering about the state of your hearing? Take that all important first step and visit AUDIBEL for a comprehensive hearing evaluation. With today's technology, there's little reason to put up with missing the glorious sounds of life.

P.S. People prone to swimmer's ear can protect their ears when they swim by wearing ear plugs.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY
3015 Shingle Camp Rd., Oakland, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Amy M. Saiz and Paul Saiz, dated September 29, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1257, Folio 526 among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustee will sell at public auction at Court House Door on August 5, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND KNOWN AS being described by a metes and bounds description, situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust, carrying Tax ID No. 18-017598.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, agreements, easements, covenants and rights of way of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $76,900.00 will be required at the time of sale in the form of cash, certified check, or other form as the Substitute Trustees determine acceptable. No deposit shall be required of the noteholder where the noteholder bids in the property at auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, time being of the essence for purchaser. In the event that settlement does not occur within the said ten days, the purchaser shall be in default. Upon such default the Trustees may file a Motion and Order to Resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser, and purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice, in which case the deposit shall be forfeited and all expenses of this sale (including attorney's fees and the full commission on the gross sale price of this sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. The Trustees may then readvertise and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser; or, without reselling the property, the Trustees may avail themselves of any legal or equitable remedies against the defaulting purchaser. In the event of a resale, the defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to receive the surplus, if any, even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulting purchaser. Interest to be paid on the purchase money less the stated deposit called for herein, at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustee. There shall be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason, including but not limited to exceptions to sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, Court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects. There shall be no adjustment of taxes, ground rent, water rent, condominium fees and/or homeowner association dues, all public charges/assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, and same are to be assumed by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, agricultural transfer tax, if any and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of damage to the property from the date of auction forward. If the Substitute Trustee does not convey title for any reason, including but not limited to the Secured Party executing a forbearance agreement with the borrower(s) described in the above-mentioned Deed of Trust, or allowing the borrower(s) to execute their right to reinstate or payoff the subject loan, prior to the sale, with or without the Substitute Trustee's prior knowledge, or if the sale is not ratified for any reason including errors made by the Substitute Trustees, the foreclosure sale shall be null and void and of no effect, and the Purchaser's sole remedy in law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit without interest. Further terms and particulars may be announced at time of sale, and purchaser may be required to execute a Memorandum of Sale at the time of auction. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein. SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF IMPROVED REAL PROPERTY
27 Pullin Hollow Road, Grantsville MD 21536

Under a power of sale contained in a Mortgage from Eugene F. Layton, Tonya L. Layton, dated October 31, 2006 and recorded in Liber 1275 Folio 0243 among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, with an original principal balance of $137,250.00, and an original interest rate of 8.55% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett County, at the Rotunda Entrance at the Court House Door, 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland, on

August 02, 2010, at 01:05 p.m.

All that fee-simple lot of ground, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, encumbrances, prior deed(s) of trust and/or agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $14,000.00 in cash, cashier's check or certified check required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay, attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay, attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE
Oakland, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Matthew Ray and Tammy L. Ray, dated September 28, 2007, and recorded in Liber 1344, folio 731 and re-recorded in Liber 1503, folio 137 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on

July 23, 2010, at 11:00 a.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS THEREON situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $9,000 by cash, or certified check. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett Co. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Sub. Trustees. If the purchaser fails to go to settlement within ten days of the ratification, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Sub. Trustees and all of the expenses of this sale (including attorney fees and full commission on the gross sale price of the sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. Purchaser(s) acknowledge the obligation to settle within ten days of ratification of the foreclosure sale. In the event that settlement does not occur within ten days, the purchaser(s) shall be in default. Upon such default, Sub. Trustees shall file a Motion and Order to resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser(s). Purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice. The defaulting purchaser(s) shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects, there shall be no abatement of interest. Taxes, ground rent, water and all public charges including electrical, sanitation and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, are to be adjusted for the current year to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. The purchaser is responsible for any amount in excess of $250.00 of outstanding water bills, if any, incurred prior to date of sale. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Sub. Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents. (Matter #546132) us. We wish them well."

As Luers notes, Dr. Gail Herman has contributed her fair share to the college and community as well. She began teaching at the college in the late '80s. Before working at Garrett, she taught for West Virginia University and Frostburg State University. In addition to her work at Garrett, she also teaches for Lesley University in its Integrated Teaching Through the Arts graduate program, which is located in many states across the country.

Among her many works in the community over the last two decades, Dr. Herman is most proud of her support for and involvement in the establishment of the Willy Wisp Early Childhood Learning Center, which for many years served as a model early childhood program and the only one in Garrett County that was validated by the Maryland State Department of Education and the National Association for the Education of Young Children's accrediting agency.

She also considers the formation of her storytelling events, including the Tall Tale Student and Adult Storytelling Festival, a huge accomplishment in her career. These events help support scholarships through the American Association of University Women (AAUW), in which Dr Herman was a member and past president.

Before she left the college, Dr. Herman was also instrumental in helping keep early childhood education courses going at Garrett.

"Now, there will finally be enough money to hire a full-time person in education," said Dr. Herman, who taught education courses at the college. "This is wonderful. We really need to emphasize early childhood education because of its importance to the healthy development of our children now that women are working during their children's younger years."

In March of this year, Dr. Herman was inducted into the Garrett County Women's Hall of Fame for her work in the community and at the college, a fitting honor for a woman who spent so many years serving the community.

Although she has a lot to look forward to, including spending more time with her daughter, son-in-law, and grandson, Dr Herman says she will miss many of the things she is leaving behind.

"We love the area and the friendliness of the people," she said. "Everywhere I turn I see beautiful views of farmland and mountains. It reminds me of Cezanne, who painted so many farm scenes. I think that being far-sighted makes me appreciate the scenery because it is so restful on the eyes. I love the patchwork of the different colors of the crops and grasses."

Among the other things that she will miss? "My beautiful home on the hillside of Sky Valley," she said. "I love the cathedral ceiling, lovely colored wood, and the view of the trees and sunsets. I will miss my dressing room off the bedroom and my office/guest room. I will miss the wall space downstairs in the finished basement where I hung my musical instruments and other artifacts from Oman, South Africa, and Ghana."

In addition, Dr. Herman says she will miss her work with the Tall Tale students at Broad Ford, Yough Glades, and Dennett Road elementary schools over the years; doing mime with students for the Arts Fair; working with the teachers during the summer as a teacher enrichment consultant; teaching dance to 4th graders; and ballroom dancing with her husband for the Hospital Foundation dance.

She says she will have plenty to keep her busy in the next chapter of her life, however. In addition to spending much more time with her family, she hopes to begin writing three books that she has shelved as a result of her active life in Garrett County. She'd also like to produce another CD of stories and a DVD of how to use movement and sound to develop art appreciation. In addition, she plans to continue teaching for Lesley University, her summer work at Confratute with the University of Connecticut, and her storytelling and work in the schools.

As for Dr. Steve Herman, he'll be keeping busy as the new senior advisor to the president of Mount Holyoke College. His duties will include institutional planning and complementary program development.

"I hope to assist Mount Holyoke College to retain its unique role as the oldest continuously operating women's college in the world by helping it broaden the range of its activities and programs," he said.

Over 20 years ago, the Hermans embarked on a new journey in their lives when they moved to Garrett County to be a part of the Garrett College community. According to Dr. Gail Herman, they were looking for a beautiful place to live with a lake, trees, mountains, and snow for cross-country skiing. They found that in Garrett County, but they also found a whole lot more.

In a farewell letter to the college community, Dr Steve Herman recently wrote, "I discovered that the greatest resource at Garrett College was its people. I came to respect their wisdom and their good intentions. Together we worked hard, solved problems, innovated, and ultimately helped make the college a very special institution. I am very proud of Garrett College and its achievements, but I am most proud to have been one of you. In my experience, no faculty or staff works harder or more selflessly than you. You are my heroes."

As affectionate as the Hermans feel for the place they are leaving behind, the people they are leaving behind are just as adoring of them.

"I have had the pleasure of working under the leadership of Steve Herman for 20 years," said Dana Shimrock, director of the library. "Steve contributed so much to creating an atmosphere of cooperation and shared dedication to the institution. What I most remember is his devotion, not only to the college, but to the community as well. There was rarely a county-sponsored event that he and Gail did not attend. I know they will be happy to be closer to their family, but their family here in Garrett County will surely miss them."

It's obvious that at a place like Garrett College, where the sense of family and community is highly valued, Drs. Steve and Gail Herman fit right in.

As Professor Luers put it, "They took the time to get to know us as a family, and very soon, they became part of that family."

And that sums it up well: Garrett College has lost part of its family, and the two of them will be greatly missed.

WATER ANIMALS ENTHRALL READING CLUB – An eager group of 61 youngsters responded enthusiastically to biology teacher Amo Olivario's presentation about water animals at the Oakland library's first Summer Reading Club event last Wednesday, reported a spokesperson. Olivario brought along a crayfish, a spotted salamander, a green frog, a couple beaver pelts, a small beaver skull, and a small snapping turtle. Olivario also engaged the children in a lively discussion about the living habits and characteristics of each animal. The children howled with laughter as the slippery green frog escaped from Olivario's hands and headed for the book shelves before being caught. The participants learned that a beaver's home is called a lodge, that the salamander goes in the water once a year to lay eggs and lives underground the remainder of the year, and that turtles were around even before the dinosaurs. The complete Summer Reading Club schedule for all locations of the Ruth Enlow Library can be found online at rcllb.net. 22nd Kitzmiller Homecoming To Start This Friday

The 22nd annual Kitzmiller homecoming will be held from Friday, July 23, through Sunday, July 25, with several activities throughout the weekend.

The Kitzmiller Firemen's Parade will kick off the homecoming at 7 p.m. on Friday, traveling along East and West Main streets. Following the parade, a family fun night will take place at the Kitzmiller Elementary School grounds.

The fun night is sponsored by the Kitzmiller Empowerment Group, with kiddie rides by the Elk Garden District Fire Department. Food will be available, and entertainment and games will be provided by DJ Jonny Rock. Fireworks, by Pyrotechnico, will begin at dusk over the Potomac River, and can be viewed at the school grounds.

At 11 a.m. on Saturday, three-on-three basketball tournament games will be begin, and the Kitzmiller Little League will open its concession stand. Registration forms for the basketball tournament are available at the Kitzmiller Town Hall or on the day of the tournament.

At noon, the Kitzmiller Lions Club will have BBQ chicken dinners for sale at the park pavilion, and the horseshoe tournament will begin. Registration forms for the tournament are available at the town hall or on the day of tournament. Ed Calhoun will also perform a magic show at noon.

From noon to 5 p.m., the Kitzmiller Historical Museum will be open to the public. Harry Davis, Buck & Debbie Fisher will provide musical entertainment, starting at 1 p.m.

The duck race will begin at 2 p.m., at the Potomac River. Ducks can be purchased at the town tent for $5, and the winner will split 50/50 with the town of Kitzmiller. The Durst Brothers concert will begin at 3 p.m., with a Kitzmiller School alumni reunion dinner to follow at 5:30 p.m.

TRYING TO BE LASER-QUICK were the young captains of these Laser sailboats, who competed in the Laser Junior Regatta at Deep Creek Lake this past weekend. This competition, along with the Laser Adult Regatta and the Women's Flying Scot Regatta, were all held by the Deep Creek Yacht Racing Association, with races being conducted on both Saturday and Sunday. Winning the junior event was Josh Bullock, followed by John Benhart, Jessica Burnham, and Nate George. Weather conditions for sailing, as well as multiple other sports on the Mountaintop, have been nearly ideal so far this summer. Although a bit warmer than usual, still comfortable compared to the conditions in many other parts of the state and East Coast.

Final Slate Of Political Candidates Noted By GC Board Of Elections

The final slate of local candidates for the September primary elections has been released by the Garrett County Board of Elections.

Republican state senator George Edwards will have no competition in his bid to retain his position, while Delegate Wendell Beitzel will be challenged in the general election in November by Democrat James R. "Smokey" Stanton.

Challenging incumbent District I county commissioner Ernest Gregg will be fellow Republican Gregan Crawford. Leroy Bernard Sr. had entered the race, but has withdrawn. The winner of the GOP primary will face Democrat Eric Robison, who is unchallenged, in the general election.

Filing for District II county commissioner on the Republican side are incumbent Fred Holliday and Jim Raley. There are no Demo-crat candidates.

In county commissioner District III, Republican incumbent Denny Glotfelty will face Robert Gatto, Louis Newcomb Jr., and Timothy Thomas in the primary. Squaring off in the Democratic race will be George Falter and Bill Welch.

Incumbents who will be running unopposed in both the primary and general elections will be Republican Lisa Thayer Welch for state's attorney, and Republican Sondra Buckel, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court.

The Garrett County sheriff's race will pit Republicans Robert Corley and Larry Gnegy against each other in the primary, the winner of which will face unopposed Democrat candidate Skyler Hebden.

Those filing for Garrett County register of wills are all Republicans: incumbent Rita Watson, Bryan Paugh, Traci Royce, and John Sines.

Sewage Spill Occurs At Deep Creek; DPU, Commissioners Resolving Issue

A 42,000-gallon sewage overflow that occurred at Deep Creek Lake last week was caused by an electrical malfunction at a pump station, according to Garrett County Department of Public Utilities director Linda Lindsey. She and the Garrett County commissioners met on Tuesday and came up with a solution to help counteract future malfunctions.

The spill took place along the lake near the intersection of Garrett Highway and Lake Shore Drive at about 7 a.m. on Sunday, July 11, at Pump Station 2-2. A nearby resident reported the incident to DPU at about 9:30 a.m. Lindsey estimates the overflow duration to be a total of three hours.

She said a short in a power cord that supplies Pump No. 1 kicked out the station's main breaker. When the generator started, it should have kicked on Pump No. 2 or a bypass pump. But because of the main breaker being kickoff, the generator detected a "dead short" and shut down to "protect itself." This caused the pumps not to work, leading to the overflow.

"It's just a freak thing that happened to the electric line," the director said about the malfunction.

Once learning of the spill, her department immediately contacted the Maryland Department of the Environment, as required law, as well as the Department of Natural Resources and the Garrett County Health Department's Environmental Health Services office.

A public service announcement was also broadcast on the local radio station to notify the public of the hazard. No press releases about the incident were issued.

DPU crews worked several hours that Sunday and were able to get the station working again that day. They also used their tanker truck to pump sewage from the station's vault and to

BOE Members Question 2010 Maintenance Plan

With discussions of possible school closures on the horizon, the Garrett County Board of Education recently faced controversy over the 2010 Education Facilities Maintenance Plan that was presented by Jim Thomas at the recent board meeting. Thomas is the director of facilities and maintenance for all area schools, and the plan outlines ratings for each school to describe the quality of the facility.

At the start of the meeting, when the agenda was being discussed, it was suggested by board member Thomas Carr that it be added to the agenda a brief discussion about where things are headed with the upcoming school closure issue. Board member Jim Raley commented that it would not be fair to the public to add something "so critical" to the agenda after the original agenda was sent out.

Formal discussion has yet to take place on this issue, and plans are set for the August meeting to address the concerns. The amendment was withdrawn and the original agenda was approved unanimously by the board.

Thomas then took the floor to present the changes recently made to the maintenance master plan, with the ultimate goal being that the board approve the changes and the plan would then be submitted to the state. Thomas and eight other employees give input on the stability and conditions of the facilities currently in use by the county school system.

Raley voiced one of his conerns over the plan, noting that certain facility ratings have dropped drastically in the last year. When

Oakland Man Arrested On Sex Offense Charge

An Oakland man was arrested by the Garrett Bureau of Investigation this week and charged with sexual solicitation of a minor.

Timothy Brandon Field Lax, 23, was taken into custody following an investigation that revealed Lax to have used a computer at Ruth Enlow Library to solicit sexual favors from a 13-year-old in Kentucky. He was arrested at the library on Monday morning.

His bond was set at $25,000, and if convicted Lax faces a maximum sentence of 10 years and a fine of $25,000.

All Garrett County Schools Achieve Adequate Yearly Progress On MSAs

The Maryland State Department of Education recently released system level results regarding Maryland School Assessment (MSA) and Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). Results show that all Garrett County elementary and middle schools achieved AYP. This indicates that a significant number of students scored at the proficient and advanced levels in reading and mathematics on the MSA and Alternate MSA.

This also shows that no schools in Garrett County have been identified by the MSDE as needing improvement. As well as the overall population, in order to meet the federal guidelines of No Child Left Behind, students in specified subgroups, including racial/ethnic classifications, students eligible for free or reduced price meals, and students with special needs must also meet the AYP goals. According to the test results, all of these groups of students in Garrett County successfully met their goals.

"The [Board of Education] members and I are so proud of our students, teachers, staff, principals, and central office administrators for this outstanding performance," said Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of GC schools. "Our students [lost] to snow 17 days of instruction immediately before the MSA testing, and still every school made AYP with no school in any type of improvement status."

MSA math scores at all elementary and middle school grade levels improved in 2010 compared to 2009 results. Math at the 8th grade level had a 10.4% gain from last year, which is recorded as the biggest improvement at any level. Seventh grade tests had 90.4% of the students scoring proficient/advanced. All other grade levels scored in the 80% to 88% proficient range on the MSA math exam.

In reading, grades 4, 6, and 8 improved in 2010 compared to 2009, with grade 8 having the largest percentage gain of 13.8%. In grades 3, 5, and 7 scores dropped by less than 2 percentage points from last year. Grades 4, 5, and 6 had more than 90% of the students scoring proficient/advanced in reading.

4th grade: reading – 90.0%, math – 88.8%

5th grade: reading – 92.7%, math – 83.5%

6th grade: reading – 90.5%, math – 85.1%

7th grade: reading – 87.8%, math – 90.4%

8th grade: reading – 89.8%, math – 80.5%

For more information concerning MSA and AYP, persons should log on to the Maryland Report Card site at www.mdreportcard.org.

MDE Fines MLP Couple For Alleged Wetlands Violation

The Maryland Department of the Environment has announced 25 recent major enforcement actions seeking penalties totaling $1.2 million for alleged violations of MDE requirements for water, air and radiation management, and land.

A Mountain Lake Park couple was among those cited. Michael and Dawna Ashby paid $1,500 to the Maryland Nontidal Wetlands Compensation Fund on May 7 to resolve alleged nontidal wetlands violations, including failing to obtain MDE authorization for disturbing 400 square feet of emergent wetlands and 1,800 square feet of wetlands buffer.

Corrective actions have been completed, according to an MDE press release.

"The Maryland Department of the Environment's top priority is to protect public health and our environment, and a consistent baseline of enforcement actions prevents further pollution and risks to public health," said MDE Secretary Shari T. Wilson. "The vast majority of Maryland businesses which are in compliance deserve to have environmental laws fairly Come early and participate in events such as an electrofishing and stream ecology demonstration by Maryland DNR Fisheries manager Alan Klotz; the Scales and Tales Program by Maryland DNR Parks Service; drumming with Dances of Universal Peace; a nature walk with Kevin Dodge, director of the Natural Resources and Wildlife Technology Program at Garrett College; children's art activities; a scavenger hunt; and 50/50 rubber ducky races. Bring a camera and join the Mountain Top Photography Club in Scott Kelby's Worldwide Photo Walk during the festival, or enter the art and photo contest sponsored by YRWA and the Garrett County Arts Council. Participate in the first ever Boater Swap by bringing unwanted boater gear, or take a raft ride down the Yough between the Friendsville Bridge and Park, courtesy of Wilderness Voyageurs. Handmade soy candles, jewelry, print art, and other various arts and crafts will be available for purchase. Food vendors will be selling steak and cheese sandwiches, fresh corn on the cob, baked goods and bubble tea. All proceeds will benefit the non-profit Youghlogheny River Watershed Association. Admission is $7 for adults, $3 for children ages 6-12 and free for children under age 6. The Watershed Association expresses its appreciation for the sponsors of the event: Adventure Sports Center International, Keystone Lime, and Friends of Deep Creek Lake. Anyone interested in more information may e-mail YoughWatershed@gmail.com, search the Youghlogheny festival on Facebook, or visit http://www.YoughloghenyRiverFestival.info.

BRIGHTON BEACH MEMOIRES, a play by Neil Simon, opened last night on the Garrett College stage, presented by Theatre on the Lake (TOTL). Performances are also scheduled for this evening, Friday, and Saturday, all beginning at 7:30 p.m. The autobiographical comedy, which contains some adult material, centers on the Jerome family in Brighton Beach, N.Y., in 1937, when a sister to Mrs. Jerome and daugh-ters move into the household, and the various dynamics that ensue. Pictured above are Daniel Crowley, portraying Stanley Jerome (left), and Patrick Crogan as Jack Jeroma. Persons may telephone 304-680-1002 for reservations. The next production by TOTL will be the musical Children of Eden, slated for Aug. 3-7 at The Barn at Ridgeview Valley near McHenry.

Commissioner F. Holliday To Run For Re-Election

Frederick A. Holliday, Garrett County commissioner, District 2, has announced his candidacy for re-election in this year's election. He has served in that office for three consecutive terms, since 1998.

Holliday is a member of Post 214 American Legion; Post 10077 Veterans of Foreign Wars; Casselman Valley Sportsmen's Club, Garrett County Forestry Board; Planning Commission and Economic Development Corporation, Grantsville Lions Club, where he recently received the Melvin Jones Award; Maryland Association of Counties board of directors, where he serves on the legislative committee, vice-chair of the tax committee; and the county legislative planning committee.

He is a graduate of the University of Maryland Academy for Excellence in Government. He presently serves on the state's Gypsy Moth Task Force.

"During my tenure as county commissioner, we have reduced the tax rate twice," Holliday said. "We have also been able to accomplish many capital projects and road/bridge improvements without incurring any additional debt. In fact, we have reduced the debt service to less than one percent of the county's budget.

"I have been instrumental m implementing a county supplemental home owners' tax credit to benefit senior citizens. I have increased funding to volunteer fire departments to provide for the enhancement of public safety to all Garrett County citizens.

"I've provided funding for maintenance, upkeep, and beautification of municipal parks. I have supported the 'local matching program' for the Maryland Ag Land Preservation Foundation Easement Acquisition Program. I have supported local open-share projects, including those for municipalities."

Holliday is a lifelong resident of Garrett County. Prior to becoming county commissioner, he was the owner of H & H Hardware Store and an elected official in the town of Grantsville, serving 15 years as mayor.

He and his wife Joan have been married for 41 years and reside in Avilton. They are the parents of three and the grandparents of eight. They attend St. Paul's Wilhelm Church.

"I will continue to represent all residents of Garrett County, young or old, rich or poor, east, west, north, and south," he said. "I am your 'tried and true' commissioner with the best interests of all county residents my ultimate concern."

Persons who would like to support Holliday with signs or bumper stickers may call 301-687-0304. He can be reached at 283 Pine Grove Road, Garrett County, Lonaconing, 21539. His e-mail address is fjholliday@hughes.net.

Raley Announces Candidacy For Commissioner

Republican Jim Raley of Finzel has announced his candidacy for Garrett County commissioner, District Two.

Raley has been a teacher for 24 years, a member of the Garrett County Board of Education for 13 years, and an administrator. He has served with the Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department and the Garrett County Volunteer Fire and Rescue Association for 33 years. He currently serves as president to both organizations. He also serves on the board for the park located in Finzel.

Raley, who says he has been involved in all aspects of budgeting and employee oversight, is concerned with the Garrett County's increasing budget, while the county spends taxpayers' money on "pay as you go" projects.

"Because of the 'pay as you go' attitude, this year the county has eliminated 26 positions, and those were living wages and benefits which enabled families to live and work in Garrett County," Raley said. "We must look toward bonds for our long-term projects and look to maintain jobs for our citizens and grow our county and economic strength.

"With the county cutting jobs to fund capital projects, our economic future is grim and our youth will not be able to live and work in Garrett County, our school enrollments will continue to decline and our economic base will continue to dwindle," he said.

According to Raley, the county is cutting vital services while paying for "pay as you go" projects.

"While it is great the county can afford to save enough money to fund multi-million dollar projects, the current taxpayers are bearing those costs through increased assessments and higher taxes," Raley said.

"The county boasts of having little indebtedness," he continued. "However, the reason for this is simply that the money is generated from real estate taxes, which have increased over $14 million in the past four years. The time to lead is now, during this economic downturn."

Raley has lived in Garrett County for 47 years with his wife Susan, and two children, Sharee and Ainsley. Interested persons can contact Raley at 301-707-1061, e-mail at susanral-@comast.net, or visit Raley's Facebook page. This commissioner position will likely be determined in the primary on Sept. 14, as there is no Democratic opponent seeking the office in District Two.

"For too long citizens' input has been ignored, and when they are willing to speak out they are often chastised and belittled for standing up for their rights as taxpayers. This must change," said Raley.

Woman Arrested For Driving Under The Influence

A woman was arrested for reportedly driving under the influence of alcohol after being stopped by Garrett County sheriff's deputies last Thursday morning.

Elizabeth Ann Williams, 27, was stopped at the intersection of Mosser Road and Garrett Highway at approximately 1:30 a.m. that morning. Following an investigation, Williams was charged with failure to drive right of center, DUI, DUI per se, and driving while impaired by alcohol. She was later released pending trial.

Juvenile Found At Fault In Two-Vehicle Accident

A juvenile was cited by Garrett County sheriff's deputies for a two-vehicle accident with injuries that occurred last Friday evening.

Investigation revealed that a vehicle operated by the juvenile was traveling south on Garrett Highway and struck another vehicle driven by Anton Schuberthan. Shuberthan was slowing to stop when he was struck by the juvenile's vehicle.

The injured were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Northern rescue Squad. Also assisting at the 9:15 p.m. scene was Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Company. The juvenile was cited for failure to control speed to avoid a collision.

Clarification Noted

In the recent publication of The Republican newspaper called Explore, there is an error concerning a weekly event at the Deep Creek Lake State Park. The incorrect information was submitted for publication.

All Earth Eco Tours, a private company, offers a "bonfire extravaganza" on Wednesdays at the park. While the publication states that these events are free, they are not. The fee is $5 per person.

For more information, persons may contact All Earth Eco Tours at 301-746-4083.

SHS Alumnus Graduates From Yale Med School

Laura Hollingsworth Cooney graduated in May from the Yale School of Medicine. Dr. Cooney is a 2002 graduate of Southern High School and the daughter of Scott Hollingsworth and Jeanne Gilbert, Oakland.

Cooney received her bachelor of science degree from the Johns Hopkins University, graduating Phi Beta Kappa with university and departmental honors, where she majored in cellular and molecular biology and minored in French literature.

While at Hopkins, she was the recipient of the Howard Hughes Sumer Research Fellowship and the Provost Undergraduate Research Fellowship.

At Yale, Cooney completed her thesis in the Pediatric Cardiology Department and was a contributing author of a paper published in Developmental Dynamics. She was also the recipient of the Connecticut American Congress of Obstetricians and Gynecologists 2010 Outstanding Medical Student Award.

Cooney received her first choice match and began her residency in the Obstetrics and Gynecology Department at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia last month.

She is married to Patrick Cooney, a native of San Rafael, Calif., who received his undergraduate degree from Hopkins in biophysics and a master's degree from Yale in molecular biophysics and biochemistry. He has just completed his first year of law school at the University of Pennsylvania.

Re-Elect
Ernie Gregg
County Commissioner

As a registered pharmacist for over 50 years, I understand the importance of quality health care and public safety being available in our county.

As commissioner I have:

- Secured money for the expansion and renovation of Garrett County Memorial Hospital.
- Supported increased funding for local fire departments and rescue squads.
- Been an active member of the Health Department/ Health Planning Council that helps to recruit doctors, organize clinics, and distribute health care information to the public.
- Supported upgrading the Emergency Management System to improve response time.

Vote for experience and expertise that gets results!

Authority: Troy R. Gnegy, Treasurer

out the day include a bake sale for the Kitzmiller Assembly of God, PTO games by the Kitzmiller Elementary School, and a dime pitch by the Kitzmiller Fire Dept Ladies Auxiliary. Kitzmiller merchandise will be available for purchase, and door prizes will be given away all day Saturday.

On Sunday at 12:30 p.m., a covered dish dinner will take place at the Kitzmiller School cafeteria. The public is invited to bring a favorite dish and come for an afternoon of fellowship. At 2 p.m., a community church service will be held on the Kitzmiller ball field with speakers Rev. Sam & Ellen Calhoun. In case of inclement weather, the service will be held at the Kitzmiller Assembly of God.

Spills Occur

clean up the grassy area surrounding it, Lindsey said.

The spill area was cordoned off and access was restricted until bacteria levels were deemed acceptable by the Environment Health Services office. Lindsey said water quality samples were taken on July 11, 12, 13, and 14. Environmental Health lifted the restriction last Wednesday, the 14th.

Another sewage spill occurred on July 4 at Deep Creek's Pump Station 2-1, also located along Lake Shore Drive. Lindsey said the cause was a traffic accident. A vehicle hit a nearby utility pole that supplies electricity to the station, causing a power outage. She said between 250 and 500 gallons were spilled, but none of it entered the lake.

She and the Garrett County commissioners met on Tuesday (July 20) to discuss the recent spills. The officials approved the purchase of three diesel powered generators. These will be installed at Pump Stations 2-2, 2-1, and 1-1, which is located along Mayhew Inn Road. In case of an electrical outage, the backup generators will kick on, allowing sewage pumps to continue operating.

The director noted that these three stations handle most of the Deep Creek Lake Wastewater Treatment Plant's flow. Sewage from the south and north sides of the lake goes into 2-2, then goes to 2-1, and finally goes to 1-1, which is the last station in the system before the flow gets to the plant.

The recent sewage spills have left some lake residents and visitors wondering if the system can handle large amounts of wastewater, particularly during peak tourist times.

"These occurrences have nothing to do with what the wastewater plant can handle," Lindsey stressed. "It can handle the flow and has additional capacity available."

The plant can process up to 2.2 million gallons a day, she noted.

Located along Mayhew Inn Road, the Deep Creek Lake Wastewater Treatment Plant was recently upgraded in order to meet the need for more capacity because of the large increase in home construction at the lake. The more than $12-million expansion project took two years to accomplish and was completed in January 2007.

LITTLE MEADOWS GROUP HONORS LOCAL YOUTH – The Little Meadows Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution held its annual JROTC and Citizenship awards presentation during a recent meeting at Perkins Restaurant in McHenry. The JROTC awardees were Cameron Barone, Northern High School, and James Rolf, Southern High School. Little Meadows Chapter president Luther Parrack presented the awards, with JROTC instructors Col. Sheets, NHS, and Col. Shaeffer, SHS, assisting. Bill Nemith, chairman of the JROTC Awards Committee works with Sheets and Shaeffer each year to select the most qualified cadet to receive this award at each school. Recognized for their citizenship were Adam Moranduzzo, NHS, and John Compton, SHS. Pictured above, left to right, are Nemith, Shaeffer, Rolf, Barone, Sheets, and Parrack. Below are Rolf, Compton, and Barone. Moranduzzo is not pictured.

Question Plan

comparing the 2009 ratings and the 2010 ratings of Kitzmiller Elementary School, for example, a total of 15 areas dropped from fair or good condition to poor. Raley questioned whether this had something to do with the impending closing of this or other schools.

"I have trouble believing that this document will not become part of a case," said Raley.

"What you're saying about our staff is they've got some kind of hidden agenda or motive going on," said member Rodney Durst.

In an attempt to explain some of the poorer ratings, Thomas explained that while the boiler at Kitzmiller Elementary is a fairly new boiler, the heating system is not equipped to handle the strength of the boiler. Thomas described it as similar to "a 19-year-old heart pumping blood through 91-year-old veins." In order to heat the entire building adequately, a portion of the rooms have to be overheated.

Another rating explained was that of the front entrance's structure, which is deteriorating because of damage done this winter. The front entrance to the school is currently closed and going unused for fear the bricks may begin to fall. This has only just happened over the last several months.

"There's certainly been no discussion between anyone on this staff, period, about the way things should be rated," assured superintendent Dr. Wendell Teets. He denied any attempt by staff to influence the ratings.

It was finally determined by board president Dr. Donald Forrester that because there were several concerns, the board didn't feel comfortable approving it at the present time. It was suggested that the plan still be turned in to the state on time, so an extension is not necessary, but that Thomas and his staff also continue to correct or review some of the specified concerns. It will be brought back at the August meeting.

Also addressed at the meeting were recent personnel changes. Keith Harvey will replace Ervin Fink as the new director of human resources at the central office effective Aug. 2. Recent retirees are William F. Robinson and Rita M. Robinson, both from Northern Middle School, and Barry Shaffer from Southern High School. Resignations were recently given by Jodi L. Nichols at Southern Middle School and Nathan Marshall at Northern High School.

Recent teaching appointments were given to Surya Chronister and Hollie Wund at SHS, Emily Green at Bloomington School, and Jennifer Virts at NHS, all effective Aug. 19. Glenda Sisler was hired as part of the infants and toddlers special education program based at Dennett Road Elementary, effective Aug. 5. Custodial positions were given to Jeffrey Carr at Dennett Road and Tonya Ramey at Kitzmiller Elementary.

Local Resident Joins Oakland E. Jones Office

Shirley Bernard-Durst recently joined the Oakland office of the financial services firm Edward Jones as a branch office administrator (BOA).

According to Jeff Ashby, financial advisor for the office, the title of branch office administrator was adopted for this position at Edward Jones because of the wide range of responsibilities associated with the job.

"On a given day, Shirley's activities could include processing client trade transactions, providing clients with receipts for money and securities, and assisting in the planning of seminars and special promotions," Ashby said.

Bernard-Durst has been an Oakland resident for many years.

Edward Jones provides financial services for individual investors in the United States and, through its affiliate, in Canada.

Wait, Learn Before Leaping...

The nation all the way to the White House, was reminded this week how sound bites and only partial information can sometimes cause the reader or listener to leap to incorrect, often destructive, conclusions. Words that are taken out of context can literally present the exact opposite view of the speaker or the writer.

This week has been an emotional roller coaster ride for Shirley Sherrod, who until this week had been the Agriculture Department's director of rural development for the state of Georgia. After snippets from a speech she recently gave at a luncheon of the NAACP were aired by Fox News journalist Andrew Breitbart, she was quickly branded a racist by conservative pundits, then attacked by the NAACP itself for alleged racist remarks, and ultimately a demand for her immediate resignation came from her bosses in Washington.

The 2½-minute piece of tape that was aired on a conservative web site is that of Sherrard telling her listeners how she initially decided arbitrarily not to help a white farmer save his farm, primarily because he was white. Racist!

What the airing did not include was the fact that this was a description of her attitude 24 years ago, but that in the years since then she has evolved, essentially coming full circle to realize that many whites struggle as much as blacks, and the issue was not race, but poverty. The tape did not reveal the fact that she did, in fact, go out of her way to help this particular white farmer and his wife, helped them succeed in saving their farm, and to this day remains a close friend of the farm couple.

There were knee-jerk reactions at every level. Sherrod was forced to resign, with the Obama administration supporting the call for her resignation – that is, until "the rest of the story" surfaced about 24 hours later. When the entire speech was made public Tuesday, it became clear the accusations of racism were not warranted, White House press secretary Robert Gibbs issued an apology for the entire administration, and Sherrod has been offered a new job.

The single most irresponsible person in all of this is Andrew Breitbart, who should be (but apparently isn't the slightest bit) ashamed of what he did to this woman. It seems that Fox News owes her an apology as well. So far, the only response heard from that network is that, if Sherrod were white and said that about blacks, she would be fired on the spot. That is highly doubtful if all else were the same about this complete story.

But there is a huge lesson to be learned by everyone else, and that is to not leap to conclusions based upon selected bits and pieces of information, especially if it is being disseminated from an adversarial position, be it conservative Fox News or liberal CNN or whomever. Good, innocent people can be permanently injured by such actions.

Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor:

I would like to thank very much the anonymous person who found my wallet in front of Proudfoot's Pharmacy in Oakland on Sunday and turned it in there. It was raining when I came out of the drug store after getting our paper, and I must have dropped it as I hurried to the car. Needless to say, my husband and I worried quite a bit about it Sunday night, had pretty much decided it had to be in or near Proudfoot's, and had decided to go in on Monday morning to check.

Also thank you to Jackie for her kindness in notifying me early Monday morning and to the other staff for their consideration when we went in to get it. It makes us feel good to live in a town where people show such kindness in such an instance.

Sincerely,
Ellen Fritz

To the Editor:

Normally we find editorials on page 4 of The Republican, but on July 15 on page one there was a very obvious condemnation of windmills in a photo caption. In under 120 words, you encapsulated nearly everything that is wrong with windmills, down to minor details of transporting the equipment.

Aerial photography lends itself to portraying things in either the best or worst light, and you certainly exploited that opportunity. Have you considered running front-page photos of Garrett County's auto junk yards, sewage treatment plants, or mining pits? Probably not, as long as they stay hidden behind rows of trees.

The one serious rap against windmills is an economic one: They're not cost-effective, and don't get built unless there's a tax credit. All the teary-eyed worrying about Indiana bats and forest habitats are just NIMBY excuses.

In an ideal world, free from both contrived environmental obstructionism and bribery via tax credits, we could all sit back and watch how many windmills actually got built – and you would probably be very happy.

It really would be best to keep editorials on the editorial page.

Tom Sheahen
Deer Park

Dear Tom,

I totally agree that opinions should be kept on the editorial page. However, the photo to which you refer is what it is, and shows what it shows. It was in no way "touched up." And in re-reading the caption, I find absolutely nothing but straight, unadulterated facts.

Editor

To the Editor:

The Tuesday, July 13, edition of the Cumberland Times-News reported the following: "An electrical malfunction at a pump station caused 42,000 gallons of sewage to overflow near the shore of Deep Creek Lake early Sunday morning. The incident occurred near the intersection of Garrett Highway (U.S. Route 219) and Lake Shore Drive at about 7 a.m. Sunday, according to Linda Lindsey, director of Garrett County's Department of Public Utilities."

The July 15 edition of The Republican failed to cover this threat to public health affecting hundreds of lake residents, summer renters, and state park users. By Thursday, July 15, streams of brown, foul-smelling foam were evident on lake surface off Thousand Acres, which is over a mile southeast of the Glendale Road bridge.

This sewage overflow was first reported by a neighbor, rather than by a public utilities employee. Nor apparently was it the only overflow during the last month, although the earlier incidents do not seem to be of such large volume.

In order to preserve the integrity of the lake and maintain the attractiveness of Deep Creek as a tourist destination, residents need to be aware that such unfortunate incidents occur and, therefore, to be vigilant in watching for and reporting them. In the absence of comprehensive coverage by The Republican, we cannot participate effectively in maintaining or improving Garrett County's environment. A sewage spillage into the lake is just as important as farm news or rabies cases, and impacts more individuals than CDS violations or minor vehicle accidents.

John Karlik
Swanton

Mr. Karlik:

We received no information/notification whatsoever from any individual or agency regarding this spill, and have learned that the only reason it appeared in the Times-News is that a reporter for that publication just happened to go by the area, see the spill, and make some phone calls. It is highly presumptuous of you – and, frankly, unfair – to suggest that we would deem such an event of little or no importance or that we would for some reason try to cover it up.

Editor

To the Editor:

I'm glad so much is being said about bringing back good government. But, sending money to Arizona to support a governor's folly doesn't make sense to me. Arizona tax dollars are already being spent to save an immigration law when immigration law is a federal responsibility – and at a time when border security is not at its worst, new actions have been being taken and more National Guardsmen are on the scene. There would have been better ways to bring pressure on Congress and the administration – maybe like getting John McCain to speak out and bring back a good bill he once sponsored.

Unfortunately, Congress is no longer in the business of governing. Now it's all about getting re-elected, and that means elected officials always "running" scared.

Now the big boogey man is "the Debt."

Clinton erased the deficit that Reagan created. Obama has inherited the debt that Bush created. It is not social programs that brought on the red ink. It is two wars, military spending that has been out of control for decades, an unfunded bill to enrich the drug companies, and tax breaks for those who are already doing fine.

But, the Republicans vote no on programs to help the little guy and talk of voting yes to keeping tax breaks in place for the well-to-do. Republicans have become cynical and politically cruel when there are five job seekers for every job available. Unemployment insurance is just that – not a welfare program. And, I'm glad the Democrats could finally get the right job done.

I don't think we can have good government until the conversation turns from fear to hard work and a "want-to-do" attitude. Fear divides the electorate. Money buys the votes. Officials care more about getting re-elected than about doing right by the people.

Fear of getting caught with the ideas that serve those in need and being called dirty words such as liberal or progressive, and fear of not being anti-deficit has the Democrats stopped in their tracks. Fear that they might not get power back has Republicans willing to damage people and the country with "no" votes.

The administration's hope to bring more stimulus money to the states and small business has been done in by fear – the deficit. Our government has the only line of credit for money to spend us out of trouble.

Sincerely,
Cynthia S. Knight
Grantsville

To the Editor:

July 27 marks the 60th anniversary of the end of the fighting of the Korean War. One year ago on July 27, President Obama signed HR 2632, the Korean War Veterans Recognition Act, sponsored by Rep. Charles Rangel, N.Y., himself a Korean War veteran. The act added National Korean War Veterans Armistice Day to the list of "days on which flag display is especially encouraged."

Please note the word "armistice-a temporary cessation of hostilities by mutual consent, a truce." Up to this present day a treaty of peace has not been signed between the Allies and North Korea (still supported by communist China). Up until the 1970s, at least 50,000 U.S. troops were stationed in South Korea, and 25,000 remain there today.

Today, South Korea is a first-world country. In contrast, North Korea struggles to feed, clothe, and warm its citizens. A night-time photo shows that the area south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) is ablaze with light; north of the DMZ, only Pyougyang, the capital of North Korea, is lighted, but the rest of that suffering nation is dark. So much for "pure communism."

To conclude, here is a quote from Col. Bryan Groves of the Army's Peacekeeping and Stability Operations Institute at Carlisle Barracks, Pa.

'Today the Republic of Korea (ROK) has the world's 13th largest economy and is a leading global supplier of cell phones, flat screen TVs, ships, and steel. This is the result of the hard work and sacrifices of the Korean people, but it was made possible by the sacrifice of American sons and daughters who answered the call to defend a country they never knew and a people they never met."

The Groves quote and details of the Recognition Act are found in the June issue of the American Legion magazine. The June/July issue of the VFW magazine is a Korean War Special 60th Anniversary issue. So fly the U.S. flag on the 27th.

To the Editor:

The death of a 14-year-old dog that was allegedly left in a hot vehicle for more than an hour while her guardian shopped at a COSTCO in Frederick is a tragic reminder that vehicles can quickly become death traps in warm weather.

On a 78°F day, the temperature inside a shaded car is 90°F, while the inside of a car parked in the sun can reach 160°F in minutes – even with the windows partially open. With only hot air to breathe, dogs can succumb to heatstroke in as little as 15 minutes, resulting in brain damage or death. Symptoms include restlessness, excessive thirst, heavy panting, lethargy, lack of appetite and coordination, a dark tongue, and vomiting.

Please, when it's even a little warm outside, leave animals at home. If you see a dog left in a car, have the car's owner paged or call local police or humane authorities right away. Take immediate action – the dog's life may depend on it.

To the Editor:

I generally enjoy the "Ask the Everyday Scientist" column in your newspaper. However, columnist Tom Sheahen's topic for last week, Natural Gas From Deep Water Wells, is not your everyday science. He describes this very complex and controversial gas extraction process in a cursory and incomplete manner. I do not mean to quibble with the author and I realize his space is limited, but Garrett County sits on top of the Marcellus shale natural gas repository, and our citizens should be fully informed of the process by which this gas is extracted from the ground.

First, "fracking" is short for hydraulic fracturing, which is a more accurate term than hydrofracturing. The process requires the use of a fluid consisting of extraordinarily large amounts of water, sand, and many chemicals, all entering the ground under pressure so extreme as to fracture the shale rock. Many of the chemicals are reported to be known carcinogens. The industry has been very reluctant to fully identify these chemicals or their formulations.

The Energy Policy Act of 2005 exempted fracking from federal regulation under the Safe Drinking Water Act. Consequently, the federal government is not carefully monitoring the industry, and landowners, local officials, and health care providers may not be sufficiently informed of fracking's health consequences. The chemicals inserted into the wells and the gas itself can migrate and enter the water table. Homeowners so affected can light a match, hold it to the water coming out of the mouth of their kitchen faucets, and light the water because of the quantity of gas that has leached into their wells.

There have been well blowouts, which can send tens of thousands of gallons of hydraulic fracturing fluids into the surrounding air. The costs associated with environmental clean-up processes, drinking water replacement, land value loss, and human and animal health concerns can be significant.

As you would expect, the gas extraction industry asserts that fracking is safe. (We were led to believe that deep-water oil well drilling was safe, too.) At the very least, however, I do not believe it is useful or accurate to equate the methane gas retrieved from fracking to the methane gas generated in controlled, modern landfills, as Mr. Sheahen suggests.

Sincerely,
Jerry Campane

GRANTSVILLE
by Heather Wilhelm, secretary

The monthly meeting of the Grantsville 4-H Club was held at the home of Ryan Weimer. Pledges were led by Kaitlyn Smith and Cara Bauermaster.

President Megan Wilhelm called the meeting to order and roll call was answered with 10 members present. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given and approved.

Under old business, a report was given about Grantsville Days. The club received second place for its float and did very well on water sales at the track. Thanks were given to everyone who helped.

The club trip has been tabled until the September meeting.

New business items included Cow Patty Bingo at the fair. Club members decided to do the corn booth at the fair on Friday evening if available, and sponsor a trophy/savings bond at the fair.

Members also decided to have a 4-H booth at the fair, and a work day was scheduled.

Ryan Weimer gave a demonstration on his rocket project.

The August meeting will be held at the leader's home with Justin Wilhelm giving a demo. Refreshments will be provided by Megan Wilhelm and Cara Bauermaster.

Question #1: Taxes

a. Some believe property assessments and taxes are too high, especially with the recent drop in home values. One proposed solution is to pass a law that requires reassessment of residential properties when median home prices in a county fall by more than 10% from the previous year.
What do you think? _____

b. Most retirees live on fixed incomes, but the tax assessment of their homes keeps rising. Some believe the Homestead Tax Credit "cap" should be lowered from the present 10% to 5%. This would reduce the tax burden and help retirees and senior citizens stay in their own homes.
What do you think? _____

Poultry Exhibitors Reminded Of Flu Testing Specifics

Those individuals planning to bring poultry to the Garrett County Agriculture Fair are reminded that all poultry must originate from a flock that participates in the Maryland Avian Influenza-Monitored Flock Program, or the exhibitor must have a minimum of 10 birds randomly tested negative for avian influenza by an official test. Official tests must be done 10 days prior to the fair.

To assist with this process, arrangements have been made for the testing to be done on Monday, July 26, at the Garrett County Extension Office beginning at 10 a.m. Persons should contact the office at 301-334-6960 to register for the testing. Information needed includes the source of the birds, the age of the birds, and the number of birds in the flock.

Arthritis Support Group Slated To Meet August 5

Chair yoga will be on the agenda for the Arthritis/Fibromyalgia Support Group meeting on Thursday, August 5, at 6:30 p.m. in the board room at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Sandy Bello, a yoga instructor at Garrett College, will be offering a special session for the group using flowing, easy yoga routines that are gentle as well as gently challenging, according to Bello.

"This class is especially designed for beginners who want to improve their joint health and flexibility," Bello said. "Yoga is an exercise with rhythmic movement and breathing to improve and maintain the body's flexibility."

Bello has been teaching advanced yoga at the college for three years. She is a resident of Oakland and co-owner of Bello's Portraits located in McHenry.

The yoga session will be followed by a support and sharing session hosted by Lisa Schad, wellness coordinator at the hospital. Arthritis/Fibromyalgia Support Group meetings are free and open to all ages. Interested persons may call the Wellness Department at 301-533-4366 for more information.

Lakeview Auto Takes Two From Team One To Win Spot In Finals

Lakeview Auto Parts went 2-0 this week in its best-of-three Hot Stove League playoff series with fellow Garrett County team Team One Auto to advance to the league's championship series.

Lakeview won Monday's game by an 11-1 margin, and recorded a 5-1 victory last night at Potomac Park.

In Monday's contest, Cody Rodeheaver earned the complete-game win for Lakeview, allowing only three hits and striking out seven. The game was called after five innings because of the 10-run rule.

Leading Lakeview's nine-hit performance were Derek Rodeheaver with a double and a single, and Beck Sherrard with two singles.

Getting two of Team one's three hits was Derek Noble with a double and a single.

Jared Fike earned the win on the mound last night, as he allowed just three singles and struck out seven in going the distance.

Kevin Colaw also pitched well for Team One, allowing just five hits, one of which was a two-run triple in the fifth inning by Josh Mason.

Team One took a 1-0 lead on an RBI single by Colaw in the first inning, and the score remained 1-0 until the top of the fifth.

Justin Deratto brought home two more Lakeview runs in the sixth with a single. Rodeheaver hit a pair of singles.

The pair of wins upped Lakeview's record to 15-6. The team will face the winner of Friday's game between Romney and Ridgeley in the opening game of the American League Championship Series on Monday.

Grantsville Post 214 Wins One Of Four; Season Ends Tonight

In four Mountain District American Legion games played this past week by Grantsville Post 214, the local team recorded one victory and three defeats.

Post 214 was whipped last Wednesday by Elkins Post 29, 12-6, at Elkins, split a pair of three-run games with visiting Fort Cumberland Post 13 last Friday at Garrett College, and then lost again to Elkins on Monday at Garrett College, 15-8.

Grantsville (7-18) will wrap up its season this evening back at Fort Cumberland.

In the game against Elkins last Wednesday, Post 214 trailed 6-3 until the bottom of the sixth when Elkins' Brett Shreve rapped a two-run homer. Elkins then added three more runs in the seventh and one in the eighth before stemming a three-run rally by Post 214 in the ninth to preserve the win.

Hitting a two-run homer for Grantsville in the third was starting pitcher Corey Helbig, and Matt Watson had a solo shot in the second. Nathan King provided three singles, and Bubba Scheffel added a run-producing single.

For Elkins, Shreve also hit a single, Lance Vonnay hit a solo homer in the eighth and also had two doubles, and Scott Fox contributed two hits and two RBI.

In Friday's doubleheader with Fort Cumberland, Grantsville won the first game, 5-2, behind a solo home run and an RBI double by Helbig. Ted Linton hit three singles, Dan Warnick led off the third with a home run, and Steve Holtschneider added a double.

Losing pitcher Cody Ellsworth hit a solo homer and a double for Fort Cumberland.

Post 214 had a strong start in the second game, scoring three runs in the first, but Post 13 rallied for seven runs in the third to take the lead for good.

Grantsville would finish the game with a lopsided 11-6 advantage in hits, with Helbig getting his second home run of the day – a two-run shot – plus a double and a single. Linton had three more hits for Grantsville, Warnick added a double, and Matt Watson and Thomas Holtschneider each provided run-producing singles.

Pacing Post 13 at the plate was Sean Collette with three singles. Ethan Landis had a two-run single.

The Grantsville players loaded the bases in the bottom of the seventh, but Zach Bradfield worked his way out of the jam without allowing another run.

A two-homer, four-hit performance by Lance Vannoy of Elkins Post 29 led to the demise of Grantsville in Monday's game.

Vannoy rapped a solo shot in the fourth, a three-run blast in the fifth, and also had an RBI double and a single to pace Elkins' 16-hit effort.

A double and two singles by Spencer Webley plated four runs for Elkins, while Brett Shreve also hit a double and two singles.

Frank Arnold's Drops Final Three Games Of Season

The Cumberland Rec League team sponsored by Frank Arnold Contracting went down to a 6-2 defeat to visiting Chessie Federal Credit Union on Friday at Southern High School, dropped a 4-1 decision to Personal Best/KMK on Monday, and then concluded its season last night with a 12-4 defeat by Fort Ashby VFW.

The big blow for Arnold's in Friday's contest was a three-run homer by Chessie's Josh Jenkins in the sixth inning, which broke a 1-1 tie.

Sean Fazenbaker had a double and two singles for Chessie, while Pat Livingston provided three singles.

Getting two singles apiece for Arnold's were Mason Dick and Cody Meyers, while Sean Rollman and Shane Peck each provided a double.

Arnold's was out-hit by a 12-8 margin.

The win upped Chessie's record to 9-4-1.

Arnold's held a brief 1-0 lead over Personal Best in its next game, but the host team came back to score three runs in the bottom of the first to take the lead for good. Arnold's was held to four hits by Dave Rinehart and Drew O'Neal. No other details were received.

In last night's final game, Arnold's was pummeled by 16 hits by Fort Ashby VFW at Frankfort High School.

Jeff Conley rapped two doubles and a single for the winners, Ryan Bobo hit three singles, Dylan Wagoner provided a double and a single, and Jamison Jones contributed two singles.

Pacing Arnold's seven-hit effort were Ryan Bennett with a double and a single, and Cory Helbig and Dan Sislo each with a double.

Manta Rays Compete In Butterfly Meet

The Manta Ray Swim Team competed in the Summer Swim League annual Butterfly Meet on Friday, July 16, at the Riverside YMCA in Cumberland. The local team faced competitors from Cumberland, Bel Air, LaVale, and Hardy County, W.Va., in the fourth and final preliminary meet of the season.

The Manta Rays won a number of top three ribbons in both A-flight and B-flight competition.

In A-flight competition, Zak Thomas, boys 13-14, won first place in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 1:17.10, and in the 200 yard freestyle (2:22.01), breaking Jordan Lantz's record (2:24.33) set in 2002.

Winning first in B-flight competition were Jaclyn Jacobs, girls 6 and under, 25 yard butterfly (44.91) and 25 free (36.89); Corinne Weaver, girls 15 and over, 50 fly (39.54); and Nicole Walch, girls 15 and over, 100 free (1:12.51).

Placing second in A-flight competition were Matthew Ball, boys 13-14, 100 fly (1:42.27) and 200 free (2:49.75); and Katie Parker, girls 15 and over, 100 fly (1:14.89) and 200 free (2:41.29).

Taking second in B-flight competition were Kassidy Andris, girls 7-8, 25 fly (38.82); Megan Fitzwater, girls 13-14, 50 fly (43.30), Acie Friend, boys 15 and over, 50 fly (38.91) and 100 free (1:16.78), and Kelly Bean, girls 15 and over, 50 fly (40.25) and 100 free (1:15.98).

In A-flight competition, Alex Anderson, boys 13-14, finished third in the 100 fly (1:47.42) and 200 free (3:16.90).

Earning third in B-flight competition were Lauren Jacobs, girls 7-8, 25 fly (39.76), Nicole Walch, girls 15 and over, 50 fly (41.69); Laurel Williams, girls 7-8, 50 free (1:12.58), Megan Fitzwater, girls 13-14, 100 free (1:37.41), and Corinne Weaver, 100 free (1:18.91).

The manta rays won a number of top three places in relay races.

Taking second in the mixed 13-14 200-yard medley relay was the team of Alex Anderson, Matthew Ball, Megan Fitzwater, and Zak Thomas.

Third place finishers in the mixed 11-12 200-yard medley relay were Katelin Rank, Lexi Trickett, Annika Naylor, and Emily Bowser. Earning third place ribbons in the mixed 12 and under 150 yard freestyle relay was the team comprising Jaclyn Jacobs, Lauren Jacobs, Caleb Rowan, and Autumn Friend.

Several Manta Rays chose to participate in the open event, the mixed 200-yard butterfly. Zak Thomas captured second with a time of 3:13.26, setting a team record for A-flight boys 13-14. Matthew Ball took third (3:48.74). Megan Fitzwater finished fifth (4:18.23), setting a team record for B-flight girls 13-14.

The team placed second overall with a combined score of 809 points. For complete meet results, persons may visit the team's web site at www.mantaray.org.

The championship meet will be held on Saturday, July 24, at the Riverside YMCA. The team picnic and team awards ceremony will be held the following day at the Blakeslee community pool at 1 p.m.

SUNRISE STRING QUARTET

Sunrise String Quartet To Give MPA Concert

Music at Penn Alps will present the Sunrise String Quartet at the Great Hall at Penn Alps, Grantsville, on Saturday, July 24, at 7:30 p.m. The quartet is presented by permission of the National Philharmonic, directed by Ken Oldham. The concert is sponsored by the Frostburg State University Foundation.

The Sunrise Quartet was founded in 1991 and tours the East Coast from Florida to Pennsylvania. The group also performs as the National Gallery String Quartet for the National Gallery of Art, and this year marks the 15th season that the current members of the quartet have been playing together.

Violinist Claudia Chudacoff is concertmaster of the National Gallery Orchestra, the Alexandria Symphony, and the Marine Band White House Chamber Orchestra. She has performed in the Holocaust Memorial Museum Chamber Series and as soloist with Concert Artists of Baltimore. She holds a master of music degree from the Eastman School of Music.

Violinist Teri Lazar has performed as a soloist and chamber musician in the U.S., Europe, and the Middle East. She is concertmaster of the Virginia Chamber Orchestra and teaches violin at American University, where she is a musician in residence. She holds a doctorate of music degree from Catholic University.

Violist Osman Kivrak was a winner of the National Scholarship Competition in Turkey and the Baltimore Chamber Music Awards. He teaches viola and chamber music at American University, and received a doctorate of music degree from Catholic University. He has performed at the Spoleto Festival in the USA and Italy, and toured Europe as a chamber music player.

Cellist Diana Fish is assistant principal cellist of the Chamber Orchestra of the President's Own United States Marine Band and principal cellist of the Alexandria Symphony Orchestra. She graduated from the Curtis Institute of Music and is an active chamber musician in the D.C. area.

The program comprises String Quartet in Bb Major, Op. 76 #4 ("Sunrise") by Franz Josef Haydn, "He Loves and She Loves" and "Sweet and Low Down," both written by George Gershwin; and Beethoven's String Quartet in C Major, Op. #59.

Tickets are $12 for adults, and youth 18 and under are admitted free of charge. Advance reservations are not required. For more program information, persons may call 443-257-9177 or visit the web site at www.musicatpennalps.org.

After the performance, audience members will be invited to meet the artists at an informal reception.

Main Street Park Summer Movies Proven Popular

Large crowds have been attending the Main Street Pocket Park movies in downtown Oakland this summer, with 138 movie goers at last week's presentation of Veggie Tales: The Pirates Who Don't Do Anything. Attendees were invited to dress up as pirates, and a gift certificate to Garrett 8 Cinemas was presented to Jacob Parks, the winner of the best costume.

The next movie, Secondhand Lions, will be presented next Thursday, July 29, sponsored by Rudy's Clothing. The program is a Main Street concept originally implemented locally over two years ago when Oakland Main Street and Jim Johnson of Electronic Diagnostic Center collaborated with the purchase of movie projection equipment.

At that time, two movies were shown at the same "pocket park," next to Eco Chic and the Newman Funeral Home. The program was revived this year when Tess Tharp, a senior at Southern High School, volunteered to chair a Main Street committee.

"Her enthusisam, energy, and constant positive attitude are an inspiration to other committee members and volunteers who have made the event a success," said Arlene Murray, Main Street manager.

Tharp contacted business owners to be sponsors and enlisted her two brothers, Tanner, a student at Southern Middle School, and Taylor, a Garrett College student, to assist her along with her friends. She also selected movies appropriate and appealing to children and adults, and added theme nights to two of the movies.

"The young group has successfully managed to create a fun and healthy activity for the community," Murray said.

Other committee members include Johnson, who operates the projection equipment; Jeff Hay, youth director of Crellin Assembly of God, who donated the use of the popcorn maker, and makes and sells popcorn; and Murray.

'Tess was noticed by Main Street last year during the Little Yough Summer Music Festival when she and her family, including her brothers, father Bruce, and mother Randee volunteered after the concerts to move the heavy tables back in place at the town parking lot pavilion," Murray said.

During Winterfest 2010, the Tharp family once again came forward and operated the campfire and sold s'mores, which was a "popular feature of the festival," according to Murray. Sponsors of movies already presented this season include the Tharp Group, Adventure Sports International, and Oakland MRI Center LLC.

The remaining movies on the schedule include a teen night and movie goers' pick on August 19, sponsored by Helbig's Insurance. The movie choices are Disturbia or The Village. Interested persons should go to Facebook.com and search "Oakland Pocket Park Movies" to vote. The deadline to vote is August 1, and the selected movie will be posted on Facebook.

On August 26 the group will present Kung Fu Panda with a ninja theme and a prize for the best ninja costume. The movie is sponsored by Peggy Jamison. Refreshments at all movies are sponsored by Connie Margison and Jack Jones of the Mountain Lake Park Tennis Club.

The committee hopes to expand the program next year with more movies, more variety, and more nights. The movies are free to the public, and attendees should bring a lawn chair or blanket. Refreshments will be available for purchase. Anyone interested in more information may e-mail Tharp at tess@tharpgroup.com, call 301-616-2411, or visit Facebook at "Oakland Pocket Park Movies."

GC Art Groups Awarded More Than $105,000

Gov. Martin O'Malley this week announced more than $11 million in Maryland State Arts Council grants to nearly 300 Maryland organizations and county arts councils, including five in Garrett County, for this fiscal year.

Total funding for the local groups is $105,009. The Garrett County Arts Council was awarded the bulk of that money, $81,289, for community arts development.

The other awardees, their grant amount, and the disciplines in which the money will be spent are as follows: Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, $15,449, Music, Our Town Theatre, $3,186, theater, Spruce Forest Artisan Village, $2,991, folk and traditional arts, and McHenry Highland Festival, $2,094, folk and traditional arts.

"Our investment in the arts organizations in Maryland is another strategy to strengthen small businesses and create and retain jobs in the creative industries," said O'Malley. "Support of the operations of these arts organizations stimulates the economy and contributes greatly to the quality of life we enjoy in our state."

ANNUAL CANDY DROP

The annual candy drop will be held on Saturday, Aug. 7, at 4 p.m. in the softball field during Friendsville Days 2010. The event is open to kids ages 1 to 18. No adults will be allowed on the field except to assist children 1 to 2 years old. Parents are advised that no strollers will be permitted. Bags to collect candy will be handed out prior to the drop. The event is sponsored by Friendsville Community Watch.

ANNUAL CANCER WALK

The Friendsville Community Watch will sponsor its annual Cancer Walk to be held on Friday, Aug. 6, during Friendsville Days 2010. Ribbons can be purchased in memory or honor of a loved one who has been diagnosed with cancer of any sort. Ribbons cost $2 and can be ordered by picking up a form at S&S Market or by asking any member. Proceeds this year will benefit the Ronald McDonald House.

GLAF ENTERTAINS GARRETT MENTORS – The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival invited Garrett Mentors again this year to experience the sights and sounds of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra during its rehearsal last Saturday at Wisp. Maestro Lawrence Loh spoke with the "study buddies" and encouraged them to learn about the many different instruments used in an orchestra. Pictured from left are Tricia Cheesman, executive director of Garrett Mentors Inc., Jacob Green, Lawrence Loh, and Alexis Lyons. Garrett Mentors is a non-profit school-based organization that mentors children grades kindergarten through five in Garrett County elementary schools. Mentors work with their study buddies at least once a week, helping with school work and engaging in conversations. Cheesman said surveys prove that school attendance, behavior, and self-esteem improve greatly when a child sees a mentor one hour per week. Persons interested in becoming mentors are asked to Cheesman at 301-334-1783.

State Arts Council matching grants will be used to support the general operations of 240 arts organizations and ongoing arts programs, as well as the activities of Maryland's 23 official county arts councils and Baltimore City.

The matching grants are based on the recommendations of the Maryland State Arts Council, and approved by the secretary of the Maryland Department of Business and Economic Development.

The latest economic impact report commissioned by the Maryland State Arts Council noted that the organizations receiving grants from the council support more than 11,000 jobs.

"It shows that the nonprofit arts organizations are active contributors in the business community – they are employers, producers, consumers and key partners in the promotion of their communities," said a Maryland State Arts Council spokesperson.

The Maryland study uses the methodology of the Americans for the Arts' national Arts and Economic Prosperity III study. Details on the national study are available at artusa.org.

Grants to organizations from the Maryland State Arts Council are awarded on the basis of artistic merit, organizational effectiveness and service to the community. Grantees are selected through a process in which applicants are evaluated by advisory panels of professionals in each artistic discipline, including on-site visits to each applicant. The amount of each grant is then recommended for the governor's approval by the Maryland State Arts Council.

For more information about the council, persons may visit the MSAC web site at msac.org or call 410-767-6555.

Lakeview Auto Takes Two From Team One To Win Spot In Finals

Lakeview Auto Parts went 2-0 this week in its best-of-three Hot Stove League playoff series with fellow Garrett County team Team One Auto to advance to the league's championship series.

Lakeview won Monday's game by an 11-1 margin, and recorded a 5-1 victory last night at Potomac Park.

In Monday's contest, Cody Rodeheaver earned the complete-game win for Lakeview, allowing only three hits and striking out seven. The game was called after five innings because of the 10-run rule.

Leading Lakeview's nine-hit performance were Derek Rodeheaver with a double and a single, and Beck Sherrard with two singles.

Getting two of Team one's three hits was Derek Noble with a double and a single.

Jared Fike earned the win on the mound last night, as he allowed just three singles and struck out seven in going the distance.

Kevin Colaw also pitched well for Team One, allowing just five hits, one of which was a two-run triple in the fifth inning by Josh Mason.

Team One took a 1-0 lead on an RBI single by Colaw in the first inning, and the score remained 1-0 until the top of the fifth.

Justin Deratto brought home two more Lakeview runs in the sixth with a single. Rodeheaver hit a pair of singles.

The pair of wins upped Lakeview's record to 15-6. The team will face the winner of Friday's game between Romney and Ridgeley in the opening game of the American League Championship Series on Monday.

Grantsville Post 214 Wins One Of Four; Season Ends Tonight

In four Mountain District American Legion games played this past week by Grantsville Post 214, the local team recorded one victory and three defeats.

Post 214 was whipped last Wednesday by Elkins Post 29, 12-6, at Elkins, split a pair of three-run games with visiting Fort Cumberland Post 13 last Friday at Garrett College, and then lost again to Elkins on Monday at Garrett College, 15-8.

Grantsville (7-18) will wrap up its season this evening back at Fort Cumberland.

In the game against Elkins last Wednesday, Post 214 trailed 6-3 until the bottom of the sixth when Elkins' Brett Shreve rapped a two-run homer. Elkins then added three more runs in the seventh and one in the eighth before stemming a three-run rally by Post 214 in the ninth to preserve the win.

Hitting a two-run homer for Grantsville in the third was starting pitcher Corey Helbig, and Matt Watson had a solo shot in the second. Nathan King provided three singles, and Bubba Scheffel added a run-producing single.

For Elkins, Shreve also hit a single, Lance Vonnay hit a solo homer in the eighth and also had two doubles, and Scott Fox contributed two hits and two RBI.

In Friday's doubleheader with Fort Cumberland, Grantsville won the first game, 5-2, behind a solo home run and an RBI double by Helbig. Ted Linton hit three singles, Dan Warnick led off the third with a home run, and Steve Holtschneider added a double.

Losing pitcher Cody Ellsworth hit a solo homer and a double for Fort Cumberland.

Post 214 had a strong start in the second game, scoring three runs in the first, but Post 13 rallied for seven runs in the third to take the lead for good.

Grantsville would finish the game with a lopsided 11-6 advantage in hits, with Helbig getting his second home run of the day – a two-run shot – plus a double and a single. Linton had three more hits for Grantsville, Warnick added a double, and Matt Watson and Thomas Holtschneider each provided run-producing singles.

Pacing Post 13 at the plate was Sean Collette with three singles. Ethan Landis had a two-run single.

The Grantsville players loaded the bases in the bottom of the seventh, but Zach Bradfield worked his way out of the jam without allowing another run.

A two-homer, four-hit performance by Lance Vannoy of Elkins Post 29 led to the demise of Grantsville in Monday's game.

Vannoy rapped a solo shot in the fourth, a three-run blast in the fifth, and also had an RBI double and a single to pace Elkins' 16-hit effort.

A double and two singles by Spencer Webley plated four runs for Elkins, while Brett Shreve also hit a double and two singles.

Frank Arnold's Drops Final Three Games Of Season

The Cumberland Rec League team sponsored by Frank Arnold Contracting went down to a 6-2 defeat to visiting Chessie Federal Credit Union on Friday at Southern High School, dropped a 4-1 decision to Personal Best/KMK on Monday, and then concluded its season last night with a 12-4 defeat by Fort Ashby VFW.

The big blow for Arnold's in Friday's contest was a three-run homer by Chessie's Josh Jenkins in the sixth inning, which broke a 1-1 tie.

Sean Fazenbaker had a double and two singles for Chessie, while Pat Livingston provided three singles.

Getting two singles apiece for Arnold's were Mason Dick and Cody Meyers, while Sean Rollman and Shane Peck each provided a double.

Arnold's was out-hit by a 12-8 margin.

The win upped Chessie's record to 9-4-1.

Arnold's held a brief 1-0 lead over Personal Best in its next game, but the host team came back to score three runs in the bottom of the first to take the lead for good. Arnold's was held to four hits by Dave Rinehart and Drew O'Neal. No other details were received.

In last night's final game, Arnold's was pummeled by 16 hits by Fort Ashby VFW at Frankfort High School.

Jeff Conley rapped two doubles and a single for the winners, Ryan Bobo hit three singles, Dylan Wagoner provided a double and a single, and Jamison Jones contributed two singles.

Pacing Arnold's seven-hit effort were Ryan Bennett with a double and a single, and Cory Helbig and Dan Sislo each with a double.

Manta Rays Compete In Butterfly Meet

The Manta Ray Swim Team competed in the Summer Swim League annual Butterfly Meet on Friday, July 16, at the Riverside YMCA in Cumberland. The local team faced competitors from Cumberland, Bel Air, LaVale, and Hardy County, W.Va., in the fourth and final preliminary meet of the season.

The Manta Rays won a number of top three ribbons in both A-flight and B-flight competition.

In A-flight competition, Zak Thomas, boys 13-14, won first place in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 1:17.10, and in the 200 yard freestyle (2:22.01), breaking Jordan Lantz's record (2:24.33) set in 2002.

Winning first in B-flight competition were Jaclyn Jacobs, girls 6 and under, 25 yard butterfly (44.91) and 25 free (36.89), Corinne Weaver, girls 15 and over, 50 fly (39.54); and Nicole Walch, girls 15 and over, 100 free (1:12.51).

Placing second in A-flight competition were Matthew Ball, boys 13-14, 100 fly (1:42.27) and 200 free (2:49.75); and Katie Parker, girls 15 and over, 100 fly (1:14.89) and 200 free (2:41.29).

Taking second in B-flight competition were Kassidy Andris, girls 7-8, 25 fly (38.82), Megan Fitzwater, girls 13-14, 50 fly (43.30); Acie Friend, boys 15 and over, 50 fly (38.91) and 100 free (1:16.78), and Kelly Bean, girls 15 and over, 50 fly (40.25) and 100 free (1:15.98).

In A-flight competition, Alex Anderson, boys 13-14, finished third in the 100 fly (1:47.42) and 200 free (3:16.90).

Earning third in B-flight competition were Lauren Jacobs, girls 7-8, 25 fly (39.76); Nicole Walch, girls 15 and over, 50 fly (41.69); Laurel Williams, girls 7-8, 50 free (1:12.58); Megan Fitzwater, girls 13-14, 100 free (1:37.41); and Corinne Weaver, 100 free (1:18.91).

The manta rays won a number of top three places in relay races.

Taking second in the mixed 13-14 200-yard medley relay was the team of Alex Anderson, Matthew Ball, Megan Fitzwater, and Zak Thomas.

Third place finishers in the mixed 11-12 200-yard medley relay were Katelin Rank, Lexi Trickett, Annika Naylor, and Emily Bowser. Earning third place ribbons in the mixed 12 and under 150 yard freestyle relay was the team comprising Jaclyn Jacobs, Lauren Jacobs, Caleb Rowan, and Autumn Friend.

Several Manta Rays chose to participate in the open event, the mixed 200-yard butterfly. Zak Thomas captured second with a time of 3:13.26, setting a team record for A-flight boys 13-14. Matthew Ball took third (3:48.74). Megan Fitzwater finished fifth (4:18.23), setting a team record for B-flight girls 13-14.

The team placed second overall with a combined score of 809 points. For complete meet results, persons may visit the team's web site at www.mantaray.org.

The championship meet will be held on Saturday, July 24, at the Riverside YMCA. The team picnic and team awards ceremony will be held the following day at the Blakeslee community pool at 1 p.m.

WOMEN'S FLYING SCOT AND LASER INVITATIONAL REGATTAS
by Dan Muss

An invitational regatta is one in which competitors are invited from outside our governing organization, the Deep Creek Yacht Racing Association. In past years the Laser Regatta was run on a separate course from the women's 'Scots, but this year the PROs Dave Mahan and Darrell Van Hutten decided to run the regattas together, with the triangular Laser course set up inside the 'Scots' windward-leeward course. The Women's Regatta was divided into three fleets: Championship, Challenger, and Junior. The Lasers were divided into two: Adult and Junior. With 13 Laser juniors competing it was decided to run the Laser Junior races on a separate course. Sue Wolffe, the ad hoc PRO, ran the races, with help from the staff of the Deep Creek Sailing School.

The Laser adults were sailing Lasers with full rigs; the Laser juniors were sailing the radial rig, which uses a smaller mast and sail. U.S. Sailing defines juniors as 19 years or younger, but I saw some very young sailors at the helm, especially in the 'Scots. Here comes the next generation!

In the last seconds of the first start of the women's Championship fleet the pin was favored and there was one 'Scot barreling for the line on the port tack! And she got away with it, as the other boats had not reached the pin when the horn went off. Then, as the Challengers started, another 'Scot was trying to do the same thing, but a starboard tack boat cut her off, forcing her to bear off outside the start line. As the horn went off there was some bumping and hollering, as three 'Scots got tangled up. I'm not sure how that was sorted out.

There were 12 adult Lasers competing, and the racing was characterized by intense competitiveness; the fleet was always tightly packed, and position and lead changes were constantly occurring. The outcome of any individual race was always uncertain until the boats crossed the finish line, typically within seconds of each other.

On Saturday, four races were completed in variable conditions, with the winds ranging from light to medium strength. The sailing gods toyed with the participants during a five-minute span in between the afternoon races, as a high velocity blast led to planing conditions and multiple "yee-hah" exclamations. But the last race of the day was conducted in tame winds like the others before.

Sunday emerged with brooding gray skies and a bit of rain, but the wind was stronger and more consistent. This resulted in even greater competitiveness, position changes, and uncertainty until the finish line was crossed.

Going into the last race, the two leaders were tied, so whoever won between them in the last race was going to win the regatta. They duked it out in classic fashion, and Andy Shoemaker, a college student from Cincinnati, was barely able to hold off Scott Parry, a local sailor from Turkey Neck Yacht Club, to win. James DuPont from Philadelphia placed third, and Joaquin Gutierrez from Argentina, who hadn't sailed in a dinghy in 10 years, came in fourth.

There was a very wide range of experience among the juniors, especially in the Laser series. There were sailors who were novices fresh out of sailing school and participating in their first official races along with a few old hands. On Saturday, six races were completed in light, building to moderate, winds. On Sunday morning the weather prediction was for gusts to 20 miles – too challenging for light weight and inexperienced sailors, but actual winds permitted two more races for a series of eight races. At the conclusion, all skippers agreed that they had a good time, and some had learned a lot about racing.

Annual Western Maryland Tourney Set Aug. 13-15

The Oakland Golf Club will host the 47th annual Western Maryland Amateur Golf Tournament on August 13-15. Although the tournament brings some of the best golfers from all over the United States to the area, persons of all skill levels are welcome to participate, according to a club spokesperson.

The tournament format is stroke play, no handicap, and is flighted after Saturday's round. The low 30 and ties will compete in the championship flight, while those not making the cut will be flighted for a one-day tournament on Sunday.

There year's event will also include a senior competition with three age flights for those over age 55 as of August 13, 2010. Special events will include a skins game Friday and Saturday, and a closest-to-the-pin contest on Saturday. A practice round is included in the event on Thursday and also offers an optional two-man best-ball tournament.

Lunch for all three days is included in the entry fee, which for non-members is $175 for walkers, and $223 for those wishing to use carts. The fee covers the cost of a practice round, three days of tournament with lunch, a welcome gift, and a chance to win a cash prize. The cash prizes total over $5,000.

For more information, persons may telephone 301-334-3883 or go online to www.golfatoakland.com and click on the Western Maryland Amateur link on left-hand side to print out registration forms.

Open/Recovery Race Scheduled For August 28

The Garrett County STEPS Committee and Garrett Trails are combining efforts to hold the Garrett Open/Recovery Race on Saturday, Aug. 28, at 9 a.m. at Herrmgton Manor State Park. The featured event will be a 6K (3.75 mile) run on hiking/cross-country ski trails within the park. The looped course will be through hardwood forests, glades, and along the banks of Herrington Lake.

The Recovery Race is annually held m recognition of National Alcohol and Drug Addiction Recovery Month, which recognizes individuals who are in recovery from an addiction. Nearly every family has been touched by the effects of drug and alcohol abuse, stated a spokesperson.

Garrett Trails is co-sponsoring the event to draw attention to the "magnificent trail system" throughout Garrett County, noted the spokesperson. Each year the Garret Open is held on a different trail to expose participants to a new or sometimes forgotten trail. Proceeds from the race will benefit the Garrett County STEPS Committee and Garrett Trails.

The race will start at 9 a.m., with registration beginning at 8 a.m. The Garrett Open/Recovery Race will feature two events: a 6 kilometer run and a 1 mile fun run/walk. Participants who register by Aug. 14 will receive an $8 discount from the normal registration fee of $20. All pre-registered participants will receive a commemorative T-shirt.

Late registrants will receive T-shirts while the supply lasts. A $50 cash prize and complimentary rafting pass at ASCI will be awarded to the top male and female runners. Non-cash awards will be given to the top male and female runners in seven different age groups. The top three male and female walkers will also receive awards.

Refreshments will be available at the end of the race for all participants. The race application and a course map are available on the Garrett Trails web site at www.garretttrails.org. Interested persons may call race director Bob Stephens at 301-616-6300 for more information or to register for the race.

Poker Hand Play Of The Week For Oakland Women

Weekly play of the Oakland Ladies Golf Association for last Thursday at the Oakland course was a Poker Hand. Twenty-one women took part in the weekly tournament.

There was a tie for first place in the First Flight between Bobbie Seward and Sue O'Neal, with second won by June Bray.

First place in the Second Flight was taken by Rosie Versteegen, with Becky Glotfelty finishing second.

Sue Bredel won first place in the Third Flight, and there was a second-place tie between Barbara Frantz and Betsy Polce.

First place in the Fourth Flight was won by Jenny Bernard, with second place going to Jean Thagard.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

The heat is back again. I guess we are pretty lucky compared to lots of the country, but I'm glad I have a couple of fans.

That thunderstorm last night was something. It's hard to believe that Denver Beitzel could sleep through it, but that's what his wife Naomi said.

Speaking of the Beitzels, the Beitzel clan held its annual reunion at the very old Cherry Glade Church on Foxtown Road. The crowd filled up the old church, and lots of people spilled outside, sitting on blankets and lawn chairs.

That is the church that my Brenneman ancestors attended, and they were buried in the lovely old graveyard. My grandmother Emma Brenneman Glotfelty's grandparents are there.

Last weekend, Naomi Beitzel entertained three generations of the same family of former Fresh Air kids from Queens, N.Y. The grandmother spent a summer with Naomi when she was a girl, and then her son was a guest of her son Terry Beitzel. I don't know how old his little one is.

My Aunt Helen Englar attended her 68-year reunion of Grantsville High School last Saturday. She called it a "wrinkles reunion." She is really not very wrinkled. Really, what's wrong with a few wrinkles after you have reached your 70th year?

I only saw her briefly as she was hurrying to get home before the heat got too bad in Westminster. She admitted that up here it felt really good, but tomorrow is her quilting day at her church.

Cindy and Pastor Randy Richardson celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary on July 15 by attending a performance of the play Little Shop of Horrors at the lake. Cindy recently spent several days in Wheeling with her mother and sister from Florida. Now it is time for Randy to go into the woods on his family farm in Wheeling.

Some people are celebrating because today is the start of the pre-season training period for pro football. I'd rather have baseball season last forever. I must say it is a pleasure to see the new young players for the Pittsburgh Pirates. They seem very promising. I wonder how long they will take to become a truly great team like the 1960s Pirates, or 1971 or 1979.

This team may be ripe for a world championship in five or so years. They have the complete package: starting pitching, relief pitching, excellent defensive skills, and decent offense.

I still have another five days without Caitlin and Meredith, as they are away with their father at Myrtle Beach. I can't wait to have them home with me, because the summer is slipping away and they will soon have to go back to Morgantown.

I heard that Doug Stanton was surprised to see a six-foot black snake in his closet. That is something I hope to never see inside my house. Actually, I would prefer not to encounter any snakes anywhere. It was unpleasant to grab a hay bale from the baler with a snake thrashing around under its twine. But the worst was when I was weeding my garden.

I planted my watermelon inside a tire, and I pulled out a big chunk of grass with a fairly big snake inside it, thrashing around. You could hear my scream a mile away. I am not a snake lover, like almost all women I know.

Carolina Dodge told her husband Kevin that if he brings a snake inside her house, she will leave him. I don't believe she would go that far. But it would be a serious misdeed.

After a few days in the hospital with an ulcer, Beulah Moon is happy to be back home.

By the way, I recently listed seven children of Edward and Bess Buckel, but Aunt Helen pointed out that they had 11 children. I know I missed Sue Ellen, but I'm not sure who else.

Tim and Cheryl Bender and their sons returned from a short trip to Venice, Fla. I'm not sure why anyone would want to go to Florida during the summer. But I'm not crazy about Florida anytime. I was relieved to learn that they were not in Tampa like usual, because I saw on the news that there was a huge sinkhole in Tampa, almost as big as a whole block.

We can call ourselves very lucky here in Bittinger and most of the rest of the cooler parts of Garrett County. It seems that Baltimore had the worst of the recent heat wave. My poor niece Blakely, who I guess is working while in summer school – we have not seen any sign of her since Maryland's school let out for the summer.

I do have a couple of electric fans, but I can't find a single piece of my hot weather clothes. Before my life spun out of control in April 1994, I had several nice swimsuits, one of which was a vintage royal blue one in the style of the 1930s or 1940s. I also had a

Spotlight on Garrett County Non-Profits:

The Work They Do, The People They Serve

THE DOVE CENTER

This column, sponsored by the GFWC Civic Club of Oakland, is one of a series of articles about local non-profit organizations. The purpose is to inform citizens about the services offered by the organizations, and to let them know the volunteer opportunities available within these groups.

This week's feature:

"There is No Excuse for Abuse."

What is the Dove Center?

Nineteen years ago, a group of community activists vowed to address the vastly unmet needs of victims of domestic violence and sexual assault in Garrett County. At that time, victims were transported to Allegany County for shelter, and there was no agency in Garrett County offering other specialized victim services.

Those community members advocated for and developed what became the Domestic Violence, Sexual Assault Resource Center Inc., now known as the Dove Center. The agency is a private and non-profit, with the mission to empower victims of domestic violence and sexual assault to develop a sense of self-worth, to take control of their lives, and to promote and foster public awareness of these issues.

Over 500 individuals per year are now served by the Dove Center.

What Does the Dove Center Offer?

The agency has evolved and grown since its inception, and now offers a comprehensive array of services to all victims of domestic violence and sexual assault, as well as their families and friends who are impacted by violence.

Services offered include: emergency shelter, a 24-hour helpline, individual and group counseling, advocacy with other systems (legal, law enforcement, and other agencies), accompaniment (to legal and other appointments), 24-hour crisis intervention services, information and referral, 911 cell phones, and a speakers' bureau to inform the community about the center, as well as to educate the community about abuse. All victim services are free and confidential.

The agency also offers the only treatment program in the county for perpetrators of domestic violence.

Volunteer Opportunities

As the agency has grown, so has the need for reliable volunteers. A significant portion of the agency's budget consists of fundraisers, many of which require a great deal of manpower. The agency welcomes volunteers to assist with these events.

Volunteers interested in working in the 24-hour shelter facility are also needed. This job involves direct interaction with clients, as well as answering hotline calls, and requires a minimum of 15 hours of training prior to working independently.

Volunteers to help at various public awareness events are also being sought. This includes some set-up and take-down activities, as well as building or creating displays.

Various other help is needed, including cleaning at the shelter facility and various mentoring roles.

Individuals interested in volunteering are encouraged to send an e-mail with their contact information, and to visit the "Volunteer" section on the Dove Center web site.

Those interested in Dove Center services are encouraged to call the 24-hour helpline @ 301-334-9000 or 1-800-656-HOPE. To schedule a speaking engagement or in-service training for an agency, persons may call 301-334-6255.

Volunteer Fair

For more information about many areas of volunteering, persons are invited to attend the first Volunteer Fair, set for Sept. 25 at Garrett College. This fair has been initiated by a joint task force of Garrett County women's organizations: American Association for University Women, Business and Professional Women, the Girls Scouts Black Diamond Council, the Garrett County Commission for Women, and the GFWC Civic Club of Oakland. More information about this event is forthcoming.

couple of sleeveless T-shirt dresses. My figure did suffer severely from my stay in hospitals, but I know these T-shirt dresses would fit fine. I even wore them during my pregnancies. I was way bigger then than now. They would be very handy right now.

I was so desperate for cool clothes that I called all the women nearby who wear more or less the same size as I. One, I will not say which, has a real delusion about her size. But thank God for Joan Beitzel, because she went up in her attic and found a sundress and a pair of shorts, which got me through the immediate crisis. She is a real saint.

We thought we had a heat wave, but what about the troops in Afghanistan? It is 120 degrees, and they are in their military uniforms. That is inhumane.

I can't adequately express the anger I feel every time I see television ads for tax relief firms. They promise they can reduce your delinquent tax bills by a huge percentage. "But you'd better act fast, because the law may change." I would hope so.

I feel like I am completely alone in Bittinger and Garrett County because I admit that I am liberal, which means to me someone who believes in social justice for all kinds of people, not just freedom for the dominating group.

It is said that marathon runners often hit a wall, or a place where they feel they can't go on. Maybe that is a good metaphor for where I am now.

I know I was lucky years ago that my aneurism happened at the college and not when I was home alone. If it happened when I was in the garden, it's hard to tell if I could have made it into the house and gotten to a phone. It would have taken many minutes, which would have been way too long.

I don't know why a Saturday Night Live writer died from the same thing as happened to me. I wonder why I didn't hear where or what the circumstances were when his aneurism blew up. If it happened to me in New York City when I was alone in my apartment, if I could have screamed or knocked something over it would have made enough noise that the girl living in the next door apartment would have heard it. She would have rushed over. But the biggest question is whether she could have gotten into my apartment.

If it happened before I joined the Seamstress Union, I would have been without insurance. That would have been a pure disaster, since I spent my first few weeks in ICU running up more than a $100,000 bill. I doubt I would have gotten farther than the ER.

But thank God it happened to me at the right time and right place so I could get the kind of care I needed. Also, enough people prayed hard for me. That probably helped, too. But it could happen to almost anyone, most without decent health insurance. God have mercy on them.

I forget when I heard that you are more likely to die in a terrorist attack than marry after you are 50 years old. I doubt that is true. In fact, I only have to look at my mother's life history. She was a little over 50 when she lost my father very prematurely. But she fell in love with a man who was also over 50 who returned her love. And they did get married, and they were very happy until death parted them. But I believe they were very lucky.

Lowell Leitzel assisted Pastor Randy Richardson with worship services in the Bittinger Lutheran Parish on Sunday. Lowell recently retired as a teacher for the Board of Education, and is in the process of moving from Oakland to Selinsgrove, Pa. He was supply leader for several years in the parish during times of pastoral vacancies or absences. Emmanuel hosted a reception for him following worship services on Sunday.

Let's Get Down To Business!

This is a feature of The Republican to better acquaint our readers with various area business establishments.

Beauty Saloon

Beauty Saloon recently opened for business at 226 Hemlock Meadow Drive, Grantsville. The location is 2.5 miles from Keyser's Ridge Truck stop going toward Uniontown, Pa.

Owner Misty Champlin has worked as a beautician for 12 years. She worked at a shop in Somerset, Pa., for seven years, then ran her own shop in Meyersdale for five years.

"I wanted to work from home so I could have better hours to give to my clients and also my family," she explained. "I can be more relaxed and enjoy making a difference in someone's life by helping them with a style that best suits their lives."

Champlin offers all hair services such as color, correcting hair coloring, perms, beach waves, cuts, updos, waxing, and treatments.

"I keep every cut natural so that the hair lies nicely," she said. "Color is my specialty, and I love to fix what may not look natural."

Garrett County SKIES

By Dr. Bob Doyle
Frostburg State Planetarium

AUGUST SUN – As August begins, the sun appears in front of the stars of Cancer, moving a degree a day eastward relative to the stars. In the early afternoon of August 10, the sun enters the star group Leo, where it stays until September 17. Both of the above star groups are lost in the sun's glare in August. The star group Virgo is to the east of Leo, so it sets after the sun, appearing low in the western dusk. The star group Gemini (to the west of Cancer) rises before the sun and is visible low in the eastern dawn. In early August, sunrises in Garrett County are at about 6:20 a.m., while sunsets are at about 8:30 p.m. (13.8 hours of daylight). Around the end of August, Garrett County's sunrises are at about 6:45 a.m. and sunsets occur at about 7:50 p.m. (13.1 hours of daylight). So during August, the stars are last seen at around 5:30 a.m. (early dawn) and then reappear at about 9 p.m. (late dusk).

AUGUST MOON – There was a full moon on July 25, so the moon will be rising late in the evening at the start of August. On the morning of August 4, the moon appears half-full in the southern dawn sky (like a backward "D"). Late on August 9, the moon swings from the morning to the evening side of the sun (new moon). On August 12, a very slender crescent moon may be seen low in the 9 p.m. western dusk to the right of the planet Mercury (use binoculars) and below the brilliant planet Venus. (The planet Mars then is to the left of Venus while Saturn is to the right of Venus.) On August 16, the evening moon appears half-full (like a tilted letter "D"). On August 17, the moon appears close to the pinkish star Antares in the Scorpion. The moon grows to full on August 24 in front of the stars of Aquarius. On August 26, the moon appears above the bright planet Jupiter in the late evening eastern sky. As August ends, the moon rises in the last hour of the evening.

AUGUST PLANETS – The five nearest planets are easily seen by eye, four of them shining steadily in contrast to the twinkling stars. Of the five, Mercury is usually the most difficult to see, at a low angle to the sun and seen very close to the horizon either at dawn or dusk. Mercury can be seen very low in the 9 p.m. western dusk from early to mid August. Venus is the brilliant point of steady light in the western evening sky. At the start of August, Venus sets a little after 10:20 p.m., which drops to 9:15 p.m. at month's end. Venus' more rapid motion (because of her nearness to us and faster orbital speed) causes Venus to appear to drift by Saturn on August 8 and near Mars on August 18. By the end of August, all three planets will be in a line low in the western dusk; from left to right, it will be Venus, Mars, and Saturn. The bright planet Jupiter slowly creeps into evening visibility low in the east; at the start of August, Jupiter rises about 10:30 p.m., which drops to 8:30 p.m. as August ends.

AUGUST EVENING STARS – The Big Dipper is well placed in the north northwest with its handle up and scoop below. The two lower scoop stars point rightward to the North Star, a modest star about halfway up in the north. If you extend the Big Dipper's handle outward, you come to the bright golden star Arcturus. High in the south is the Summer Triangle. The brightest Triangle star is white-blue Vega, about as bright as Arcturus. In the first half of August (when there is no bright early evening moonlight), the Milky Way can be seen as a gentle glow in the lower portion of the Summer Triangle from a dark sky location (away from streetlights and stores).

The evening hours of August 12 and the morning hours of August 13 are best for observing the Perseid meteor shower. A meteor shower occurs when the Earth crosses the grit-strewn orbit of a comet. The grit is typically the size of a pea and loosely held together. When this grit approaches the Earth at many thousands of miles an hour, it is incinerated in our upper atmosphere, producing a flash of light, or meteor. Meteors can be seen in all directions. This meteor shower is called the Perseids, for the meteors can be traced backwards to the star group Perseus in the northern sky. The best time to observe meteor showers is in the last hour of darkness (4-5 a.m.) when the meteors are brightest, hitting the Earth nearly head on. Up to 60 meteors per hour may be seen in the early morning hours of August 13.

AUGUST PROGRAMS – There are no regular public planetarium programs at the Frostburg State Planetarium in the months of June, July and August. Our Sunday public programs will resume on Sept. 12 with "Calendars, Ancient and Modern". To receive a Planetarium bookmark, call 301-687-7799 and state your name and mailing address. You can also access the Planetarium section of the Frostburg State web site at www.frostburg.edu/planetarium .

Thank You From the Family of

Wayne O'Brien

Words can never express what is truly felt. To Newman Funeral Home, Lynn, Carole and all of their staff, truly a caring group of people. Pastor Randy Nairn III for the beautiful service and all the trips to the hospital and phone calls. Ellen for her help and assistance at such a busy time. Patty Haley for the special music and finding our favorites we ask for, our Grandsons Chad, Shawn, James Jr. & Donovan, and our friends Charlie and Leonard for being pallbearers.

The special veterans organizations for the very touching and inspiring service. We did not know all the names of you, but each one of you will always hold a special place in our hearts forever. The grace and dignity of all who took part in that service is truly something each and every one of us should be proud of to be an American. May God keep all of you safe. To everyone who brought food, sent flowers and memorials, cards and came to the funeral home and church or stopped by the house. The doctors, nurses and aides at Garrett Memorial for the care. To all of our neighbors and friends for your help and caring.

The 1944 graduating class of Grantsville High School held its 66-year reunion at Hilltop Inn, Grantsville, on July 3. There were 11 members and seven guests present.

The decorations were a 4th of July theme. Red, white, and blue bunting surrounded the head table, and the table that held the cake stating, "Class of 1944." Each person received a patriotic pencil. Centerpieces on each table were later given as door prizes. A large class picture was displayed, as well as an arrangement of red and white roses, class flowers and colors, on the head table.

The group was welcomed by Charles Colgan, master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Ruth Newman.

The memorial service was conducted by Earleena Tressler, Hazel Klotz, and Ruth Newman. Tressler lit a candle, Klotz read a tribute, and Newman tapped a bell as each name was read. The list included 29 members as follows: Principal: Frank J. Getty; Teachers: Emma Caulk, Kathryn (Speicher) Smith, and William Grimm; Class members: Galen Beachy Jr., Ray Houck, Robert Swauger, Wade Hetrick, Viola (Crowe) Davis, Willard Layman, Donald Kamp, Oliver Pope, Margaret (Beachy) Peck, James Edwards, Mildred (Frickey) Durst, Thomas O. Bender, Denver Miller, Geraldine (Spiker) Heffern, Robert Burdock, Ruth (Butler) Hesselgrave, Robert Gnagey, David Patton, Joseph Turner, Harry Yommer, William E. (Pete) Swauger, James Wiland, David Buckel, Forrest Railey, Richard Patton, Harry Brenneman, Kathleen (Turner) Berich, Robert Legeer, and Alice (Horchler) Barnett.

Those attending the reunion were Cleda (Walls) Holliday, Delores Lapp, Earleena (Tipton) Tressler, Ruth (Klotz) Newman, Charles Colgan and Alicia, William Kamp, Ervin Wampler and Thelma, Hazel (Broadwater) Klotz and Daniel, Evelyn (McKenzie) Winner, Marguerite (Hetrick) Brenneman and Robert, Darrell Stahl and Dottie, and Homer Reichenbecher and Nancy.

The next reunion will be held on July 2, 2011.

SAILING ALONG at the Accident Library Summer Reading Club were Ted Rissell, president of Deep Creek Sailing School, and sailing instructor Josh Bullock, as they took 49 children into the world of sailing on July 15. Rissell showed videos about sailing, including footage of the locally manufactured Flying Scot, and big boat sailing with professional sailors in an around-the-world race. He mentioned that children over 8 years old can come to the Deep Creek Sailing School for lessons on the Optimist Pram, a sailboat used all over the country to teach youngsters how to sail. "Sailing is a lifetime sport," he said. "There is room for all kinds of sailors and types of sailing." Bullock demonstrated the proper way to wear a lifejacket and how to tie several kinds of knots. The children were given short pieces of rope and had an opportunity to try their hands at tying a square knot and a figure 8 knot. Pictured above, from left to right are Rissell and Bullock. The complete Summer Reading Club schedule for all locations of the Ruth Enlow Library can be found on the web site at www.relib.net. Anyone with questions about programs at Accident should call 301-746-8792.

Recognized For Academic Skills

Morgan Allman, a student at Northern High School, was recently recognized for academic achievement as a United States National Honor Student award winner.

Allman's name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy's official yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history," said Dr. George Stevens, founder of the United States Achievement Academy. "Certainly, award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement."

Allman is the daughter of Ken and Carol Allman, Grantsville. Her grandparents are Richard and Carole Allman of Cumberland and Harold and Dolores McKenzie of Frostburg.

Agency on Aging Plans Four Trips For Fall Season

The Garrett County Area Agency on Aging has recently announced four upcoming trips from September through November.

From Sept. 12 through 18, participants will be traveling to Branson, Mo., for seven days and six nights. The cost is $650 for a double occupancy room, and the trip is courtesy of Diamond Tours. The deposit is due by July 30.

On Sept. 19, a trip is scheduled to see the Isaacs Gospel Concert at the American Mountain Theatre in Elkins, W.Va. The cost of the concert is $30, and the cost of dinner at the steak house will be out of pocket. Payment for the concert is due before Sept. 1.

The agency will be heading to the Smoky Mountains from Oct. 25 through 29. The cost is $465 for a double room for five days and four nights. This trip is also by Diamond Tours, and a deposit is due by Aug. 13.

A trip to the Biltmore Estate and Asheville, N.C. is planned from Nov. 1 through 4. The cost is $339 for a double room for four days and three nights by Diamond Tours. The agency would like interested persons to note that this trip involves a large amount of walking. A $75 deposit is due upon signing and/or before July 30.

Anyone interested in any of these trips should contact Suzanne Carley, Lynda Weeks, or Sheila Ford at 301-334-9431 as soon as possible

RITA WATSON
STANDING FOR ELECTION
FOR GARRETT COUNTY

One of Rita's long standing goals has been to make the public records of the estates probated in the Register of Wills office available to the public via the internet. With the special permission of the Maryland Comptroller, she brought in two talented young people to assist her in a comprehensive project to do so by scanning the thousands of records of estates into an office computer program, while also learning aspects of probate law and legal research. Having the records available on the net will help persons appointed as Personal Representatives of Estates as well as those searching family history and genealogy.

"While working in her office this summer, I have seen the true dedication Rita has for the people of Garrett County and her efficient staff. Rita helps those who are facing a dimcult time by giving them kind, caring service and advice while providing a shoulder to lean on. Her 31 years of experience, hard work and love for her job and for the people she serves make her truly the best candidate for Register of Wills. Working with Rita and her staff has been a wonderful opportunity and experience for me as I have learned so much."

Erin Kathryn King

"Garrett County could not ask for a more experienced or qualified Register of Wills than Rita Watson. Her great understandina of Maryland's Estates and Trusts Code enables her to probate even the most complex estates, and her countless hours of first-hand experience qualify her to retain her position. It has been a pleasure working with her. She has provided an excellent learning environment and demonstrated outstanding patience while teaching me the basics of estate law and legal research, and I have seen for myself the complexity of her job."

Drew Proudfoot

Rita with her two summer interns Erin King and Drew Proudfoot. A graduate of Southern High, Drew will be entering his third year at WVU. He plans to attend law school after graduation. Erin is a 2010 graduate of Southern High and will enter Garrett College this fall.

The Reverend Don Matthews
Rita's Campaign Manager

I ask for your help and support so that I may continue in the job I love and at which I have worked so hard these past 31 years and so that I may continue to pursue the goals and implement programs about which I care so fervently.

Local Army Sgt. Awarded For Food Service

Army National Guard Sgt. 1st Class Brandon M. Wolf was honored at the 2010 Philip A. Connelly Awards Program, Excellence in Army Food Service, in Reno, Nev., in April. The solider or Department of the Army civilian is a member of a unit selected as a winner of the Army dining facilities food preparation competition.

The annual awards program recognizes Army active duty, National Guard, and Reserve soldiers, and Army civilians for their food service excellence, expertise, professionalism, and skills in advanced culinary food service. The soldiers compete in categories such as small and large garrison dining facilities, and field kitchen dining operations. Competitors are evaluated in food preparation and quality, taste, nutrition, sanitation, and administrative and storage procedures.

The program, established in March 1968, was named after the late Philip A. Connelly, a past president of the International Food Service Executives Association (IFSEA). The program's goal is to encourage excellence in preparing and serving food to soldiers while providing incentives for improved food service operations through unit recognition. It is a unique culinary competition that focuses on the overall operations and effectiveness of Army dining facilities throughout the world.

Wolf, a food service sergeant, is assigned to the 1201st Forward Support Company, located in Camp Dawson, in Kingwood, W.Va. He is a 1990 graduate of Southern High School, and has served in the military for 16 years.

He is the son of Janice Wolf of Kitzmiller, and Joseph M. Wolf of Mountain Lake Park.

Camp Agape Slated To Begin Monday, July 26

The 31st annual Camp Agape is slated to begin on Monday, July 26, and is open to all school-age children/youth. The church camp is a day camp running from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on North Glade Road, Swanton.

"The purpose of the camp is to discover Agape Love through hiking, fishing, singing, dramatizing, making crafts, meeting new friends, and sharing with old friends," said Linda Glotfelty, program contact.

A registration form must be signed by a parent/guardian before the child is admitted to camp. These forms may be obtained by calling Glotfelty at 301-387-6118. Campers must bring a nonperishable brown bag lunch each day. Snacks and drinks will be provided. There is no fee for camp. A freewill offering is received daily, and donations are appreciated to help with the cost of expenses.

More information can be obtained by calling 301-387-6118 or 301-501-7171.

KAYAKING IN THE LIBRARY with Matt Taylor, director of the Adventures Sports Center International, was a treat for 45 youngsters who learned about local rivers, whitewater, and kayaks on July 14. Taylor briefly explained the history of the kayak and the canoe before asking for volunteers to be his kayaking crew. Pictured above are Isabella Gambetta, who volunteered to don the spray skirt, and Taylor. After Taylor's presentation, the children had an opportunity to make model sailboats, dig in tubs of sand for seashells, and create a painting using ice cubes tinted with food coloring. The complete Summer Reading Club schedule for all locations of the Ruth Enlow Library can be found on the web site at www.relib.net. Annual Rounds Reunion Held At Big Run Park

The descendants of Nathaniel Rounds and Martha Olive Wilt recently held their seventh annual family reunion at the Savage River Pavilion in Big Run State Park near Grantsville. More than 100 family members and friends were in attendance. Guests were from Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia.

Rosella Rounds Yoder opened with prayer, and a covered dish luncheon with dessert table followed.

Throughout the afternoon, a variety of music was performed. Musicians included Robert Broadwater, Loretta Hummel, Billy Mason, Harry Minnick, Bill Nelson, and Rusty Rounds. Loretta Hummel coordinated the music, and Harry Minnick provided sound equipment.

Special attendees were recognized and received a small gift. Rick Rounds of Missouri traveled the greatest distance to the reunion; the youngest attendee was Laila Martin; the couple married the longest were Melvin and Leona Broadwater, 56 years; the most recently married were Brad and Stephanie Brenneman; the person with the largest family present was Rosella Rounds; and the person with the most mileage on his car was Robert Broadwater.

Don Price and Dick Rounds donated nine of their original handcrafted wood craftworks for a raffle fundraiser. Winners of the crafts were Darlene MacMillan, Garnet MacMillan, Kristin Martin, Benjamin Mason, Buster Rounds, Joyce Schardt, and Travis Schardt. Stephanie Brenneman won two prizes.

Fundraiser tickets were sold by Cheyenne Green, Patty Green, Billy Mason, and Joshua Mason. Benjamin Mason and Joshua Mason helped pull the winning tickets.

Other activities included a 50-50 drawing and cakewalks. Terry Rounds won the fifty-fifty drawing, and Lois Rounds and Loretta Hummel each won a cake. Tyler Frazee won the door prize.

Carol Allman co-ordinated games for children. Each child who participated in the games selected a toy from the prize table.

Renee Warnick Mason presented a large genealogy display and collected family tree information. Genealogy books were available for viewing, and a display of family men who have served in the military was posted. Books and music CDs produced by family members were shown.

Numerous volunteers helped in reunion preparations to set up and take down activity tents, tables and chairs, soda sales, and displays.

Volunteers included Don Price, Ollie and Patty Green, Brad and Stephanie Brenneman, Johnny and Miranda Martin, the Bill and Renee Mason family, Terry Rounds, Rick Rounds, and Tim Rounds.

Carol Allman baked and donated two cakes for the cakewalks, Dolores McKenzie donated and prepared the coffee, and Bill Mason grilled hot dogs.

The next reunion will be held on Saturday, July 9, 2011, at the same location. If reunion or family information is needed, or if someone would like to volunteer for reunion activities, persons may contact Renee Mason at rmasonapcinc@hotmail.com.

Annual Amateur Radio Field Day Held in Bittinger

The Garrett County Amateur Radio Emergency Service (GCARES) and other local amateur operators (hams) set up radios and antennas at the 4-H Center in Bittinger for a field day the last weekend in June.

The hams used no commercial power to operate five stations, and the group demonstrated the ability to establish emergency communications if called upon to do so by county, state, or federal agencies. Contacts were made using voice and Morse code to locations as far away as Puerto Rico and as near as West Virginia.

The field day, sponsored by the American Radio Relay League, also provided an opportunity to learn more about amateur radio and to actually get on the air under supervision of an FCC licensed ham. GCARES also had two learning centers available to introduce newcomers to Morse code.

While the code is no longer required to obtain a license, it is still used to send communications via radio, and is often more successful than voice during difficult conditions. The group also practiced sending radiograms, a format for communicating routine, priority, welfare, or emergency messages via amateur radio as part of the National Traffic System.

Amateur radio operators provide other public service communications support for events such as the upcoming SavageMan Triathlon. GCARES meets the second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Oakland Municipal Building on Third Street. Interested persons are welcome to attend. Local hams may check in to the weekly net, which meets on the 146.805 repeater at 8 p.m. on Sundays.

Financial Focus
Navigating Your way through the Investment World

You may not realize it, but July 24 is Amelia Earhart Day. July 24 was chosen because it's the birthday of perhaps the most famous female aviator in history. Earhart's story ended tragically when she became lost in the Pacific Ocean in 1937 on her voyage around the world, but she is still celebrated for her bravery and pioneer spirit.

As an investor, you can learn a lot from Earhart's career. Here are a few lessons to consider:

• Plan ahead. After a lengthy analysis of Earhart's final flight, decades after it occurred, a noted aviation expert came to one succinct conclusion: "poor planning, worse execution." Yet on her successful flights, Earhart was known to have produced, and followed, detailed flight plans. As an investor, you, too, must plan your journey toward your financial goals. First, you need to identify your destination, such as a comfortable retirement. Next, you must create a "map" to reach your goal, in the form of a detailed financial strategy based on an investment portfolio tailored to your risk tolerance and time horizon. And along the way, you must chart your progress via regular reviews of your investments' performance.

• Use the right "tools." Some sources have noted that, on the fateful flight, Earhart did not appear to fully understand how to use her plane's direction-finding loop antenna, which at the time was a new technology. If you don't fully understand the "tools" — that is, the investments — you need to help achieve your goals, you may run into difficulties. Always know exactly what you're investing in and why you've chosen those specific investments. Without this information, you could end up with investments that are either too risky for your comfort or too conservative for your goals.

• Follow your vision. On the day they disappeared, Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, were scheduled to land on Howland Island. Unfortunately, it was a cloudy day; some researchers speculate that the clouds' dark shadows on the ocean surface may have camouflaged Howland and confused the aviators. As an investor, you need a clear view of what you want to accomplish in the long term — and you need to avoid having your vision "clouded over" by short-term events such as price drops and recessions.

• Put sufficient "power" in your portfolio. Many aviation scholars and researchers believe Earhart's plane simply ran out of gas before she could land on Howland Island. Does your portfolio have sufficient "fuel" to help you go the distance? Specifically, do you have the right mix of growth- and income-oriented vehicles to power you toward college for your kids, a comfortable retirement and your other goals? If you're not sure, you may want to work with a professional financial advisor to get the assistance you need.

You probably will never try to circumnavigate the globe in a small plane. But if you can emulate the best features of Amelia Earhart — such as her courage, perseverance and faith in the future — while taking steps to help focus on what you can control, your investment journey may be rewarding.

"Off Your Dock" Session Held At Discovery Center

A session was recently held by Friends of Deep Creek Lake on the new volunteer monitoring program, "Off Your Dock." The session was conducted at the DNR Discovery Center. A total of 14 volunteers from around the lake area were in attendance, along with director of Friends of Deep Creek Lake Barbara Beeler, VISTA volunteer Mike Stanton, and seasonal DNR employee for lake management Julie Bortz, who led the training.

Endorsed by DNR, the program aims to collect data on water clarity in the near-shore zone of Deep Creek Lake. "Cloudiness can be caused by suspended sediments, algae, or other foreign particles," noted Bortz. Each volunteer uses a secchi disk, or eight-inch diameter circular disc with alternating white and black quadrants on its surface. The disc is mounted on a line and lowered into the water until the pattern disappears from view. "This depth of disappearance is a key measure of water quality," she noted.

AN "OFF YOUR DOCK" session was recently held at the Deep Creek Lake Discovery Center, with 14 volunteer attending the program. Above is Julie Bortz, third from right, as she trains Off Your Dock volunteers. Below is Carol Heinz, a volunteer from Penn Cove, practicing with the secchi disk. See story.

The launch of the program coincides with the Great North American Secchi Dip-In held each year, which is a multinational effort sponsored by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, North American Lake Management Society, and Kent State University.

Off Your Dock will run through the end of August. Data collection and volunteer feedback in this first year of the program will be used to make improvements in subsequent years. "Data will help to fill gaps between existing mid-lake and tributary datasets," said Beeler.

"The presentation and hands-on portion were very informative and covered everything we needed to know," said Sandy Harrison, a volunteer from Turkey Neck.

Maryland Adds Jobs For Fourth Straight Month

Alexander M. Sanchez, Maryland secretary of labor, licensing, and regulation, announced yesterday that Maryland employers added 1,600 jobs to their payrolls during June, marking the fourth consecutive month of business expansion.

This marks the first time Maryland employers have added jobs during the month of June since 2006, and the first month in more than two years that the number of jobs on Maryland payrolls was higher than in the same month a year earlier, according to Sanchez.

"Since January, Maryland employers have added approximately 40,200 net jobs, the most for a January to June period since 1996. We were able to keep adding jobs during a month when the country as a whole experienced a decline," said Governor Martin O'Malley. "And Maryland's unemployment rate remains about 25 percent below the national average.

"In these tough economic times, we have made the tough choices necessary to create and save jobs, improve conditions for Maryland businesses, and fuel economic progress," O'Malley added.

June's unemployment rate in Maryland fell to 7.1 percent – the same rate as a year ago – from 7.3 percent in May, although that was largely because of the fact that about 9,500 people dropped out of the labor force.

Private-sector payrolls were the primary sources of job growth during June. Sizable gains were reported in leisure and hospitality (+5,800), professional and business services (+2,800) and construction (+1,300). The primary decline was in education and health services (-7,000).

"We are seeing consistent improvement in some sectors that were particularly affected by the downturn, such as leisure and hospitality industries and construction, and Maryland was not as impacted as some other states were by the end of temporary positions with the U.S. Census Bureau," Secretary Sanchez said.

TRAILBLAZERS
by Brooklyn Flanigan, reporter

The July meeting for the Trailblazers 4-H Club was held on July 11. Members toured the farms of Erika and Zachary Ritchey. Zachary showed his pig and Erika showed her steer, heifer, and pig.

Next, the group visited the farm of Nicole and Emily Pysell, and each showed her goat and sheep.

At the farm of Austin Sines, he showed his steer, pig, and heifer, and Laura Smith also showed her steer.

The group also toured the farms of Jordyn Sines, where she showed her goat, and Amy Schmidt, who showed her steer.

The evening concluded with a picnic and boat rides at Brooklyn Flanigan's lake house.

Another recent meeting was held at the Deer Park fire hall, where members washed the fire trucks. Erika Ritchey read her 4-H story.

Austin Sines also recently gave a demonstration on monitoring and management of animals.

CIVIC CLUB DONATES TO STATE PARK ORG. – The GFWC Civic Club of Oakland recently donated funds to the Western Garrett County State Park Volunteers organization. The group is about nine years old, and its 30 members provide volunteer assistance at the Discovery Center and in Herrington Manor and Swallows Falls state parks. Art in the Park, held last weekend at Deep Creek Lake State Park, is one of the initiatives of the organization and supplies much of its funding. With that money and the funds received from other organizations such as the Civic Club, the volunteers purchase necessary items for the three parks which are not provided for in the state budgets. Flo Royer is pictured making the donation on behalf of the civic club to Fred Schalch, WGCSPV president. Flo and her husband Paul are members of the volunteer group.

Shopping at yard sales is a popular pastime, great for the bargains! But for a life worth living, we need more than earthly possessions, we need to seek the values that will bring us closer to God and "...store up...treasures in heaven, where moth and rust do not destroy." (Matt 6:20). Find these values in God's teachings; learn about them at your house of worship. God's values are a real bargain, free to anyone who seeks them!

Keep On Learning

There is something inherently pleasant in learning new things. Even if we aren't likely to ever use that piece of trivia, it's still interesting. Indeed, our brains seem to be designed to learn new things. With a hundred billion brain cells, and about fifteen thousand connections (or synapses) per brain cell, we have, on average, about 1.5 quadrillion connections in our brain. In infants, there is a rapid increase in synapses until roughly the age of four, when children actually have more connections than adults. This is no doubt why children are such fast learners. The bad news is that the unused connections in our brains get pruned away after age 20, reaching the adult numbers around the age of 16. The good news is that even well into our eighties and nineties we can continue to learn and make new connections. We're not going to learn a second language as fast as a 3-year old, but we can still learn. Michelangelo is said to have remarked when he was 87 that he was still learning. There's no reason to ever stop learning, and a hundred billion reasons to keep learning, to keep those neurons firing.

By wisdom a house is built, and by understanding it is established; by knowledge the rooms are filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

Measles Vaccine for Children

Measles is a viral condition that occurs rarely in the U.S. An infection from the virus can be spread from person to person and is highly contagious. Signs and symptoms of measles include fever, cough, runny nose, and a rash. Koplik spots are a defining characteristic of measles, and appear as a blue to white colored rash on the body, particularly near the mouth. A more widespread rash typically develops, progressing from the face to the neck, arms, and legs several weeks after exposure to the virus. The majority of persons in the U.S. who become infected with measles have not been vaccinated.

The measles vaccine is recommended for all children over 1 year of age, in a series of 2 doses, spaced apart by at least 1 month. The measles vaccine (Attenuvax) is a live vaccine that may be administered within 3 days of exposure to the virus to prevent infection. Alternatively, immune globulin can be administered within 6 days of exposure to the virus. Measles vaccine should then oe administered 3 months after administration of immune globulin, to ensure continued protection from infection. Measles vaccine is also available in combination with other recommended vaccines. Ribavirin is an antiviral that is sometime used in the treatment of measles.

FX is 'Justified' in ordering second season

By Jay Bobbin

Timothy Olyphant

Q: Will FX be renewing the show "Justified" for next year? It quickly became one of my favorites. –Dan Dineen, Olean, N.Y.

A: That's already taken care of. Even before the Timothy Olyphant-starring series' first season had ended, FX ordered a second round of 13 episodes. Considering how long it will take to write and film those, and how the pattern of cable series' shorter-than-broadcast-network seasons runs, we'd expect the new exploits of Olyphant's U.S. marshal character to start showing up early next year.

Q: Please find out what's happening to "Ghost Whisperer" for next season. I understand that CBS dropped it. –Barbara Layne, Lake City, Fla.

A: Nothing at all is happening with the series ... which translates into the fact that the show is over. In the course of CBS making decisions on its schedule for next season, and even for a while after that announcement was made, there was talk that ABC might pick up the show if CBS canceled it.

The network had a certain stake in the program beyond just putting it in its lineup, since ABC Studios was among the production entities. Ultimately, that didn't work out, so Jennifer Love Hewitt has seen her last ghost (at least in terms of that show).

Q: I enjoyed watching "The Forgotten" this past season. Will it return this fall? –Marcia Sheets, Wellsville, Ohio

A: No. ABC canceled it, though the network did give the series a last hurrah of sorts at the start of this month by running – or, some might say, "burning off" – the last two episodes that hadn't aired.

Q: Will the Japanese game show be on again this summer? I enjoyed watching it the past couple of years. –Barb Turner, Anaheim, Calif.

A: If you mean ABC's "I Survived a Japanese Game Show," you'll have to be content with your memories of it. The network canceled the program earlier this year, after the ratings for the second season last summer took a big dip from the first year's numbers.

Q: Michael Landon was working on a new series when he died. Was that ever released? What was the name of it? –Veronica Carnegie, Youngstown, Ohio

A: The show was called "Us," and all that was filmed of it before Landon's death was the two-hour pilot episode. CBS aired it as a movie special in 1991, and Landon – who also wrote, produced and directed the project – cast himself as a just-paroled man who was trying to rebuild his life after being wrongfully convicted of murder.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was famed 20th-century Canadian-American economist John Kenneth Galbraith who made the following sage observation: "It is a far, far better thing to have a firm anchor in nonsense than to put out on the troubled sea of thought."

• In Switzerland, it's considered to be bad luck to tell anyone your baby's name before he or she is born.

• It's been estimated that, around the world, 16 million tons of rain fall every second.

• Do you ever yawn just because you saw someone else do it? It seems that humans are the only animals so affected.

• If you've spent a great deal of time in the Scottish highlands, you might be familiar with the term "sgiomlaireachd." Evidently, the habit of dropping in at mealtimes is common enough there to require a word to describe it.

• Statisticians claim that the more money a man makes, the more likely he is to cheat on his spouse.

• Mascara was invented by a chemist named T.L. Williams, who founded the cosmetics company Maybelline. The original eyelash enhancer was composed of coal dust and Vaseline.

• Before the iconic reclining armchair was dubbed "La-Z-Boy," the names "Sit-N-Snooze," "Slack Back" and "Comfort Carrier" were considered.

• The first jugglers who were recorded in the history books were Egyptian. They also were women.

• Deaf people who suffer from Tourette's syndrome swear in sign language.

• Those who study such things say that automatic teller machines are three times more likely to be robbed between 6 and 9 p.m. than at any other time of day.

Thought for the Day: "If you're not scared or angry at the thought of a human brain being controlled remotely, then it could be this prototype of mine is finally starting to work." — John Alejandro King

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On July 30, 1619, in Jamestown, Va., the first elected legislative assembly in the New World — the House of Burgesses — convenes in the choir of the town's church. Its first law required tobacco to be sold for at least three shillings per pound. Other laws included prohibitions against gambling, drunkenness and idleness. Sabbath observance was made mandatory.

• On July 29, 1909, newly formed General Motors Corporation acquires the luxury automaker Cadillac Automobile Company for $4.5 million. In 1954, Cadillac was the first automaker to provide power steering and automatic windshield washers as standard equipment.

• On July 26, 1931, a swarm of grasshoppers descends on crops throughout the American heartland, devastating millions of acres, especially in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota. The swarm was said to be so thick that it blocked out the sun and one could shovel the grasshoppers with a scoop.

• On July 28, 1945, a United States B-25 Mitchell bomber crashes into the Empire State Building, killing 14 people. The freak accident was caused by heavy fog. The bomber was flying low, seeking better visibility, when it came upon the Chrysler Building. The plane swerved to avoid the building, but the move sent it straight into the north side of the Empire State Building, near the 79th floor.

• On July 31, 1964, Ranger 7, an unmanned U.S. lunar probe, takes the first close-up images of the moon — 4,308 in total. The images were 1,000 times clearer than anything ever seen through Earth-bound telescopes.

• Aug 1, 1972, future President George Walker Bush is suspended from flying with the Texas Air National Guard for missing an annual medical examination. Bush was given an honorable discharge from the Air National Guard in 1973 to attend Harvard Business School.

• On July 27, 1981, Adam John Walsh, age 6, is abducted from a mall in Hollywood, Fla., and later found murdered. Adam's father, John Walsh, became a leading victims' rights activist and host of the long-running television show "America's Most Wanted."

Collecting

by Larry Cox

Q: I have a wall plaque that features the image of a chubby man's face with "Smoke the Jolly Friar Cigar" around its circular base. What is it? — Evelyn, Oxford, Conn.

A: What you have is a store display promoting a turn-of-the-century cigar. There are several shops that specialize in cigar advertising, including John Kruesel's General Merchandise, 22 Third St. SW, Rochester, MN 55902, www.kruesel.com. One of my favorite references in this field of collecting is "Tobacco Collectibles: An Identification and Price Guide" by Mark F. Moran (Krause, $24.99). If this book is unavailable in your town or city, find it at www.abe.com.

Write to Larry Cox in care of King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475, or send e-mail to antiquequestions@aol.com. Due to the large volume of mail he receives, Mr. Cox is unable to personally answer all reader questions. Do not send any materials requiring return mail.

Assessments Of Maryland Schools Still Improving

Steady improvement in mathematics scores was recorded on the Maryland School Assessment (MSA), while reading scores held steady for 2010, according to data released yesterday by the Maryland State Department of Education.

The percentage of elementary students scoring at the proficient levels in math increased from 84.9 percent in 2009 to 86.5 percent in 2010. At the middle school level, the percentage of math students scoring at the proficient levels improved from 71.2% in 2009 to 72.6%.

The scores build on the progress made over the past seven years. Composite elementary reading scores have increased 25 points since 2003, while mathematics scores are up 26.5 points. Composite middle school reading scores are up 23 points since 2003, and mathematics has increased a remarkable 33 points.

"Maryland's public education system ranks number one in the nation because of our commitment to continuous improvement, and these results show that our schools are still on the move," said Governor Martin O'Malley. "The work of our educators and students is to be commended. They have come a long way in a very short time."

AVERY WINS GARDEN CLUB TOUR RAFFLE The Mountain Laurel Garden Club's 2010 Secret Country Gardens Tour, held last month, included a raffle for an herb planter, shown above. Jane Avery, at left, Oakland, was the winner. Caroline Crabtree, also pictured, chairman of the club's herb committee, presented the planter to Avery. Proceeds from this year's tour will be used by the garden club to continue the members' beautification work in local communities, and their club activities and programs that encourage gardening and sound conservation practices. For more information or to express an interest in participating in a tour, persons may contact Kathy Long at 301-252-9917 or log on to www.mountainlaurelgardenclub.com.

The rise in test scores contributed to 10 schools leaving the federally mandated school improvement process. Five of those schools are located in Baltimore City, with one each in Caroline, Harford, Kent, Montgomery, and Wico-mico counties.

"Our progress in the classroom has continued, even though it gets more difficult each year as the percentage of students scoring at the proficient levels in elementary school has passed 80 percent in 21 of our counties," said state superintendent of schools Nancy S. Grasmick. "Our schools and school systems have taken very seriously the challenge to help every child achieve."

The 2010 assessment score data in Maryland also show a continued closing of the achievement gaps that have plagued schools nationwide. Scores are expressed as the percentage of students in each system that scored at or above the proficiency levels set when the exams launched in 2003.

For example:

•In elementary reading, the gap in achievement between students coming from circumstances of poverty (receiving free and/or reduced price meals) and those that do not has been reduced by 19.1 points over the past seven years.

•In middle school reading, the gap in achievement between African American students and white students has decreased 17.2 points since 2003. The gap between Hispanic students and white students fell 15.7 points over the same period.

•The gap in elementary mathematics achievement fell 14.9 points between English language learners and native English speakers.

The MSA exams are given to third- through eighth-grade students in reading and mathematics. More than 350,000 students took the exams this year. The data are used to meet federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) requirements.

NCLB charts the progress of the overall student population in the grades tested, as well as that of students receiving any of three categories of special services: Free and/or Reduced-Price Meals, Special Education, and English Language Learners (ELL). It also follows the success of students in five racial subgroups: American Indian/Alaskan native, Asian/Pacific islander, African American, white, and Hispanic.

NCLB has as its goal that all students will score at proficient levels by 2014. To reach that goal, the targets rise every year, for every school and every school system. Those schools and systems that do not make progress targets for two consecutive years are considered "in improvement."

Maryland has made a number of educational improvements over the past decade designed to maintain progress. The state has been a leader in early childhood development, assessing the preparation of kindergartners; built a statewide curriculum; greatly increased the percentage of highly qualified teachers in the classroom; and bolstered local systems with the Bridge to Excellence funding.

Seventy percent of Maryland schools met the federal improvement targets known as Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). The number of Maryland schools in improvement rose slightly from 158 in 2009 to 175 this year.

Of the 136 schools that did not make AYP for the first time in 2009, 119, or 88%, made their AYP targets this year.

"Targets continue to increase as we move toward the 2014 date, making it more difficult each year for our schools and systems to meet them, but our educators have done an outstanding job," Dr. Grasmick said. "By improving instruction and moving forward, we are preparing students for the next step in their education."

Schools that left the school improvement process this year are: Arundel Elementary/Middle, Dr. Carter Goodwin Woodson Pre-K through Grade 8, Fdgewood Elementary, Hampstead Hill Academy, and Walter P. Carter Elementary, all Baltimore City; Colonel Richardson Middle School, Caroline County; Edgewood Middle, Harford County; Rock Hall Middle, Kent County; Parkland Middle, Montgomery County; and Salisbury Middle, Wicomico County.

Scheduled for release in the coming months are the 2010 MSA science scores at the elementary and middle school level, High School Assessment (HSA) scores, graduation rates, and attendance figures. High school and system-wide AYP information will be available when the HSA scores are released.

MSA data is available online at www.mdreportcard.org.

SOLAR EFFECTS ON CLIMATE

Q. Could you explain how the events listed here affect climate change?: distance between the Earth and the moon (which I believe is increasing); solar activity; and the magnetic field of the Earth (which I believe is in a constant state of flux).

A. It has been my understanding that those three events have more to do with climate change than any man-made activity, but I never hear those events being discussed in the climate change debates.

Thanks for bringing up the extremely interesting (but complex) topic of natural influences on climate change. The variations in clouds above the Earth obviously affect the weather and climate, but it's less clear exactly how the sun affects the clouds.

In the order in which you presented the questions:

•The Earth-moon distance is increasing very slowly, on the time scale of hundreds of millions of years. It plays no part in ice ages, warm periods, or anything we call "climate."

•Solar activity includes many things, some of which are surprisingly important. Variations in solar output (direct sunlight reaching Earth) are small, about 1/10%, and therefore aren't a prominent factor in climate. However, solar activity also includes huge solar flares and magnetic storms on the surface of the sun, which we can detect in the form of "sunspots." Those little black dots seen in solar photos tell of massive amounts of energy ("coronal ejections") shooting off into space, and occasionally some of that heads in the direction of Earth. Such storms dramatically affect the solar wind, a stream of particles coming out from the sun constantly.

•The magnetic field of the Earth is affected by the solar wind. Separately, the Earth's magnetic field does indeed slowly change, and the poles completely reverse about every million years or so; but that very gradual change is too slow to influence climate on any time scale we care about.

Where it gets interesting is in the interaction between solar activity and magnetic field. The solar wind streams charged particles toward the Earth all the time, and those are deflected by the Earth's magnetic field. The deflected particles follow along magnetic field lines, traveling in a helix pattern, toward the Earth's magnetic poles. Collisions between those descending particles and air molecules in the upper atmosphere excite the atoms and produce the shimmering aurora patterns sometimes seen on clear winter nights.

Meanwhile (and entirely separately), there are high-energy cosmic rays of galactic origin going by, and some of them reach the Earth. As these penetrate the atmosphere, some rays ionize molecules, and those ions become nucleation sites around which water molecules accumulate and form tiny droplets, which are the beginning of clouds. Clouds increase the Earth's albedo (reflection of sunlight back out into space).

When a solar flare leaps away from the sun, it carries twisted magnetic fields into space, which expands outward. Itinerant cosmic rays that encounter such moving "scattering centers" lose energy as they bounce away, so if they subsequently reach the Earth, they'll arrive with less energy. A weaker cosmic ray causes less ionization and hence less clouds. The net outcome of the entire process is that when solar activity is greater, fewer cosmic rays penetrate to the Earth, and when solar activity is low, cosmic rays are plentiful.

But since more cosmic rays make more clouds which reflect away incoming sunlight, you might expect the climate to cool under such conditions. There is evidence that this actually happened. Three centuries ago, the coolest part of the "Little Ice Age" coincided with a time known as the "Maunder Minimum," when there was a minimum number of sunspots over several years.

Thus, solar activity has an indirect but very important effect upon the Earth's climate.

In June 2010 in this space, Dr. Stephen Parks wrote the column "Greenhouse 101," which dealt with the simple aspects of CO2 and Earth's radiation balance, but stopped before going into the interaction between weather, clouds, and climate.

The reason you haven't heard much about all this in the public climate-change debates is that it is just too complicated, and media reporters aren't going to go into details. Moreover, going into details wouldn't settle the issue. The state of our knowledge isn't good enough to attach numerical values to any of the climate-change mechanisms and say "this one is most important." Computer models totally ignore solar activity, and are nowhere near able to include all the natural factors that affect climate.

In the public debates, there has been far too much attention given to human influences on climate. That's mostly because, in a world of "sound bytes," it's comparatively easy to discuss one factor that we might have something to do with, while ignoring things we can't do anything about. Reality is far more complex. Variations in ocean currents, solar activity, etc., will continue to change the climate erratically in future years, centuries and eons.

AN UP-AND-DOWN RIDE
If your summer plans include roller-coaster rides, you should be aware of the potential for a common ear injury that can cause temporary hearing loss and pain. The fact is that the force of acceleration in these rides can cause "ear barotrauma" due to the rapid change in pressure between the external environment, the eardrum, and the pressure in the middle ear. This phenomenon, also commonly experienced in an airplane or during an automobile trip at elevated altitudes, leads to ear popping, discomfort/pain, and hearing loss. While symptoms are temporary, the pain can be considerable and the hearing loss can be a source of concern. The faster and higher the ride, the greater the possibility that ear barotraumas may occur.
We can't emphasize it enough—protect your hearing! When irreversible damage has been done, however, come see us at AUDIBEL for a comprehensive hearing evaluation. You'll be amazed at the variety of hearing instruments available today and how they can enhance your hearing. We will also be glad to show you different kinds of hearing protection devices.
P.S. The safest position to assume on a roller coaster involves facing forward for the entire ride. Turning the head sideways subjects the ear to the full impact of the rapid acceleration.

Continuing Ed. Division Reviews Registration, Payment Procedure

by Maney Gale

The Continuing Education and Workforce Development division of Garrett College recently reviewed long-standing registration and payment procedures within the department. After much discussion and thought, the department would like to share those procedures with the public.

Registration for non-credit courses can be completed in person, by telephone, or by fax. Persons interested in registering for a course may visit the office, located in Room 210 of the Continuing Education building. They may also call the main line at 301-387-3069, or fax a registration form (found in the back of schedule booklets) to 301-387-3096.

When registering by phone or in person, students will speak with one of three secretaries: Carol Newman, Sarah Friend, or Jenna Rush.

New this semester, each course will have a registration deadline, which is generally one week prior to the start of the course. This allows for ample time to notify students and instructors, should a course not meet its minimum enrollment. The department recognizes the busy lives which many local persons lead, and asks that interested participants register early so as to ensure classes are not canceled because of enrollment issues.

Also beginning this semester, the department has unveiled a new payment procedure. For courses which meet four times or fewer, payment will be due in full at the time of registration. This payment will officially register a student within a course, therefore reserving that spot.

Registrations not accompanied by payment will be held on file until payment arrives; however, students will not be considered officially registered or counted in enrollment numbers until such payment has been received.

For classes which meet for four sessions or more, or have a cost of over $100 (excluding one-day courses), payment plans will be available. Specific plans will be determined by the program director or coordinator in charge of each course.

The Continuing Education division staff is looking forward to serving the community through its many program offerings this fall. Courses will be available in many areas, including: Computer Applications, Business, Health and Medical, EMS and Fire Training, Adult Basic Education, Truck Driving, Childcare Training, Medical Coding and Transcription, First Aid and CPR, Certified Nursing Assistant, Welding, Massage Therapy, Fitness, Adventure Sports, Day Camps for Children, Customized Employee Training, and more. In addition, Continuing Education is now offering many online courses.

The fall course schedule will be mailed in mid-August. Persons may telephone the office at 301-387-3069 or send an e-mail to carol.newman@garrettcol-lege.edu with postal mailing address. There will also be a special insert listing course schedules for both credit and non-credit courses in The Republican on Aug. 5, or persons may go to the GC web site at www.garrettcollege.edu/coned for more information.

TAKE A GUIDE ON YOUR HUNT

There are two apparently attractive options for buyers scoping out a deal. One type is the "short sale," where sellers have made an agreement with their lender to sell the home for less than they still owe on the mortgage. The second type is the REO (bank-owned) home, which has fallen back into the hands of the lender after the sellers defaulted.

While these properties may be appealingly priced, buyers need stomach and smarts to take proper advantage. If you're considering a short sale purchase, focus only on those with a price pre-approved by the lender. Otherwise, you may be wasting precious time in negotiations that may still ultimately fail.

Also seek out foreclosures that are protected by the Cash For Keys program, which offers the current (or former) owners a cash incentive to prevent them from neglecting the property before vacating it. Either way, inspections are crucial, especially if the house has been vacant for some time. Talk to your agent about having the utilities temporarily reconnected for the inspection, so you're sure all is in working order.

And finally, don't focus on the asking price alone. Location in a declining neighborhood or extreme maintenance and repair issues will eclipse any perceived value in a low price. Great homes are out there at bargain prices, but let an agent guide you through potential pitfalls.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

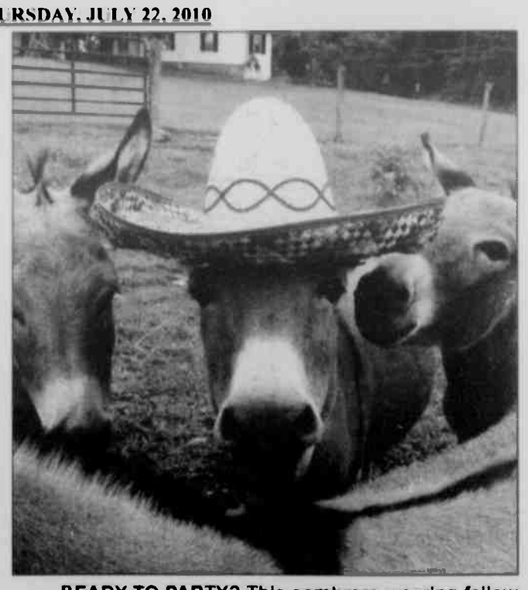
Humane Society Fundraiser Slated At GC Fairgrounds

The Garrett County Humane Society's "DOG-GONE FUNdraiser will be held this Saturday, July 24, from 10 to 2 p.m. at the fairgrounds in McHenry. Formerly called "Christmas in July," the annual fundraiser has undergone a makeover beginning with a new name and date.

"The popular events such as the Canine Costume Contest, Benefit Dog Walk, Flea Market and Silent Auction are still happening," said society president Lisa Baker. "But this year we have added a 'Meet the Breed' event featuring no less then 40 different breeds of dogs, and a few brave cats – all of which you can meet and learn about first hand."

A "Meet the Breed Parade" will be held later in the day, and Officer Chris Helbig of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office will give a service dog demonstration.

Another new activity this year will be face painting.



"We offer free admission so everyone can attend and look around then spend their money on a raffle ticket, auction or flea market item, or buy something from the shop area or snack bar," Baker said.

The silent auction will feature restaurant coupons, handmade items, a Vera Bradley item, a large herb pot, gift items, store coupons, plus tickets for Pittsburgh, Pa., shows and museums.

"This year we also have a nice package from the new Nemacolin Wooflands Pet Spa, plus a 68-piece set of hard-to-fmd Arabia Riuska Stonewear," Baker said.

The first 100 attendees will receive a free mesh bag from Hills Science Diet containing donated items from State Farm, Long and Foster, and Railey Realty.

Those who collect more then $25 for the benefit dog walk will get a free gift and Dairy Queen coupon.

READY TO PARTY? This sombrero-wearing fellow is ready for a good time at the DOG-GONE FUNdraiser, that is if his buddies don't eat his hat before the big event. Sponsored by the Garrett County Humane Society, the fundraiser is scheduled for this Saturday, July 24, at the fairgrounds in McHenry. Money raised will enable the local nonprofit group to help dogs, cats, and all types of hoofed animals, such as these miniature donkeys that are well cared for by their owners at the Custer farm near Oakland. See story for details.

"No matter what you spend here, that money will be used to help animals in this county, either to have it spayed or neutered, receive emergency veterinarian care, or to help us to continue to go out on the animal neglect calls," Baker said.

The GCHS is a non-profit volunteer organization formed in 1983. Since then thousands of animals have been spayed/neutered or rescued from neglectful situations.

"Such as the dozens of neglected horses that were in the news earlier this year, Baker said. "They have been given a new chance at life with plenty of food, water, vet care, and love at Days End Farm in Lisbon. But our officer and members responded to the call, and did the investigation and seizure of them.

"We cannot do what we do without funds, the vets still need paid, and we have other things that cost us money. So please come and support us so we can continue to help all animals great and small."

For more information, persons may call Baker at 301-334-2738.

Chicken BBQ Set In Salisbury, Pa.

Salisbury Ambulance Service Inc. will host a chicken barbecue on Saturday, July 24, from 11 a.m. until sold out or 2 p.m. at the Salisbury Fire Department in Salisbury, Pa.

The cost is $8 for a full dinner or $5 for half a chicken.

The meal includes half a chicken, baked beans, macaroni salad, roll, and cake. Persons may eat in or take out.

Tickets will be sold at the door, and everyone is welcome.

An indoor flea market will also take place during the barbecue. For more information, persons may call 814-279-4951.

Cancer Support Group To Meet At Health Dept.

The Cancer Support Group will meet on Tuesday, July 27, at the Garrett County Health Department along Memorial Drive at 7 p.m.

The evening will include the planning meeting for 2010/2011, and persons are asked to bring ideas.

In addition, the group will revise the calling and member lists, and there will be a time for open discussion.

GPS Course To Be Held At DCL Discovery Center

Garrett College, in partnership with the Discovery Center at Deep Creek Lake State Park, will hold a course titled "Where in the World Am I? Introduction to GPS" at the Discovery Center on Saturday, Aug. 28, from 9 a.m. to noon. The course will be held rain or shine.

"If you are intrigued by this technology but need some help or would like to get acquainted with your handheld GPS unit, this hands-on class will teach you the basics of how GPS works and how you can use handheld GPS units as part of your outdoor activities," said a college spokesperson. "Bring your own unit or borrow one of ours. Five GPS units are available to those without their own, so sign up early."

Designed for those who enjoy the outdoors, this course will teach the enthusiast the basics of GPS (Global Positioning System) technology using a combination of classroom discussion, hands-on activities, and field exercises.

Topics to be covered include an overview of how GPS works using the Garmin E-Trex (if using a Discovery Center model), how to determine one's position using GPS, how to mark waypoints, and how to navigate in unfamiliar territory.

The session will begin at the Discovery Center with a one-hour lecture and then continue outdoors in Deep Creek Lake State Park for the second part of the session. Students will use GPS receivers to mark waypoints and navigate to various locations around the park.

For additional information, persons may contact Maney Gale at 301-387-3086 or maney.gale@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for the course, persons may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

Jennings Church Marks 100 Years

The Jennings United Methodist Church congregation held the final phase of its 100th anniversary celebration on Sunday, July 18.

Former Pastor Brenda Shreve brought the morning message, which was followed by the Sunday School hour. The afternoon service was opened by Linda Lou Resh giving the welcome.

A letter was read from former Pastor Lee Williams, who served the Grantsville Charge from 1994 to 1997.

Shreve spoke of the memories she had from serving the church from 1997 to 2002.

The oldest charter member, Jane Wiley, was recognized.

A gospel music program was presented by the Reed Singers from Mount Storm, W.Va., and Keyser, W.Va.

The church was built in 1909 and occupied in 1910. It was started by a donation of $5, and the first minister was D.A. Friend.

A total of 33 ministers have served the Grantsville Charge, which consisted of seven churches in the beginning.

Closing remarks were given by Pastor William Durst. An offering was received and donated to a mission cause, and refreshments were served in the social room.

The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $16,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay, attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Matthew Ray and Tammy L. Ray, dated September 28, 2007, and recorded in Liber 1344, folio 731 and re-recorded in Liber 1503, folio 137 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on
July 23, 2010, at 11:00 a.m.
ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS THEREON situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $9,000 by cash, or certified check. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett Co. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Sub. Trustees. If the purchaser fails to go to settlement within ten days of the ratification, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Sub. Trustees and all of the expenses of this sale (including attorney fees and full commission on the gross sale price of the sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. Purchaser(s) acknowledge the obligation to settle within ten days of ratification of the foreclosure sale. In the event that settlement does not occur within ten days, the purchaser(s) shall be in default. Upon such default, Sub. Trustees shall file a Motion and Order to resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser(s). Purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice. The defaulting purchaser(s) shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects, there shall be no abatement of interest. Taxes, ground rent, water and all public charges including electrical, sanitation and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, are to be adjusted for the current year to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. The purchaser is responsible for any amount in excess of $250.00 of outstanding water bills, if any, incurred prior to date of sale. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Sub. Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents. (Matter #546132)

Saiz and Paul Saiz, dated September 29, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1257, Folio 526 among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustee will sell at public auction at Court House Door on
August 5, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.
ALL THAT FEE SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND KNOWN AS being described by a metes and bounds description, situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust, carrying Tax ID No. 18-017598.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, agreements, easements, covenants and rights of way of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $76,900.00 will be required at the time of sale in the form of cash, certified check, or other form as the Substitute Trustees determine acceptable. No deposit shall be required of the noteholder where the noteholder bids in the property at auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, time being of the essence for purchaser. In the event that settlement does not occur within the said ten days, the purchaser shall be in default. Upon such default the Trustees may file a Motion and Order to Resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser, and purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice, in which case the deposit shall be forfeited and all expenses of this sale (including attorney's fees and the full commission on the gross sale price of this sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. The Trustees may then readvertise and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser; or, without reselling the property, the Trustees may avail themselves of any legal or equitable remedies against the defaulting purchaser. In the event of a resale, the defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to receive the surplus, if any, even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulting purchaser. Interest to be paid on the purchase money less the stated deposit called for herein, at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustee. There shall be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason, including but not limited to exceptions to sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, Court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects. There shall be no adjustment of taxes, ground rent, water rent, condominium fees and/or homeowner association dues, all public charges/assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, and same are to be assumed by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, agricultural transfer tax, if any and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of damage to the property from the date of auction forward. If the Substitute Trustee does not convey title for any reason, including but not limited to the Secured Party executing a forbearance agreement with the borrower(s) described in the above-mentioned Deed of Trust, or allowing the borrower(s) to execute their right to reinstate or payoff the subject loan, prior to the sale, with or without the Substitute Trustee's prior knowledge, or if the sale is not ratified for any reason including errors made by the Substitute Trustees, the foreclosure sale shall be null and void and of no effect, and the Purchaser's sole remedy in law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit without interest. Further terms and particulars may be announced at time of sale, and purchaser may be required to execute a Memorandum of Sale at the time of auction. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein. MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT
WATER MANAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION
NOTICE OF TENTATIVE DETERMINATION
Garrett County

Application for State Discharge Permit 09-DP-1422, NPDES Permit MD0055182:

Mettiki Coal, LLC, 293 Table Rock Rd., Oakland, MD 21550, submitted an application for renewal of a permit to discharge an average of 6.8 million galions per day of waste water that includes acid mine drainage and storm water from an underground coal mine, located at 293 Table Rock Rd., Oakland, MD, to the North and South forks of Sand Run, Chestnut Ridge Run, and Dutch Run (all Use III-P waters) and 1.5 million galions per day of metalic hydroxide sludges and alkaline coal combustion byproducts to ground waters of the State.

The Department proposes to renew the permit with limits on pH range (6 9) and monitoring for temperature at Outfalls 001, 005 and 008; limits on total suspended solids (30 average and 45 maximum in mg/l), iron (1.0 average and 2.5 maximum in mg/l), manganese (2.0 average and 4.0 maximum in mg/l), chloride (230 average and 860 maximum in mg/l), pH range (6.5 - 9.0) and monitoring flow and various pollutants associated with coal mining at Outfall 002; limits on TSS and manganese the same as at 002, limits on iron (3.0 average and 6.0 maximum in mg/l), settleable solids (0.5 mg/l maximum), pH range (6.0 9.0) and monitoring for flow and temperature and sulfate at Outfalls 006, 009 and 010; limits on settleable solids, iron, manganese, and pH range same as at 006, and monitoring for flow and temperature at Outfall 007; limits on TSS, iron, manganese and pH range the same as at 006, and monitoring for flow and temperature at Outfall 012; monitoring for flow, iron, manganese, aluminum, calcium and percent solids at injection wells MDS0235X0006 through MDS0235X0008.

The permit also requires biomonitoring, best management practices, a storm water pollution prevention plan, provides information necessary for the Department to evaluate UIC discharges, provides procedures to authonze water treatment products, and prohibits the discharge of leachate or storm water from coal combustion byproducts without modification of the permit.

A public hearing on the tentative determination will be scheduled if a written request is received by August 11, 2010. The request should be sent to the Maryland Department of the Environment, Water Management Administration, 1800 Washington Blvd., Baltimore, Maryland 21230-1708, Attn.: Mr. Michael Richardson, Chief, Industrial and General Discharge Permits Division, and must include the name, address and telephone number (home and work) of the person making the request, the name of any other party whom the person making the request may represent, and the name of the facility and permit number.

Failure to request a hearing by August 11, 2010, will constitute a waiver of the right to a public hearing on the tentative determination.

Written comments concerning the tentative determination will be considered in the preparation of a final determination if submitted to the Department, to the attention of Mr. Richardson at the above address, on or before August 23, 2010. Any hearing-impaired person who requests a hearing may also request an interpreter at the heanng by contacting Mr. Richardson at 410-537-3323 or 800-633-6101 by written request to the above address at least ten working days prior to the scheduled heanng date.

Information supporting the tentative determination, including the draft permit and fact sheet, may be reviewed by contacting Mr. Richardson at the above telephone number to make an appointment or by written request to Mr. Richardson at the above address. SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE
27 Pullin Hollow Road, Grantsville MD 21536

Under a power of sale contained in a Mortgage from Eugene F. Layton, Tonya L. Layton, dated October 31, 2006 and recorded in Liber 1275 Folio 0243 among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, with an original principal balance of $137,250.00, and an original interest rate of 8.55% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett County, at the Rotunda Entrance at the Court House Door, 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland, on
August 02, 2010, at 01:05 p.m.
All that fee-simple lot of ground, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, encumbrances, prior deed(s) of trust and/or agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $14,000.00 in cash, cashier's check or certified check required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay, attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

Oakland, MD 21550

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Cynthia M. Miller and Virgil R. Miller to Robert C. Frank Jr., Trustee, dated September 22, 2008, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber No. 1405, folio 0140, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees dated June 14, 2010, and recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Kristen K. Haskins, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gloth as Substituted Trustees under the Deed of Trust aforesaid, Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., being the current holder of the Note(s) secured thereby, and default having occurred under the terms thereof, the undersigned Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland, on Monday, August 9, 2010, at 3:45 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust dated September 22, 2008, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County, in Liber 1405, folio 0140, also being further described in a Deed dated October 14, 2004, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County in Liber 1077, folio 0001. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied, with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustees in the amount of $14,000.00 will be required of the purchaser other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note and its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 6.00000% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. All taxes, water/sewer charges and condo/HOA dues shall be adjusted to the date of sale. Ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis shall be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

MORNINGSTAR®
Data Management Analyst
Morningstar's Back Office Services team seeks an entry-level Data Management Analyst to provide an efficient back-office solution for our licensed users. In this position, you will expand your knowledge of Morningstar products and electronic data population processes. As a Data Management Analyst, you'll join a group of friendly, dedicated individuals who focus on delivering database updates in a timely manner while maintaining accuracy. This position is based in our Oakland, Maryland office.
The Data Management Analyst updates, corrects, and maintains active databases of multiple clients and their accounts. This takes place through an electronic process that retrieves data from entities such as mutual fund companies, financial institutions, broker/dealers, and data transfer agencies, then transfers this data into our software. You will monitor this process for errors, which may require research and correction. You will communicate with clients to explain or clarify data and, at all times, preserve the confidentiality of client data. Manual input may be required for clients and accounts that are not electronically processed. The Data Management Analyst also maintains quantitative and qualitative records of any actions taken.
We're looking for candidates with excellent written, verbal, and analytical skills. The ideal candidate will have an interest in the investment industry and an in-depth understanding of computers. Knowledge of Windows-based applications is required. A college degree is preferred but not mandatory.
Please apply on line at http://global.morningstar.com/US/Careers

Miss Wolfe Becomes Bride Of Mr. Peaslee In June 2010 Ceremony

Jessica Marie Wolfe and Justin Tyler Peaslee were married Saturday, June 5, at the Kingwood Christian Fellowship Church in Kingwood, by the Pastor Derek Syruws. A reception followed at the Kingwood Community Building.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal and Andrea Groves of Wickenburg, Ariz., and the late Elmer Wolfe, Jr. She is the granddaughter of Elmer Wolfe and Rosetta Wolfe of Terra Alta, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Burhl Dale and Janet Sisler. The wedding date, June 5, was chosen in honor of the bride's grandmother Janet Sisler's birthday.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike and Anita Peaslee of Kingwood, and the grandson of Joy Clark of Valley Point and the late Catherine Sue Clark and the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald and Frances Peaslee. Justin proposed on September 29, 2009, in honor of his grandfather Donald Peaslee's birthday.

The bride wore an ivory satin strapless gown with corset back and buttons accenting the chapel train and a cascading satin-trimmed veil. She carried a full bouquet of white calla lilies. The groom wore a black pinstriped tuxedo with a silver satin vest and a calla lily boutonniere.

The maid of honor was Holly Groves, stepsister of the bride. Bridesmaids were sister of the groom Amy Peaslee; friends of the bride Christina Deusenberry, Megan Goodrich, and Christy Williams. Ashlynn Peaslee, niece of the groom, and Ivy Munnerlyn, cousin of the bride, were flower girls.

The groom's brother, Jared Peaslee, was best man. Groomsmen were the groom's brothers Mikel Peaslee and Jason Peaslee; and cousins Jamon Goodrich and Jonathan Sheets. Ryan Peaslee, nephew of the groom, and Shelton Munnerlyn, cousin of the bride, were ring bearers.

Ushers were Jeffery Sidebottom, cousin of the bride, and Jesse Groves, stepbrother of the bride. Kordell Peaslee, nephew of the groom, served as aisle runner attendant. Cousins of the groom Bethany Sheets and Katie Goodrich served as guest book attendants. Sheets and Melissa Sidebottom, cousin of the bride, were reception signature frame attendants. Katie Goodrich read "How Do I Love Thee?" Aunts of the groom Donna Contic, Doris Sheets, and Kathy Allen sang "Whither Thou Goest."

Following a honeymoon at Nemacolin Woodlands, the couple will reside in Morgantown, where Jessica is employed as a pharmacist at Ruby Memorial Hospital and Justin is a structural engineer at Gannett Fleming.

Summer Visitor To Celebrate Her 100th Birthday

Wilhelmina Miller will mark her 100th birthday next Thursday, July 29. But her family will have an early celebration to mark the milestone during their visit to Deep Creek Lake next week.

She was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1910. Her father, Anton Wagner, and her mother, Maria Ko-enigshhoffer, came to America from Germany in the late 1890s. Wilma was the third born of 11 children.

She grew up on a farm, working with her family to supply the mining townspeople of Windber, Pa., with fresh eggs, milk, and butter. One of her jobs was to milk two cows each day. She then had to put the milk through a separator to get the cream, and store it in the basement, where it would stay cool. At the end of every week, the cream would be put into a churner that Wilma's sister Edith would then churn into butter.

Fred Miller had to propose to Wilma several times before she finally accepted. Wilma said she waited until she was 30 before getting married because she "liked being single so much."

Fred was an entrepreneur. He and Wilma opened up a restaurant in Johnstown, Pa., called Jim Dandy. When Jim Dandy's cook left, Wilma took over in the kitchen. Over the years, she and Fred opened a number of restaurants, pizza parlors, and even a wall paper and paint store. The Millers were married for 37 years before Fred passed away.

Wilma currently resides in Bradenton, Fla., where she is active, riding her bike and stopping in to see her friends every day.

For the past 20 summers, Wilma has come to Deep Creek Lake to enjoy the beauty of Garrett County and to see family, according to her nephew Mark Hardie.

"This year is especially memorable for all of us as she turns 100 on July 29," he said. "Wilma is independent, has a great sense of humor, and we love her so much."

Wilma and her family will be in Garrett County through Saturday, July 24.

County Provides Information About DCL Sewage Spill

The Garrett County Department of Public Utilities (DPU) met last week with GC Board of Commissioners chair Ernie Gregg, county administrator Monty Pagenhardt, and representatives of the GC Health Department and Department of Planning and Land Development to assess a recent sewage overflow in the Deep Creek Lake Sewer System.

They provided the following details about the incident and future preventive measures in a press release:

DPU received an emergency pager call on July 11 at approximately 9:45 a.m. regarding an apparent sewage overflow at Pump Station 2-2, located at the intersection of Garrett Highway (Rt. 219) and Lake Shore Drive.

Upon arrival, DPU personnel spoke to a property owner who initiated the emergency call. The person informed the employee that another neighbor noticed the sewage around 7 a.m. but did not report the problem.

DPU personnel assessed and corrected the problem by approximately 10 a.m. and estimated the overflow volume to be approximately 42,000 gallons, based upon the gallons per minute the pump is capable of pumping and the number of cycles it would have pumped in a three-hour duration.

DPU notified the Department of Natural Resources' (DNR) lake man-

BARN QUILT FEST SET FOR SUNDAY – The unique art of "barn quilts," an example of which is shown above, will be celebrated Sunday, Aug. 1, in the first Barn Quilt Festival. Hosted by the Barn Quilt Association of Garrett County Inc., the event will take place at the Cove Run Farms Corn Maze, located along Griffith Road, Accident, from 12:30 to 4 p.m. Admission to the festival is free. Guests will be given a map of the Barn Quilt Trail, enabling them to find a number of the artworks throughout the county. Included in the day's events will be arts and crafts vendors displaying and selling their wares, a brown bag auction (see a photo of donated items on today's arts page), recognition of current barn quilt owners and sponsors, food vendors, carriage rides, and live music. Children's games and a coloring contest will also take place. A highlight of the day will be the unveiling and dedication of a new barn quilt block which will become part of the tour. "The project focuses on the agriculture, heritage, and natural beauty of the area while giving folks an activity to enjoy with the entire family," a spokesperson said. The Barn Quilt Association will also be selling collectible merchandise with the images of the current Garrett County quilt block designs. Limited edition lapel pins, magnets, and a poster featuring the first series of barns will be available. For more information, persons may visit the web site at www.GarrettBarnQuilts.org, e-mail info@GarrettBarnQuilts.org, or call 877-577-BARN (2276).

Pa. Man Receives 14 Years In DOC For Two Robberies

Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced a 31-year-old Meyersdale, Pa., man to a total of 14 years in the Maryland Division of Corrections (DOC) for two armed robbery charges, with two consecutive sentences of seven years.

Marty Lee Shroyer pleaded guilty to the charges earlier this month, but sentencing was postponed until this week. Related charges of second degree assault and theft were not prosecuted based on his pleas.

Shroyer's sentences will also run consecutively to the five-year sentence he is currently serving in Pennsylvania.

State's Attorney Lisa Thayer Welch explained that Shroyer will be returned to Pennsylvania to complete sentences there and then will be taken to the DOC to serve the Garrett County sentences.

Shroyer was determined by Maryland State Police investigators to be the person who robbed employees at the Grantsville Market, once with a gun and once with a knife, and an employee at Fuel City with a gun in May and June 2008.

After the second robbery at the Grantsville Market,

Rec Center Construction Begins; Pools To Be Completed Next Sept.

The Garrett County commissioners received an update this week on the $23-million Community Athletic and Recreation Center (CARC), now under construction at Garrett College.

The report was given by the college's dean of administration and finance, Josephine Gilman, during the commissioners' staff meeting. About 15 county department heads and agency representatives attended the Tuesday morning event.

Gilman reported that Hess Construction and Engineering of Gaithersburg recently received a "notice to proceed" to begin construction of the aquatics center and the gymnasium foundation pads.

"The construction schedule, right now, is on track for a Sept. 1, 2011, completion date," Gilman said about Phase I of the CARC project, the aquatics facility.

The 32,000 square-foot aquatics building will include two indoor swimming pools, a fitness center, and a physical therapy facility.

Phase II consists of a 32,000-square-foot gym with three regulation-size basketball courts and seating for up to 2,000 people. This phase is expected to be completed in early 2012.

Gilman said all the required coordination meetings with county stormwater management, sediment and erosion control, and Maryland Department of the Environment representatives have been held, and coordination between the parties is ongoing.

She added that Hess has subcontracted Beitzel Corporation of Grantsville to complete all of the excavation and stormwater work. The dean noted that the local company has "doubled up" many shifts and will work on an accelerated schedule throughout the summer.

"[This is] in the hope that if we do get a mild winter, we should be a little bit ahead of ourselves," Gilman said. "But if we get a bad winter, at least we'll be prepared for it by accelerating the work during the summer."

Currently, the stormwater pond and other stormwater infrastructure is being installed and work is beginning on the retaining wall.

The pad for the aquatics center should be completed by this September, and the gym pad, hopefully, will be finished before November, Gilman said.

Garrett County Chamber Hires New President

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce announces that Nicole Christian, IOM, CCE, has been selected as its new president and CEO.

Christian was most recently employed with the Northern Palm Beach County Chamber of Commerce in Jupiter, Fla., where she served as president and CEO. She was responsible for day-to-day operations and activities of a 1,000 member chamber that served 10 municipalities and the unincorporated areas in north Palm Beach County. She also oversaw the visitors center for the entire north county.

"We are thrilled to have Nicole come onboard to lead our chamber," interim president Joyce Bishoff said. "Her experience in tourism

Sprinklers Will Not Be Required In New GC Homes

One- and two-family homes built in Garrett County after Jan. 1, 2011, will not have to have automatic sprinkler systems. The 2009 International Residential Code (IRC) requires the systems, but the county commissioners unanimously approved an amendment to the local code on Tuesday morning that deletes that section of the IRC.

"We have a received a number of correspondence relative to this matter, an almost overwhelming majority asking us opt out of the sprinkler system [requirement] for the stick built homes," said Commission chair Ernie Gregg.

The commissioners and Department of Planning and Land Development's Permits and Inspections Division held a pubic hearing two weeks ago to receive comments on possible changes to the local building ordinance, based on new IRC requirements. Only two possible IRC changes were proposed: a new, less steep stair geometry and sprinklers.

Local officials at the hearing indicated they would most likely adopt the stair regulation into the county code and, perhaps, the sprinkler requirement. The commissioners held the record open for two weeks following the hearing to allow for more comments.

"As you know, there was strong opposition to this (sprinklers) in the public hearing, and numerous written comments received during the past two weeks opposing the requirement as well," Permits and Inspections chief Jim Torrington told the commissioners prior to their voting on the matter. "Therefore, we propose to delete this section (Chapter 3, Section R313.2)

We Goofed!

As most readers noticed, last week's Republican newspaper was not quite "complete," as page A-12 appeared twice, and page A-8 was non-existent. These snags do occur from time to time, and last week was one of those times.

The news items on the missing page were those of West Virginia, and most of that information does appear today on the West Virginia page. Our sincere apologies to the advertisers on the missing page, to whom compensation has been made.

This week, we fervently hope, our readers will find all pages in order, with no repeats/deletions.

Crellin #1 On MSA Among 874 Maryland Elementary Schools

Among 874 elementary schools in the state of Maryland, Crellin Elementary School is ranked at the very top of the heap, as the local school recorded a school-wide, perfect 100% on this past spring's Maryland School Assessment testing.

Described in the Baltimore Sun as "a schoolhouse nestled in a coal mining area that has amassed a collection of prizes for leadership, environmental teaching, and character education, [Crellin] is the school with the highest pass rate on the Maryland School Assessment," Crellin edged out Benfield Elementary, a wealthy neighborhood school in Anne Arundel County.

Among the top 10 schools, each had a pass rate of at least 98%.

"We have really opened up the school and taken the walls down so the whole community becomes the school," Crellin principal Dana McCauley told the Sun. "Our parents are one of the most valuable tools we have. They will roll up their sleeves and do whatever we ask them."

After Crellin students, staff, and parents established a five-acre environmental education laboratory near the school, Crellin's fifth graders won the President's Environmental Youth Award in 2006-07, and were guests at the White House.

Students and parents also constructed a new school playground that incorporates vestiges of the town's history.

McCauley, who was named Maryland's Principal of the Year last year, is a teaching principal and spends three hours each day in front of a classroom. There are approximately 100 students who attend Crellin School.

No Correlation Between Sewage Spill And Fish Kill," Says GC Health Dept.

There does not appear to be any correlation between a July 11 sewage spill that occurred in the area of Lake Shore Drive and Route 219 and a fish kill, the Garrett County Health Department reported Friday.

The fish kill is currently being investigated in the area of Beckman's Peninsula and Green Glade at Deep Creek Lake by the Maryland Department of the Environment and the Department of Natural Resources.

Bacteriological testing outside the sewage spill area both before and after the fish kill began showed normal bacteria levels, according to the Health Department.

After the sewage spill occurred, a no-swimming advisory was posted in the affected area and daily bacteria testing was conducted until the swimming advisory could be lifted.

The Health Department's Environmental Health Services Division tests bacteriological quality of lake water each month throughout the summer.

"Normal results were found in all locations during the latest sampling, conducted on Monday, July 19," said a division spokesperson. "These results indicate that the lake is safe for recreational activities, including swimming."

A press release sent out last week from the Maryland Department of Environment (MDE) read: "At this time, no evidence suggests a threat to human health; however, visitors and residents are advised to avoid touching, swimming with, or coming into close proximity to any dead fish."

MDE asks that local residents and visitors contact MDE at 1-443-482-2732 with reports of dead fish as well as information about anything out of the ordinary that may have contributed to the ongoing incident.

Questions about water quality and swimming should be directed to Environmental Health at the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-7760 or 301-895-3111.

Ongoing DCL Fish Kill Under State Investigation

The Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) and the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) are investigating what appears to be a localized, sustained fish kill in Deep Creek Lake. To date, MDE and DNR are reporting approximately 200 dead fish, including yellow perch, walleye, smallmouth bass, brown bullhead, largemouth bass, bluegills, chain pickerel, Northern pike, and crayfish.

At this time, no evidence suggests a threat to human health; however, visitors and residents are advised to avoid touching, swimming with, or coming into proximity to any dead fish. MDE and DNR are consulting with state and local public health agencies about

Gatto Announces Candidacy For Commissioner

Bob Gatto of Hutton has recently announced his candidacy for Garrett County commissioner, District III. He has resided in the county for 15 years, and is currently employed as an electrician and general foreman by Heilig's Plumbing, Heating, and Electrical LLC.

"The two questions I have been asked most often since deciding to run for commissioner have been: 'Are you serious?' and 'Why are you doing this [to yourself]?' The answer to the first question is, Yes, I am very serious. The best answer to the second question would be, To make a difference." Gatto said. "The only way I know to make a difference is to get involved. I can't stand by, point fingers, or complain and not do anything about it. All that does is create stress and further divide the county. Even worse, things remain the same."

If elected, Gatto says he hopes to keep citizens involved in issues and decisions facing the county. He feels that, recently, citizens haven't been involved in several decisions made by the commissioners, and the results are "leaving a bad taste in people's mouths," according to Gatto.

"Hopefully, the facts are there to support the decisions, but why not approach it differently? Let the people get involved before the decisions are made, listen to them, and show them respect," Gatto said. "There are great people in this county that, for the most part, are feeling ignored or feel as if they cannot make a difference, and that is wrong. Our officials are elected to serve the people and to be their voice.

"If I'm elected, I will be proactive in my approach to helping the county. I will gather information, ask questions, share information, and get input before making decisions. The decisions I make will be what is best for all. I will stand by those decisions, holding myself and those that we've entered into agreement with accountable. I will make every effort to be sure that the laws and regulations are followed and enforced for both our benefit and our children's benefit."

Gatto believes he shares many of the same qualities as the majority of the candidates on the local level such as background, education, experience, and "a sincere desire to help make things better." Even so, he said that feels he has a qualities that set him apart.

"I feel that what makes me different is that I am a leader, not a pusher, and a listener. I use my character traits, my past experiences, and the resources around me, especially people, to educate myself and make a positive difference," Gatto said.

"I know, without a doubt, that I can serve well as county commissioner. I plan to get involved in all aspects of our county and its government. I look forward to working with county employees in our schools, our roads department, our courthouse, and all other county agencies. I want to be a part of those areas, not as someone relying solely on department heads. That is the only way I can learn. I wouldn't be there to intimidate, but there to help, learn, share, and listen. I enjoy working; it hasn't hurt me yet," Gatto said.

Originally from Aurora, W.Va., Gatto now lives in Hutton with his wife Darlene and six pets. Together they have four children and six grandchildren. He is a 1980 graduate of Preston County schools. Since graduating, he has worked primarily in the construction maintenance field as an electrician.

He holds electrical and plumbing licenses in both Maryland and West Virginia. He is a member of Crellin Assembly of God Church and serves on the board of trustees. He enjoys anything that allows him to be outdoors such as farming, gardening, sports, etc. He says he enjoys all four seasons of Garrett County, but appreciates fall the most, knowing winter is close by.

New to politics, Gatto says he wants to bring a new perspective to local government than that of previous politicians.

"My perspectives may be different than those of most politicians, and I hope they are. I can only be myself, that's the only way I can be. That is why God created us, to be ourselves and ultimately to make a difference for Him," he said.

"In government, I've always been on the outside looking in. I want to take a look from the inside out. How else can anyone truly know how the decisions being made are going to affect the people or the services? My involvement will not stop with the county personnel. I also plan to remain very accessible to the general public, they are the ones I will serve.

"I thank you for this opportunity. I need and ask for your support both now and after I am elected. I encourage you to get out and vote. Hold those who are making the decisions that affect your life, your children's future, and your county accountable. Your vote does make a difference. Let's make Garrett County a county we are all proud to be a part of," Gatto concluded.

To offer support, persons may contact Gatto at 301-334-8383, e-mail at bobgatto1@yahoo.com, or mail contributions to Friends to Elect Bob Gatto at 1355 Hutton Road Oakland, MD 21550.

The last day to register to vote is Aug. 24.

LOCAL VET ATTENDS COMMEMORATION – A special ceremony was held recently at the Hyatt Regency on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C., to commemorate the 60th anniversary of the United States' entry into the Korean War. The commemoration was hosted by the National Unification Advisory Council Republic of Korea, Washington Chapter, and its purpose was to express appreciation to the U.S. soldiers who served in the three-year war (1950-53). Garrett County was represented at the reception and dinner by Korean War veteran Carl Rebele, pictured above right. Also in the photo are Dr. Young-Sun Song, left, director of the Center for Security and Strategy Policy Planning, Korea Institute for Defense Analyses, and Han Duk-Soo, center, Korea's ambassador to the United States, who gave the keynote address. Each U.S. veteran in attendance received a medal of appreciation and a personal letter from Lee Myung-bak, president of the Republic of Korea. Attending the event with Rebele was his wife Ann.

Several Minor Vehicle Accidents Recently Reported

Garrett County sheriff's deputies investigated several minor vehicle accidents this week. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies responded to Garrett County Memorial Hospital after receiving a report of two individuals being treated as a result of a motorcycle accident. It was discovered that Timothy and Karen Barnhouse had been transported by private vehicle to GCMH after Timothy had lost control of his 2005 Harley Davidson on loose surface material. The accident occurred on Friendsville Road. No charges were filed.

Deputies responded to Weber Road on Saturday to discover that Frank Cook had backed out of a parking spot and struck a parked car and pedestrian Sheila King, who was standing outside the parked car. King was taken to GCMH by private vehicle, and Cook was cited for unsafe backing of a motor vehicle.

An accident on Maryland Highway resulted in a juvenile being cited. Investigation revealed that the 17-year-old of Oakland had been traveling west near Weber Road, when her vehicle crossed over the shoulder of the road and struck a parked vehicle. No injuries were reported, and the juvenile was charged with negligent driving.

Two Arrested On District Court Warrants

Two men were arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies on the strengths of court warrants. The following cases are unrelated.

Shawn Patrick Grove, Oakland, was taken into custody on a District Court bench warrant. He is charged with failure to appear.

Joseph Lee Sirota, Morgantown, W.Va., was arrested on two Washington County court warrants for bad checks under $500. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Clarification Noted On AG Fest King

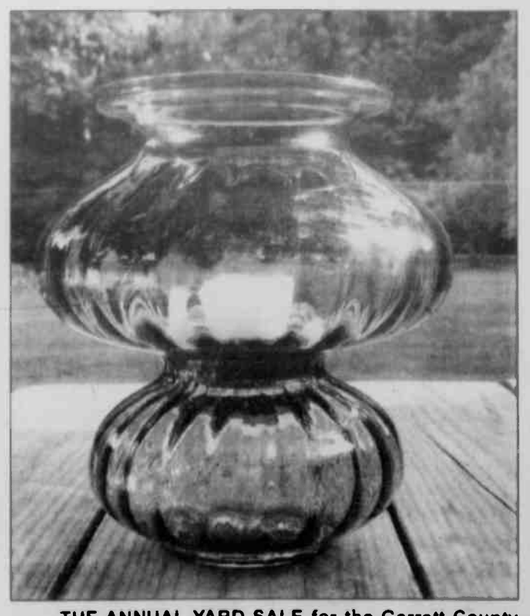
Information received recently by The Republican about the 43rd annual Autumn Glory Festival's Royal Court contained an error. Vicki Lynn Warnick is the mother of the festival king, Timothy Schmidt.

A photo caption on the front page of the July 15 issue named Wendy Schmidt as his mother. Ms. Schmidt is Timothy's stepmother.

Dispute Results In Second-Degree Assault Charges

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a reported domestic dispute that led to assault charges on Saturday.

Following an investigation, Thomas Allen Donnelly was charged with second degree assault. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.



Local Volunteers Needed July 31 For Trail Building

Garrett Trails is looking for volunteers to help with trail building and maintenance at Fork Run recreation area on Saturday, July 31, from 9 a.m. to noon.

Garrett Trails has recently been developing new trails in the Fork Run area, a 550-acre public recreation space managed by the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI), and are aiming to complete almost two miles in the next month. Volunteers will learn about sustainable trail building and how to use hand tools to make a "world class" trail.

Anyone interested in building more trails in Garrett County and who enjoys working outside is invited to come. Children are also welcome to help. Volunteers will meet at the upper Fork Run recreation area parking lot, just up Shingle Camp Rd. from the main Fork Run entrance. The parking lot has a storage container parked in the corner.

Volunteers should bring a water bottle and personal snacks, and are reminded to wear outdoor clothes that may get dirty. Garrett Trails will provide all tools and gloves, as well as direction and supervision. Interested persons should contact Matt Taylor at 240-321-1672, or email mtaylor@adventure-sportscenter.com.

THE ANNUAL YARD SALE for the Garrett County American Association of University Women (AAUW) will take place on Saturday, Aug. 7, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Route 219, just south of Wayne's Water 'n Wells. Items in the sale include art pieces, furniture, household goods, linens, lighting fixtures, sports equipment, and more. Pictured above is a candle holder/vase in cranberry glass made by the Pilgrim Glass Company, which will be raffled off on Aug. 7. Raffle tickets will be available at the sale in the morning. The proceeds will benefit the local AAUW's scholarship fund, which supports three different scholarships for women: two for women to attend Garrett College, and one for a woman who has completed her education at Garrett and is continuing elsewhere.

My grandfather often statad, when I was a boy, that it is important every onca in a while to sit down and "take stock of yourself" to reflect and get a sense of who you are and to realize what is important to you and where you're headed.

Gregan Crawford

As another election season has arrived, now is the time for us to take stock of ourselves as a community and decide what has happened and perhaps more importantly than ever where are we headed, where do our priorities lie as a community regarding taxes and spending, community infrastructure, and long term economic growth for the sake of our children and grandchildren. We must anticipate the challenges ahead so that any potential negative aspects can be abated in advance, so we won't have to scramble to play catch-up with our policies and or actions.

I took stock of my community and I came to the conclusion that our community can become stronger and more resilient, but in order to become so, we must have our priorities in line with our taxing and spending; long term economic goals for growth can foster stronger community growth, but we must realize that not all growth and development is necessarily good for the community if it depredates it.

Now is the time to take stock of ourselves as a community and determine what our course will be. If you approve of the decisions and actions of our incumbent Commissioners then your choice is easy in this election season. If not, then I ask for your vote.

"Youthful" Bill Ware Enjoys Sharing Secrets Of Longevity

by Glenn Tolbert

Ask the youthful 79-year-old Wilbur "Bill" Ware what the best part of his job is and he'll tell you that it's the opportunity to help his fellow seniors work toward a long life.

As a physical fitness aide for 10 years at the Flowery Vale Health and Fitness Center in Accident, Ware has plenty of opportunities to do that.

"I let them know how important the combination of a good diet and exercise is toward longevity," he says. "Then I tell them again and again until I can tell that they got the message."

Ware is a walking, talking example of what he preaches. Slender and with his blood pressure and cholesterol levels right where they should be, he obviously practices what he preaches.

But that wasn't always the case. For many years he had those levels out of control but attributes "the excellent facilities here" as being the main reasons for the dramatic turn-around.

It seems that many people in the Accident area are getting the message. The fitness center has over 100 members now, and many of them have heard Ware give his informal presentations about diet and exercise.

He works in one of the finest fitness centers in the region. Promoted as "a facility for the mature, older adult," the facility offers everything from regular exercise classes to screenings that include fitness assessments, blood pressure, and body mass index. Equipment available includes everything from exercise bikes to Cardio Glides.

The center takes what it calls a "holistic approach" to health and fitness for mature adults age 50 and older. It promotes the opportunity to lower stress, lose weight, enhance well being, and strengthen bones and muscles, among other health benefits.

Ware had not always been a physical fitness aide. With an interesting background that includes a bachelor's degree in social studies and a master's in business administration, he has led a varied and interesting life.

But the job he holds now is one that he really enjoys.

"Anytime you can help people and get paid for it, you have it made," he says. Ware was born in 1931, making him GCCAC's oldest employee.

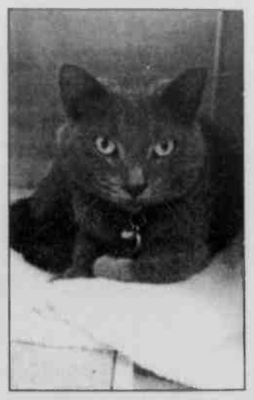
McHenry Man Sentenced For Sexual Offense

A 61-year-old McHenry man was sentenced in Garrett County Circuit Court last Wednesday for a fourth degree sexual offense charge. Judge Daniel Moylan (ret.) sentenced Dana Bach to 30 days' home confinement, which was to begin on July 28.



He was ordered to pay a $250 fine, plus court costs, and register with the state's sexual offender registry.

Related charges of sexual abuse of a minor, second degree assault, and third degree sexual offense were not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

In April, Bach entered an Alford plea to the fourth degree sex offense charge and pleaded not guilty to the remaining charges.

Adorable Adoptables

EAGER TO FIND NEW HOMES – Pets available for adoption this week at the Garrett County Animal Shelter include a male beagle (above left), a gray cat named Shadow (above right) whose owner had to give him up, a friendly male longhaired gray/white tuxedo feline, and a male black Lab mix that was found near Kingwood, W.Va. Three dogs were adopted last week at the shelter, and HART took three dogs to rescue facilities. "But, unfortunately, more dogs have been brought to the shelter; there are lots of nice cats, too, including tuxedos, tortoise shells, tabbies and a big orange one," said a Humane Society spokesperson. "Please make sure to have your pets vaccinated, spayed/neutered, and treated for fleas." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday.

Friends Of Lake To Host Forum Saturday, Aug. 7

Friends of Deep Creek Lake is hosting a community forum on the state of the Deep Creek Lake watershed on Saturday, Aug. 7, from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Garrett 8 Cinemas.

According to Barbara Beelar, director of the organization, there will be an overview of all available research and water monitoring of the lake which has been conducted by various agencies in the past, as well as of research which is currently under way.

Dr. Heath Kelsey from the University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science will be making a presentation as part of a grant from the Chesapeake Bay Trust received by the center and Friends of Deep Creek Lake. The science integration work being done by Dr. Kelsey is closely coordinated with the Maryland Department of Natural Resources' water quality working group.

Anthon Allred from the Maryland Department of the Environment will release the findings of the Total Maximum Daily Load study of the lake to determine if the lake and tributaries are impaired for phosphorous. According to Beelar, the lake was listed as impaired for this nutrient 12 years ago. The report is a required update.

There will also be a presentation by Lee Karrh from DNR focusing upon his research on submerged aquatic vegetation in the lake.

Alan Klotz, from DNR's Fisheries, will be providing the audience with the latest findings concerning the fish kills in the lake.

"We believe it is very important for all of us – agency staff, policy makers, and stakeholders - to learn about the real conditions of the lake and the tributaries," said Beelar. "There is a lot of opinion. We have worked hard to gather the data and secured help from the University of Maryland/Center for Environmental Science to analyze this information and present it in a way we can all understand."

Beelar said that "rumors" about the forum have some people concerned about cold-water and whitewater releases into the Youghiogheny River, noting that some from Annapolis with those concerns plan to attend.

"They will be disappointed," said Beelar, adding that releases of water from the dam are not on the agenda.

"Our focus is on water quality in the Deep Creek Lake watershed," she emphasized. "The issue of water releases is beyond the focus on our work. No one speaking at the forum nor Friends of Deep Creek Lake has a position on this matter. Our goal is to have basic information about the watershed, period."

Good Decision; and Congrats!...

The Garrett County commissioners decided this week to not require newly constructed one- and two-family houses in the county to have automatic sprinkler systems, as state officials gave each county government that option. It was not a particularly easy decision for the commissioners, as Fred Holliday called it an issue of "safety versus economics," but it is the opinion of this writer that the commissioners decided correctly.

The installation of sprinkler systems into new houses increases the cost of construction by more than $1 per square foot, creates the possibility of various forms of malfunctions which can result in excessive water damages, and adds only a relatively limited safety factor to a structure. Smoke alarms, which have been mandated for a number of years now, are normally effective in alerting persons inside a house to the presence of smoke or fire.

There is also the more philosophic question of just how far will "big brother" go in trying to protect people in their own homes, and at what point does it cross the proverbial private-property, individual-rights line. Will government ultimately require that homeowners must keep all floors and living areas free of clutter and debris? Will it require outside fire escapes for any house that is more than one story high? Will it require fire extinguishers in every room?

One thing that is interesting about the sprinkler systems state law is that as of Jan. 1, 2011, they will be required in all modular, stick-built homes that are purchased as a unit and moved to the homeowners' property. The county may not opt out of this requirement. At the same time, mobile homes will not have the requirement. Yet any firefighter will confirm that the single most dangerous type of residence in terms of fire is the mobile home, which burns rapidly and with tremendous heat intensity, and typically has narrow hallways and windows far too small through which a person can escape. Go figure.

On a completely different subject, we extend our utmost congratulations to the students and staff (and parents) of Crellin Elementary School for having attained a perfect score of 100% on the Maryland School Assessment testing. Crellin ranks #1 among 874 elementary schools in the state of Maryland. Given that Maryland's public schools are ranked #1 in the entire country, that makes Crellin the most elite of the elite in the nation. Better yet, every Garrett County school made AYP (adequate yearly progress) based upon this spring's MSA test scores. Kudos to all of our teachers, principals, administrators, other school staff personnel, students, and their families. You make all of us so proud!

Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor:

In reference to your July 22 editorial titled "Wait, Learn Before Leaping...", you should have followed your own advice. You owe Fox News an apology.

William Hebler

To the Editor:

After reading last week's editorial, I found it ironic that you jumped to conclusions before getting the facts. Fox News reported nothing until after Ms. Sherrod was already fired. You state that Andrew Breitbart is a journalist for Fox News; this is not true. Next time check the facts.

I think you owe Fox News and those of who watch it an apology.

Larry Miller
Grantsville

To the Editor:

My gratitude goes out to Cynthia Knight for another thoughtful, thought-provoking and compassionate letter to the editor.

On another subject, The Republican's lack of timely coverage of the sewage overflow at Deep Creek Lake, it seems you would have your readers believe that not one of your staff either heard the public service announcement on "local radio" or read of the incident in the Cumberland Times-News, nor did any of their friends or relatives (considering the extensive word-of-mouth communication network in Garrett County). I think that at best strains credibility, and don't understand the "huffiness" of your response to Mr. Karlik's letter.

Linda Theriot
Friendsville

To the Editor:

Some local people believe that they may vote only for a candidate in their election district in the upcoming primary election. That is mistaken information!

Voters may vote for a candidate who is of the same party affiliation as the voter, but may represent a different district. E.g., a registered Democrat may vote for the Democrat county commissioner candidates of his choice in each of the three commissioner districts, not just for a Democrat candidate in that voter's district.

I encourage every Garrett Countian who is eligible to register to vote and to exercise the privilege. There are not many countries in the world that afford citizens the privilege of going to the polls and casting votes for their choice of candidates. One vote can make a difference! Let your voice be heard! See you at the polls!

To the Editor:

On July 21, 2010, Garrett County suffered one of the most outrageous injustices of the judicial system. After State's Attorney Lisa Thayer Welch allowed a horrific plea deal, a convicted fourth-degree sex offender was handed a sentence by Judge Moylan of 30-day home confinement, a 250-dollar fine, and requirement to register as a sex offender – period. The court took into account the pedophile's current physical health when handing down the sentence. The court did not once take into account the victim's mental and physical health. Horrific injustices of previous events, like the release of Pan Am flight 103 bombing mastermind Abdul Baset Au al-Megrahi for health reasons, are similar.

As a mandatory reporter and certified early childhood educator in this state, I realize the probability of being involved in situations like this one again are sadly high. While I sat in the court room and digested the sentence, my thoughts became clear on why sexual offences are under reported – There is no justice.

This would be enough to make a person's blood boil and call for more stringent punishment toward child sex offenders. Although this injustice is of profound importance personally, I cannot change the sentence nor undo the damage that was caused to the child, but there is something that I will do.

Persons in this community who hold positions that require sound judgment spoke on behalf of this pedophile at the sentencing hearing. I made a commitment to no longer spend money at establishments at which these despicable people are involved in running.

When one offers himself as a character witness at a sentencing hearing, he is well aware of what the person being sentenced has been convicted of. A character witness uses his or her clout and influence in the community to consciously try to persuade the judge to hand down as lenient a sentence as possible.

Someone once said, "The choices you make dictate the life you lead." The persons who spoke on behalf of this pedophile made a choice; now it is time for all who read this to make a choice.

Court records are public and the state's attorney is an elected position.

John Ortiz

To the Editor:

How we appreciate the wonderful people of Garrett county! Since 1962, my husband and I with our three children have lived and ministered here. In those years, Pastor Hixon has poured his life into pastoring (lovingly shepherding) many people, both in the churches he served and in the community. To my knowledge, he has never turned anyone away without words or deeds of kindness or a prayer. In turn, he has received lots of loving thanks by word and deed. It has been my privilege to serve by his side for 53 years. We would not trade those years for the world.

Recently, we were told that cancer has taken over his body, and that he has months or weeks to live. The home-health care and hospice personnel have been a great help in these last several weeks. I was not able to keep count of the many friends and relatives who visited him in our home the first two weeks after his release from the hospital. Each one is special and greatly appreciated. We enjoyed them all.

The cancer and extreme weakness have so greatly curtailed his physical strength that he is unable to have visitors. But his mind is still very fine, and he greatly enjoys the many cards that have been sent to him. What comfort and inner strength we have received because of the compassionate prayers and expressions of love we have received! Most of all, we thank our precious friend Jesus Christ for his constant presence and loving care. God bless our loved ones and the beautiful people of Garrett County!

Sincerely,
Irene Hixon

Swallow Falls Road

To the Editor:

I am writing in hopes of raising the awareness of individuals and businesses in the community of the need to support our young FFA and 4-H members.

The Garrett County Fair is just around the corner, August 7-14. Many FFA and 4-H'ers will be exhibiting and showing animals at the various livestock shows during the week. These children put a lot of time, work, and effort into raising and caring for these animals. They look forward to spending the week at the fair and enjoy the attention that they and their animals receive.

At the end of the week, the FFA and 4-H'ers sell their animals. This year the Garrett County 4-H/FFA Livestock sale will be held on August 14 at 5 p.m. at the Garrett County Fairgrounds. Any support from the community will be greatly appreciated by the FFA and 4-H members.

The Garrett County Extension Office can be contacted concerning the specifics of the sale. If you have questions, you can telephone the Garrett County Extension Office at 301-334-6960.

Remember, the support you give to these young people, who are learning by doing, is very important and rewards them for learning responsibility, record keeping, and farm management.

As a former 4-H'er, I cannot say enough about these organizations or about the opportunities that they offer to the youth. Both organizations build strong character traits and life skills for the youth's future. Please consider bidding on or purchasing animals on August 14.

If you haven't supported these organizations in the past and like to see the work that these individuals put forth, please visit one of the livestock shows or visit the livestock barn anytime during fair week.

I am sure that there will be an FFA or 4-H member present to answer any questions that you may have, and I am sure that they would love to show you their animals.

To the Editor:

There was an interesting article from the June 13, 2010, edition of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette by Don Hopey. The following items in parentheses are direct quotes from that article.

The article stated there was (a blowout on June 3 at a Marcellus Shale well outside Penfield in rural Clearfield County. That well, adjacent to the Moshannon State Forest, spewed natural gas and drilling wastewater contaminated with toxic chemicals into the air for 16 hours.)

("We now have a worst-case scenario at the Clearfield County site where there is evidence of a catastrophic release of gas and contaminated water from Marcellus well drilling," said Conrad Dan Volz, assistant professor for Environmental & Occupational Health at the University of Pittsburgh's Graduate School of Public Health and director of the school's Center for Healthy Environments and Communities.)

Not only is this information abundantly available to Dr. Tom Sheahen, but to everyone else in our local area. I find it particularly troublesome for him to so cavalierly write the following paragraph in his July 15 his "Ask the Everyday Scientist" column:

"Meanwhile, people living directly above sometimes get concerned because they have a well that goes down several hundred feet to reach an aquifer. Water or gas would take eons to travel that far, especially since it would be mostly traveling across many layers of rock, including a lot of low-permeability shales and clays; so contamination from a gas well miles away is not a concern."

I believe that Dr. Sheahen's column completely omits or intentionally misleads the readers by his gross disregard of the available safety information for this type of energy production.

Well, guess what, "Doc." "Eons" (your word) apparently take only a few weeks to occur!

Remember, you are either part of the problem or part of the solution – your choice.

To the Editor:

Jerry Campane sent in a most interesting letter about my "Ask the Everyday Scientist" column on hydrofracturing to obtain natural gas. His observations deserve a reply.

The most important point raised in Campane's letter is whether any of the bad stuff associated with fracking can enter the water supply. If that should happen, his gloomy scenario could take place.

How likely is that? Generally, the cracks produced by this technique propagate for distances much less than a mile, so if fracking takes place a mile below the surface, the newly-opened pathways for motion of methane (or anything else) will not extend anywhere near the level of the water table. The intent of fracking is to make lots of small cracks, in order to access more of the formation containing methane. Making very long vertical cracks upward would require energy and money and would give no economic value, so that pointless activity is avoided. Knowing that the separation between gas well and water well would be over a mile, it seemed reasonable for legislators to grant an exemption from regulation.

Safety of anything done underground can be engineered to a very high probability, but absolute perfection is elusive. The argument "we were led to believe that [fill in the blanks] was safe too" cannot be disproven. It does no good to say, "Well, coal mining is more dangerous." It takes only one unlucky long-distance fissure into the water table somewhere to cast a cloud of suspicion over the entire industry.

When evaluating the relative safety of this means of obtaining deep natural gas, it's important not to confuse this form of deep gas well with the many shallow gas wells that dotted the landscape of Mountain Lake Park a century ago, and which probably intersected the water table. Landfill gas would be an example of a shallow gas well, and I certainly didn't mean to equate the different kinds of wells.

pig. She has also entered baked goods, canned foods, clothing, and crafts, and has participated in lead line and fashion revue.

She plans to attend college to get a bachelor of science degree in agriculture business. She hopes to own her own farm and raise club calves and lambs for future 4-Her's.

Kasondra Rounds is the daughter of Rodney and Trina Rounds, Lonaconing. She attends Northern High School, where she serves as second vice president for the Northern Garrett FFA Chapter.

Her family has a 130-acre farm, where they raise 25 to 30 head of beef cattle.

Over the years at the Garrett County Fair, she has exhibited nine market steers, three market lambs, a market hog, and two market goats. She has also exhibited items such as hay, oats, rye, corn, crafts, and school projects.

Rounds currently works at the Goodwill Mennonite Home as a feeder, and plans to become a registered nurse.

Katelyn Gnegy is the daughter of Daniel and Mary Gnegy, Oakland. She will be a senior at Southern High School this fall.

She and her family operate a 209-acre farm, where they produce hay, livestock, and vegetables.

For the past nine years, she has shown market and breeding sheep at the fair. In addition, she has shown rabbits, chickens, goats, and market hogs. She has also entered indoor exhibits such as clothing, baked goods, canned goods, vegetables, and flowers.

Gnegy plans to attend college and become a veterinarian with her own large animal practice.

Catlin Carrico is the daughter of Greg and Camille Carrico, Swanton. She has completed one year of studies at Potomac State of WVU so far, where she majors in agricultural education.

Her family is involved in meat and dairy goat enterprises.

She has been actively involved in the fair for the past eight years. She exhibits meat and dairy goats as well as numerous indoor products.

Carrico plans to earn a master's degree in agriculture education so she can teach future generations of about the importance of agriculture.

Kara Savage is the daughter of L. Deane and Nancy Savage, Accident. She will be a sophomore at Garrett College this fall.

She and her family breed and raise dairy heifers and cows. They also raise replacement heifers for other farmers and grow field crops.

She has shown dairy animals at the fair since she was 7 years old. She has shown a market hog and market lamb for six years, and also exhibits crafts, vegetables, canned goods, flowers, baked goods, and photographs. She has also participated in the fashion revue and costume animal parade, as well as the showmanship competition with various animals.

Savage plans to earn a degree in education at Frostburg State University, then teach elementary education in the Garrett County school system.

The cause of the fish kill is currently unknown, and a thorough investigation by MDE and DNR is under way, which includes water quality testing and a diagnostic analysis of affected fish species. To date, no evidence of a toxic or hazardous chemical spill has been found.

Evidenced by the large adult fish species that have been affected, the focus of the investigation is on the deeper portions of the lake. At this time, the shallower waters do not appear to be affected.

Local residents and visitors should contact MDE at 443-482-2732 with reports of dead fish as well as information about anything out of the ordinary that may have contributed to the ongoing incident.

"Alex's Lemonade Stand" To Be Set Up At Walgreens

Walgreens stores in Northwestern Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, West Virginia, and Maryland will each host an Alex's Lemonade Stand on Friday, Aug. 6, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Walgreens in Oakland, located along Third Street, will be among those stores hosting a stand.

The locations will raise money and awareness of Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation (ALSF), the mission of which is to find a cure for pediatric cancer.

A spokesperson for the drug store chain said the company was inspired to get involved with ALSF after hearing the story of cancer patient Alexandra "Alex" Scott (1996-2004). The foundation emerged from the front yard lemonade stand that she established in 2000. At that time, 4-year-old Alex announced that she wanted to hold a lemonade stand to raise money to help find a cure for all children with cancer.

Since Alex held that first stand, the foundation bearing her name has evolved into a national fundraising movement, involving thousands of volunteers across the country working to find the cure, the spokesperson said.

To date, Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation, a registered 501(c)(3) charity, has raised more than $30 million, funding more than 125 research projects nationally. All proceeds from the local stand will go directly to the foundation, the spokesperson said.

ATTENTION, OAKLAND HIGH SCHOOL GRADS – A reunion for all those who were students at the former Oakland High School will be held on Saturday, Aug. 14, at the Pleasant Valley Community Center. Guests are invited at 3 p.m. for a social time, followed by dinner at 5 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by Tonic Boom, a group featuring Dr. Jack Harvey. The reunion is open to all those who attended Oakland High School, as well as to the spouses of deceased alumni. Reservations should be made by Aug. 1 by contacting Delores Moyer at 301-334-3338 or Hazel Teagarden at 301-334-9685. The cost is $20 per person. The organizers invite persons to help set up for the event on Friday, Aug. 13. Contact either person noted above for more information.

Free DCL Special Permit Class Set

A special permit class that will teach persons the application process for making changes to the state-owned buffer strip and buy-down properties along Deep Creek Lake is slated for Saturday, Aug. 7, at 9:30 a.m. at the Deep Creek Discovery Center.

Topics to be discussed include structures such as decks and sheds, paths, play areas, electrical improvements, vegetation removal, and shoreline erosion control. Such modifications can be made on the buffer strip and buy-down properties, but only with prior written approval from the Deep Creek Lake Management Office.

Staff will talk about items that can be placed on these properties and how they can be installed according to Deep Creek Lake guidelines, a spokesperson said.

Contractors and landscapers are encouraged to attend. For more information, persons may call the lake management office at 301-387-4111.

The birth of one baby, a boy, was announced this week.

A son, Lucas Nathaniel, was born to Rachel Friend-Lantz and Michael Lantz Sr., Oakland, on July 24 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

agement office and informed personnel of the situation. DNR dispatched a vessel to the area and placed buoys on the water to restrict watercraft from entering the contaminated area. Caution tape was also placed across neighboring docks to the shoreline to restrict the area, and notices were posted in the vicinity.

The Garrett County Health Department's Environmental Health Services office was also notified, and the incident was reported to the Maryland Department of the Environment's emergency notification center.

DPU personnel utilized their vacuum/tank truck and removed standing sewage from the surrounding ground and disinfected the affected are. DPU laboratory personnel collected water samples from the contaminated lake area and commenced the analysis process.

Pump Station 2-2 consists of one large wet well containing two 40hp pumps. Wastewater enters the wet well from both the northern and southern sections of the sewer system. When the wastewater reaches a pre-set level, floats connected to the pump controls signal the pump to operate and discharge the wastewater from the wet well into the main sewer line flowing toward the wastewater treatment plant.

A bypass vault is also installed at this pump station, which contains a 30hp.

Following the cleanup process, DPU electricians assessed the components of the pump station in order to determine the cause. Their assessment revealed that an electrical short in the power cord connected to Pump No. 1 occurred.

This short caused the main breaker for the pump station's electrical controls to trip instead of just the breaker serving Pump No. 1.

When the emergency generator tried to start, it detected a dead short in the system and shut down in order to prevent damage to the generator. If the generator had been able to run, Pump No. 2 and/or the bypass pump would have began operating, but because of the main breaker being rendered inoperable, neither Pump No. 2 nor the bypass pump could be energized, therefore causing the overflow.

In accordance with the Code of Maryland Regulations governing such occurrences, the area affected was posted, and within 24 hours, DPU notified the public with a public service announcement on a radio station serving the immediate area where the overflow occurred.

Additional lake water samples were collected and tested on July 12 and 13. Based on testing results for samples collected on July 13, Environmental Health Services lifted the restriction on entering the water in the affected area on July 14, and the appropriate public service announcement was issued on the local radio station.

The pump stations are currently equipped with indicator lights and an audible alarm system to provide warning of a malfunction.

Upon further review of the electrical malfunction and the risk of potential reoccurrences, DPU is pursuing the addition of either a telemetry or auto-dialer alarm system to supplement current notification components at all main line pump stations.

The department is also performing an assessment of the current electrical components to evaluate possible upgrades and/or replacements and, if required, will secure the services of an independent consultant.

DPU and the county commissioners have also committed to adding a second emergency backup, in addition to the emergency generator, for the pump station operations. Independent Godwin Dri-Prime diesel operated pumps will be purchased and installed at Pump Station 2-2 and several others.

This backup pump will operate and maintain flows if an electrical outage or malfunction of the electrical components or emergency generator occurs.

Because the sensorineural hearing loss associated with "presbycusis" (age-related hearing loss) first presents itself as an inability to discern women's (and children's) higher pitched speech, it is sometimes facetiously referred to as "wife deafness." Men tend to be identified with this label because their wives can hear men's low-pitched voices and men are often affected by age-related hearing loss more than women. People with this form of hearing loss may try to compensate by asking conversation partners to speak louder, but this approach rarely helps because their speech discrimination is so poor. Even worse, some hearing-impaired individuals either cannot hear, or ignore, words directed to them. At this point, it makes sense to examine the need for a hearing instrument.
Millions of people of all ages face the daily challenge of living with a hearing loss. If you or a loved one fall victim to hearing loss, don't suffer in silence. Instead, take the first step toward changing your life. Visit AUDIBEL to discuss with a hearing specialist the revolutionary options available today to help maximize your hearing potential.
P.S. People with age-related hearing loss often cannot distinguish between consonant sounds, leading them to confuse the words spoken by others.

Her Smile

Though her smile is gone forever
And her hand I cannot touch,
I still have so many memories
Of the one I loved so much.
Her memory is my keepsake
With which I'll never part.
Gad has her in his keeping,
I have her in my heart.

Sadly missed but never forgotten.

COUNTRY EXPLORERS HOLD BIKE RODEO – The Country Explorers 4-H Club members recently held a Bicycle Rodeo, led by Josh Frick, at Herrington Manor State Park. The youth did a bicycle and helmet inspection and then ran several different bike agility events. Other events that the 4-H members have recently participated in are a club record book workshop, the Maryland Sheep and Wool Skill-a-thon and Festival, the county Quality Assurance meeting, the county's "Something New" teen leader workshop at the Visitors Center in McHenry, and a Dairy Quality Assurance workshop.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

My hummingbird feeder seems unusually busy about half an hour after the pretty hard rain we got during today's early afternoon thunderstorm. It did cut the suffocating heat. The air is nice and fresh after the rain stopped. And the various lawns, leaves, trees, and pine trees each have a different shade of green, each one more intense.

But there has been no sign of a single Baltimore oriole this summer. I miss them.

This late afternoon is much more comfortable compared to yesterday. Somewhere in Maryland a bicycler died from heat exhaustion. I assume that was way downstate. A couple of days ago, a reporter placed some raw cookie dough on the dash of a car in Frederick. By the time evening came around, those blobs of dough had turned into perfect cookies. The thermometer was at triple digits: at least 100 degrees. I don't think that on our mountaintop we ever get temperatures that high, thank goodness. Our life-threatening weather comes during the winter.

I do know what happens when you are training up here with reasonably warm or even cool weather, then you go downstate for a competition with heavy physical demands, like the cross-country phase of a horse trail. That's several miles of galloping close to top speed through some big and challenging jumps over all kinds of terrain in open spaces and in heavy woods.

I believe it was in 1972, the summer after my freshman year at the University of Maryland, I was the defending champion of the Capital Region "B" riders. Up here, it was very cool and rainy while I was training Little Joe for the Capital Regional Rally near Frederick. It was dreadfully hot there. Naturally, I planned to try to take the cross country course nice and slow. But Joey had a different idea, like always when they counted down from 10 and then said, "Go!" Joey did go like a bat out of hell. And there was nothing I could do to slow him down.

The first half-mile or so was a long uphill climb in the hot sun. That took very much out of Joey, more than I realized. So I was shocked when he refused at a very easy jump. That never happened before. I hate to admit that I used my crop and my spurs to try to force him to jump it. But he could not, because he had nothing left physically after almost two miles galloping at top speed in that 100-degree heat. So I dismounted and led him across the finish line. Then I fainted.

But I always felt terrible that I used the crops and spurs on him. Almost a lifetime after, I still can't forgive myself. And I am trying right now. The only blot on a perfect relationship. He didn't deserve to get punished. He was only trying to give another blazing fast trip. I am sorry I didn't know how it was to be "running on empty." Because it happened to me in April 1994 when I had a massive brain hemorrhage. I just feel like I keep getting hit again and again. And frankly, I will probably wear out.

Joey was so fast for such a small horse, which was why he was able to compete at such high levels against much larger, more powerful horses. He was faster and a more talented jumper than any horse he competed against.

In fact, the first time we were part of the Capital Regional team to the Nationals at the Goodrich estate in Ohio, we finished that extremely difficult cross-country course. Only five horses completed that course, with so many injuries that the stable looked like an ICU for both horses and riders.

In spite of the fact that I was the rookie on our team, we finished the cross-country course so fast that my teammates thought we got eliminated somewhere like they did, but no, we did a clean round very fast.

I was extremely lucky to have that kind of a horse. Plus, he was the most kind, pleasant horse, as well. Like Tanya Beitzel (who now has a different name after she got married, and she just had her second baby) said, "Joey was the best horse in the world."

By the way, the newest grandchild of Gary and Sharon Buckel was born on April 28, not what I probably reported as March 28.

All my life, I heard that the Buckle members of my family descended from an Indian baby after a local couple got in a light with an Indian man and killed him. He had his wife and baby boys with him. The couple from Bittinger killed both the man and wife, but they took the orphaned baby home with them and raised him as their son. He grew up and married a cousin (adopted) and they had a baby girl named Alice Bittinger, who married my great-grandfather. Alice was my grandfather's grandmother.

The story always went that the fight happened in Ohio. But I believe it happened right here. I know the Shawnee tribe lived around Garrett County, maybe in Friendsville, but they came to hunt in one of the best hunting areas around Meadow Mountain.

On my father's family homestead, which was settled by immigrants from Switzerland in the late 1700s, there was a special place which drew me like a magnet. It was a field with hundreds of outcroppings of flint scattered across it. It was my favorite destination when I rode my horse in the land surrounding our family farm. I felt a deep attraction to it, and I felt it was a sacred place.

Garrett County is not the Deep South. But still, many Garrett County residents wouldn't stand up and renounce a hate crime or race-based violence. I feel like I am risking my own life to say this in the newspaper. But I feel very passionately about burying the very bad old days when slavery was tolerated by many Americans. And I am pretty sure all the negative feelings are directed at our president.

I had a bad nightmare last night about being attacked by a couple of men in my own bed. It was so bad that I violently thrashed around and knocked over a glass of water. It fell on the floor, and of course it broke.

OFF TO DNR CAREER CAMP – Two Northern High School students are attending the 2010 Natural Resources Careers Conference at the Hickory Environmental Education Center, Accident, this week. Dustin Walling (left) and Jackie Frazee (right) are two of 26 students attending from across the state. The Garrett County Forest Conservancy District Board in cooperation with the Forest Service of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, the Association of Forest Conservancy District Boards, and Allegany College of Maryland are hosting the program. The weeklong program is designed to acquaint high school students with careers in forestry and natural resource management. The camp is staffed by forestry students from ACM and members of the above-mentioned agencies as well as other natural resource professionals. The program consists of a series of lectures and field trips as well as hands-on activities. The local county forestry boards coordinate student selection and scholarships. Students are selected for the camp based on their involvement and interest in natural resource issues and careers.

Anyone who believes a person and family can't live comfortably around here on $250,000 per year is wrong. If they can't, shame on them. The best-off Americans have no idea what it is like to live on $50,000 per year, or way below. And they don't care. So that is where the middle class has gone. It is shameful.

And as for small business owners in Arizona who make more money by hiring illegal immigrants at subminimum wage, shame on them. These are real people with real families.

I didn't earn much as a well-qualified, award-winning, and might I add overworked, associate professor at Garrett Community College. One of my students wrote a comment on my student evaluation: "Whatever you need to do to keep her, do it. Because she is so good; she is practically irreplaceable."

Most of the time, I was in front of the class about 15 hours per week. But that did not include the many hours devoted to preparation. For one course, which was never presented in any college or university, there was no textbook for it. I had to read several dozen books, then turn that knowledge into class meeting plans, design evaluations, and grade all assignments.

In freshman English classes, it took about 10 hours to grade the papers in one class assignment. It took half an hour to do a good job grading each student's paper. Then another half-hour to have a conference with each student. Plus, we all had to perform the role of academic advisor, which involved many hours across semesters.

Besides that, there were countless hours devoted to assisting any of my students with serious problems; the kinds of problems that put their college education in jeopardy, like spouse abuse, unplanned pregnancy, and many kinds of mental health issues including a very hard-working student with multiple personality disorder. I was so proud to see her graduate from GCC with an associate's degree.

Unfortunately, in many jobs, there is no way anyone who encounters a major medical crisis can foot the bills. Just within the first weeks after my brain aneurism burst, my care just to save my life racked up to more than $100,000. Without the good insurance that came with my job, I would still be in very deep debt, so deep that there would be no way in the rest of my life that I would ever pay off everything.

And very few things are as depressing as a pile of bills that you can't pay. It's hard to function with that load on your shoulders. I am horrified about the load of debts my daughters are facing just to pay off their student loans at this time when there are not many good jobs even for college graduates. I know it is not easy for my Claire to keep up with her student loans with just a fairly good restaurant job.

That is why I am totally disgusted with the Republican senators filibustering endlessly against extending unemployment benefits. They obviously don't understand how it feels to watch the bill pile get higher and higher without any money to pay them or feed their family or just buy the bare necessities.

Many thousands of Americans during their working lives have paid into the unemployment insurance fund. They already paid for those benefits, just as we all paid into the allegedly untouchable Social Security fund. But I'll bet it often got raided to pay for wars and things like that.

I don't personally know billionaire Warren Buffet. I wish I did. From everything I've heard about him, he seems better than most very rich people. He is not obsessed about getting richer. Why should he be? He clearly has more money than anyone needs or could even spend. I guess he realizes that, and that's why he joined Microsoft's Bill Gates to make a joint proposal that all billionaires in America should give away half of their personal fortunes. So it appears that his primary value is not greed.

We didn't hear a lot of noise from Buffet about the our financial sector. But I wish he would go on television and explain it, because so far no one who explained it that I heard made any sense. I believe he is a fair-minded man, and able to imagine how it might feel to have almost no money. Can anyone seriously deny how big a role money plays in one's social position, or what kind of justice you can expect?

A luncheon was held Sunday at Cherry Glade Mennonite Church to benefit Megan Mast, who is going on a mission trip to Nepal. She will serve with a team for six months.

A music benefit is also planned. It is called "Night of Music," and is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 8, at 7 p.m. at Cherry Glade. Scheduled are the groups Redefined in Red, and Levi and Bennett. There will also be barbershop music.

The benefit dinner that was scheduled for Saturday for the family of Tim Humberson has been postponed until Sept. 25.

Everyone is invited to attend Emmanuel Lutheran Church's annual parish picnic on Sunday, Aug. 22, at the 4-H Center in Bittinger. A worship service will be held at 10 a.m., followed by a picnic and time of fun and fellowship.

St. John's Lutheran Church (Meadow Mountain) will hold its Vacation Bible School next week, Aug. 1 to 5. All young people of any age are welcome.

The Arts

OLD-TIME PICKIN' AND GRINNIN' will be featured at this week's Little Yough Summer Music Festival presentation. The Hillbilly Gypsies will perform at the Mountain Fresh Producers Pavilion in Oakland this Friday, July 31, beginning at 7 p.m. Members of this West Virginia native string band specialize in playing their own homegrown style of Appalachian old-time music, mixed with a hard-driving bluegrass sound. In addition to their original material, the Hillbilly Gypsies play an eclectic mix of traditional and quite often, not-so-traditional bluegrass standards and catchy old fiddle tunes. They perform in the old fashioned style – around a single vintage style large diaphragm microphone. The Gypsies play a diverse array ot venues throughout the year, ranging from major outdoor music festivals, radio shows, and club venues to weddings, private parties, and motorcycle rallies. Formed in 2001 from a chance meeting in Morgantown, the Gypsies have been pickin' and grinnin' ever since. Left to right are Ty Jaquay, Jason Teel, Jamie Lynn Buckner, Trae Buckner, and Dave Asti. Admission to the performance is free. Food will be available for purchase, with vendors on site at about 6 p.m. Those attending the event may want to bring a lawn chair or blanket, as seating is limited. In addition to the festival's usual 50/50 drawing and chances to win a television, a week's pass to WildWood Athletic Club will be raffled off during the Friday performance.

BROTHERVILLE AND GIRLZ IN BLACK HATS TO GRACE FRIENDSVILLE – Friendsville Days will feature several artists at this year's annual event. Above is Brotherville, who will perform on Saturday, Aug. 7, beginning at 7 p.m. "Brotherville blends the sounds of Top 40 country music and American/southern rock," noted a spokesperson. "Brotherville bears a blue-collar, hard-working, middle class work ethic – where steel was born and personal character is molded." To the right are the Girlz in Black Hats, who will perform on Friday, Aug. 6, at 7 p.m. at the Friendsville Community Park. The band comes from southwestern Pennsylvania and recently recorded an original music CD with songs written by the band members. "They play a good mix of contemporary and classic country, sprinkled with a taste of good old-fashioned rock and roll," said the spokesperson.

Violin And Cello Duo Next In Music At Penn Alps Series

IGOR YUZEFOVICH

DARIUSZ SKORACZEWSKI

Music at Penn Alps will present Igor Yuzefovich, violin, and Dariusz Skoraczewski, cello, in concert at the Great Hall at Penn Alps, Grantsville, on Saturday, July 31, at 7:30 p.m. The concert is sponsored by the Stonebow Inn, Grantsville.

Born in Moscow, Russia, violinist Igor Yuzefovich is the assistant concertmaster of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. He began his violin studies at the age of 5, and was accepted into the Gnessin Music School, where he studied with Irina Svetlova.

In 1990, while on a musical exchange with the Rubin Academy in Tel Aviv, Yuzefovich performed on Israel's national television. Since 1991, he has resided in the United States. A winner of numerous competitions, he has performed in cities across the United States, Canada, England, Scotland, Ireland, Russia, Italy, France, Austria, Israel, Jordan, and South Africa.

He co-founded the Monument Piano Trio in 2004, which debuted to critical acclaim in Baltimore. Yuzefovich is also concertmaster of the Lancaster Symphony, a position he has held since 2004.

Skidmore Art on Exhibit At Gallery; Reception Slated

The Backroom of the Garrett County Arts Council Gallery Shop, located along Alder Street in Oakland, is hosting an exhibition of recent ceramic artworks created by Lorie and Ron Skidmore, pictured above. The public is invited to a reception at the gallery on Saturday, Aug. 7, from 1 to 3 p.m. The show includes functional and decorative stoneware pottery, made primarily on a potter's wheel, with varying sizes of vases, pitchers, bowls, and wall pieces that suggest landscape forms.

Ron, professor of art at Garrett College, has been teaching a variety of art disciplines for over 25 years. He holds a bachelor's degree in art education from Frostburg State University and a master's of fine arts in printmaking from West Virginia University. He has continued to study the ceramic arts by participating in various workshops. This exhibition displays his recent endeavors, which focus on experimental techniques in ceramics such as glaze formulations and applications to produce special effects.

Lorie is a Garrett College graduate with an associate's degree in fine and performing arts, and has been making pottery for 15 years. She is currently working with the "College and Me" program at Garrett, and gives private lessons in her home studio, Laurel Ridge Pottery, located in McHenry. Her work involves a wide array of functional and decorative pottery. In addition to a pottery wheel, she also uses a wood-kiln for firing.

The Garrett County Arts Council is a non-profit organization receiving funding from Garrett County government, the Maryland State Arts Council, and annual membership support. GCAC coordinates activities and events to promote the cultural arts throughout the county. The council also provides annual grant funding to some 20 arts organizations to integrate art into the life of the community. For more information, persons should call 301-334-6580 or visit www.garrettarts.com.

Second place finishers in A-flight competition were Sierra Legeer, girls 13-14, 200 IM (2:53.21); Katie Parker, 50 free (30.29), 100 fly (1:15.62), and 100 breaststroke (1:31.57); Rachael Huxford, girls 11-12, 50 fly (46.21) and 50 breast (50.38); Matthew Ball, 100 back (1:21.52) and 100 free (1:12.76) tie; Sydney Legeer, 100 back (1:20.63) and 100 free (1:09.15); and Emily Huxford, 100 free (1:19.36).

Capturing second in B-flight competition were Kelly Bean, 50 free (33.49) and 50 fly (40.09); Marley Merrick, girls 11-12, 50 free (34.47), 100 free (1:24.89), and 50 back (42.88); Caleb Rowan, boys 7-8, 25 free (23.58) and 50 free (58.68); Laurel Williams, girls 7-8, 25 free (27.25); Ella Ashby, girls 6 and under, 25 free (35.71) and 25 back (38.09); Megan Fitzwater, 50 fly (41.40), Annika Naylor, girls 11-12, 50 fly (52.66) and 50 breast (57.37); Lauren Jacobs, girls 7-8, 25 fly (33.54); Piper Schenk, girls 9-10, 25 back (23.73); Acie Friend, 50 breast (43.84); and Nicole Walch, 50 breast (43.29).

Taking third in A-flight races were Emily Huxford, 50 free (33.86) and 100 breast (1:44.86); Matthew Ball, 50 free (32.77); Sydney Legeer, 50 free (31.47); Rachael Huxford, 50 free (35.43) and 50 back (44.37), Sierra Legeer, 100 fly (1:23.16) and 100 back (1:23.87); and Alex Anderson, boys 13-14, 100 back (1:46.18).

Third place ribbons were won by B-flight swimmers Corinne Weaver, 50 free (33.67), Avery Schenk, girls 7-8, 25 free (28.57) and 25 back (29.75); Caleb Rowan, 25 fly (36.47); Autumn Friend, girls 11-12, 50 back (48.19), Laurel Williams, 25 fly (37.13); and Lexi Trickett, girls 11-12, 50 breast (1:02.47).

The team placed in the top three in a number of relays. Winning first in the girls, 8 and under, 100 yard freestyle relay was the team of Maria Walch, Lauren Jacobs, Laurel Williams, and Avery Schenk. Second place ribbons were awarded to the team of Rachael Huxford, Marley Merrick, Annika Naylor, and Autumn Friend for the girls 11-12, 200 free relay.

Taking second in the girls 15-18, 200 free relay were Katie Parker, Emily Huxford, Nicole Walch, and Corinne Weaver. Earning third place in the girls 11-12, 200 free relay was the team of Katelin Rank, Emily Bowser, Lexi Trickett, and Piper Schenk. Placing third in the girls 250 free crescendo relay was the team comprising Kelly Bean, Megan Fitzwater, Rachael Huxford, Piper Schenk, and Jaclyn Jacobs.

Several team records were set and previous team records broken over the course of the season. Acie Friend set the record for the 200 breast, B-flight boys 15-18. Corinne Weaver set the record for the 200 back, B-flight girls 15-18. In the A-flight boys 13-14 category, Zak Thomas set the record for the 200 fly and broke the record for the 100 free and 200 free. In the same category, Matthew Ball set the record for the 500 free, 200 back, and 200 breaststroke.

Megan Fitzwater set the record for the 200 fly in the B-flight girls 13-14. Annika Naylor set the 200 breast B-flight girls 11-12 record. Caleb Rowan set the B-flight boys 7-8 record for the 200 back. Maria Walch set the B-flight girls 7-8, 200 back record and broke the team and pool record for the 25 back in that category.

The team held its annual end of season picnic and team awards presentation on Sunday, July 25, at the Blakeslee Clubhouse. Zak Thomas, Emily Bowser, and Matt Ball were presented team sports bags for raising the top three amounts for the swim marathon fundraiser. Team awards were presented. (See photos.)

Complete meet results and information about joining the team for the 2011 season may be found on the team's web site, located at www.manta-ray.org. (Note: The hyphen is part of the URL address.)

Sailboat Racing

THE SANDY DOUGLASS MEMORIAL INVITATIONAL REGATTA
by Dan Muss

This regatta, one of our major events of the season, is named after the designer and first builder of the Flying Scot here in Garrett County. He was a very small but feisty man who never lacked self-esteem or self confidence. He was still building the boat when my wife and I joined the club in 1983, and he was still sailing and teaching then. The present builder, Harry Carpenter, a two-time national Flying Scot champion, was the PRO for this regatta, and he and his crew did a fine, professional job running it.

Accuweather was predicting about 11 knots WSW for race time on Saturday; weather.com said 10 to 15. By the time of the competitors' meeting at 10 a.m., my crew and I had decided not to go out when Carpenter said it was gusting to 20. He decided to sail the three scheduled races back-to-back starting at 1 p.m., and sent the racers to lunch at 11:30. Carpenter later reported gusts of up to 22 knots; he said that if it was to have gotten any heavier he would have cancelled. As it was he got all three races in, but there were a number of capsizes, one collision, and lots of near misses.

The collision involved Vandall nicking the end of Bennett's boom in the Silver Fleet. Vandall did his penalty turns and continued the race, but the contact broke Bennett's outhaul and she was forced to retire from that race. Later Bennett filed for "redress" with the protest committee, which it allowed since she had been put out of the race through no fault of her own. The Racing Rules of Sailing, which are the rules under which this regatta is sailed, allow for redress in the form of granting the injured boat the average scores of their other races.

In the first Saturday race the Meredith/Wolffe team was put out of action when the mainsail outhaul cable inside the boom let go on its own. They sailed into the lee of Turkey Neck, and Wolffe was picked up by Jeannette Dodd in her motorboat. They went into the Wolffe dock and took the boom off Wolffe's 'Scot and put it on Meredith's so they were able to compete in the rest of the regatta and come in fifth , finishing only three of the four races.

In the third race on Saturday, Corson had been hit by three puffs over the course of the day that almost flipped them because of their intensity and very quick onset. These puffs seemed to have a wall-like leading edge. In each case they had to release the main and jib to stay upright. Unfortunately, as they approached the finish they were hit by a violent gust, their jib sheet jammed, and over they went.

In that same race, Munford and Clefton were on a downwind reach with the spinnaker flying when their boat capsized near the Turkey Neck point. Munford swam to the masthead to keep the boat from turning turtle, while Clefton uncleated the sails and climbed over the boat and onto the centerboard. With Munford now back in the boat, Clefton righted the boat and (with some difficulty) climbed back in. They were quickly under way again and back in the race! The safety patrols in power boats did their job perfectly; they were there quickly, they assured that the sailors were OK, and they asked if assistance was needed. In this case, assistance was declined, so they could continue the race.

In the Challenger Fleet there are two quite remarkable stories. Eric Yonke, with limited racing experience and an assortment of little kids as crews, raced all four races, including the one in that brutal wind on Saturday, to win the regatta. Coming in second was Ellen Tran, with her daughter Mary and nephew Minh crewing. Here is her story in her own words (edited):

"I had lost track of how many times we were screaming 'Oh no.... the boat is going over... get on the rail... uncleat that jib!' Luckily, after the screaming was over we were laughing and thankful the boat didn't go over. Mary and Minh now have a thorough understanding of what hiking-out really is, hanging as far off the boat as possible perpendicular to the water, hoping the boat won't go over. At one desperate moment the leeward rail touched the water. Mary screamed and did a belly dive to the windward rail. I was screaming too, but I gained my footing and uncleated the mainsail and hiked out. Finally we regained control; the boat was flat and sailing forward. We looked around and thought, 'Wow, it looks like... for the moment... we have the lead!' Well, that did not last too long, here comes another big puff.

"Most non-sailor people do not understand how much stamina it takes to sail on a very windy day. It took most of my strength to hike-out while dumping and pulling back on the mainsheet. With a combined total of eight upwind legs, I was tired. By the time we had the boat tied-up for the day, I realized it had to be adrenaline that got me through the three back to back thrilling races. Minh, Mary, and I all agree that sailing on a windy day is great fun. It's wonderful to be out there!"

Sunday the wind had abated, but there were still some strong puffs so, again, I decided not to sail. The PRO got in one good race and then cancelled because a heavy thunderstorm was on its way, which arrived, on schedule, after most of the boats had been put away. What a weekend!

Lakeview Auto Parts, Romney Rippers Tied In Hot Stove Series

The Hot Stove American League Championship Series is tied at one game apiece between Lakeview Auto Parts and the Romney Rippers, as the Romney team won the first game, 7-6, and Lakeview came back to take the second game in the best-of-three series last night, 3-1. Both games were played at Potomac Park.

The third and deciding game will be played this Friday at 5:30, with the winner to take on the National League champion Hobo's Restaurant in the Hot Stove finals.

In the first game of the series played Monday, Lakeview battled back from a 6-1 deficit to knot the score at 6-6 before Romney recorded what would be the winning run in the bottom of the filth.

The Rippers jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning. After Lakeview posted one run in the top of the second, Romney scored three more in the bottom of that frame to take a 6-1 advantage.

Lakeview came back to plate two runs in the third, and then tied it at 6-6 with three runs in the bottom of the fourth. The Rippers won the game via a run by Matt Maiers, who drew a walk and ultimately scored on a passed ball.

Lakeview finished with a 9-8 edge in hits, with Beck Sherrard and Cody Rodeheaver each hitting a pair of singles, and Derek Rodeheaver recording a double.

Josh Crawford hit two singles for Romney, winning pitcher Garrett Crawford provided a double, and Maiers contributed a run-producing single.

Jared Fike spearheaded Lakeview Auto's 3-1 victory last night, as he tossed a two-hitter for a complete-game win, and also contributed a double at the plate.

Fike struck out six and gave up just two singles.

Romney took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first on a single by Garrett Crawford, and held that edge until the bottom of the fourth when Lakeview scored a pair of runs to take the lead for good.

The tying run came via an RBI single by Cody Rodeheaver, and a squeeze bunt by Beck Sherrard later in the inning plated the go-ahead run.

Patrick Sines rapped a double and a single for Lakeview.

Josh Crawford also pitched well for Romney, allowing just five hits and striking out five.

The win improved Lakeview Auto Parts' record to 16-7, while the Rippers fell to 22-4.

MAHAN AWARDED MONKEY – It is a tradition of the Deep Creek Yacht Club to award the "monkey" to the Gold Fleet skipper who finishes "just out of the money" in the annual Sandy Douglass Regatta, which was held this past weekend. This year the award went to Stephanie Mahan, pictured left. Making the presentation was Meredith Dodd. Each new winner is required to add something to the "trophy" so that, after the 20-odd years of the Sandy Douglass Regatta, it has become a "uniquely and highly decorated" trophy.

Oakland Teen To Compete In National Event

Oakland area resident Gavin Murphy has qualified for the "largest amateur motocross race in the world" – the 29th annual Air Nautiques/American Motorcyclist Association Amateur Motocross Championships at Loretta Lynn's Ranch in Hurricane Mills, Tenn, according to event director Tim Cotter.

The race runs Aug. 1–8. In addition to Gavin, at least three other local youths will compete in the event.

Fifteen-year-old Gavin took on more than 20,000 hopefuls from across America to earn one of 1,386 qualifying positions.

"The Amateur Nationals at Loretta Lynn's is the event every motocross racer in the country wants to compete in," said Cotter.

Gavin, who attends Southern High School, has been riding since he was 5 years old. Such sponsors as O'Neal, Twin Air, Six Six One, Dunlop, MGX Unlimited, Leatt Brace, and Acerbis help pay his way to the races. He has won numerous races in the last 10 years, and competes nearly every weekend.

Gavin will make the trip next week to Tennessee with his parents, Terry and Sonja, grandparents Roy and Jean Peterman, and his best friend, Austin Cosner.

Gavin spent the last four months qualifying for the event. The top finishers in area and regional qualifiers earn a birth into the national championship race at Loretta Lynn's.

Racers may enter a wide variety of classes, from minicycle classes for children as young as 4, all the way up to a senior division for riders over 50. There are also classes for women, and classes for both stock and modified bikes.

The track is built on a section of Loretta Lynn's Ranch and Campground. The course contains a variety of jumps, corners, and other obstacles designed to test the skills and stamina of the racers.

"A win at the Amateur Nationals can serve as a springboard to a lucrative professional motocross career," said Cotter.

He noted that most of America's top professional motocrossers – including James Stewart, Ricky Carmichael, Travis Pastrana, and Jeremy McGrath – have won AMA Amateur National Championships at Loretta Lynn's.

Last year, such teenage stars such as New York's Justin Barcia, South Carolina's P.J. Larsen, Pennsylvania's Darryn Durhman, and Texas' Blake Wharton were awarded pro contracts after the race.

HEADED TO TENNESSEE next week will be 15-year-old Gavin Murphy, Oakland. Gavin has spent the last four months qualifying for the 29th annual Air Nautiques/American Motorcyclist Association Amateur Motocross Championships at Loretta Lynn's Ranch in Hurricane Mills, Tenn. The son of Terry and Sonja Murphy, Gavin has been racing for 10 years and has won numerous awards. See story.

Charlie's Angels Play Shamble At Oakland Course

The men's senior group known as Charlie's Angels played a shamble format at the Oakland Golf Club course on Tuesday.

In that format, all players drive, select the best tee shot, and play their own ball in from there, with one best ball net of four counting.

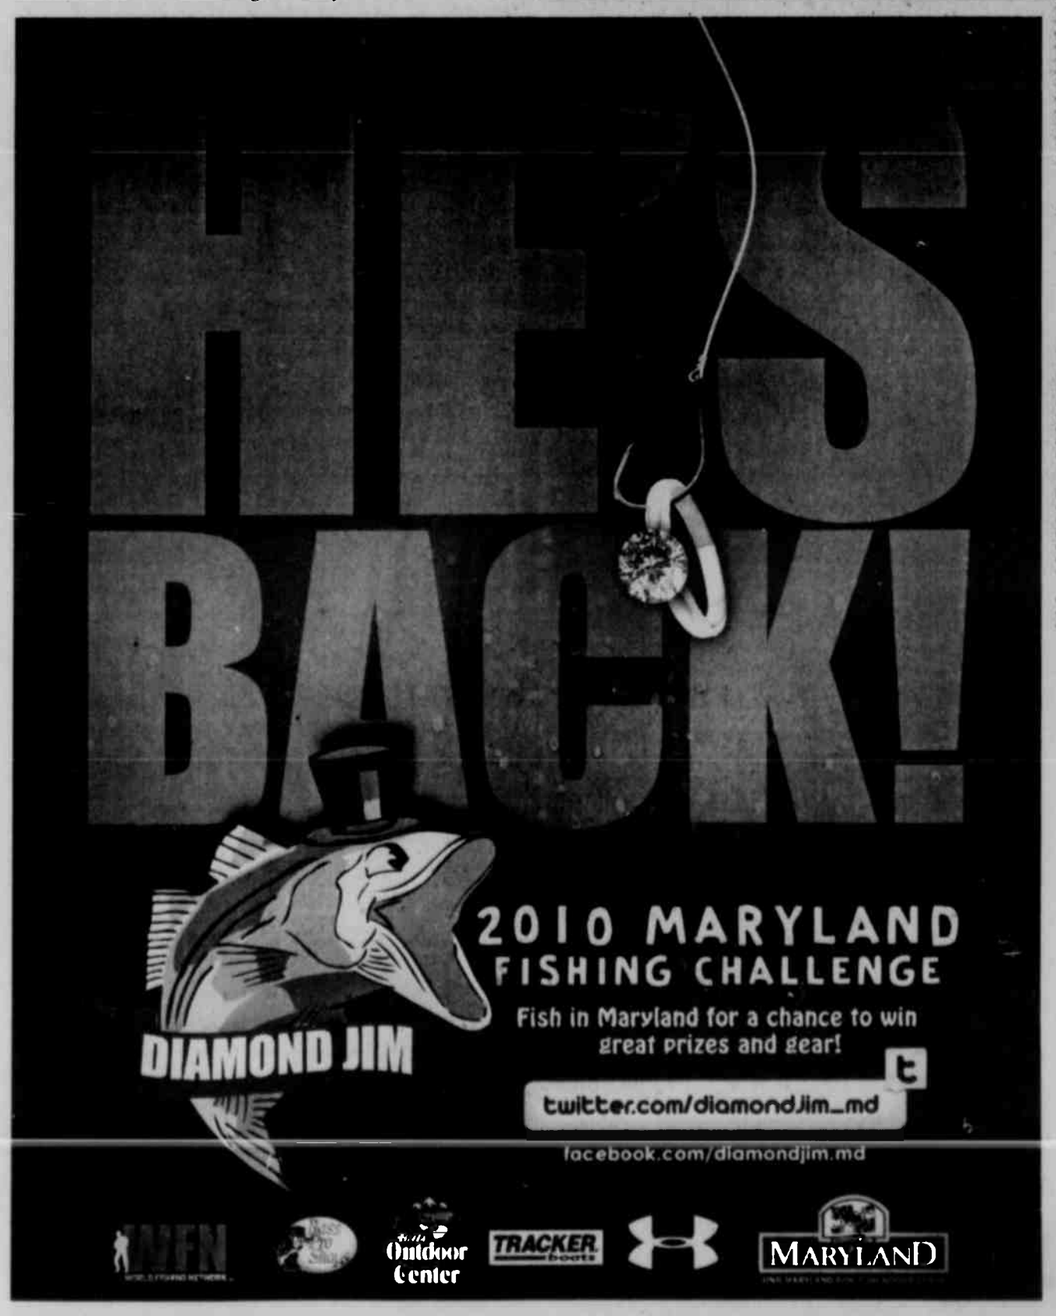
Grantsville Post 214 Loses Final Game To Post 13

The American Legion Baseball League season came to an end for Grantsville Post 214 last Thursday at Legion Field in Cumberland, where the local team was rolled by Cumberland Post 13, 10-1.

Post 214 was out-hit by only a 10-7 margin, but Fort Cumberland got two-run homers from both Aaron Lehman in the second and Sean Collette in the third.

Jeff Conley rapped a two-run double in Post 13's seven-run second, and Connor O'Rourke finished with three singles. Collette also had a pair of singles to finish with four RBI.

The only run by Post 214 was recorded by Andy Umbel, who hit a solo shot in the second. He also had a single, and teammates Matt Watson and Mason Dick each contributed a pair of singles.



Five pitchers for Fort Cumberland combined for 15 strikeouts, while Nathan King fanned nine batters for Grantsville and starter Derek Taylor recorded three.

The win gave Fort Cumberland a final regular-season record of 21-7, but Post 13 was eliminated from going to the state tournament by Funkstown on Saturday.

Sons Of Veterans Award Local With Watie Scholarship

Joseph Hinton was recently announced as one of four national winners of the 2010 Sons of Confederate Veterans (SCV) Stand Watie scholarship.

"The SCV is proud to be represented by a young man like Joseph, whose record of achievement and academic attainment is very impressive," said Charles McMichael, commander-in-chief of the SCV.

Hinton is a member of the McNeill's Rangers Camp 582 in Moorefield, W.Va. He has participated in several Living History activities, including a memorial and luminary service at Olivet Cemetery in Moorefield, Lee-Jackson dinner at Moorefield; Living History camp at Burlington, W.Va.; Lee-Jackson Memorial Service and parade in Lexington, Va., and Heritage Days Living History camp and parade in Hardy County, W.Va.

Other activities that Hinton has participated in include the Battle of Corrick's Ford memorial service in Parsons, W.Va.; Treasure Mountain Living History and dinner in Franklin, W.Va., memorial service and dedication of monument Seymour Bottom in Cumberland, Md.; Camp Judy Living History and live fire in Arthur, W.Va., and McNeill's Rangers Christmas toy, food, and cash drive in Moorefield.

Hinton is also a member of the 22nd North Carolina re-enactment group and has participated in several battle re-enactments and parades with the group. Some of those include the battles at Gettysburg, Pa.; New Market, Va.; Cedar Creek, Va.; Hanover, Pa.; Sharpsburg, Md.; and Harpers Ferry, W.Va.

Other enactments and parades include the Remembrance Day parade in Gettysburg; Old Bedford Village Living History and battle re-enactments in Bedford, Pa.; Confederate Memorial Service at Mt. Olivet Cemetery in Frederick; Links Golf Tournament Living History in Gettysburg, and a parade and battle reenactment in Romney, W.Va.

Fifteen of Hinton's ancestors from southwestern Virginia, including five of his great-great-great grandfathers, fought for the Confederacy. Hinton is a junior computer engineering major at West Virginia University Institute of Technology in Montgomery, W.Va. He is a 2008 graduate of Preston High School and attends Deep Creek Baptist Church. He is the son of Steve and Pamela Hinton of Horse Shoe Run, W.Va.

Annual Bachtel Reunion Slated In Horse Shoe

The 28th annual Bachtel reunion will be held on Sunday, Aug. 8, at Farmers' Wildlife Park, Horse Shoe Run. A covered-dish meal will begin at 1 p.m.

A program will follow the meal, with awards presented and recognition given to births, deaths, promotions, awards and other significant achievements, and those coming long distances to attend the reunion. Family and group pictures will also be taken.

All descendants of Christian and Sarah and Elijah and Marian Bachtel are welcome.

The John and Paul Bachtel families are in charge of the event, and Gayle Bachtel and Barbara Flinn are the coordinators.

Items Available At Center Hall In Arthurdale

Fresh eggs, local produce, meats, New Day Bakery breads, cheese, homemade pastries, cookies, herbs, spices, and preserves are all available for purchase weekly at Arthurdale Heritage's Center Hall along Rt. 92 in Preston County on Saturdays, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., through October.

Museum hours are noon to 4 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. Tours are available, and include a restored homestead from the nation's first New Deal homestead community project. The volunteer-run Craft Shop is also open noon to 4 p.m. on weekends.

ABRA Bike Race Slated For August In Rowlesburg

The Rowlesburg Tourism and Economic Development Commission recently announced two of the biggest sanctioned bicycle races in West Virginia to be held in Rowlesburg, W.Va.: the Appalachian Champion Race and West Virginia Championship Race will take place on Aug. 14, and the Appalachian Time Trail Race will be held on Sept. 18. The Appalachian Bicycle Racing Association (ABRA) of Morgantown will sponsor both races.

The Appalachian Champion Race on Aug. 14 will start and finish along Cheat River with ridge top views, backcountry roads, and big climbs. Interested persons should preregister for the race on Bikereg.com. The cost to preregister is $20. Race day registration will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m. in the Rowlesburg Park, and will cost $30. There will be no refunds starting two weeks before the event date.

A USA Cycling (USAC) annual license is required for all riders except men's Cat-5 and women's Cat-4. Annual licenses may be purchased on the day of the race, and one-day licenses for the men's Cat-5 and women's Cat-4 can be purchased at the event for $10.

All USAC rules apply, and riders must wear helmets at all times. The course is open to traffic, and persons must obey all traffic regulations. The centerline rule will be enforced, and littering on the course is prohibited. The event will be held rain or shine.

Cash and merchandise prizes will be awarded for various winners of men's and women's races, and medals will be awarded to junior race winners. Prizes will be distributed at the city park within one hour of the posted results, and all unclaimed prizes will be forfeited. The results of the races will be sent to USA-Cycling.org.

Spectators and families are invited to attend. While awaiting the bikers, attendees can go swimming, hiking, and railroad watching at Rowlesburg Park. The Szilagyi Center will also be open, featuring WWII and antique bridge exhibits, as well as a new artist studio, emporium, and café. The town is a Civil War Battle Site, and interested persons can take a trip to the top of Cannon Hill and tour actual battle sites.

Alpine Learning Program Kick-Off Slated For Aug. 3

The Alpine Learning Program (ALP) at Alpine Lake, W.Va., will be starting its second season by offering a series of guest speakers, lectures, and programs during August and September. All of the events are open to the public.

The kick-off speaker is John Blundell, speaking on "Ladies for Liberty: Portraits of Women who made a Difference in American History" on Tuesday, Aug. 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the Alpine Lake Lodge. Blundell is the author of the book Margaret Thatcher: A Portrait of the Iron Lady. He is currently at Alpine Lake completing a follow-up book on his favorite 25 "Margaret Thatchers" of American history from Mercy Otis Warren, Martha Washington, Abigail Adams, and the Grimke Sisters through Bina West-Miller, Madam C.J. Walker, Zora Neale Hurston and Vivien Kellems to Clare Boothe Luce, Ayn Rand, Rose Friedman, and Jane Jacobs.

Formerly the director general of the Institute of Economic Affairs in London for several decades, the speaker now spends much of his time giving public lectures and writing. Blundell and his wife Christine built their home at Alpine Lake in 1991, where they spend part of their summers.

On Tuesday, Aug. 10, at 7:30 p.m., Ellen Rowan will explore the nature of spiritual pilgrimage as compared to walking the Appalachian Trail in her presentation titled "Walking the Camino de Santiago through France and Spain."

With her slides, she will share the trials and benefits of her 6-week hike from France through northern Spain in 2004. Rowan, originally from the Kingwood area, has 10 years of higher education in religion, experience and completed the backpack walk of the Camino de Santiago in May and June of 2004.

Ron Rogers, a nationally known speaker/author on the treatment of alcoholism and drug dependency, will speak on "Substance Abuse and Aging: The Silent Epidemic" on Friday, Aug. 13, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. In this 3-hour program, Rogers will help participants increase their practical understanding of the scope and nature of this problem, which is one of the fastest growing health problems in the country, noted a spokesperson. Rogers spent his career working in the field of substance abuse as a private practitioner, trainer, consultant, clinical instructor and author/speaker.

The ALP programs are primarily scheduled for Tuesday evenings and are open to the public for a $3.00 fee per program (except for two special event programs), which is payable at the door. Programs are held in the Rhododendron Room at Alpine Lake.

Devin Michael "TUNA" Green

January 10, 1985 - July 20, 2010

The family of Devin Michael "TUNA" Green would like to express their sincere appreciation to everyone for their expressions of sympathy, encouragement and their prayers during his passing on July 20, 2010.

Thank you to all who sent cards, flowers, contributions, food, and for all the phone calls.

Special thanks to Rev. David Spence/Cornerstone Community Church for his support and comforting words at the memorial service. The deepest appreciation to Rotruck-Lobb Funeral Home and staff for going above and beyond a well-organized, comforting service. Special thanks to the Kingwood Christian Fellowship Church for the use of their facility for the dinner following the service, and all to who volunteered their time.

Thank you to everyone who helped in any way to make Devin's celebration of life one he would be so happy about. Devin loved you all, and your kindness will live forever in our hearts. He will be greatly missed.

Antique Tractor Show Slated For July 31 in W.Va.

The Preston County Antique Tractor and Vehicle Show will be held on Saturday, July 31, and Sunday, Aug. 1, at the Buckwheat Festival Fairgrounds in Kingwood, W.Va. The show is sponsored by the Preston County Antique Tractor and Machinery Association.

Beginning on Saturday at 7 a.m., antique farm tractors, cars, hit and miss engines, and machinery will be on display. This year, the association will have a 16-year production of the Farm-all H tractors.

Refreshments and dinner will be available all day, as well as items from craft and flea market vendors. Entertainment will be provided for children, including horse-drawn wagon rides and a straw coin search. Demonstrations will include apple butter making and oat threshing. The Parade of Tractors will begin at 1:15 p.m.

The public is invited to attend. Admission is $2 per adult and free for children under 12. For additional information, persons may call Butch Mayfield at 304-698-4039, or Melissa Bolyard at 304-379-4328.

The Preston County Antique Tractor and Machinery Association was formed in 2005 by a small group of local individuals who shared a common interest and goal: antique farm items and the preservation of the fine items used by Preston County ancestors, said a spokesperson of the group. The association is focused on educating the youth about the farm implements of the past and the improvements of these farm items as agriculture moved to the future, according to the spokesperson. The association is hoping to have a building and a museum sometime in the future.

Wiles, Watkins Reunion Slated

The 98th annual Wiles and Watkins family reunion will be held on Sunday, Aug. 15, at Mount View Methodist Church, located at the top of Number 4 Hill in Tunnelton. The event will start with a basket lunch at 1 p.m.

A silent auction of items both homemade and donated by reunion attendees will be held. Also scheduled are a quilt raffle, white elephant raffle, an awards presentation, and a horseshoe tournament.

AURORA/EGLON

REUNIONS

Relatives of the late Joe and Emma (Parks) Strawser are invited to the old Strawser farm on Saturday, July 31. A dinner will be shared at 638 Upperman Road, near Deer Park, at about noon. Those attending are asked to bring any memorabilia and food to share. Tableware and beverages will be provided.

A reunion of the descendants of Joseph Rembold is planned for this Sunday, Aug. 1, at 1 p.m. in the Bethel United Methodist Church pavilion. Those attending are asked to bring a lunch to share.

The 28TH annual reunion of the descendants of Elijah and Marion (Houser) Bachtel will be held at the Farmer's Wildlife Park, Horse Shoe Run, on Sunday, Aug. 8, at 1 p.m.

All of the Mullenax family members are invited to the annual reunion on Sunday, Aug. 8, at 12:30 p.m. at the Mtn. Grove pavilion. Those attending should bring a covered dish to be shared and an item to be auctioned.

CARD SHOWER

A card shower to celebrate Jessie Federow's birthday is planned for Monday, Aug. 2. Her address is 24051 George Washington Highway, Aurora, WV 26705.

AMBOY FESTIVAL

The annual ice cream festival will be held this Saturday, July 31, beginning at 5 p.m. There will be barbecue pork sandwiches, hot dogs and chili dogs, french fries, macaroni salad, and homemade cakes, pies, and ice cream.

CHET ROTH MUSIC

Those interested in country, gospel, and/or bluegrass music are invited to the Mtn. Grove pavilion this Saturday, July 31. Chet Roth and his gang will be performing beginning at 10 a.m. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish to share, lawn chairs, and extra instruments for "jamming."

60TH ANNIVERSARY

Scott and Dean (Hauser) Sisler will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary this Sunday, Aug. 1, with an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. at their home near Aurora. If it is raining, the event will be moved to St. Paul's Lutheran Church nearby.

4-H COUNCIL MEETS

A 4-H Council Circle will be held at Joe and Stacey Fint's field behind Donna Jean's Restaurant, Aurora. All Aurora Pioneer 4-H Club members are invited, as well as alumni and any potential new members. The circle will be held this Sunday evening, Aug. 1, at 6:30 p.m. The group will roast s'mores and hot dogs and be given a chance to meet and talk with present members. Those with questions should contact a current member.

CLASS OF '65

The Aurora High School class of 1965 recently met for its 45-year reunion at the Stemple Ridge Church pavilion. A total of 16 classmates attended, and the Stemple Ridge Ladies Aid prepared and served the meal. Guests of honor for the evening were former teachers Martha Bolyard and Virginia Martin and Virginia's daughter, Sue Mayne.

The following out-of-town classmates attended: Tom Simmons, Mantua, Ohio; Junior Rinehart, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Glen Kope, and Rodney and Sherry Hauser, all of Oakland, Bud and Erma Rinehart Kennedy, Myrtle Beach, S.C.; Joyce Rinehart Huffman, Bartlett, Tenn.; Barbara Rinehart Williams, Aurora, and Scott and Sharon Teets, Jefferson City, Tenn. Local attendees were Don and Lois Beckman, Guy and Shirley Lipscomb, Allen and Carolyn Mullenax, Nandy (Spaid) Stemple, Selma (Auvil) Cummings, Stanley, Yvonne, Josh, and Dayton Moats, Mary Stemple and her daughter Melody Hubbard, and Everett and Shirley (Dumire) Blamble.

BIRTHS

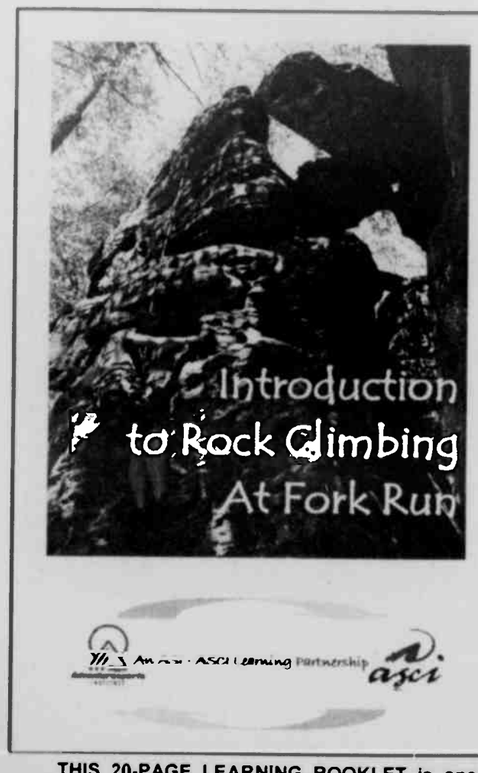
Learning Partnership Formed By GC Adventuresports, ACSI

Officials from Garrett College's Adventuresports Institute (ASI) and the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI) have announced the signing of an agreement, referred to as the ASI-ASCI Learning Partnership, that will facilitate a working relationship between the two organizations in an effort to capitalize on each organization's strengths.

"ASCI is in so many ways a laboratory in which students majoring in Garrett's Adventure Sports program can get valuable hands-on experience," said ASCI executive director Matt Taylor. "Be it instructing clients in rock climbing or mountain biking, helping to organize a major whitewater event like the 2010 Open Canoe National Championships on Aug 6-8, or working at our client reservation and retail operations desk, students who take advantage of this great opportunity are uniquely rewarded."

The Learning Partnership provides qualified Garrett College ASI students with summer employment as instructors and facilitators. They teach the basic skills of rock climbing, rappelling, and bouldering; mountain biking technique; geo-caching and orienteering; and organize nature hikes at ASCI's Fork Run Recreation Area.

"Our students have been working as whitewater and climbing guides at ASCI since it opened in 2007," said Mike Logsdon, ASI executive director. "But this recent expanded relationship will give our ASI students more opportunity to practice the skills they are taught in our college degree program, and the skills of teaching others how to do various adventure sports properly, using proper equipment and technique, while paying the highest degree of attention to risk management and client safety. Our staff has also written and produced a series of learning booklets that are issued to guests so that they might get a deeper understanding of the various skills we teach."



One of the points addressed in both ASI's and ASCI's mission is to educate the general public m an effort to foster increased participation in adventure sport activities. To this point, Logsdon went on to say: "As part of the routine in working with our clients, our staff encourages their guest paddlers, climbers, bikers, or hikers to go to the 'next level,' so to speak, and seek one of the private guiding operations in our region in order to continue to grow in the sport. It is obvious to those of us who live and work here that our region possesses world-class paddling, climbing, and biking venues and along with those venues, world class businesses that make their livelihood guiding and instructing the public. But it may be less obvious to our visitors. So, we make it a point to encourage them to shop around while they're in the area and check out other exciting adventurous opportunities."

Taylor added, "One of the strengths that ASCI brings to the table is its experience and capacity in marketing, customer service, and our overall commitment to promoting adventure sports in the Deep Creek Lake region. And it's not enough to have a clever marketing program or to send follow-up e-mails. In the end, it's all about the importance of delivering a quality product and serving our guests in a way that will generate word-of-mouth referrals. We want visitors and year-round residents to know the amazing world of adventure, and the opportunities for learning afforded by organizations like ASI, ASCI, and the many privately owned local adventure sports businesses."

The key point of customer service, says Logsdon, is a focus upon which ASI places a lot of effort in its training.

"Our ASI professors love it when a student gets excited about being an organizer and leader of activities," said Logsdon. "Our students have matured when they are so happy to have a mom and a dad and their one, two, or three kids all smiling because they just learned how to climb a rock face; that they have helped people turn what was once possibly a fear into an understanding and an enjoyment."

More information about ASI, ASCI, and their partnership can be found by telephoning Garrett College at 301-387-3330 or ASCI at 301-387-3250, or visiting their web sites at www.adventuresportsi.org and www.adventuresportscenter.com.

THIS 20-PAGE LEARNING BOOKLET is one of several that have been written and produced by Garrett College's Adventuresports Institute (ASI) staff for the ASI/Adventuresports Center International Learning Partnership. Booklets for rock climbing and rappelling, mountain biking, orienteering, geo-caching, and rivers are issued to guests for the purpose of enhancing their learning experience.

Humane Society Event Deemed As "Dog-Gone" Fun

The Garrett County Humane Society's "DOG-GONE FUNdraiser" was, indeed, dog-gone fun, according to president Lisa Baker. The group's annual July fundraiser was held last Saturday at the fairgrounds in McHenry.

"Even with the high temps and new building under construction on the grounds, over 100 people came out to support us" Baker said. "We made sure to have drinking water and small pools for the dogs to cool off, and there was plenty of shade in the beef barn and show ring areas, where several events were held."

The Benefit Dog Walk brought in more than $600, and the Costume Contest, Doggie Snow Cone Stand and face paintings (by Melanie Cooper) brought in several hundred more dollars.

Baker deemed the new Meet the Breed event a "big success," with over 40 breeds of dogs on site. Their owners were available to answer any questions visitors had about their pets.

"Many were not real common breeds, and we had a few cats too," Baker said. "Our Deb Clatterbuck did a great job putting it together, and next year we will have even more breeds on site."

The event's three raffle ticket winners were Liz McDowell and Ron Boyer, Grantsville, first place, who donated their winnings back to the Humane Society and two other organizations; Mrs. Lucas, Pittsburgh, Pa., second place, who donated a portion of her winnings back; and Lisa Janoske, Oakland, third place.

Baker noted that several businesses and individuals contributed to the event through their donations, time, and talents. Those include Arrowhead and Beverly Haine, who took care of the snack bar; local students; GCHS members; Officer Chris Helbig, who provided a service dog demonstration, and Costume Contest judges Commissioner Fred Holliday, Ellen Fritz, and Sheldon Green.

"It also took lots of people to sell raffle tickets, set up, and tear down (thanks to Garrett County Jail inmates), and we appreciate all their help," Baker said. "We hope even more people will come to the event next year in late July."

Persons interested in helping/donating to next year are asked to call Baker at 301-334-2738.

Hoyes, Paradise Chapels To Hold Combined Service

The Deep Creek United Methodist Ministries of Hoyes and Paradise Church will celebrate the completion of Bible school with a combined service at the Paradise Chapel this Sunday, Aug. 1. The Paradise Chapel is located on Sand Flat Road, and the service will begin at 10:30 a.m. There will be no service held at the Hoyes Chapel.

The children will be sharing their lessons and singing some of the music learned at Bible school. The sacrament of Holy Communion will also be shared. Following the service, a picnic will be shared. The menu is fried chicken, pasta with tomato sauce, and beverages. Those attending should also bring covered dish meals. There will be a time for games and recreation following the meal.

Those with questions should contact Pastor Amy Chesla at 412-817-5029.

New Homes

from the 2009 IRC."

As a result of the amendment deleting the requirement, one-family and two-family homes will not be required to have automatic sprinkler systems.

Torrington stressed that systems will still be required for multiple family homes (i.e. townhouses) and modular homes. The county tried to include modular homes in the amendment, but this type of stick-built structure falls under state regulations.

The state, however, does not require sprinkler systems in singlewide and doublewide mobile homes.

"We went so far as to contact Secretary Skinner, Department of Housing and Community Development, about getting the modular homes exempted, but he said we cannot override the Maryland code this comes under," Commissioner Fred Holliday explained.

Gregg said the commissioners adamantly opposed the issue of requiring that stick-built homes have sprinklers because of the additional cost to homeowners and the infringement on their personal property rights.

"We certainly are concerned about public safety," Gregg said. "We are also concerned about having what we consider unnecessary costs."

Holliday acknowledged that the decision to opt out of the IRC requirement was a little tough because it was a "safety versus economics" issue.

"We've have not had those problems here, and I pray we don't," he said about fires in newly constructed homes.

A local contractor Roger Sines noted at the recent public hearing that it would cost potential homeowners without public water access between $8,000 and $20,000 to install sprinkler systems. The cost would be prohibitive for many of them and would be detrimental to the local construction industry and economy, Sines indicated.

Gregg said on Tuesday that where there is a public water system, installing a sprinkler system in a home would be less costly and probably do-able.

"[But] quite frankly, that's where you would least need sprinkler systems because of the availability of public water and adequate volume," he noted.

Commissioner Denny Glofelty said it should be his right to have or not have a sprinkler system in his home.

"Just because modulars have to do it, we shouldn't hold everybody else hostage," he added.

The commissioner said he was "really aggravated" that the state requires that modular homes have sprinklers, while mobile homes do not.

"Because they're the ones that really need it – the protection – for the young children in mobile homes," Glotfelty said.

The commissioners also unanimously approved a local building code amendment pertaining to the reconstruction of fire damaged structures. Local resident Rodney King pointed out at the recent hearing that the county had no regulations dealing with the issue.

King acknowledge that he just presumed the contractor who worked on his fire damaged home would replace the charred wood. But, instead, he simply built over the charred areas, creating safety concerns and odor problems. Because the county had no code regarding reconstruction of fire damaged structures, the contractor was not obligated to redo the job.

King asked the commissioners to add the amendment so that other home owners would be spared the problems he went though.

"We believe adding this new item to the Chapter 17, Structural Tests and Special Inspections, will enhance our efforts in identifying charred and smoked wood components that may be reused in reconstruction of fire damage structures and provide some level of comfort to those who face the reconstruction effort," Torrington said this week.

The commissioners next public hearing is scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 3, beginning at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Oakland.

path with lighting will be built from the residence halls to the main campus to enable students to avoid the construction.

"When necessary, the college is going to provide a shuttle service, but our goal is to keep students off Mosser Road, essentially," Gilman added.

She also noted that the Garrett County Roads Department may install flashing yellow lights on Mosser to alert motorists that there is construction in that area.

"The college is extremely grateful to the county for your support in the development of the complex, and we truly believe it's going to be a major asset for health and wellness for the whole community," Gilman told the commissioners.

The state has earmarked $15.5 million for the CARC project, and Garrett County will contribute the remaining $7.5 million.

Gilman also introduced the college's new president, Dr. Richard MacLennan, to the commissioners and other county officials. MacLennan has visited the college several times since being appointed in April, but came on campus permanently on July 19, Gilman said.

She noted that the president had his first, almost full day of CARC briefing on Monday with the architects, contractors, and college staff.

"I don't have a lot to report; I'm doing a lot of learning right now," MacLennan told the commissioners.

He did note that enrollment for the fall semester is "on par" with last year's figures.

The president indicated that a big part of his decision to come to Garrett County was based on the strong partnership between the college, county, and local agencies.

"It's really something I have not seen in any of the other communities I have lived in, to the extent that I have in Garrett County," he said.

MacLennan added that he views the college as being part of the solution in creating access to the rest of the county for education and being part of its economic development.

'The college is made up of a lot people who are committed to the mission of Garrett College and of this county, and it's just a pleasure to be here," the president said.

and her extensive background in chamber work, along with her drive and passion for the job, make her the ideal person to fill our presidency. I look forward to working with her m my new role at the chamber."

Prior to her work with northern Palm Beach County, Christian held the position of senior vice president at Iowa Quad Cities Chamber of Commerce in Davenport, Iowa. She directed all activities and programs of the chamber division, including government affairs, membership, small business council, and networking events.

She began her chamber career at Northern Kentucky Chamber of Commerce in Fort Mitchell, Ky. There, she served as director of business development and vice president of business development.

'The chamber put a lot of effort into the search for our president and we feel that Nicole is highly qualified for the position. We are looking forward to her arrival," Tony Doerr, chairman of the chamber, said.

Christian is a graduate of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's Institute for Organization Management, and she was awarded Certified Chamber Executive Designation by the American Chamber of Commerce Executives. She served on the board of directors of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives in 2007 and has served on the Council on Small Business at the U.S. Chamber since 2000.

Shroyer was located just north of the Pennsylvania line after he left the scene where he wrecked the vehicle he had been driving on Route 669. Pennsylvania State Police observed items at the accident scene that appeared to be linked to the robbery and Maryland State Police responded to follow up.

Police interviewed witnesses, seized evidence from various locations in Pennsylvania (including the pellet gun and knife used), and took statements from Shroyer, leading to charges being filed in Garrett County District Court in 2008.

Indictments were returned by the March 2010 grand jury, bringing the cases to the Circuit Court. Welch said she utilized interstate procedures to have Shroyer brought from Pennsylvania.

In an unrelated case this week, Sherbin sentenced Robert Mitchell Sites, 46, Oakland, to 18 months in the Garrett County Jail for violating his probation.

In 2008, Sites pleaded guilty to driving suspended and to providing a false/fictitious name when stopped for a traffic violation. He was then sentenced to two years in the Division of Corrections, which was suspended, and placed on two years of probation.

While on probation, Sites was charged and convicted again of driving on a suspended out-of-state license, according to the state's attorney.

MTN. LAKE PARK WATER SYSTEM
NOTICE OF VIOLATION
Surface Water Treatment Technique

The Garrett County Department of Public Utilities is providing the following notice regarding the Mtn. Lake Park Water System. The springs for the water system have been evaluated for protection against surface water influence as required by the Surface Water Treatment Rule (SWTR), as adopted in the Code of Maryland, COMAR 26.04.01, Quality of Drinking Water in Maryland. The springs were determined to be under the direct influence of surface water by the Maryland Department of the Environment. As a result, this source requires additional treatment, such as filtration, or replacement with a protected water source. Federal and state regulations require that the Mtn. Lake Park Water System install filtration.

What is the Department of Public Utilities doing?

The Mtn. Lake Park Water System disinfects the drinking water that is produced from the spring. The drinking water is tested monthly for coliform bacteria and results have met state and federal standards.

The Department of Public Utilities is in the process of replacing the water supply with a protected water source.

What should I do?

People with severely compromised immune systems, infants, and some elderly may be at increased risk. These individuals should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. General guidelines on ways to lessen the risk of infection by microbes are available from EPA's Safe Drinking Water Act Hotline (800-426-4791). If you have specific health concerns, consult your physician.

What does this mean?

This is not an emergency. This notification is provided to advise Mtn. Lake Park Water customers of the treatment requirements for their water system. Any questions or concerns should be directed to Allen Festerman at 301-387-9141. Please share this information with others who may find it useful.

Thank You

The family of Erwin Stemple wish to thank everyone who has helped us in the sudden and tragic death of our loved one. We would like to start by thankmg everyone who showed up to help at the accident. You were making hay, received a phone call of the accident, left your tractors running and came to help any way possible, while others stopped what they were doing and showed up almost instantly to support us. The Union Ambulance, Aurora Fire Department, and volunteers from Mt. Grove were on the scene and quickly assisted in every way.

To the friends who took family members to the hospital, picked up family on vacation, stayed with Arlene, and watched Abigail, Thank You does not seem adequate. This Stemple Ridge Community and beyond has proven that they love and care for their own.

Thank you to everyone who gave food, flowers, donations, sent cards, visited, and prayed for us. We truly appreciate each and every act of kindness.

Thank you to Pastor Foy, the Masonic Lodge of Rowlesburg, and the volunteers in the choir for the beautiful service. The honorary pallbearers will never be forgotten for the love and the appropriate way you displayed your respect for Erwin. You have never looked better.

A special thank-you to Scott and Sam of Hinkle Funeral Home. We appreciate your love and concern during this difficult time. We know that this wasn't easy for you because you also lost a good friend.

A special note to the Preston County Assessors Office. Erwin was satisfied with his job, but loved the people he worked beside. His friends were at the hospital with us and have never left our side since. He enjoyed your company, loved the laughs, and took pride in the fact he called you family. The love and grief we share for Erwin is a bond we will never lose.

We would like to close by using a passage from a letter that Erwin's son-in-law Rick wrote for the funeral.

He wasn't a good son	He was magnificent
He wasn't a good father	He was great
He wasn't a good husband	He was wonderful
he wasn't a good brother	He was excellent
He wasn't a good family member	He was the family
He wasn't just a community volunteer	He was the community

We thank you all for the love and support you have shown us. Please continue to pray for us, for the weeks and months to come will be the hardest.

All programs meet or begin at the Discovery Center unless otherwise noted. Further information can be obtained by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067.

Friday, July 30

• 8 a.m. – Let's Go Birding at Friend's Delight. Participants will learn about local breeding birds with one of Garrett County's avid birders. Learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs while walking through Friend's Delight. Guests should bring binoculars and meet at the Friend's Store in Sang Run. (90 min.)

• 1 p.m. – Black Bears and You. Naturalists will lead a hike along the Snakeroot Trail in search of black bears. Information about black bears and their habitat will be shared. Participants must have proper hiking footwear. (90 min.)

Saturday, July 31

• 11 a.m. – Little Guard. Children ages 5-7 are invited to meet at the beach and learn the skills of a lifeguard. Kids will run a relay, practice throwing a lifesaving device, learn how to recognize a troubled swimmer and more. No swimming required. Cost is $5 and includes a Tshirt and whistle. (60 min.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Wade-In at the Beach. Guests may meet at the beach area for a wade-in. Participants wade in streams, rivers, or any other waterway until they can no longer see their shoes. This is known as the "sneaker index." The practice helps the park personnel monitor the lake's health each week. (60 min.)

• 9 p.m. – Campfire Program: Night Sounds with Aaron Holochwost. Guests may meet at the Discovery Center.

Sunday, Aug. 1

• 11 a.m. – Birding 101. Learn birding basics with the naturalist: How to notice identifying marks in the field, basic calls, and the top 10 common birds. (60 min.)

Maryland Designated Finalist For Race To The Top Program

Maryland has been named a finalist for the federal government's $4.3 billion Race to the Top (RTTT) education mitiative.

Education Secretary Arne Duncan made the announcement Tuesday at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C. The unprecedented federal program is aimed at boosting student achievement, reducing gaps in achievement among student subgroups, turning around struggling schools, and improving the teaching profession. Maryland is eligible for up to $250 million in the grant program's second round.

A delegation led by Governor Martin O'Malley and State Superintendent of Schools Nancy S. Grasmick will head to Washington, D.C., next month to be interviewed by U.S. Department of Education officials as part of the grant selection process.

"We are honored to have been selected as a finalist and want to acknowledge all of our partners whose work made this recognition possible," Governor O'Malley said. "In Maryland, this process has always been about more than simply a race for education dollars. We are developing long-term, strategic policies that ensure every child in Maryland receives the world class education they deserve. Maryland remains the nation's number one public school system, and it's our goal to allow every Maryland student the opportunity to compete globally.

"We are grateful for the opportunity to advance as a finalist state and look forward to the work ahead of us in the coming weeks," he said.

Grasmick said Maryland's plan builds on the state's strengths as the nation's leading public school system, while targeting areas that have vexed all states: strengthening achievement for all students and reducing gaps in performance among student subgroups.

"Maryland is perfectly positioned to move our schools and our students to the next level in achievement," Dr. Grasmick said. "Our reforms have already had a positive effect on student growth over the past several years. In this third wave of reform, we intend to maintain our momentum through strengthened data systems, improved instruction, and attracting and maintaining a stronger educational workforce."

Federal officials are expected to award the next round of RTTT grants in September. Delaware and Tennessee were the only grantees selected in the first round of the RTTT initiative earlier this year. Maryland did not apply in the first round of the competition.

According to Duncan's office, Maryland spent the past eight months crafting a detailed grant proposal designed to continue the momentum of the nation's number-one ranked education system, using a collaborative and transparent process. Twenty-two of Maryland's 24 school systems joined in the application process, along with the Baltimore Teachers Union, the Prince George's Education Association, and scores of other state education and business groups.

Governor O'Malley in June signed an executive order creating the Maryland Council for Educator Effectiveness. The Council, consisting of teachers, principals, education experts, and elected officials, will spend the next six months developing a model evaluation system for educators required by the Education Reform Act of 2010. The governor expects to name the members of the council in the next few days.

Maryland's primary RTTT reforms will:

•Revise the PreK-12 Maryland State Curriculum, assessments, and accountability system based on the Common Core Standards to assure that all graduates are college- and career-ready. The state board in June endorsed the Common Core Standards.

•Build a statewide technology infrastructure that links all data elements with analytic and instructional tools to monitor and promote student achievement.

Town Hall

LOCH LYNN HEIGHTS

The annual town picnic is planned for Friday, Aug. 20.

Residents are reminded that zoning permits are required for most construction projects and to inquire before beginning any project.

Garage/yard sale signs: The ordinance adopted by the council regarding the signs is posted on the bulletin board at the town hall. Those with questions should call the town hall at 301-334-8339.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 3, at 6 p.m.

The Planning Commission meeting is set for Monday, Aug. 16, at 6 p.m.

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK

Grass clippings and leaves will be picked up on Friday each week. Leaves and clippings are to be free of sticks and stones.

It is asked that these leaves not be put along the street until the night before the pick-up. Failure to comply with any of the provisions of this notice is a violation of the Nuisance Ordinance and the Debris and Trash Ordinance. Violators will be ticketed and fined without further notice.

OAKLAND

The next mayor and town council meeting is slated for Monday, Aug. 2, beginning at 7 p.m. at the town hall.

The tentative guests are as follows: Rich Rohrbaugh, grease trap waiver request; Fred Gregg, direction for the Appeals Board/Intentions of the role of Planning Commission; Gregan Crawford, candidate for county commissioner; Traci Royce, candidate for register of wills, and Bob Gatto, candidate for county commissioner.

The regular agenda is as follows: approval of minutes, utility bill adjustments, discussion of metal storage building at the wastewater plant, welcome to Oakland Billboards at monitoring signage, approval of bills, and committee reports.

James "Smokey" Stanton
for Maryland House of Delegates District 1A
As a candidate for House of Delegates, I want to hear from you!
Question #1: Taxes
a. Some believe property assessments and taxes are too high, especially with the recent drop in home values. One proposed solution is to pass a law that requires reassessment of residential properties when median home prices in a county fall by more than 10% from the previous year.
What do you think?
b. Most retirees live on fixed incomes, but the tax assessment of their homes keeps rising. Some believe the Homestead Tax Credit "cap" should be lowered from the present 10% to 5%. This would reduce the tax burden and help retirees and senior citizens stay in their own homes.

Book Discussion Group To Begin At G'ville Library

A book discussion group will be held at the Grantsville library the second Friday of every month beginning on Sept. 10 and continuing through June 10, 2011. The group will meet from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and members are welcome to bring a brown bag lunch.

The group is open to anyone who likes reading and discussing various books in different genres.

The moderator will be author, freelance writer, and online writing instructor Sandra Miller-Louden. She can be contacted with any questions at 814-662-1314 or 412-477-4299.

A brief survey to gauge participation and involvement is available at the Grantsville circulation desk, and patrons are asked to complete the form and return it to the desk by Friday, Aug. 6.

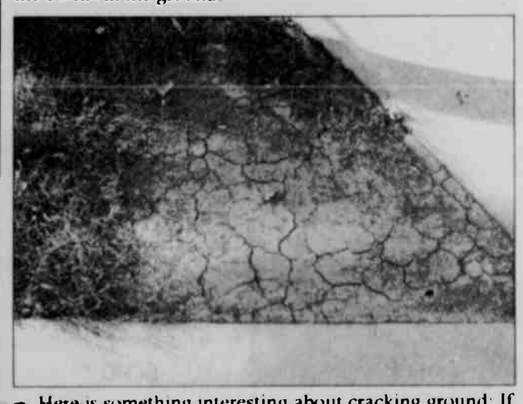
CRACKING GROUND AND GRAINS

Q. When it's hot and doesn't rain for weeks, cracks appear in the ground. What causes that?



A. The cracks are caused by shrinkage as the ground dries. When something "dries out," it shrinks. You can see the very same thing happening with Play-Doh™; it also happens to wood and baked goods like cake and bread.

When atoms come together to form a solid, they combine into discrete grains that stay together. In sand and some rocks like granite, the grains are big enough to see with the eye. In others, like shale or basalt, the grains are much smaller, but can be seen under a microscope. A soil particle big enough to see will generally contain lots of grains, and where grains touch are of course the grain boundaries.

For most materials, water forms films around the grains. With a little water, there are very thin films around grains that hold the grains together. With more water, there are thick films that can act to push the grains apart. Building a sandcastle shows this well: too dry and the sand won't stick, too wet and it flows. Motion of one part relative to the next occurs along the grain boundaries, or by breaking grains to form new boundaries. Any movement of earth – even a footprint in the mud – will occur along grain boundaries.

Water in the grain boundaries takes up a little bit of space and makes the solid slightly larger. Take some water away and the inter-grain spacing gets smaller. When water is removed the remaining material shrinks back together. Over many hot, dry days, a lot of water is removed through evaporation and transpiration from the ground and a lot of shrinkage occurs. In sand, the grains all come apart. In others like clay, the grains mostly stick together, but as the shrinkage happens, it forms cracks.

Imagine taking a loaf of bread and letting it dry out. Each slice get smaller as the water content decreases. If the middles were somehow held in place, the gaps between the slices would get bigger. Those gaps are just like the cracks in the ground.

– Here is something interesting about cracking ground: If you look at cracks closely, you'll notice one of two patterns: a bunch of hexagons and pentagons, or cracks that are parallel and perpendicular to some boundary. These patterns occur whenever there is shrinkage. The adjacent photo shows both. Right at the cement sidewalk (upper right and bottom), the cracks are parallel or perpendicular to the sidewalk. Elsewhere, other cracks are combinations of hexagons and pentagons. This happens because in the middle of a region of ground, there are randomly scattered "fixed" points, and the stuck-together grains contract toward the nearest fixed point.

In wood, long thin cells run parallel to the stem. "With the grain" is the direction along which the length of the cells are aligned. It's easier to split or chisel wood parallel to these cells than across them, so wood-splitting is done in the long direction. Seasoned wood that's ready to use for building a fire has a lot of cracks in it, but freshly cut wood does not, because of the water present.

With moisture in the ground, the opposite extreme comes when too much water is present. The grain boundaries expand more and more until they weaken, and move very easily. When a lot move all at once, we say a landslide occurs. Your footprint in wet mud looks like a landslide to the tiny bugs nearby. It's basically the same thing. Excess water enables grains to slip easily past one another.

When little brother forgets to put the Play-Doh™ back in its container, and it goes from being squishy to rock-like, it will still be good for studying grain boundaries.

Man Sentenced To 18 Months For Malicious Destruction Of Property

An Oakland man was sentenced to 18 months in recent Garrett County District Court hearings, with Judge Leonard J. Eiswert presiding. All but three months of the 18-month sentence was suspended for Scot Anthony Bowman, 20. He was found guilty on a malicious destruction of property charge that stemmed from a March incident at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland. Garrett County sheriff's deputies were the arresting officers.

Bowman was reportedly intoxicated and knowingly broke several candles, candlestick holders, and a door while inside the church. Bowman was accompanied by another person who witnessed the destruction and stated that Bowman admitted to being intoxicated. He is ordered to complete 24 months of supervised probation, to be monitored through the Maryland Division of Parole and Probation. He was fined and ordered to pay restitution of $1,000 to St. Matthew's.

Quency Elroy Barnett, 18, Baltimore, was found guilty on a second degree escape charge. While in the custody of Savage Mtn. Youth Center, Barnett was granted a four-day home visit from which he did not return on schedule. The escape was investigated by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. Barnett was sentenced to 30 days of which was recorded as time served. He was also fined $57.50 in court costs.

William Nikolas Evans, 25, Kitzmiller, was found guilty on a theft less than $1,000 charge. He was sentenced to one year, with one year suspended. He was also placed on one year of unsupervised probation and fined $257.50. The charge stems from a February incident investigated by Maryland State Police. Evans reportedly stole a snowboard from the Wisp Resort ski lodge.

Bill Joseph Oros, 41, New Salem, Pa., was found guilty on a charge of theft less $500 value. He was sentenced to one year with 11 months 23 days suspended and was placed on one year of unsupervised probation. He was given a probation before judgment (PBJ) verdict on a driving on a suspended license charge and was sentenced to 60 days with 53 suspended to run concurrent with the previous jail time. He was not prosecuted on DUI, DWI, and related driving violations.

Karol Allen Crosco, 34, Oakland, was given a stet verdict on charges of manufacturing and counterfeiting currency and possession/issue of forged currency. He was charged by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office in May after it was reported that Crosco had allegedly tried to exchange a forged $100 bill for a real one at the local First United Bank. The conditions of his stet are that he obey all laws and complete 40 hours of community service.

Joe LeGrande, 24, Brooklyn, N.Y., was given a stet verdict on a charge of theft of $500 plus value. He was charged in August 2009 after he was discovered to be one of two suspects who used counterfeit traveler's checks to purchase electronics at various Wal-Marts and exchange them for cash at separate locations. The case was handled by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and the Garrett Bureau of Investigation. LeGrande was identified as one of the men in the business surveillance video. The conditions of his stet are that he obey all laws and pay restitution of $675.22 to the local Wal-Mart.

HOT DOGS FOR HOSPICE fundraiser will be held on Thursday, Aug. 5, and Friday, Aug. 6, at the Mid-Towns and Oakland offices from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Hospice will be selling hot dogs, chili dogs, chips, and soda, with many prizes to be given away. "Hospice sincerely appreciates the staff and management of the First United Bank & Trust sponsoring this event. The money raised will help Hospice to care for the terminally ill in Garrett County," Hospice executive director Brenda Butscher said. Pictured above are Butscher and Kristie Kitzmiller, general manager/sales of Manor Home Center, with the Yard-Man electric push lawn mower. Pictured below are Chuck McCubbin, who made the bench; Linda Sines, CSO of First United; and Kristi Rhodes, head teller of the bank with a handcrafted Brazilian cherry bench. Aside from the mower and bench, also on the raffle ticket is a handmade quilt given by an anonymous donor.

Matthew Joseph Damanski, 21, Oakland, was given a stet verdict on charges of possession of marijuana and possession of paraphernalia. The charges stem from an April incident in Deer Park. Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a report of suspicious persons in the area, where four people were located, and Damanski admitted to being in possession of the CDS after the deputy questioned the suspects. The conditions of his stet are to obey all laws.

Paul Elwood Liller III, 27, Oakland, was not prosecuted on eight counts of use of personal credit card, six counts of theft less than $100, theft scheme less $100, theft scheme less then $1,000, theft scheme between 1K to 10K, three counts of fraud per identification information theft, and six counts use/disclosure of credit card numbers. Charges stem from an April investigation into the theft of three credit cards from Liller's relative. When confronted with the incident, Liller admitted to taking and using Sears, Capital One, and AAA cards. He was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Kristy Lynn Meadows, 32, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a second degree assault charge. The charge stemmed from a May domestic dispute investigated by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Dina Diana Mary Mesa, 27, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a second degree assault charge. She was charged by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in June after a domestic dispute involving a female victim.

DUI/DWI HEARINGS

The following driving while under the influence (DUI) and driving while impaired (DWI) cases were heard in recent District Court proceedings, with Judge Eiswert presiding.

Samuel VanHess Butler III, 52, Maryland, was found guilty on a DUI charge and sentenced to three years, with two years six months suspended. Following the six months, which will be served on house arrest, he will complete three years of supervised probation. Butler was also fined $1,057.50. He was not prosecuted on a DWI. Charges stem from a March traffic stop by Maryland State Police.

Jason Robert Finch, 28, Oakland, was found guilty on DUI and possession of paraphernalia charges. He was sentenced to one year, with 11 months 26 days suspended. He was also ordered to complete two years of supervised probation. He was not prosecuted for DWI and possession of marijuana. Charges stem from a March arrest by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

David Jeremy Parks, 32, Gypsy, W.Va., was given a PBJ on a DWI. He was sentenced to 60 days with 37 suspended, and one year of unsupervised probation. He was not prosecuted on CDS possession of paraphernalia, DUI, driving on a suspended license, and related driving violations. The charges stem from a January 2009 incident that was investigated by Maryland State Police.

Parks was pulled over by an MSP trooper, and he reportedly traded seats with his passenger before the trooper reached the vehicle. Parks was determined to be intoxicated, and his vehicle was searched. The search revealed open beer in the vehicle and two syringes in the glove box.

Jarrod Bryan Bever, 32, Maryland, was given a PBJ on a DWI charge. He was fined $307.50 and placed on one year of unsupervised probation. The charges stem from a May traffic stop by MSP.

Lauren Hope Bonar, 27, Maryland, was given a stet on DUI and DWI charges. The terms of her stet are that she obey all laws and attend alcohol education classes. She was charged by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in May.

Are there simple things that we take for granted in our lives? Do we overlook the fact that the ordinary activities throughout our day can delight and mean the most to us? Consider Psalm 118:24, "This is the day the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it." Watch for the moments to treasure; give thanks for the simple things. Rejoice with God at your house of worship this week!

Be Careful

Taking risks is a necessary and unavoidable part of life. Every time we sit down to eat or take a ride in an automobile, we are taking risks. But we minimize those risks by smelling our food before we eat it and by driving safely and wearing our seat belts. While we cannot completely abolish risk from our lives, there are many simple and straightforward ways that we can minimize them. We all know, or should know, that the risks imposed by smoking and eating unhealthy foods are significant and far outweigh any benefit we receive from them. The rules for living a healthy, low-risk lifestyle are pretty simple and straightforward: Eat right, exercise, get enough sleep, avoid recreational drugs and overconsumption of alcohol, avoid unsafe sexual activities, and drive carefully. This may sound a lot like what your mother has been saying for years, and with good reason. Mothers know that life is inherently risky and they usually make every effort to safeguard their children. We should all remember that life is a precious gift, and our life is not ours to throw away on risky endeavors or frivolous pastimes.

Have no anxiety about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God.

Prevent Malaria with Medications

Malaria is a medical condition transmitted by mosquitoes. This condition occurs in tropical areas all over the world, in more than 100 countries. Travelers from the U.S. to Africa, Asia, Central America, and South America may be at an increased risk of becoming infected with the condition. Signs and symptoms of malaria include fever, chills, headache, and fatigue. Symptoms may begin within one day of being bitten by an infected mosquito, but may not appear until about a month after the bite.

Depending on the travel destination, prevention of malaria is key. Also, the time of year can affect to what extent preventative measures should be taken. Some recommendations for preventing mosquito bites include protective clothing to fully cover the skin, insect repellant, and using bed nets or staying inside a screened in area. Treatments for prevention may be prescribed depending on the travel destination. Atovaquone is an antiprotozoal medication. Primaquine is an antimalarial medication that may be started before a trip and continued to be taken until after the trip for prevention of malaria. Chloroquine and mefloquine) are other types of antimalaria medications that also may be taken for prevention before, during, and after a trip to an area where malaria may be a concern.

Snow job: Anchor-reporter switches networks

By Jay Bobbin

Kate Snow

Q: Where is Kate Snow, the former anchor-reporter at ABC? –Norah Bertucci, Glendale, Wis.

A: Though it was answered here recently, we keep getting this question in sizable enough numbers for us to figure we'd better do it again. Also a former CNN correspondent, Snow left ABC to join NBC News, primarily as a contributor to "Dateline NBC" ... but on occasion, she also can be seen as a fill-in anchor on "NBC Nightly News."

Q: Since Dennis Hopper has passed away, do you have any information on the future of the Starz series "Crash"? –Michael Doctor, Columbus, Ohio

A: The cable channel announced earlier in the year – and several months before Hopper's death – that the second season of the series, inspired by the Oscar-winning 2004 movie, would be its last. Each of the existing seasons is available in a separate DVD set (with the first season also available on Blu-ray).

Q: Is Colin Hanks of "The Good Guys" the son of Tom Hanks? He has so many mannerisms that remind me of Tom. –Lois Wolford, Jupiter, Fla.

A: He is, indeed. Though he largely has gone his own way with his projects in recent times – his current Fox series being an example – Colin got a helping hand from his dad early in his career, appearing in such projects as the 1996 movie "That Thing You Do!" (which Tom wrote, directed and co-starred in) and the 2001 HBO miniseries "Band of Brothers."

Q: Where is Peri Gilpin, alias Roz Doyle of "Frasier," today? What is she doing, if anything? –Gary Frazier, Bend, Ore.

A: The actress is appearing in the ABC Family series "Make It or Break It," playing the mother of a gymnast. She also co-owns a production company named Bristol Cities with Jane Leeves, alias Daphne of "Frasier," who also happens to be her neighbor.

"Peri and I live next door to each other now," Leeves told us during a recent interview for her "Hot in Cleveland" sitcom on TV Land. "Our kids go to the same school, and we pretty much have dinner together every night. We see each other every day, which is quite fabulous."

Q: What did Pernell Roberts die of? When did he die, and how old was he? –Patty Heltzman, Port St. Lucie, Fla.

A: The former star of "Bonanza" and "Trapper John, M.D." died this past Jan. 24 at the age of 81. The cause was pancreatic cancer.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was British mathematician, historian and philosopher Bertrand Russell who made the following sage observation: "If there were in the world today any large number of people who desired their own happiness more than they desired the unhappiness of others, we could have paradise in a few years."

• Do you know why camels are artiodactyls, while humans aren't? It's because dromedaries have an even number of toes (two) on each foot, while we have an odd number.

• According to a poll conducted in the United Kingdom, 80 percent of male college freshmen and sophomores in that country have never done a load of laundry in their lives.

• At weddings here in the United States, it is common for the bride to toss her bouquet to determine who will be the next to be married. At weddings in Finland the custom is a bit different, though the outcome is the same: There, the bride traditionally wears a golden crown, and at the reception she is blindfolded and spun around. Then all the single girls in attendance dance around her while the bride, still blindfolded, tries to place the crown on one of them. It's believed that the lucky girl who ends up wearing the crown will be the next to wed.

• It takes about 2.5 pounds of grapes to make a single bottle of wine.

• Ever wonder where the phrase "cool as a cucumber" came from? It's actually an established fact that the interior of a cucumber can be up to 20 degrees cooler than the ambient air temperature surrounding it.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Aug. 3, 1861, the last entry of the serialized novel "Great Expectations" is published. The book had been serialized in Dickens' literary circular, All the Year Round. The novel tells the story of young Pip, a poor orphan who comes to believe he will inherit a fortune.

• On Aug. 6, 1911, Lucille Desiree Ball, one of America's most famous redheads and beloved comic actresses, is born near Jamestown, N.Y. Ball starred with husband Ricky Ricardo in television's "I Love Lucy" from 1951 to 1957.

• On Aug. 4, 1936, American Jesse Owens wins gold in the long jump at the Summer Olympics in Berlin. It was the second of four gold medals Owens won in Berlin, as he firmly dispelled German leader Adolf Hitler's notion of the superiority of an Aryan "master race."

• On Aug. 5, 1957, Philadelphia-based "American Bandstand" goes national as the show is beamed to 67 ABC affiliates across the nation. The show included the famous segment in which teenage studio guests rated the newest records on a scale from 25 to 98 and offered such criticisms as "It's got a good beat and you can dance to it."

• On Aug. 7, 1964, the United States Congress overwhelming approves the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, giving President Lyndon Johnson nearly unlimited powers to oppose "communist aggression" in Southeast Asia. The Johnson administration went on to use the resolution as a pretext to begin heavy bombing of North Vietnam in early 1965 and to introduce U.S. combat troops in March 1965.

• On Aug. 8, 1974, in an evening televised address, President Richard Nixon announces his intention to become the first president in American history to resign. Impeachment proceedings were under way for his involvement in the Watergate affair.

• On Aug. 2, 1990, Iraqi forces invade Kuwait, Iraq's tiny, oil-rich neighbor. Kuwait's defense forces were rapidly overwhelmed, and those that were not destroyed retreated to Saudi Arabia. On Aug. 9, Operation Desert Shield, the American defense of Saudi Arabia, began as U.S. forces raced to the Persian Gulf.

Q. I have a Pepsi figurine that was made in Germany. How can I establish how much it might be worth? — Minnie, Fairport, N.Y.

A. One of the earliest Pepsi advertising slogans was "For Brain Fag and Body Drag," used in about 1905. Others followed, including "Pepsi Cola Hits the Spot" (1930s), "A Big OK From the USA" (WWII-era), and "Be Sociable. Have a Pepsi" (1950s). DP Church Of God Of Prophecy To Celebrate Its 70th Anniversary

Deer Park Church of God of Prophecy congregation will celebrate its 70th anniversary on Saturday, Aug. 7, from 1 to 4 p.m. The event will include praising, singing, words of testimony, a prize drawing, children's games, food, and a bake sale.

Previously known as the Church of God and the Assembly of God, the church began in the house of Carl Mayle. Pastor Rev. Burkhardt built the first worship house with a parsonage attached to the back in 1940. Six other members of the church helped with the construction. Those who helped with the cost and labor were Cap Burl, Clarence Sowers, Ernest Tasker, Bill Kitzmiller, and Mayle.

Those same men had to rebuild the church in 1945 after fire destroyed the first structure, leaving only the cross untouched by flames. No parsonage was built this time. The present parsonage was paid off in 2005 for $30,000, and the back lot was given to the church for the cost of surveying and closing fee.

The congregation reached a membership peak of 150 members, with such family names as Bennett, Burns, Burrell, Crosco, Davis, Elliott, Friend, Fike, Hayes, Hebb, Herman, Hoye, Kemp, Morton, Nazelrod, Shaffer, Stemple, Tasker, Teets, Uphold, and Upperman. The Uppermans were among the first to become members of the Church of God of Prophecy.

"Over the years, the church has witnessed the power of revival many times, seeing membership grow, 20, 30, and 50 [people] being baptized, and hundreds witnessing the Holy Spirit," said a church spokesperson.

Since the beginning of the church, many pastors have lead the congregation. Those include Rev. Ross, Rev. Hickson, Johnny Jones, Leonard Goughler, Arnold Mullins, W. Frawley, Rev. Van Hausser, John Osborne, D. Lawson, Vernard Tasker, and Jimmy Bentley, the current pastor.

"Many others have lead the church, and the church wishes to thank them and God for their service," said the spokesperson. "But its history was lost, and the congregation hopes this anniversary will bring some of it back to the church."

Those who have pictures and memories of the church are invited to attend the event and share them with the congregation. The general public is also invited to hear the testimonies or give one of their own.

"With the 70th anniversary celebration, please come hear the testimonies, like the one of Joy Parsons, 76 years old, who with the laying of hands from deacons and church members was saved from a life of seizures at the age of 15," said the spokesperson.

The church is located at 25 Back Street, Deer Park.

TO CELEBRATE 70 YEARS OF WORSHIP – The Deer Park Church of God of Prophecy congregation will celebrate its 70th anniversary on Saturday, Aug. 7, from 1 to 4 p.m. The event will include praising, singing, testimonies, a bake sale, and children's games. See story for details.

Local Student To Attend WVU

Kristen DeWitt, a 2010 honors graduate of Southern High School, has been accepted at West Virginia University for the fall 2010 semester. She has received two academic achievement scholarships from WVU and plans to major in psychology/counseling. Her goals include working with teens.

DeWitt was also dually enrolled at Garrett College and completed 27 credit hours as a high school senior. She is the daughter of Dave and Sandy DeWitt of Oakland.

Race To Top

•Redesign the model for preparation, development, retention, and evaluation of teachers and principals.

Maryland developed its RTTT proposal with unprecedented engagement and openness, said the spokesperson for Duncan's office. A draft application was placed on the MSDE web site in April inviting commentary, and state officials held more than 80 meetings with local systems, organizations, and teachers' associations over the past six months. In addition, the state held 40 focus groups with teachers and principals.

To help frame Maryland's proposal, MSDE called on a top-level committee of educators and leaders. In addition to Dr. Grasmick, steering committee members were: James H. DeGraffenreidt Jr., president, Maryland State Board of Education, and steering committee co-chair, John Ratliff, director of policy, Office of the Governor, Edward Shirley, president, Public School Superintendents of Maryland; Cathy Allen, president, Maryland Association of Boards of Education, Sam Macer, president, Maryland PTA, William E. Kirwan, chancellor, University System of Maryland, June E. Streckfus, executive director, Maryland Business Roundtable for Education, and Clara B. Floyd, president, Maryland State Education Association.

Also on the committee were Marietta English, president, Baltimore Teachers Union; Loretta Johnson, executive vice president, American Federation of Teachers; Judith Walker, president, Maryland Association of Elementary School Principals; Christine Handy-Collins, president, Maryland Association of Secondary School Principals; Tina M. Bjarekull, president, Maryland Independent College and University Association; and H. Clay Whitlow, executive director, Maryland Association of Community Colleges.

Maryland's public schools, recently ranked for the second straight year as the nation's best by Education Week, have benefited from earlier reform efforts. The Sondheim Commission report in 1989 launched Maryland's move into school accountability, one of the first states in the nation to do so. A new state curriculum, new collaboration and funding brought about by the Bridge to Excellence Act, and new student-level accountability programs followed about a decade later.

Benefit Spaghetti Dinner Planned At Rescue Squad

SWANTON

FRIEND REUNION

The families of the late Josiah and Mary Jane (Sweitzer) Friend will meet this Sunday, Aug. 1, at the Swanton Community Center for their reunion. There will be a basket lunch at 1 p.m.

Some much needed rain hit the Swanton area on Sunday afternoon to help ease the heat and make people feel a little better from heat-related problems.

The first katydids of the season were heard Friday evening. This is about 10 days ahead of last year's.

BIRTHDAYS

Those celebrating birthdays this week are Jim Lohr and Beth Sweitzer, both on July 28, and Joey Riley on Aug. 2.

TIME TO SHOW OFF

If you've followed advice given here about sprucing up your home's exterior, well done! Now let's focus attention on the next thing potential buyers will see - the front door and the interior. Now is the time for spring-cleaning and to show off your home's best features.

Repaint that front door and touch up around the entry. Make it warm and welcoming with updated light fixtures at the entrance and foyer. Speaking of entries, check your windows and doors for energy efficiency. If they're not airtight, an investment in new windows and insulation will pay off handsomely and impress buyers.

Freshly repainted walls won't hurt either, and you can achieve a bright, clean look with light yellow or cream on the walls and contrasting white woodwork. Buff up your wood floors, clean your area rugs or carpets, and replace any worn carpeting before your first showing.

Buyers look carefully at bathrooms, so be sure to remove any spots of mildew, replace caulking, and consider a small investment in a new sink and vanity to really make things sparkle.

The icing on the cake is to offer buyers a "home warranty" on the appliances in your house, allowing them a full year of service on anything that happens to go wrong. Your pride of ownership and their peace of mind should combine to produce a sale!

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

Diagnosis: Breast Cancer
Don't Face It Alone

by Peggy Santamaria

For some women it begins during the routine monthly ritual of self-exam, with fingers running lightly over breast tissue, almost absent-mindedly. They have done the same thing hundreds of times. One time there is a difference: There is a small lump. It is a breath-catching moment, an ice-water-in-the-veins feeling. NO. It can't be.

A call to the doctor's office leads to an appointment for a mammogram. The reality has been spoken; the journey of fear and confusion begins.

"Don't go it alone" is the impassioned advice of Nadine Baughman, a breast cancer survivor. Baughman serves as the American Cancer Society coordinator of the Reach to Recovery program in western Maryland. She links breast cancer survivors with women just starting the arduous process of dealing with the cancer challenge.

"It is a long process. You have the diagnosis to deal with emotionally and many decisions to make. There are decisions about surgery, decisions on treatment – sometimes multiple types, decisions on more surgery for reconstruction, decisions on further reconstruction," Baughman explains.

Trying to face all this all alone is overwhelming. It is not necessary to handle this alone. Baughman emphasizes that though support of family is crucial, loving family members and friends can't truly empathize because they don't really know what it is like to face this diagnosis and handle the mental challenges ahead. And there are many.

At a time that a woman is most devastated, she is asked to make huge decisions. Emotions override reason. Baughman recalls that from the time of her diagnosis she was given options to consider. Should her treatment be a lumpectomy, a single mastectomy, a double mastectomy? Did she want reconstruction? If so, what kind – silicon, saline? Who will perform the surgery? Where?

"You have to make these decisions in advance even though you are not sure which is really the right choice."

Reach to Recovery volunteers are there to help breast cancer patients sort through the confusion, to navigate the vast amount of information available. They themselves have stumbled along this difficult road and know first hand how emotionally devastating and mentally draining the journey is.

"It is vitally important to have someone to talk to who really understands what you are going through. Reach to Recovery gives you the type of support you need most," Baughman said.

Since Baughman decided on double mastectomy with tissue expanders for silicon she decided to take part in a clinical trial for chemo injections directly into the tumor, while six doctors watched. She underwent her first surgery and confirmation of the cancer diagnosis as stage 2B cancer in one breast and Paget's disease in the breast that did not have a lump. Finding this disease in what was considered to be the healthy breast underscores the fact that not all breast cancer presents as lumps.

"I felt like I had a ton of bricks on my chest and no breasts. There were drains and a sense of yuckiness all over," Baughman said, recalling the sensations following surgery.

But the process was not finished. Still, there were more decisions to be made. Because the exact extent of the cancer-infected cells (the margin) was unclear, there would be further treatments needed. More surgery or radiation? By whom, where, when? Her decision was for more surgery at the time of reconstruction. Prior to the next surgery there was chemotherapy.

"My hair started to fall out and I said, 'Forget it,' and had my husband and daughter shave my head," Baughman said.

Now there was another decision to make: to wear a hat, a scarf, a wig? Tired of decisions, she chose to simply go bald.

Many months had passed since the original diagnosis. Reconstructive surgery was scheduled.

"Friends called less often than before, thinking the worst was over. I then started the tissue expansion procedure. It was kind of like having your braces tightened, except it was in my chest."

Reconstruction brought new breasts, new scars, new drains, and, yes, yuckiness again. A year had passed, her body wasn't the same and was marked with scars. But light was breaking through the long period of darkness. Baughman began to feel a new appreciation of life.

"Anything can happen at any time. I now feel like I don't have enough time in the day. There is so much I want to do. I have established a new balance in my life of work, projects, volunteering, and making sure I spend time doing nothing. I continue to participate in the Women's Wellness group that I inspired as a result of my journey."

For women facing a diagnosis of breast cancer, Baughman has this to say: "You don't have to go through this by yourself. Ask for help; there are people out there who want to share and help. You have lots of options. Don't go it alone."

As the Reach to Recovery coordinator providing support services in Garrett and Allegany counties, Baughman collects referrals from the American Cancer Society's 1-800 service desk and assigns them to volunteers as appropriate.

"In addition, as any of the volunteers encounter Breast Cancer patients, we assist them with the process of dealing with the diagnosis. I have a book of volunteers that lists location and diagnosis. As I receive referrals, I match up the patients with volunteers based on those criteria. The volunteers phone the patients and provide them with any support they can – a listening ear, a new friend, a compassionate fellow cancer patient."

For information on all services provided by the American Cancer Society, persons may visit www.cancer.org, or call 1-888-227-9979 or 301-722-2145.

REACHING RECOVERY – Having a real person to talk to about her fears and concerns helped Joann Kozier deal with breast cancer, from the diagnosis through surgeries and beyond. Nadine Baughman, the local coordinator for the Reach to Recovery program and breast cancer survivor featured in article on this page, mentored Kozier through the process. "I could feel Nadine's strength and determination, and I could draw on it," Kozier said. Pictured are Kozier, left, and Baughman. See story for details.

Frostburg State To Offer MBA Program Online

Beginning in the fall 2010 semester, students everywhere will be able to earn a master of business administration degree through Frostburg State University and a full, Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)-accredited program with online classes.

In previous years, MBA students, like other FSU students, have been able to take some classes fully online or in a blended format which is partially online and partially in a traditional classroom. The final steps toward offering the entire MBA program online were taken this past spring.

"Due to recent changes in and complexity of the global environment, the economic, educational and social aspects of people's lives have become increasingly demanding," Dr. Ahmad Tootoonchi, dean of the FSU College of Business, said. "Our online MBA program provides students with accessibility, affordability and flexibility, so they can deal with various life demands more effectively."

The master's degree is still offered through non-online classes, but the online format will benefit professionals who have difficulty fitting regular class times into their schedules, as well as those for whom travel to Frostburg or Hagerstown, where the MBA is offered at the University System of Maryland/ Hagerstown, would be too difficult.

"The majority of students in FSU's MBA program are part-time students who are working adults with families and outside commitments. Frequently, family and work commitments interfere with the student's ability to take classes at the time they are offered," Ron Ross, coordinator of the program, said.

Tootoonchi said the online MBA should serve those students well.

"Students can enroll in our online MBA program from anywhere in the world. FSU tuition and fees are comparatively less expensive than many other institutions, and our courses are available year-round, allowing students the flexibility they need to complete degree requirements in a timely manner."

FSU sought approval for this move toward a fully online program from the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, which accredits the entire institution. The College of Business is also accredited by AACSB International, and the online MBA will carry the same level of international recognition.

For more information about the program, interested persons should visit www.frostburg.edu/colleges/cob/mba or contact the FSU Office of Graduate Services at 301-687-7053.

KEEP RITA WATSON YOUR

RITA WITH HER VERY COMPETENT STAFF, TOM MATTHEWS, CHIEF DEPUTY, AND HEATHER O'BRIEN, DEPUTY

READY, WILLING AND ABLE TO CONTINUE SERVING YOU

"I have worked with Rita in the Office of Register of Wills for the past ten years. I came here after having served as a clerk in the Distnct Court of Maryland for 14 years. I have never seen a more dedicated, conscientious and caring public servant. She is always ready to help in any way she can those who come to her office having lost a family member or friend and to use her knowledge of probate law and procedure to make the process as painless and as inexpensive as possible. The Register of Wills handles the probate of most estates and wills by herself. She also acts as clerk to the Orphans' Court. it took me years to learn the job, and I must still ask her questions. She has always been ready to teach her staff the complexities of the job and has always emphasized to myself and Heather O'Brien that our first responsibility is to serve the public and do all we can to cut red tape and help save people as much grief and expense as possible."

Chief Deputy Register of Wills, Tom Matthews

"I had 15 years of experience as a legal secretary and paralegal in a busy law office when I came to the Register of Wills office. In that job I did drafts of wills, deeds, and court pleadings. I had no idea how difficult and complex the work here would be. Estate bond law, complex accountings and property inventories, intestate succession laws, probate procedure, appellate procedure and many other such matters are a daily routine in our office. I have now served here for 9 months and am just beginning to become functional, but I still need daily guidance from Rita. And Rita genuinely cares about the people she serves. Ask anyone who has brought a will to our office to be probated. Ask them how they were treated and whether Rita went the extra mile to help them through the process and to see that everyone got what the deceased friend or relative provided."

Deputy Register of Wills, Heather O'Brien

"We hope that you, the voters, will see fit to keep our team together by keeping Rita Watson as your Register of Wills so that we may continue to serve the people of our county as we have always done in the past."

Tom and Heather

Wayne O'Brien

Words can never express what is truly felt. To Newman Funeral Home, Lynn, Carole and all of their staff, truly a caring group of people. Pastor Randy Nairn III for the beautiful service and all the trips to the hospital and phone calls. Ellen for her help and assistance at such a busy time. Patty Foley for the special music and finding our favorites we ask for, our Grandsons Chad, Shawn, James Jr. & Donovan, and our friends Charlie and Leonard for being pallbearers.

The special veterans organizations for the very touching and inspiring service. We did not know all the names of you, but each one of you will always hold a special place in our hearts forever. The grace and dignity of all who took part in that service is truly something each and every one of us should be proud of to be an American. May God keep all of you safe. To everyone who brought food, sent flowers and memorials, cards and came to the funeral home and church or stopped by the house. The doctors, nurses and aides at Garrett Memorial for the care. To all of our neighbors and friends for your help and caring.

FSA ANNOUNCES CONSERVATION RESERVE PROGRAM GENERAL SIGN-UP

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack announced this week that a general sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) will begin Monday, Aug. 2, and continue through Aug. 27. During the sign-up period, farmers and ranchers may offer eligible land for CRP's competitive general sign-up at their county Farm Service Agency (FSA) office. The 2008 Farm Bill authorized USDA to maintain CRP enrollment up to 32 million acres. Jim Miller, agriculture under secretary for farm and foreign agriculture services, made the announcement on behalf of Secretary Vilsack during a conference call with reporters.

"America's farmers and ranchers play an important role in improving our environment, and for nearly 25 years, CRP has helped this nation build sound conservation practices that preserve the soil, clean our water, and restore habitat for wildlife," said Miller. "This announcement will help us create a greener and healthier America, and I encourage all interested farmers and ranchers to contact their local FSA office to learn more how to take advantage of this opportunity."

To help ensure that interested farmers and ranchers are aware of the sign-up period, USDA has signed partnership agreements with several conservation and wildlife organizations, which will play an active role in USDA's 2010 CRP outreach efforts. Additionally, Secretary Vilsack has recorded two public service announcements, which are available to the press and public online at www.fsa.usda.gov/psa.

CRP is a voluntary program that assists farmers, ranchers, and other agricultural producers to use their environmentally sensitive land for conservation benefits. Producers enrolling in CRP plant long-term, resource-conserving covers in exchange for rental payments, cost-share, and technical assistance. CRP protects millions of acres of America's topsoil from erosion and is designed to improve the nation's natural resources base. Participants voluntarily remove environmentally sensitive land from agricultural production by entering into long-term contracts for 10 to 15 years. In exchange, participants receive annual rental payments and a payment of up to 50 percent of the cost of establishing conservation practices.

By reducing water runoff and sedimentation, CRP also protects groundwater and helps improve the condition of lakes, rivers, ponds, and streams. Acreage enrolled in the CRP is planted to resource-conserving vegetative covers, making the program a major contributor to wildlife population increases in many parts of the country. As a result, CRP has provided significant opportunities for hunting and fishing on private lands.

Land currently not enrolled in CRP may be offered in this sign-up, provided all eligibility requirements are met. Additionally, current CRP participants with contracts expiring this fall covering about 4.5 million acres may make new contract offers. Contracts awarded under this sign-up are scheduled to become effective Oct. 1.

FSA implements CRP on behalf of Commodity Credit Corporation. FSA will evaluate and rank eligible CRP offers using an Environmental Benefits Index (EBI) for environmental benefits to be gained from enrolling the land in CRP. The EBI consists of five environmental factors (wildlife, water, soil, air, and enduring benefits) and cost. Decisions on the EBI cutoff will be made after the sign-up ends and after analyzing the EBI data of all the offers.

Those who would have met previous sign-up EBI thresholds are not guaranteed a contract under this sign-up. In addition to the general sign-up, CRP's continuous sign-up program will be ongoing. Continuous acres represent the most environmentally desirable and sensitive land.

For more information, producers may visit the Preston County FSA office, located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza, telephone 304-329-1923, or visit http://www.fsa.usda.gov/crp online.

FSA ENCOURAGES PRODUCERS TO SIGN UP FOR 2008 SURE PROGRAM

Preston County FSA executive director Eric McCartney encourages producers to make appointments to complete their applications for the Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payments program (SURE) as soon as possible.

SURE provides crop disaster assistance payments to eligible producers on farms that have incurred crop production or crop quality losses. The program takes into consideration crop losses on all crops grown by a producer nationwide. SURE provides assistance in an amount equal to 60 percent of the difference between the SURE farm guarantee and total farm revenue. The farm guarantee is based on the amount of crop insurance and Non-insured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) coverage on the farm. Total farm revenue takes into account the actual value of production on the farm as well as insurance indemnities and certain farm program payments.

To be eligible for SURE, producers must have suffered at least a 10 percent production loss on a crop of economic significance. In addition, producers must meet the risk management purchase requirement by either obtaining a policy or plan of insurance, under the Federal Crop Insurance Act or NAP coverage, for all economically significant crops. For 2008 crops, producers had the opportunity to obtain a waiver of the risk management purchase requirement through a buy-in provision. Producers considered socially disadvantaged, a beginning farmer or rancher, or a limited resource farmer may be eligible for SURE without a policy or plan of insurance or NAP coverage.

In addition to meeting the risk management purchase requirement, a producer must have a farming interest physically located in a county that was declared a primary disaster county or contiguous county by the agriculture secretary under a Secretarial Disaster Designation. Regardless of the designation, individual producers may also be eligible for SURE if the actual production on the farm is less than 50 percent of the normal production on the farm because of a natural disaster. For SURE, a farm is defined as all crops in which a producer had an interest nationwide.

For more information on the SURE program, persons may visit the Preston County FSA Office, telephone 304-329-1923, or visit the FSA web site at: http://www.fsa.usda.gov.

BLASTING NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that Keystone Lime Co., Inc., of P.O. Box 278, Springs, PA 15562, phone 301-387-9390, will be conducting blasting operations under Mining Permit No. 77-SP-0131-2 at the Deep Creek Quarry located 2 mi. West of US Route 219 off Sang Run Road on Crabtree Bottom Road in Garrett County in accordance with all applicable state and federal laws.

Such activities will commence and continue in accordance with the following schedule of dates and approximate times, as approved by the Md. Dept. of the Environment:

Dates: August 1, 2010 to August 1, 2011
9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.
No blasting will be conducted on Sundays.

At least ten minutes prior to each blasting activity, all accesses to the area will be controlled to prevent unauthorized entry, and a warning signal will be audiuly indicated by three 5-second blasts with an air horn at 2-second intervals. After the blast, the all-clear signal shall be indicated by one 20-second blast with an air horn. These signals are in accordance with applicable state and federal laws.

Also, unless approved by the regulatory authority, blasting activities will not be conducted at times other than those announced without prior notification, or, in the event of an emergency situation where rain, lightning, or other atmospheric conditions, operator or public safety considerations dictate an unscheduled detonation.

Any questions concerning the mining operations should be directed to the Md. Dept. of the Environment - Minerals, Oil, & Gas Division at 410-537-3557.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE RESIDENTIAL REAL PROPERTY GENERALLY KNOWN AS 618 PARADISE RIDGE ROAD, OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND 21550

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain Second Amended and Restated Indemnity Deed of Trust, Security Agreement and Assignment of Contracts, Leases and Rents, dated October 18, 2006, executed and delivered by C. Knudsen Development, LLC, and C. Knudsen Builders, LLC, to the trustees named therein and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, at Liber 1274, folio 210 (the "Deed of Trust"), the holder of the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust (the "Noteholder"), having subsequently appointed Michael G. Gallerizzo and Michael C. Bolesta as Substitute Trustees ("Substitute Trustees") in the place and stead of Richard H. Ohnmacht and Lola S. Kayler, original trustees under the Deed of Trust, by instrument duly executed, acknowledged and recorded among the aforesaid Land Records, default having occurred under the terms of said Deed of Trust and at the request of the party secured thereby, the undersigned Substitute Trustees will offer the property described below for sale at a public auction to be held at the Property on:

Monday, August 16, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

All that piece, tract or parcel of land, situate lying and being in Garrett County, Maryland, and more particularly described as follows (the "Property"):

Being known and designated as Lot No. 34 as shown on a plat entitled "Section 2, Paradise Point Subdivision", which Plat is recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in Plat Book R.L.D. No. 2, page 45.

The Property has a tax identification number of 18-028328 and is generally known as 618 Pardise Ridge Road, Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland 21550. The Property is believed to consist of approximately 27,442 square feet and is believed to be improved with a one and a half (1½) story contemporary residence containing approximately 1,832 sq. ft. gross living area with three (3) bedrooms and two (2) baths. The Property is believed to be served with well and septic and is believed to have views of Deep Creek Lake and have access rights to the Lake. The Property is believed to be zoned R, which has a designation of Residential.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit in the amount of Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00), payable in cash, certified check or other form acceptable to the Substitute Trustees, will be required of the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Within seven (7) calendar days after the date of the sale, the purchaser of the Property shall deliver a certified check to the Substitute Trustees in an amount necessary to increase the purchaser's deposit to an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of the entire amount bid by such purchaser for the Property at the sale. The balance of the purchase price, together with interest thereon at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of settlement, shall be due from the purchaser to the Substitute Trustees in cash or by certified check within twenty (20) days following the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless such closing deadline is extended in writing by the Substitute Trustees. Time is of the essence. Settlement shall be held at the offices of Gebhardt & Smith LLP, One South Street, Suite 2200, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, or such other place as may be agreed to by the Substitute Trustees. In the event that the beneficiary under the Deed of Trust, or an affiliate, subsidiary, assignee or designee thereof, is the successful bidder at the sale, such party will not be required to make a deposit or to pay interest on the unpaid purchase money. The Substitute Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids at the sale, and to extend the time for settlement, at their discretion.

The Property is being sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any warranties or representations, either express or implied, as to the nature, condition, value, use or description of the Property or any improvements thereon. The Property will also be sold subject to: (i) all senior liens and encumbrances that are not extinguished by operation of law by the foreclosure sale of the Property; (ii) all easements, equitable servitudes, conditions, rights of way, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, restrictive covenants, declarations, documents establishing homeowner's association(s) and any other agreements, matters or restrictions of record affecting the Property; (iii) all existing housing, building and zoning code violations, encroachments, and critical area and wetland violations; (iv) all environmental problems, conditions or hazards which may exist on or with respect to the Property; and (v) such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose.

All real estate taxes, assessments, water charges, county or municipal charges, homeowners' association charges and senior liens that are owed against the Property and that are not extinguished by the foreclosure sale of the Property, and the cost of all recordation fees and taxes, document preparation costs, transfer taxes, title examination costs, attorneys' fees and other costs associated with conveying the Property to the purchaser, shall be the sole responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid for by the purchaser at settlement. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the Property immediately after the sale takes place. It shall be the purchaser's responsibility to obtain possession of the Property after the closing.

In the event that the purchaser fails to go to settlement as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available to the Substitute Trustees, the Substitute Trustees may declare the aforementioned deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the purchaser's sole risk and expense. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price sustained by the Substitute Trustees and/or the Noteholder, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorneys' fees, and any other damages sustained by the Substitute Trustees and/or the Noteholder, including, without limitation, all incidental damages. If the Suostitute Trustees are unable to convey the Property as described above, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be limited to a refund of the aforementioned deposits, without interest thereon. Upon refund of the deposit to the purchaser as aforesaid, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Substitute Trustees, the Noteholder or the Auctioneer conducting the sale of the Property. The parties' respective rights and obligations regarding the terms and conduct of the sale shall be governed by the laws of the State of Maryland.

The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. The Auctioneer, the Noteholder and the Substitute Trustees do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE LAKE FRONT RESIDENTIAL REAL PROPERTY ON DEEP CREEK LAKE GENERALLY KNOWN AS LOTS 22 AND 23, SHANK SUBDIVISION, HAZELHURST ROAD, SWANTON, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain Second Amended and Restated Indemnity Deed of Trust, Security Agreement and Assignment of Contracts, Leases and Rents, dated October 18, 2006, executed and delivered by C. Knudsen Development, LLC, and C. Knudsen Builders, LLC, to the trustees named therein and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, at Liber 1274, folio 210 (the "Deed of Trust"), the holder of the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust (the "Noteholder"), having subsequently appointed Michael G. Gallerizzo and Michael C. Bolesta as Substitute Trustees ("Substitute Trustees") in the place and stead of Richard H. Ohnmacht and Lola S. Kayler, original trustees under the Deed of Trust, by instrument duly executed, acknowledged and recorded among the aforesaid Land Records, default having occurred under the terms of said Deed of Trust and at the request of the party secured thereby, the undersigned Substitute Trustees will offer the property described below for sale at a public auction to be held on the front steps of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, located at 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550, on:

Monday, August 16, 2010, at 1:45 p.m.

All that piece, tract or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in Garrett County, Maryland, and more particularly described as follows (the "Property"):

Being known as Lots Nos. 22 and 23 on the Plat entitled "Resurvey of Lots 22, 23, 24, 25, 26 & 27, Marcellus Shale Subdivision," which Plat is recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in Plat Book D.K.M. No. 3, page 119. The Property has a tax identification number of 18-076144 and is generally known as Lots 22 and 23, Hazelhurst Road, Swanton, Garrett County, Maryland 21561. The Property is believed to consist of approximately 16,074 square feet of undeveloped, nearly level land situated on Deep Creek Lake. The Property is believed to be zoned Lake Residential. The Property is believed to be situated minutes away from local amenities.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit in the amount of Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00), payable in cash, certified check or other form acceptable to the Substitute Trustees, will be required of the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Within seven (7) calendar days after the date of the sale, the purchaser of the Property shall deliver a certified check to the Substitute Trustees in an amount necessary to increase the purchaser's deposit to an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of the entire amount bid by such purchaser for the Property at the sale. The balance of the purchase price, together with interest thereon at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of settlement, shall be due from the purchaser to the Substitute Trustees in cash or by certified check within twenty (20) days following the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless such closing deadline is extended in writing by the Substitute Trustees. Time is of the essence. Settlement shall be held at the offices of Gebhardt & Smith LLP, One South Street, Suite 2200, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, or such other place as may be agreed to by the Substitute Trustees. In the event that the beneficiary under the Deed of Trust, or an affiliate, subsidiary, assignee or designee thereof, is the successful bidder at the sale, such party will not be required to make a deposit or to pay interest on the unpaid purchase money. The Substitute Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids at the sale, and to extend the time for settlement, at their discretion.

The Property is being sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any warranties or representations, either express or implied, as to the nature, condition, value, use or description of the Property or any improvements thereon. The Property will also be sold subject to: (i) all senior liens and encumbrances that are not extinguished by operation of law by the foreclosure sale of the Property; (ii) all easements, equitable servitudes, conditions, rights of way, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, restrictive covenants, declarations, documents establishing homeowner's association(s) and any other agreements, matters or restrictions of record affecting the Property; (iii) all existing housing, building and zoning code violations, encroachments, and critical area and wetland violations; (iv) all environmental problems, conditions or hazards which may exist on or with respect to the Property; and (v) such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose.

All real estate taxes, assessments, water charges, county or municipal charges, homeowners' association charges and senior liens that are owed against the Property and that are not extinguished by the foreclosure sale of the Property, and the cost of all recordation fees and taxes, document preparation costs, transfer taxes, title examination costs, attorneys' fees and other costs associated with conveying the Property to the purchaser, shall be the sole responsibility of the purchaser and shall be paid for by the purchaser at settlement. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the Property immediately after the sale takes place. It shall be the purchaser's responsibility to obtain possession of the Property after the closing.

In the event that the purchaser fails to go to settlement as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available to the Substitute Trustees, the Substitute Trustees may declare the aforementioned deposit forfeited and resell the Property at the purchaser's sole risk and expense. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price sustained by the Substitute Trustees and/or the Noteholder, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorneys' fees, and any other damages sustained by the Substitute Trustees and/or the Noteholder, including, without limitation, all incidental damages. If the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey the Property as described above, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be limited to a refund of the aforementioned deposits, without interest thereon. Upon refund of the deposit to the purchaser as aforesaid, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Substitute Trustees, the Noteholder or the Auctioneer conducting the sale of the Property. The parties' respective rights and obligations regarding the terms and conduct of the sale shall be governed by the laws of the State of Maryland.

The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for infonnatlonal purposes only. The Auctioneer, the Noteholder and the Substitute Trustees do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information.

TRUSTEE'S SALE

Trustee's Sale of valuable fee simple property improved by premises known as 520 CRAB RUN RD, Grantsville, MD 21536. By virtue of the power and authority contained in a Deed of Trust from COSTAS BENJAMIN CHLOROS, dated December 28, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1277 at Page 0591 among the land records of the COUNTY OF GARRETT, in the original principal amount of $190,800.00 with an interest rate of 8.19%. Upon default and request for sale, the undersigned trustees will offer for sale at public auction at the front of the Courthouse for the COUNTY OF GARRETT, 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland, on all that property described in said Deed of Trust including but not limited to:

August 18, 2010, at 5:02 p.m.

Lot 1, Eby Subdivision containing 3.2400 acres, more or less, as shown on the plat attached to the deed of conveyance.

Being the same property that was conveyed to the herein Mortgagor from Alma Ann Eby and Dale Robert Eby, Personal Representatives of the Estate of Paul A. Maust, by deed of even date herewith and recorded or intended to be recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

Said property is in fee simple and is improved by a dwelling and is sold in "as is condition" and subject to all superior covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easement, rights-of-way, as may affect same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $19,100.00 cash or certified funds shall be required at the time of sale. The balance of the purchase price with interest at 8.19% per annum from the date of sale to the date of payment will be paid within TEN DAYS after the final ratification of the sale. Adjustments on all taxes, public charges and special or regular assessments will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by purchaser. If applicable, condominium and/or homeowner association dues and assessments that may become due after the time of sale will be the responsibility of the purchaser. Title examination, conveyancing, state revenue stamps, transfer taxes, title insurance, and all other costs incident to settlement are to be paid by the purchaser. Time is of the essence for the purchaser, otherwise the deposit will be forfeited and the property may be resold at risk and costs of the defaulting purchaser. If the sale is not ratified or if the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey marketable title in accord with these terms of sale, the purchaser's only remedy is return of the deposit. SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEES' SALE
OF REAL PROPERTY KNOWN AS
NO. 438 MALACHI WAY
Friendsville, MD 21531

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Toney M. Artice and Bonnie Rae Artice to A. Bruce Cleveland and John Schoemer, Trustees, dated May 4, 2007, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber No. 1305, folio 609, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees dated May 28, 2010, and recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Kristen K. Haskins, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gioth as Substituted Trustees under the Deed of Trust aforesaid, Presidential Bank, FSB being the current holder of the Note(s) secured thereby, and default having occurred under the terms thereof, the undersigned Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland, on Monday, August 9, 2010, at 3:45 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust dated May 4, 2007, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County, in Liber 1305, folio 609, also being further described in a Deed dated April 13, 2007, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County in Liber 1300, folio 632. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied, with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustees in the amount of $50,000.00 will be required of the purchaser other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note and its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 4.75000% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. All taxes, water/sewer charges and condo/HOA dues shall be adjusted to the date of sale. Ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis shall be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Lisa C. Greco, dated March 23, 2007, and recorded in Liber 1301, folio 26 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on August 18, 2010, AT 11:00 a.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS THEREON situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $15,000 by cash, or certified check. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett Co. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Sub. Trustees. If the purchaser fails to go to settlement within ten days of the ratification, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Sub. Trustees and all of the expenses of this sale (including attorney fees and full commission on the gross sale price of the sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. Purchaser(s) acknowledge the obligation to settle within ten days of ratification of the foreclosure sale. In the event that settlement does not occur within ten days, the purchaser(s) shall be in default. Upon such default, Sub. Trustees shall file a Motion and Order to resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser(s). Purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice. The defaulting purchaser(s) shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects, there shall be no abatement of interest. Taxes, ground rent, water and all public charges including electrical, sanitation and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, are to be adjusted for the current year to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. The purchaser is responsible for any amount in excess of $250.00 of outstanding water bills, if any, incurred prior to date of sale. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Sub. Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents. (Matter #542913)

August 5, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND KNOWN AS being described by a metes and bounds description, situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust, carrying Tax ID No. 18-017598.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, agreements, easements, covenants and rights of way of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $76,900.00 will be required at the time of sale in the form of cash, certified check, or other form as the Substitute Trustees determine acceptable. No deposit shall be required of the noteholder where the noteholder bids in the property at auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, time being of the essence for purchaser. In the event that settlement does not occur within the said ten days, the purchaser shall be in default. Upon such default the Trustees may file a Motion and Order to Resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser, and purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice, in which case the deposit shall be forfeited and all expenses of this sale (including attorney's fees and the full commission on the gross sale price of this sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. The Trustees may then readvertise and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser; or, without reselling the property, the Trustees may avail themselves of any legal or equitable remedies against the defaulting purchaser. In the event of a resale, the defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to receive the surplus, if any, even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulting purchaser. Interest to be paid on the purchase money less the stated deposit called for herein, at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustee. There shall be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason, including but not limited to exceptions to sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, Court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects. There shall be no adjustment of taxes, ground rent, water rent, condominium fees and/or homeowner association dues, all public charges/assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, and same are to be assumed by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, agricultural transfer tax, if any and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of damage to the property from the date of auction forward. If the Substitute Trustee does not convey title for any reason, including but not limited to the Secured Party executing a forbearance agreement with the borrower(s) described in the above-mentioned Deed of Trust, or allowing the borrower(s) to execute their right to reinstate or payoff the subject loan, prior to the sale, with or without the Substitute Trustee's prior knowledge, or if the sale is not ratified for any reason including errors made by the Substitute Trustees, the foreclosure sale shall be null and void and of no effect, and the Purchaser's sole remedy in law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit without interest. Further terms and particulars may be announced at time of sale, and purchaser may be required to execute a Memorandum of Sale at the time of auction. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein. (Matter #15717)

Layton, dated October 31, 2006 and recorded in Liber 1275 Folio 0243 among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, with an original principal balance of $137,250.00, and an original interest rate of 8.55% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett County, at the Rotunda Entrance at the Court House Door, 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland, on

August 02, 2010, at 01:05 p.m.

All that fee-simple lot of ground, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, encumbrances, prior deed(s) of trust and/or agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $14,000.00 in cash, cashier's check or certified check required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay, attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEES' SALE
OF REAL PROPERTY KNOWN AS
NO. 123 WEST CENTER STREET
Oakland, MD 21550

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Cynthia M. Miller and Virgil R. Miller to Robert C. Frank Jr., Trustee, dated September 22, 2008, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber No. 1405, folio 0140, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees dated June 14, 2010, and recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Kristen K. Haskins, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gioth as Substituted Trustees under the Deed of Trust aforesaid, Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., being the current holder of the Note(s) secured thereby, and default having occurred under the terms thereof, the undersigned Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland, on Monday, August 9, 2010, at 3:45 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust dated September 22, 2008, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County, in Liber 1405, folio 0140, also being further described in a Deed dated October 14, 2004, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County in Liber 1077, folio 0001. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied, with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustees in the amount of $14,000.00 will be required of the purchaser other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note and its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 6.00000% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. All taxes, water/sewer charges and condo/HOA dues shall be adjusted to the date of sale. Ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis shall be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

MORNINGSTAR®
Data Management Analyst
Morningstar's Back Office Services team seeks an entry-level Data Management Analyst to provide an efficient back-office solution for our licensed users. In this position, you will expand your knowledge of Morningstar products and electronic data population processes. As a Data Management Analyst, you'll join a group of friendly, dedicated individuals who focus on delivering database updates in a timely manner while maintaining accuracy. This position is based in our Oakland, Maryland office.
The Data Management Analyst updates, corrects, and maintains active databases of multiple clients and their accounts. This takes place through an electronic process that retrieves data from entities such as mutual fund companies, financial institutions, broker/dealers, and data transfer agencies, then transfers this data into our software. You will monitor this process for errors, which may require research and correction. You will communicate with clients to explain or clarify data and, at all times, preserve the confidentiality of client data. Manual input may be required for clients and accounts that are not electronically processed. The Data Management Analyst also maintains quantitative and qualitative records of any actions taken.
We're looking for candidates with excellent written, verbal, and analytical skills. The ideal candidate will have an interest in the investment industry and an in-depth understanding of computers. Knowledge of Windows-based applications is required. A college degree is preferred but not mandatory.
Please apply on line at http://global.morningstar.com/US/Careers

Director of Environmental Services
Garrett County Memorial Hospital is currently hiring for a Director of Environmental Services. This department manager position is responsible for the direction and operation of the Hospital's housekeeping and on-site laundry departments.
Experience in environmental sanitation, hospital housekeeping, and laundry operations and management is required. We are looking for a candidate with a working knowledge of the basic principles of chemistry, biology, and bacteriology as applied to environmental sanitation, infection control, and choice and use of cleaning agents and equipment. Previous experience in managing an on-site laundry, including inventory control, processing and distribution, chenucal usage, and supply and cost management, is desired.
Other qualifications include: current knowledge of Joint Commission, federal, state, and local regulations related to environmental issues and infectious and biohazardous waste collection and disposal. Experience and technical expertise developing and maintaining exceptionally high standards for visual cleanliness and environmental sanitation; for the frequency of cleaning, the methods, procedures, and safety precautions to be followed for the various areas of the hospital; and experience related to the selection, measurement, and proper use of housekeeping cleaning supplies and equipment. The ideal candidate will have 5 years of healthcare institutional experience in housekeeping and laundry and 3 years of supervisory experience including personnel management, budget development, contract negotiations, and cost analysis. Minimum qualifications require a high school diploma and additional education and/or training in the environmental services industry.

Md. Successful In Sale Of General Obligation Bonds

Maryland State Treasurer Nancy K. Kopp announced that the Board of Public Works (BPW), comprising Governor Martin O'Malley, Comptroller Peter Franchot, and Treasurer Kopp, completed Wednesday the successful sale of $485,175,000 of General Obligation bonds, including the direct retail sale of $143,335,000 of bonds with first priority to Maryland citizens.

The bond sale also included three competitive bids: $221,665,000 in tax-exempt bonds, $75 million in taxable Build America Bonds (BABS), and $45,175,000 in taxable Qualified School Construction Bonds (QSCBs) for the public school construction program.

The direct retail bond sale, conducted through a group of underwriters led by Citigroup Global Markets Inc. and M&T Securities, carried a true interest rate of 1.6 percent. The sale of retail bonds began on Friday, July 23, and ended Monday, July 26.

"Public demand for our AAA-rated bonds was great, as had been the case in three other similar transactions in 2009," said Treasurer Kopp. "Marylanders moved quickly to invest in capital projects so important to our state, such as schools, colleges, hospitals, prisons, and cultural projects. Buyers got conservative, high-quality bonds, while investing in their communities."

In the three competitive sales, the approximately $221.7 million in tax-exempt bonds sold at an interest rate of 1.9 percent. The $75 million in taxable BABS sold at a tax-exempt equivalent rate of 2.7 percent. The $45.2 million in taxable QSCBs sold at an interest rate of 4.4 percent, which is fully subsidized by the federal government. The winning bidders were, respectively, Bank of America Merrill Lynch, J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., and Morgan Keegan & Co. Inc.

"I was really pleased with today's results. Again, Maryland's AAA-rated bonds drew significant interest and a very favorable low interest rate. Marylanders benefit not only from millions of dollars in savings from the state's low interest rates for Maryland taxpayers, but also from the investment of more than 60 percent of the bond proceeds in K-12 schools, colleges and universities," Kopp said.

"At the same time, the federal government subsidizes the taxable interest on Build American Bonds and the Qualified School Construction Bonds, resulting in lower interest payments. In fact, in the case of the Qualified School Construction Bonds, the interest rate will be 0 percent with the 100 percent federal subsidy," she added.

All three major bond rating agencies – Standard & Poor's Ratings Services, Moody's Investors Service, and Fitch Ratings –reaffirmed the state's AAA bond rating. Maryland is one of only eight states to currently hold the AAA rating, the highest possible rating, from all three bond rating agencies.

The Maryland State Treasurer's Office expects to conduct another bond sale either in late February or early March 2011.

Spaghetti Dinner For Humberson Family Postponed

The spaghetti dinner to benefit the family of Tim Humberson originally scheduled for Saturday, July 31, has been postponed until Saturday, Sept. 25.

Further details will be published at a later date.

Man Charged With Fourth Degree Burglary

A man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies Sunday evening and charged with fourth degree burglary.

Investigation revealed that Steven Joseph Eddy, 53, was intoxicated and had entered a residence without the approval of its owner. Eddy was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

THE CHILDREN OF HAITI made a lasting impression on youth members from Bittinger Mennonite Church when they traveled there last month to assist with clean-up efforts. One member noted that the children were happy to have them there, and were anxious to receive affection. One of the highlights for the children was when they received candy treats from the youth, shown above. One of the sponsors said the youth group members had planned to go out to eat together one night, but then decided to put their money together and buy food for the children at the orphanage.

Career Tech Ctr. Awarded $400K Grant From ARC

The Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) has awarded more than $434,000 in grant funding to support initiatives and infrastructure targeting technology-based education and job skills in Garrett, Allegany, and Washington counties, Senators Barbara Mikulski and Ben Cardin announced on Monday.

Garrett County received $400,000 to provide career training and trades skills in such subjects as environmental/energy systems and telecommunications.

The funds will be used to design and construct a flexible trades laboratory at the Garrett College Career Technology Training Center in Accident, which is expected to serve more than 500 students over a three-year period.

"Our nation's future depends on our ability to invest in high-tech education and training that is needed for jobs in the 21st century," Cardin said. "I strongly support these grants because they will provide residents of Garrett, Allegany, and Washington counties with opportunities that will help them succeed and find jobs in the future."

Allegany County received a $12,150 ARC grant to construct a new telecommunications antenna at Mountain Ridge High School, and Washington County was awarded $21,999 to support the Alternative Energy Technology Program at Hagerstown Community College.

"Grants like these help us invest in workers who are ready for the future," Mikul-

THE EARTH PRODUCES LOVELY THINGS, like this crop of cheerful black-eyed Susans, bobbing in the breeze at the entryway of the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. But there is a powerful violence to the planet as well, displayed last evening in the form of damaging thunderstorms that swept across Garrett County at about 5:30 p.m. High winds were the main culprit, downing trees in several locations, and bringing down power lines. At least half the county's fire departments were out within minutes of the storm's onset, called upon chiefly for the fallen trees and live lines. Many roads were closed for a short while because of the debris, and three remained closed this morning. Power outages were experience across the county, with crews still working this morning to restore service. No injuries were reported, however. More storms are on the way today, according to the forecasters. Stay safe! Photo by John McEwen.

U.S. And North American Open Canoe Slalom Championships Slated At ASCI

by Matt Taylor, ASCI

Beginning tomorrow, Aug. 6, over 70 competitors from around the country and Canada will be competing in the U.S and North American Championships in Open Canoe Whitewater Slalom. At the top of the field will be part-time Garrett resident, ASCI raft guide and 2008 Olympian Casey Eichfeld.

Eichfeld is currently the top canoe athlete on the U.S. Whitewater Slalom Team, competing in the single decked-canoe class (C1). He raced with former partner Ricky Powell in the double canoe (C2) at the 2008 Beijing Olympics, and has since specialized in the C1. He trains full time and travels the world competing, and is focused on winning the gold at the 2012 Olympic Games in London. During the summer and on holidays Eichfeld spends his time in Deep Creek and Oakland. He also grew up paddling open canoes, and will be a formidable competitor this weekend.

Open canoes are distinguished from Olympic decked canoes (which look like flat kayaks) by not having any kind of hard cover over the top. Open canoes are also susceptible to swamping (the boat filling with water), and are thus exciting to watch as they attempt to maneuver through ASCI's rapids. They are what most people think of when they hear "canoe," but the whitewater racing designs do have some modern touches. For example, many of the boats are made of space-age composite materials, or in the case of the heavier designs, a royalex or ABS plastic. There will not be any traditional birch bark, canvas, or wood strip canoes racing at ASCI on the whitewater. Also many boats also eschew the traditional high bow (added to boats to prevent waves from crashing in) so that they can sneak under the poles that form the gates.

An Open Canoe slalom race usually takes about 2 to 2½ minutes. Paddlers must navigate a series of gates strategically placed over the rapids. Gates are two poles hung over the river from a wooden crossbar, creating a meter wide gate through which paddlers must cross. Hitting the poles or missing a gate entirely adds penalties to a score. The score is a racer's time plus penalties. The lowest score wins.

The races take place over three mornings and afternoons, Friday through Sunday. Morning runs start at 8 a.m. and finish at 10:30, and afternoon runs start at 4

Plans Finalized For This Weekend's Annual Friendsville Days Celebration

Friendsville Days 2010 will be held this weekend, beginning on Friday, Aug. 6, and ending on Saturday, Aug. 7. Admission is free to the two-day event which will be held rain or shine.

Friendsville Days will begin with a free picnic dinner sponsored by the Northern Garrett Rescue Squad Station 3 on Friday, Aug. 6, at 6 p.m. Donations are not expected, but any received will benefit the Friendsville Library in honor of the Friendsville Area Quilters.

The annual Cancer Walk, a Friendsville Community Watch sponsored event, will also be held on Friday. Ribbons can be purchased in memory or honor of a loved one stricken with cancer. The Friendsville Days 2010 Queen will be announced at 6:45 p.m., with Miss Maryland Lindsay Staniszewski, along with Miss Friendsville Days 2008 Hannah Sines.

A Christian puppet show will present a program for kids of all ages at the pavilion at the play area. Musical entertainment will be provided by Girlz in Black Hats beginning at 7 p.m., sponsored by Northern Garrett Rescue Squad.

Saturday's activities will begin with a volleyball tournament at 9 a.m. in the sand volleyball court. The 30th annual Friendsville Days parade will begin at noon. The grand marshal for the parade will be the Friendsville Area Quilters, who yearly have been providing handmade quilts to be raffled to benefit the Friendsville Library. The quilters will be selling chances for the latest quilt at the door prize booth.

After the parade, activities will continue at the community park. Opening ceremonies with a flag raising, 21-gun salute by local veterans, and the national anthem sung by Miss Maryland will begin at 1:30 p.m. Miss Maryland is sponsored

Changes At Fair Result From New Hall Construction

Work continues to progress on the new 30,000-square foot trade and exhibit hall at the Garrett County fairgrounds, with completion anticipated later this fall. According to the Garrett County Fair Board, the construction work will require that a number of changes be made during the fair, which runs from Saturday, Aug. 7, through Saturday, Aug. 14.

"The board asks for everyone's understanding as we grow, and we look forward to seeing everyone at the 54th annual Garrett County Fair," a spokesperson said. 'While the changes associated with the construction project will cause some inconveniences, the addition of the new building to the grounds is very positive, and should more than compensate for any temporary inconvenience that we all might experience."

Although the walk-in gate on U.S. Rt. 219 will remain open, all vehicle traffic must enter the grounds via the upper gate on Mosser Road.

Handicapped parking areas have been designated near the Rt. 219 walk-in gate, the walk-in gate at the track, and the walk-in gate off the Mosser Road exit.

Bleachers in front of the previous stage area have been removed as part of the construction project. The stage area itself will host small events and activities such as the pet show and senior citizens' day activities.

The vesper service and the farm queen program will be held in the show ring on Sunday evening. Musical entertainment will be held at the show ring on Monday and Friday evenings.

A number of large tents will be utilized to create additional covered space for various exhibits and events.

The Hospice Jail 'N' Bail, Garrett County Sheriff's Office, and WKHJ buildings have been relocated across from the Garrett County Farm Bureau ice cream booth, behind the show ring.

Admission will be

Grant Funding No Longer Available For GC Electronics Recycling Prog.

Garrett County government may need to explore alternative methods of operation to keep its popular electronics recycling program going next fiscal year, county recycling coordinator Kim Madigan told the county commissioners during a progress report on Tuesday. The county has conducted the program for three years.

To help defray costs, the Maryland Department of the Environment has provided the county's Solid Waste and Recycling Division with two grants totaling $24,656.

Last fiscal year (July 1, 2009, to June 30, 2010) the county received $16,074 to expand the program. The division collected 75 tons of electronics during that period.

"The program had become so successful, we wanted to add an additional site for collection of materials," the coordinator said. "We were already collecting at the Weber and Bumble Bee sites and wanted to add the Grantsville site as well."

The county used $4,250 of last year's grant on safety equipment – hydraulic lifts, straps, and ramps – to help site attendants manage the electronics, and the remaining was spent on hauling, processing, and collecting materials (container rentals).

Because recycling electronics has become so popular locally, the grant funding ran out quickly, and it is now costing the county money to keep the program going.

"In January, we realized the program would not make it through June 30," the coordinator said. "We weighed our options of either shutting down a site or two, or closing the program early. But in the end, we were fortunate to have an extremely generous offer made by our electronics processor, PC Renewal (Morgantown, W.Va.), to accept all of the materials free of charge for the duration of the grant period."

This allowed the program to continue without limitations. What also helped this year, as in the previous years, was that Solid Waste and Recycling provided additional funds.

"We have supplemented this program in the amount of $12,441," Madigan said. "Knowing there would be lapses in the grant funding, our office budgeted each year for the electronics recycling program."

But the FY '10 grant ended on June 30, and the division is now paying for the entire program with its recycling budgetary funds. This is because grant money is no longer available.

"We have been told by MDE that although funds are still being collected by manufacturers doing business in the state of Maryland, those fees will not be used for grants during the next fiscal year," Madigan told the commissioners.

Arrested By NTF On Distribution Of Heroin Charges

Two local men and two Baltimore residents were arrested by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force on Tuesday after a search and seizure warrant was executed at a Colony Drive residence in Accident.

Members of the NTF, assisted by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and Maryland State Police, recovered approximately 7 grams of heroin, along with 69 individually wrapped packets of heroin packaged for resale, a quantity of marijuana, and related drug paraphernalia. Also seized was $2,030 in U.S. currency. The following individuals were arrested:

Brett Wayne Fratz, 31, Accident, Katlin "C.J." Patton, 21, Accident, and Davon Terelle Fletcher, 21, and Lindsay Marie Smith, 20, both of Baltimore. All are charged with possession with intent to distribute heroin, possession of heroin, and possession of CDS paraphernalia. Fletcher was additionally charged with possession of marijuana.

All were taken to the Garrett County Jail to be held on bond. Bail for Fratz and Fletcher was set at $40,000, and Patton and Smith's bail is $25,000.

IT'S PINK GLOVE TIME — Brenda Brosnihan, owner of Brenda's Body Shop of Oakland, has a new mission, following the successful Thriller project last year. The Pink Glove Dance, a YouTube.com sensation first performed by the staff of the Providence St. Vincent Medical Center in Portland, Ore., has turned into a fundraising effort for the National Breast Cancer Foundation. Medline Industries, manufacturer of the now famous pink gloves, is donating a portion of all glove sales to the organization. Brenda's Body Shop is now the official sponsor of the Garrett County Pink Glove Dance Project, a community-wide campaign to educate, honor, and celebrate those affected by cancer. Her dancers debuted the performance at this week's National Night Out in Oakland, where this photo was taken. Proceeds from this effort will benefit Cindy's Fund, which provides assistance to Garrett County citizens who are ill with cancer. "The Pink Glove Project and Cindy's Fund represent the importance of early detection, which can result in cures or an extension of survival," Brosnihan said. "Money is being raised by donations to purchase pairs of the pink gloves. All the dancers have gloves available and encourage you to take a pair to hang from your car mirror, keep in your purse, and wear them anytime you see the pink glove performance, or, more importantly, to use as a reminder to get your tests and screenings." Brosnihan said she is excited about the effort. "We have more people at this time than we did last year for Thriller. I believe this is a cause that everyone can relate to and feel passionate about. It is so inspiring to see so many mothers, daughters, and grandmothers participating together. It opens the line of communication about breast cancer and all cancers. The money raised will help the people in Garrett County, which is very important to all of us participating." Other non-dance volunteers are encouraging area medical personnel who use gloves to purchase a box and wear the pink ones to heighten awareness among their patients and clients. The first organization pledging to purchase and use of the gloves is the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department. Brosnihan said. She is offering Pink Glove Dance classes at Brenda's Body Shop on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Persons may call for times and information. "Our goal is to get as many people as possible to learn the dance and distribute the pink gloves to family and friends," she said. Performances will be held throughout the community through October. Any club, business, or persons interested in participating may contact Brosnihan at 301-334-1275 or visit brendasbodyshop.com.

2008 OLYMPIAN CASEY EICHFELD will be participating in this weekend's U.S. and North American Championship Open Canoe Whitewater Slalom at ASCI. He is also an ASCI raft guide and part-time Garrett County resident. Eichfeld is currently the top canoe athlete on the U.S. Whitewater Slalom Team, competing in the single decked-canoe class. He travels the world competing and is focused on competing in the 2012 Olympic Games in London. The event will run from Friday to Sunday, with races running each morning and afternoon. Morning runs begin at 8 a.m. and afternoon runs will kick off at 4 p.m. each day. ASCI is open to the general public all day long.

Local Graduates Earn Md. Service Star Awards

Two Garrett County students were recently honored as Maryland State Service Stars at the Frederick Douglass-Isaac Myers Maritime Park in Baltimore. Laura Ann Schroyer, a 2010 graduate of Northern High School, and Kelly Renee Bean, a 2010 graduate of Southern High School, were selected from Garrett County.

Two students are selected each year from each county in the state of Maryland to be recognized as having completed high-quality service activities. In order to qualify for the Service Star Award, students must be enrolled in high school, exceed expectations for service learning in their district, have at least 100 hours of documented service through at least three different service sites, and be considered a role model for their peers.

Schroyer has participated in a variety of service learning projects. She has been very active in the Blind Skier and Special Olympics programs. She has also participated in the American Red Cross blood drives and is a member of the local drug and alcohol prevention group STEAM. Schroyer enjoys working with children in her church and has worked with the PTO, assisted with Bible school, and helped out at Spruce Forest Artisan Village. She plans to attend Garrett College and then transfer to Memphis College, where she plans to major in art therapy. She would like to eventually earn a master's degree. She is the daughter of Dane T. Schroyer.

Bean is very active in working with the senior citizen center and coaching youth swimmers. She has assisted with the Garrett County College Expo and has participated in making and sending Valentines for veterans. She is a member of the Garrett Community Concert Band and has assisted with the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival. She plans to attend Frostburg State University and major in psychology and minor in Spanish. She would like to then attend law school. She is the daughter of Keith and Debbie Bean.

EARN STATE SERVICE STAR AWARDS – Local graduates Kelly Bean and Laura Schroyer recently attended an event in Baltimore at which they were each presented a Maryland State Service Star Award. Throughout their school careers, each girl has demonstrated dedication to community service and participated in numerous community based activities. Above is Bean (center) receiving the award from Ann E. Chafin, assistant state superintendent (left) and Dr. Nancy Grasmick, state superintendent. Below is Schroyer receiving her award from Chafin and Grasmick. See story for details.

Investigation Of Deep Creek Fish Kill Continues

The Maryland Department of the Environment and the Department of Natural Resources continue to investigate a large fish kill that occurred two weeks ago in Deep Creek Lake, Garrett County. In consultation with the Garrett County Health Department, MDE and DNR are providing additional information regarding necessary public health precautions.

Visitors and residents are advised to avoid touching, eating, or otherwise coming into proximity to any dead fish or fish with outward signs of stress or disease. Extra precautions should be taken for those with open wounds. Dogs, and other pets should be restricted from coming in contact with dead or dying fish. The best method to dispose of the fish is by burying them.

Analysis of samples collected by the Garrett County Health Department at 21 different sampling points around the lake the week of July 18 indicated low levels of E.coli bacteria at all locations. Swimming in Deep Creek Lake does not pose any additional public health risk at this time, although dead fish floating in the water should be avoided if possible.

The bacteria thought to be responsible for the fish kill has been identified as Aeromonas species, which has been known to cause other fish kills in Maryland. State health officials note that while this organism can cause infections through skin wounds, it has not been commonly associated with outbreaks in swimming areas. Therefore, no specific advisories are being issued regarding recreational water contact at Deep Creek Lake, except those related to direct contact with fish as described above.

The investigation is still ongoing, according to the MDE. Preliminary results indicate that unprecedented high temperatures in July in the surface waters of the lake are causing fish to be stressed and set the stage for a parasite protozoan infestation. This leads to a lethal secondary bacterial infection, primarily affecting fish in the lower upstream section of the lake.

The bacteria causing this secondary infection, Aeromonas hydrophila, is commonly present in the intestinal tract of healthy fish, said a DNR spokesperson. The affected fish were initially cold-water species such as yellow perch, walleye, smallmouth bass, and northern pike that are adapted to temperatures less than 73.4 degrees Fahrenheit/23 degrees Celsius. Warm-water species such as largemouth bass, catfish, and bluegill sunfish are now also being affected.

While a fish kill of this type is rarely seen in Deep Creek Lake because of its normally low water temperatures, it is not uncommon in other areas of the state, according to the DNR.

Dispute Results In Assault Charges For Swanton Man

A Swanton man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies last Thursday evening after they received a report of a domestic violence incident.

Michael Weidlich had reportedly assaulted a female victim at a Sweitzertown Road residence and had left the home by the time police arrived. During investigation, Maryland State Police located Weidlich near Friendsville, and he was transported to the MSP McHenry Barrack. He was charged with multiple traffic violations before being released to the custody of the GCSO.

He was then taken to the Garrett County Jail. He was additionally charged with second-degree assault.

GCSO Seeking Info On Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office is currently seeking information regarding recent thefts from vehicles parked along Maryland Highway (Rt. 135), east of Deer Park.

Sometime between Monday, Aug. 3, and Tuesday, Aug. 4, an unknown suspect(s) stole a purse and an amount of currency from the vehicles. Anyone with information is asked to contact Dfc. Meyers at the GCSO at 301-334-1911. Callers may remain anonymous.

MEDICAL CENTER DONATES – Mountain Laurel Medical Center recently donated money to help Matt Friend, a member of the Pleasant View Baptist Church, and other church members as they plan a trip to Haiti to build houses for Haitians still living in tents. Friend and his colleagues from the church will be joining Baptist Global Response this month to complete the housing project. Pictured above from left to right are Mark Weeks, assistant pastor from Pleasant View; Beth Little-Terry, CEO of Mountain Laurel Medical Center; and Matt Friend.

Senator To Visit G.C. Technology Center on Aug. 6

U.S. Senator Benjamin L. Cardin (D-MD) will visit Garrett County on Friday, Aug. 6, at 1:30 p.m., to announce a $400,000 Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) grant to design and construct a flexible trades laboratory at the Garrett County Career Technology Training Center (CTTC). CTTC is located along 116 Industrial Park Drive in Accident.

The senator will also tour the new center, which is expected to provide training in environmental/energy systems and telecommunications to 500 students, as well as visit the Garrett Engineering and Robotics Society (GEARS), a county-wide robotics club that hosts technology camps for students grades 1-12.

GEARS is a non-profit, club-based program, and its middle school and high school teams have placed in state, national, and international competitions. One of the teams was recently invited to participate in a Science, Technology, Engineering, & Math (STEM) event at the National Academy of Sciences and Engineering in Washington, D.C.

Why Rita Watson Should Remain as Register of Wills

May I urge you to keep Rita Watson in as our Register of Wills: That office requires extensive knowledge of estate law, which cannot be gained by a quick study of how to be a register. Rita has assisted many of us (attorney and citizen), which makes probating wills and estate handling much easier. She has 30 years of excellent training and her knowledge is 100%.

In some counties (in Maryland) you are required to have an attorney. Here you do not need an attorney and, even in complicated matters (and they are often frequent), Rita helps the family through them with kindness-expertise-competence and dignity.

There are many positions in the government where no experience is needed; however, in that office, experience and competence are extremely important. In my opinion, there is no one in the county – nor any attorney – who could step into her job and keep it running with the excellence she brings to it.

Please keep Rita Watson as our Register of Wills.

It's a No-Brainer...

With the 2010 primary elections a little over one month away, it seems appropriate to revisit a gripe that has been the focus of this column at least once in the past, and to once again suggest a logical way to address it.

There are four people running for the office of Garrett County register of wills; however, all four of the candidates are registered as Republicans. Therefore, not a single registered Democrat voter will have the opportunity to help elect a register of wills. The winner will be determined in next month's Republican primary, unless that person would be defeated by a write-in campaign in November's general election, the chances of which are less than miniscule.

Now, some Republicans might suggest that if the Democrats in the county, particularly the members of the Democratic Central Committee, had "done their job," there would have been at least one Democrat candidate for this particular office. Maybe so, but there seems to be a much more logical response.

The race for a positions such as register of wills, as well as that of Garrett County clerk of court and judges of the orphans' court, should at the very least not be politically partisan, and probably should not even be elected positions at all. These are specific, straight-forward, black-and-white, follow-the-rulebook jobs that have virtually nothing to do with politics or policy-making of any kind. There is absolutely no logic behind the argument that a Republican would do a better job than a Democrat as the county register of wills, or vice versa. It is absolutely ridiculous, and essentially deprives a large segment of our citizens from exercising one of their most precious rights.

As for filling these two particular spots via an election, some will say that electing them prevents folks like the county commissioners from cronyism; giving those relatively lucrative jobs to their buddies. But if that is a concern, why are not the positions of county health officer, county roads supervisor, county attorney, and a number of others also elected?

No, it makes no sense and is an obvious lack of consistency. And the solution is simple, Senator Edwards and Delegate Beitzel. This would be a no-brainer piece of legislation that would consist of about two sentences and would sail through the Maryland legislature without a hitch. How about it, guys? It would be a nice way for you to "reach across the aisle."

What an amazing group of emergency-service people we have in Oakland!

Last Friday around noon there was an accident at the corner of 8th and Green streets. My neighbor called 911.

Within 10 minutes, we had Oakland police chief John Sines, a second police officer, an ambulance, a fire truck, and a tow truck on the scene. They all went about their work, and within 30 minutes everything was cleaned up. The tow truck had removed both cars, and everyone had left. You would never have known anything had happened!

We definitely have an amazing group of volunteers in Garrett County.

About an apology to Fox news – I think Fox News owes all of us an apology for giving a platform to Glenn Beck.

Beck purports to be a historian, and, unfortunately, many people believe the strange information he shares. I think such distortion is dangerous to us all – a disservice to us and to history.

It is bizarre to equate socialism, fascism, and capitalism. Beck does, and strange to me, he gets away with it. I don't understand why mainstream news doesn't call him on this. It would be a perfect time to inform the public about the differences between the three – along with the difference between state capitalism and capitalism.

I hope the lack of challenge to Beck doesn't mean that others are just as ill informed as he. I suspect that media outlets are intimidated by Fox, as the administration seems to be, and that is dangerous. Good governance depends on an educated and informed citizenry, and many people are getting bogus history. I don't understand why people at Fox want to support misinformation.

Now, Congress seems to be negatively impacted by the constant drumbeat to stir up dissent with fake history – its effect on voters and the polls. Since they are always focused on campaigning rather than governing, nothing is being done to create jobs, help small businesses, really clean up Wall Street, get on with an energy policy, and deal with the immigration mess. Stagnation results because of fear of the dreaded polls.

And now the Beck focus is on racism, while he doesn't seem to even know what it is. It seems he thinks racism simply means that someone is using the N word or carrying a hate-filled placard. That is a racist act or incident.

Beck doesn't seem to understand the real, long-term problem of racism in this country. Sadly, he is not alone. The press could inform us all that the real problem is not "race consciousness" but "institutionalized racism" – not the old hidden and ugly face of Jim Crow, anymore. That was pretty much swept under the rug of history.

"Structural inequality" is the face of racism today, and no one seems to want to talk about it or even recognize it still. I'm talking about wage disparity, higher unemployment, higher infant mortality, less health care coverage, higher foreclosure rates, homelessness, and poverty.

Shame on us, America.

If you are among the millions of skeptics who wonder about the impact of health reform on your health and family, imagine this: You are sick with a cough and fever. A simple doctor's prescription is the cure, but where do you go if you've lost your health insurance or your job?

Here's where health reform enters the picture. You might be one of the 16 million Americans eligible for Medicaid under the new law. If not, the law makes it easier to find and purchase affordable insurance, or walk into a local community health center where primary care services are provided whether you have insurance or not.

A key provision of health reform expands the national network of community health centers and provides people with more health care centers, better quality, and lower costs. That is why National Health Center Week is different this year from any other, and I am proud to be part of the 2010 celebration, "Turning Vision into Reality." Change is coming to the health care landscape, and health centers are charged with the responsibility of leading the way forward. Enactment of this very important law demonstrates immense trust and confidence in our model of care.

We live up to that trust every day in communities across America. At Mountain Laurel Medical Center, our patients not only experience a whole-health approach under one roof, but they are treated as individuals, with dignity and respect. This is what health care should be: treating people with good preventive care before they get sick. This frees hospital emergency rooms to focus on saving lives and lessens the costs to consumers, taxpayers, and governments. Public health improves when affordable health care is available to more people, the health center model operates with a community approach that has proved successful for 45 years.

The real work of health reform is already happening at the local level, and you can see if for yourself at Mountain Laurel Medical Center. Our doors are open to all, no matter who you are, where you live, and even if you don't have health insurance. Visit us – your community health center – during National Health Center Week 2010 (August 8-14) and find out more about how health centers are partners in health reform.

In the July 22 "Ask the Everyday Scientist" column, Dr Sheahen you answered a question regarding how the following items affect climate change: (1) the distance between Earth and the moon, (2) solar activity, and (3) magnetic field of Earth. This was your answer: "It has been my understanding that those three events have more to do with climate change than any man-made activity."

Really! Well, you better get that news out beyond Garrett County. This is going to save the rest of the world a whole lot of time and effort with all that global warming bull.

You continue in your article and explain to us uneducated, lowly flatlanders. You state, "The reason you haven't heard much about all this in the public climate-change debates is that it is just too complicated."

Wow! Complicated; that's serious!

You state, "The state of our knowledge isn't good enough to attach numerical values to any of the climate change mechanisms." In your recent columns you dazzle us with your math skills. You need to give us flatlanders more math knowledge!

You state, "In the public debates, there has been far too much attention given to human influences on climate."

Well, Doc, maybe you can refocus our attention and set the record straight on climate change. Oh. Wait a minute. You already did that in the November 16, 2008, Canada Free Press. "Physicist predicts man-made global warming bubble to burst in 2008". Dr. Thomas P. Sheanen.

"One day back in February on a ski-lift, I commented to the others that 2008 would be the year when the Anthropic Global Warming (AGW) bubble would burst. My prediction seems to be coming true."

Doc, you may want to check your calendar. It's 2010. Maybe you could lend me your Tarot cards? (I need to pick some stocks) or maybe The Republican can give you another byline.

Well, could you at least agree to this one fact – that from 2000 to 2010 was the hottest decade ever reported from the beginning of record keeping?

Remember you are either part of the problem or part of the solution.

Most people here in Garrett County remember the old "Andy Griffth Show," and how Otis Campbell, the town drunk, would get locked up on Saturday night. While Mayberry and its jail were fictional, we have "the real thing" at the Garrett County Fair.

Hospice Jail 'N Bail is not only great fun, but also for a great cause. While I am not Otis and Sandi is not Mrs. Otis, you will find us in jail just like Otis on Saturday, Aug. 14, at the fairgrounds.

Please come bail us out! While doing so you will be helping your friends, families, and neighbors during their final hours of need.

Come visit all the prisoners. Also on that night you'll find Sheriff Taylor (Brenda Butscher) and Deputy Fife (John Cobb) on duty keeping the prisoners in line.

As always, I will be dressed in an outfit that will get your attention and make you laugh. This will be the wildest one yet.

Many thanks to all who have given donations in the past, be they large or small. Remember, you can get a tax deduction slip if needed. So give with joy.

See you there!

Proponents of wind are sold on the idea that wind power and other "renewables" will eventually power our economic engine to new heights of GDP, with benefits for all. We really do not have to change our life styles, as we will merely substitute renewables for non-renewables. Throw in "green" jobs, payment of money to leasers, tax breaks and incentives for developers, taxes for local governments, etc., as well as constant PR propaganda, and you have a public generally convinced of the good behind this industry. Gas, coal, and nuclear are all lumped together as undesirable alternatives for producing electricity.

Furthermore, if you oppose wind because your health and happiness, as well as that of your loved ones, might be affected by nearby turbines, then you are labeled a NIMBY. If you complain of noise or light flicker affecting your health afterwards, then you are spreading falsehoods, are a hypochondriac, or are delusional.

The wind industry and their propagandists will tell you that there is no evidence of noise or light flicker affecting the health of anyone living near these machines, dismissing studies and complaints to the contrary. Like a ticking clock, these devices could not possibly be keeping you awake at night! If they are correct, why to my knowledge are there no wind developers, politicians, or county commissioners living next to industrial wind turbines.

I have been told that a few residents on Backbone must suffer for the needs of the many who receive clean, renewable electricity, and what about all those "green" jobs! In fact, I read that Constellation estimated that there would be two, full-time permanent jobs for their project on Backbone Mountain! According to county administrator Pagenhardt, the county should get $1 million yearly in utility tax revenues, a whopping 1% of the county budget.

Proponents will also argue that even if wind replaces not a single coal-fired power plant, it does contribute something to the grid and helps with the increasing demand for electricity. Little do they consider that if we try to maintain or increase our per-capita consumption of energy, there will never be enough, as our population continues to grow, exponentially drawing upon limited resources. Just a 1% growth rate means a doubling every 70 years!

Until we deal with the real issue of "growth," we will never find a solution to the energy crisis, or any other for that matter.

To the Editor:

Those interested in the hydraulic "fracking" issue (which is relevant to Garrett County since the Marcellus shale line runs under this county) may want to read 'The Drillers are Coming," an article in the July 2010 Scientific American magazine by Mark Fischetti.

Over 1,000 gas wells have been drilled in the U.S. using the fracking process, and there have been hundreds of complaints about their negative impact. Josh Fox produced a documentary about these complaints called Gasland that reports on the effects of fracking in 32 states: toxic streams, ruined aquifers, tap water that ignites, and severe illness to humans and livestock. The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has begun a two-year study on the fracking process.

Among other things, the Scientific American article points out that Halliburton is one of the largest fracking companies in the U.S., and that in 2005 then Vice President Cheney (formerly employed by Halliburton) supported the legal exemption of fracking from having to meet the "underground injection control" provisions of the Safe Drinking Water Act. (Draw your own conclusions.)
